(g) Be praise in the Church by Christ Jesus, throughout all generations forever, Amen.
(k) Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAPTER 4

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:1 (w) Therefore I bound for the Lord beseech you, that ye walk worthily in the calling, in which ye be called,
(p) Therefore I bound for the Lord beseech you, that ye walk worthily in the calling, in which ye be called,
(t) ¶ I therefore which am in bonds for the Lord's sake exhort you, that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,
(g) I therefore, being prisoner in the Lord, pray you that ye walk worthy of the vocation whereunto ye are called,
(k) I therefore, the prisoner of the Lord {or, in the Lord}, beseech you that ye walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,
- 4:2 (w) with all meekness and mildness, with patience supporting, or up-bearing, together in charity,
(p) with all meekness and mildness, with patience supporting each other in charity,
(t) in all humbleness of mind, and meekness, and long suffering, forbearing one another through love,
(g) With all humbleness of mind, and meekness, with longsuffering, supporting one another through love,
(k) With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love;
- 4:3 (w) busy to keep unity of Spirit in the bond of peace.
(p) busy to keep unity of Spirit in the bond of peace.
(t) and that ye be diligent to keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace,
(g) Endeavoring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.
(k) Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace.
- 4:4 (w) One body and one Spirit, as ye be called in one hope of your calling;
(p) One body and one Spirit, as ye be called in one hope of your calling;
(t) being one body, and one spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling.
(g) There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your vocation.
(k) There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling;
- 4:5 (w) one Lord, one faith, one baptism,
(p) one Lord, one faith, one baptism,
(t) Let there be but one Lord, one faith, one baptism:
(g) There is one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism,
(k) One Lord, one faith, one baptism,
- 4:6 (w) one God and Father of all, which is above all men, and by all things, and in us all.
(p) one God and Father of all, which is above all men, and by all things, and in us all.
(t) one God and father of all, which is above all, through all, and in you [us] all.
(g) One God and Father of all, which is above all, and through all, and in you all.
(k) One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all.
- 4:7 (w) But to each of us grace is given after the measure of the giving of Christ;
(p) But to each of us grace is given by the measure of the giving of Christ;
(t) ¶ Unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.
(g) But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.
(k) But unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:8 (w) for which thing he saith, He ascending on high, led captivity captive, he gave gifts to men.
(p) for which thing he saith, He ascending on high, led captivity captive, he gave gifts to men.
(t) Wherefore he saith: He is gone up on high, and hath led captivity captive, and hath given gifts unto men.
(g) Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.
(k) Wherefore he saith, When he ascended up on high, he led captivity {or, a multitude of captives} captive, and gave gifts unto men.
- 4:9 (w) Forsooth that he ascended, what is it, no but for he descended first into the lower parts of the earth?
(p) But what is it, that he ascended up, no but that also he came down first into the lower parts of the earth?
(t) That he ascended: what meaneth it, but that he also descended first into the lowest parts of the earth?
(g) (Now, in that he ascended, what is it but that he had also descended first into the lowest parts of the earth?
(k) (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?
- 4:10 (w) He it is that came down, and that ascended up on all heavens, that he should fill all things.
(p) He it is that came down, and that ascended on all heavens, that he should fill all things.
(t) He that descended, is even the same also that ascended up, even above all heavens, to fulfill all things.
(g) He that descended, is even the same that ascended, far above all heavens, that he might fill all things.)
(k) He that descended is the same also that ascended up far above all heavens, that he might fill {or, fulfil} all things.)
- 4:11 (w) And he gave some apostles, some prophets, others evangelists, others shepherds and teachers,
(p) And he gave some apostles, some prophets, others evangelists, others shepherds and teachers,
(t) ¶ And the very same, made some Apostles, some Prophets, some Evangelists, some Shepherds, some Teachers:
(g) He therefore gave some to be Apostles, and some Prophets, and some Evangelists, and some Pastors, and Teachers,
(k) And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, evangelists; and some, pastors and teachers;
- 4:12 (w) to the full ending of saints, into the work of ministry, into the edification of Christ's body,
(p) to the full ending of saints, into the work of ministry, into edification of Christ's body,
(t) that the saints might have all things necessary to work and minister withal, to the edifying of the body of Christ,
(g) For the gathering together of the Saints, for the work of the ministry, and for the edification of the body of Christ,
(k) For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, for the edifying of the body of Christ:
- 4:13 (w) till we run all, in unity of faith and of knowing of God's Son, into a perfect man, into the measure of age of the plenty of Christ;
(p) till we run all, into unity of faith and of knowing of God's Son, into a perfect man, after the measure of the age of the plenty of Christ;
(t) till we every each one (in the unity of faith, and knowledge of the son of God) grow up unto a perfect man, after the measure of age of [which is in] the fullness of Christ:
(g) Till we all meet together (in the unity of faith and the acknowledging of the Son of God) unto a perfect man, and unto the measure of the age of the fullness of Christ,
(k) Till we all come in {or, into} the unity of the faith, and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto a perfect man, unto the measure of the stature {or, age} of the fulness of Christ:
- 4:14 (w) that we be not now little children, moving as waves, and be borne about with all wind of teaching, in the waywardness of men, in subtle wit, to the deceiving of error.
(p) that we be not now little children, moving as waves, and be not borne about with each wind of teaching, in the waywardness of men, in subtle wit, to the deceiving of error.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) That we henceforth be no more children wavering and carried with every wind of doctrine, by the wiliness of men and craftiness, whereby they lay await for us to deceive us.
- (g) That we henceforth be no more children, wavering and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the deceit of men, and with craftiness, whereby they lay in wait to deceive.
- (k) That we henceforth be no more children, tossed to and fro, and carried about with every wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, whereby they lie in wait to deceive;
- 4:15 (w) Forsooth we doing truth in charity, wax in him by all things, that is Christ the head;
(p) But do we truth in charity, and wax in him by all things, that is Christ our head;
(t) ¶ But let us follow the truth in love, and in all things grow in him which is the head, that is to say Christ,
(g) But let us follow the truth in love, and in all things, grow up into him, which is the head, that is, Christ.
(k) But speaking the truth in love {or, being sincere}, may grow up into him in all things, which is the head, even Christ:
- 4:16 (w) of whom all the body set together, and bound together by each jointure of under-serving, after working into the measure of each member, maketh increasing of the body, into the edification of itself in charity.
(p) of whom all the body set together, and bound together by each jointure of under-serving, by working into the measure of each member, maketh increasing of the body, into edification of itself in charity.
(t) in whom all the body is coupled and knit together, in every joint, wherewith one ministereth to another (according to the operation as every part hath his measure) and increaseth the body, unto the edifying of itself in love.
(g) By whom all the body being coupled and knit together by every joint, for the furniture thereof (according to the effectual power, which is in the measure of every part) receiveth increase of the body, unto the edifying of itself in love.
(k) From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.
- 4:17 (w) Therefore this thing I say, and witness in the Lord, that ye walk not now, as heathen men walk, in the vanity of their wit;
(p) Therefore I say and witness this thing in the Lord, that ye walk not now, as heathen men walk, in the vanity of their wit;
(t) ¶ This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other gentiles walk, in vanity [vanities] of their mind,
(g) This I say therefore and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in vanity of their mind,
(k) This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, in the vanity of their mind,
- 4:18 (w) having their understanding darkened, and be aliened from the life of God, by ignorance that is in them, for the blindness of their heart.
(p) that have understanding darkened with darkneses, and be aliened from the life of God, by ignorance that is in them, for the blindness of their heart.
(t) blinded in their understanding, being strangers from the life which is in God, through the ignorancy that is in them, because of the blindness of their hearts:
(g) Having their understanding darkened, and being strangers from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the hardness of their heart;
(k) Having the understanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the blindness {or, hardness} of their heart:
- 4:19 (w) Which despairing betook themselves to unchastity, into the working of all uncleanness in covetousness.
(p) Which despairing betook themselves to unchastity, into the working of all uncleanness in covetousness.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) which being past repentance have given themselves unto wantonness, to work all manner of uncleanness even with greediness.
- (g) Which being past feeling, have given themselves unto wantonness, to work all uncleanness, even with greediness.
- (k) Who being past feeling have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.
- 4:20 (w) But ye have not so learned Christ,
(p) But ye have not so learned Christ,
(t) But ye have not so learned Christ,
(g) But ye have not so learned Christ,
(k) But ye have not so learned Christ;
- 4:21 (w) if nevertheless ye heard him, and be taught in him, as is truth in Jesus.
(p) if nevertheless ye heard him, and be taught in him, as is truth in Jesus.
(t) If so be ye have heard of him, and are taught in him, even as the truth is in Jesus:
(g) If so be ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus,
(k) If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:
- 4:22 (w) Do ye away after the first living the old man, that is corrupt after the desires of error;
(p) Do ye away by the old living the old man, that is corrupt by the desires of error;
(t) so then as concerning the conversation in time past, lay from you that old man, which is corrupt through the deceivable lusts,
(g) That is, that ye cast off, concerning the conversation in time past, the old man, which is corrupt through the deceivable lusts,
(k) That ye put off concerning the former conversation the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;
- 4:23 (w) forsooth be ye renewed, or made new again, by the spirit of your mind;
(p) and be ye renewed in the spirit of your soul;
(t) and be ye renewed in the spirit of your minds,
(g) And be renewed in the spirit of your mind,
(k) And be renewed in the spirit of your mind;
- 4:24 (w) and clothe ye the new man, which after God is made of nought in rightwiseness and holiness of truth.
(p) and clothe ye the new man, which is made after God in rightwiseness and holiness of truth.
(t) and put on that new man, which after the image of God [a godly wise], is shapen in righteousness, and true holiness.
(g) And put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness, and true holiness.
(k) And that ye put on the new man, which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness {or, holiness of truth}.
- 4:25 (w) For which thing putting away lying, speak truth each man with his neighbour, for we be members together.
(p) For which thing put ye away lying, and speak ye truth each man with his neighbour, for we be members each to other.
(t) Wherefore put away lying, and speak every man truth unto his neighbor, for as much as we are members one of another.
(g) Wherefore cast off lying, and speak every man truth unto his neighbor, for we are members one of another.
(k) Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbour: for we are members one of another.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:26 (w) Be ye wroth, and do not do sin; the sun fall not down upon your wrath.
(p) Be ye wroth, and do not do sin; the sun fall not down on your wrath.
(t) Be angry, but sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath,
(g) Be angry, but sin not; let not the sun go down upon your wrath,
(k) Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:
- 4:27 (w) Do not ye give stead to the devil.
(p) Do not ye give stead to the devil.
(t) neither give [give no] place unto the backbiter,
(g) Neither give place to the devil.
(k) Neither give place to the devil.
- 4:28 (w) He that stole, now steal not; but more travail he in working with his hands that that is good thing, that he have whereof he shall give to a man suffering need.
(p) He that stole, now steal he not; but more rather travail he in working with his hands that that is good, that he have whereof he shall give to the needy.
(t) let him that stole steal no more, but let him rather labor with his hands some good thing, that he may have to give unto him that needeth.
(g) Let him that stole, steal no more; but let him rather labor, and work with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give unto him that needeth.
(k) Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give {or, to distribute} to him that needeth.
- 4:29 (w) Each evil word go not out of your mouth; but if any is good to the edification of faith, that it give grace to men hearing.
(p) Each evil word go not out of your mouth; but if any is good to the edification of faith, that it give grace to men that hear.
(t) ¶ Let no filthy communication proceed out of your mouths: but that which is good to edify withal, when need is: that it may have favor with the hearers.
(g) Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouths, but that which is good to the use of edifying, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.
(k) Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to the use of edifying {or, to edify profitably}, that it may minister grace unto the hearers.
- 4:30 (w) And do not ye make the Holy Ghost of God sorry, or heavy, in which ye be marked in the day of redemption.
(p) And do not ye make the Holy Ghost of God sorry, in which ye be marked in the day of redemption.
(t) And grieve not the holy spirit of God, by whom ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.
(g) And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, by whom the are sealed unto ye day of redemption.
(k) And grieve not the holy Spirit of God, whereby ye are sealed unto the day of redemption.
- 4:31 (w) All bitterness, and wrath, and indignation, and cry, and blasphemy be taken away from you, with all malice;
(p) All bitterness, and wrath, and indignation, and cry, and blasphemy be taken away from you, with all malice;
(t) Let all bitterness, fierceness and wrath, roaring and cursed speaking, be put away from you, with all maliciousness.
(g) Let all bitterness, and anger, and wrath, out crying, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all maliciousness.
(k) Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice:

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:32 (w) forsooth be ye together benign, or of good will, merciful, forgiving together, as also God forgave to you in Christ.
(p) and be ye together benign, merciful, forgiving together, as also God forgave to you in Christ.
(t) Be ye courteous one to another, and [be] merciful forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake forgave you.
(g) Be ye courteous one to another, and tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake, forgave you.
(k) And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER 5

- 5:1 (w) Therefore be ye followers of God, as most dear-worthy sons;
(p) Therefore be ye followers of God, as most dear-worthy sons;
(t) ¶ Be ye followers [counterfeiters] of God as dear children,
(g) Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children,
(k) Be ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;
- 5:2 (w) and walk ye in love, as and Christ loved us, and gave himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God, into the odour of sweetness.
(p) and walk ye in love, as Christ loved us, and gave himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God, into the odour of sweetness.
(t) and walk in love even as Christ loved us, and gave himself for us, an offering and a sacrifice of a sweet savor to God.
(g) And walk in love, even as Christ hath loved us, and hath given himself for us, to be an offering and a sacrifice of a sweet smelling savor to God.
(k) And walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweetsmelling savour.
- 5:3 (w) And fornication, and all uncleanness, or avarice, be not named among you, as it becometh holy men;
(p) And fornication, and all uncleanness, or avarice, be not named among you, as it becometh holy men;
(t) So that fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, be not once, named among you, as it becometh saints:
(g) But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as it becometh Saints,
(k) But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;
- 5:4 (w) either filth, or folly speech, or harlotry, that pertaineth not to profit, but more doing of thankings.
(p) either filth, or folly speech, or buffoonery, that pertaineth not to profit, but more rather doing of thankings.
(t) neither filthiness, neither foolish talking, neither jestings, which are not comely: but rather giving of thanks.
(g) Neither filthiness, neither foolish talking, neither jesting, which are things not comely, but rather giving of thanks.
(k) Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.
- 5:5 (w) Forsooth this thing know ye, understanding that each fornicator, or unclean man, or avarice man, that is serving of idols, or maumets, hath not heritage in the kingdom of Christ and of God.
(p) For know ye this, and understand, that each lecher, or unclean man, or covetous, that serveth to maumets, hath not heritage in the kingdom of Christ and of God.
(t) For this ye know, that no whoremonger, either unclean person, or covetous person (which is the worshipper of images) hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.
(g) For this ye know, that no whoremonger, neither unclean person, nor covetous person, which is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ, and of God.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

- 5:6 (w) No man deceive you by vain words; for why for these things the wrath of God came upon the sons of unbelief.
(p) No man deceive you by vain words; for why for these things the wrath of God came upon the sons of unbelief.
(t) ¶ Let no man deceive you with vain words. For through such things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of unbelief.
(g) Let no man deceive you with vain words, for because such things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience.
(k) Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience {or, unbelief}.
- 5:7 (w) Therefore do not ye be made partners of them.
(p) Therefore do not ye be made partners of them.
(t) Be not therefore companions with them.
(g) Be not therefore companions with them.
(k) Be not ye therefore partakers with them.
- 5:8 (w) For ye were sometime darkneses, but now ye be light in the Lord. Walk as the sons of light.
(p) For ye were sometime darkneses, but now ye be light in the Lord. Walk ye as the sons of light.
(t) Ye were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord.
(g) For ye were once darkness, but are now light in the Lord; walk as children of light,
(k) For ye were sometimes darkness, but now are ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light:
- 5:9 (w) For the fruit of light is in all goodness, and rightwiseness, and truth.
(p) For the fruit of light is in all goodness, and rightwiseness, and truth.
(t) ¶ Walk as children of light. For the fruit of the spirit is, in all goodness, righteousness, and truth.
(g) (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness, and righteousness, and truth.)
(k) (For the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth;)
- 5:10 (w) Proving what is well pleasing to God.
(p) And prove ye what thing is well pleasing to God.
(t) Accept that which is pleasing to the Lord:
(g) Approving that which is pleasing to the Lord.
(k) Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.
- 5:11 (w) And do not ye commune to unfruitous works of darkneses; but more rather reprove ye them.
(p) And do not ye commune to unfruitous works of darkneses; but more rather reprove ye.
(t) and have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness: but rather rebuke them.
(g) And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but even reprove them rather.
(k) And have no fellowship with the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather reprove them.
- 5:12 (w) For what things be done of them in privy, it is foul, yea, to speak.
(p) For what things be done of them in privy, it is foul, yea, to speak.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) For it is shame even to name those things which are done of them in secret:
(g) For it is shame even to speak of the things which are done of them in secret.
(k) For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.
- 5:13 (w) Forsooth all things that be reprov'd of the light, be made open; forsooth all thing that is made open, is light.
(p) And all things that be reprov'd of the light, be openly showed; for all thing that is showed, is light.
(t) but all things, when they are rebuked of the light, are manifest. For whatsoever is manifest, that same is light.
(g) But all things when they are reprov'd of the light, are manifest, for it is light that maketh all things manifest.
(k) But all things that are reprov'd {or, discovered} are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.
- 5:14 (w) For which thing he saith, Rise thou that sleepest, and rise up from dead, and Christ shall illumine, or lighten, thee.
(p) For which thing he saith, Rise thou that sleepest, and rise up from death, and Christ shall lighten thee.
(t) Wherefore he saith: awake thou that sleepest, and stand up from death, and Christ shall give thee light.
(g) Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and stand up from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.
(k) Wherefore he saith, Awake thou that sleepest, and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.
- 5:15 (w) Therefore, brethren, see ye, how warily ye shall go; not as unwise men, but as wise men,
(p) Therefore, brethren, see ye, how warily ye shall go; not as unwise men, but as wise men,
(t) ¶ Take heed therefore that ye walk circumspectly: not as fools: but as wise,
(g) Take heed therefore that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,
(k) See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,
- 5:16 (w) again-buying the time, for the days be evil.
(p) again-buying the time, for the days be evil.
(t) redeeming the time: for the days are evil:
(g) Redeeming the time, for the days are evil.
(k) Redeeming the time, because the days are evil.
- 5:17 (w) Therefore do not ye be made unwise, but understanding which is the will of the Lord.
(p) Therefore do not ye be made unwise, but understanding which is the will of God.
(t) wherefore, be ye not unwise, but understand what the will of the Lord is,
(g) Wherefore, be ye not unwise, but understand what the will of the Lord is.
(k) Wherefore be ye not unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is.
- 5:18 (w) And do not ye be drunk of wine, in which is luxury, but be ye filled with the Holy Ghost;
(p) And do not ye be drunk of wine, in which is lechery, but be ye filled with the Holy Ghost;
(t) and be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess: but be fulfilled with the spirit,
(g) And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess, but be fulfilled with the Spirit,
(k) And be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;
- 5:19 (w) speaking to yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and saying psalm in your heart to the Lord;
(p) and speak ye to yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and saying psalm in your hearts to the Lord;

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) speaking unto yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody [playing] to the Lord in your hearts,
- (g) Speaking unto yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord in your hearts,
- (k) Speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;
- 5:20 (w) evermore doing thankings for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God and the Father.
(p) evermore doing thankings for all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God and to the Father.
(t) giving thanks always for all things unto God the father, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ [in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ to God the father]:
(g) Giving thanks always for all things unto God even the Father, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(k) Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;
- 5:21 (w) Be ye subject together in the dread of Christ.
(p) Be ye subject together in the dread of Christ.
(t) submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.
(g) Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.
(k) Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.
- 5:22 (w) Women, be they subject to their husbands, as to the Lord,
(p) Women, be they subject to their husbands, as to the Lord,
(t) ¶ Women submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.
(g) ¶ Wives, submit yourselves unto your husbands, as unto the Lord.
(k) Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord.
- 5:23 (w) for the man is head of the woman, as Christ is head of the church; he is Saviour of his body.
(p) for the man is head of the woman, as Christ is head of the church; he is Saviour of his body.
(t) For the husband is the wife's head, even as Christ is the head of the congregation, and the same is the savior of the body.
(g) For the husband is the wife's head, even as Christ is the head of the Church, and the same is the Saviour of his body.
(k) For the husband is the head of the wife, even as Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of the body.
- 5:24 (w) But as the church is subject to Christ, so and women to their husbands in all things.
(p) But as the church is subject to Christ, so women to their husbands in all things.
(t) Therefore as the congregation is in subjection to Christ, likewise let the wives be in subjection to their husbands in all things.
(g) Therefore as the Church is in subjection to Christ, even so let the wives be to their husbands in everything.
(k) Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands in every thing.
- 5:25 (w) Men, love ye your wives, as and Christ loved the church, and gave himself for it,
(p) Men, love ye your wives, as Christ loved the church, and gave himself for it,
(t) Husbands love your wives, even as Christ loved the congregation, and gave himself for it,
(g) ¶ Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ loved the Church, and gave himself for it,
(k) Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and gave himself for it;

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

- 5:26 (w) that he should make it holy; cleansing it with the washing of water, in the word of life,
(p) to make it holy; and cleansed it with the washing of water, in the word of life,
(t) to sanctify it, and cleansed it in the fountain of water through the word,
(g) That he might sanctify it, and cleanse it by the washing of water through the word,
(k) That he might sanctify and cleanse it with the washing of water by the word,
- 5:27 (w) that he should give the church glorious to himself, not having wem, or spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing, but that it be holy and undefouled.
(p) to give the church glorious to himself, that it had no wem, nor rivelling, or any such thing, but that it be holy and undefouled.
(t) to make it unto himself, a glorious congregation without spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy and without blame.
(g) That he might make it unto himself a glorious Church, not having spot or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blame.
(k) That he might present it to himself a glorious church, not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; but that it should be holy and without blemish.
- 5:28 (w) So and men shall love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself;
(p) So and men shall love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself;
(t) ¶ So ought men to love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself.
(g) So ought men to love their wives, as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife, loveth himself.
(k) So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.
- 5:29 (w) for no man hated ever his own flesh, but nourisheth and fostereth it, as and Christ doeth the church.
(p) for no man hated ever his own flesh, but nourisheth and fostereth it, as Christ doeth the church.
(t) For no man ever yet, hated his own flesh: but nourisheth, and cherisheth it: even as the Lord doth the congregation:
(g) For no man ever yet hated his own flesh, but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord doeth the Church.
(k) For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:
- 5:30 (w) For we be members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
(p) And we be members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
(t) for we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
(g) For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
(k) For we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.
- 5:31 (w) For this thing a man shall forsake his father and mother, and he shall cleave to his wife; and they shall be two in one flesh.
(p) For this thing a man shall forsake his father and mother, and he shall draw to his wife; and they shall be twain in one flesh.
(t) For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall continue with his wife, and two shall be made one flesh.
(g) For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife, and they twain shall be one flesh.
(k) For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.
- 5:32 (w) This sacrament is great; yea, I say in Christ, and in the church.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) This sacrament is great; yea, I say in Christ, and in the church.
- (t) This is a great secret, but I speak between Christ and the congregation.
- (g) This is a great secret, but I speak concerning Christ, and concerning the Church.
- (k) This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

- 5:33
- (w) Nevertheless ye all, each man love his wife as himself; and the wife dread her husband.
 - (p) Nevertheless ye all, each man love his wife as himself; and the wife dread her husband.
 - (t) Nevertheless do ye so that every one of you love his wife truly even as himself: And let the wife see that she fear her husband.
 - (g) Therefore every one of you, do ye so, let every one love his wife, even as himself, and let the wife see that she fear her husband.
 - (k) Nevertheless let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she reverence her husband.

- 6:1
- (w) Sons, obey ye to your father and mother, in the Lord; for this thing is just, or rightful.
 - (p) Sons, obey ye to your father and mother, in the Lord; for this thing is rightful.
 - (t) ¶ Children obey your fathers and mothers in the Lord: for so is it right.
 - (g) Children, obey your parents in the Lord, for this is right.
 - (k) Children, obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.
- 6:2
- (w) Honour thou thy father and mother, that is the first commandment in the promise;
 - (p) Honour thou thy father and mother, that is the first commandment in promise;
 - (t) Honor thy father and mother, that is the first commandment that hath any promise,
 - (g) Honor thy father and mother (which is the first commandment with promise.)
 - (k) Honour thy father and mother; (which is the first commandment with promise;)
- 6:3
- (w) that it be well to thee, and that thou be long living on the earth.
 - (p) that it be well to thee, and that thou be long living on the earth.
 - (t) that thou mayest be in good estate, and live long on the earth.
 - (g) That it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long on earth.
 - (k) That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.
- 6:4
- (w) And, ye fathers, do not ye provoke your sons to wrath; but nourish them in the discipline and correction, or chastising, of the Lord.
 - (p) And, fathers, do not ye provoke your sons to wrath; but nourish ye them in the teaching and chastising of the Lord.
 - (t) And ye Fathers, move not your children to wrath: but bring them up with the nurture and information of the Lord.
 - (g) And ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath, but bring them up in instruction and information of the Lord.
 - (k) And, ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.
- 6:5
- (w) Servants, obey ye to fleshly lords with dread and trembling, in simpleness of your heart, as to Christ;
 - (p) Servants, obey ye to fleshly lords with dread and trembling, in simpleness of your heart, as to Christ;
 - (t) Servants be obedient unto your carnal masters, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your hearts, as unto Christ:

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Servants, be obedient unto them that are your masters, according to the flesh, with fear and trembling in singleness of your hearts, as unto Christ,
(k) Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, with fear and trembling, in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ;
- 6:6 (w) not serving at eye, as pleasing to men, but as servants of Christ; doing the will of God by discretion,
(p) not serving at the eye, as pleasing to men, but as servants of Christ; doing the will of God by discretion,
(t) not with service in the eye sight, as men pleasers: but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart
(g) Not with service to the eye, as men pleasers, but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart.
(k) Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart;
- 6:7 (w) with good will serving as to the Lord, and not to men;
(p) with good will serving as to the Lord, and not as to men;
(t) with good will, serving [even as though ye served] the Lord, and not men.
(g) With good will, serving the Lord, and not men.
(k) With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:
- 6:8 (w) witting that each man, whatever good thing he shall do, this he shall receive of the Lord, whether servant, whether free man.
(p) witting that each man, whatever good thing he shall do, he shall receive this of the Lord, whether servant, whether free man.
(t) And remember that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, that shall he receive again of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.
(g) And know ye that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, that same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.
(k) Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, whether he be bond or free.
- 6:9 (w) And, ye lords, do the same things to them, forgiving menaces; witting that both their Lord and yours is in heavens, and the taking of persons is not with God.
(p) And, ye lords, do the same things to them, forgiving menacings; witting that both their Lord and yours is in heavens, and the taking of persons is not with God.
(t) And ye masters, do even the same things unto them, putting away threatenings: and remember that even your master also is in heaven, neither is there any respect of person with him.
(g) And ye masters, do the same things unto them, putting away threatening, and know that even your master also is in heaven, neither is there respect of person with him.
(k) And, ye masters, do the same things unto them, forbearing {or, moderating} threatening: knowing that your {some read, both your and their} Master also is in heaven; neither is there respect of persons with him.
- 6:10 (w) Here afterward, brethren, be ye comforted in the Lord, and in the might of his virtue.
(p) Here afterward, brethren, be ye comforted in the Lord, and in the might of his virtue.
(t) ¶ Finally, my brethren be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.
(g) ¶ Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.
(k) Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.
- 6:11 (w) Clothe you with the armour of God, that ye be able to stand against the ambushings, or assailings, of the devil.
(p) Clothe you with the armour of God, that ye be able to stand against the ambushings of the devil.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) Put on the armor of God, that ye may stand steadfast against the crafty assaults of the devil.
(g) Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the assaults of the devil.
(k) Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.
- 6:12 (w) For striving, or battle, is not to us against flesh and blood, but against the princes and potentates, against governors of the world of these darknesses, against spiritual things of wickedness, in heavenly things.
(p) For why striving is not to us against flesh and blood, but against princes and potentates, against governors of the world of these darknesses, against spiritual things of wickedness, in heavenly things.
(t) For we wrestle not against flesh and blood: but against rule, against power, and against worldly rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness for [in] heavenly things.
(g) For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, and against the worldly governors, the princes of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness, which are in the high places.
(k) For we wrestle not against flesh and blood {Gr. blood and flesh}, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness {or, wicked spirits} in high {or, heavenly} places.
- 6:13 (w) Therefore take ye the armour of God, that ye be able to against-stand in the evil day; and in all things stand perfect.
(p) Therefore take ye the armour of God, that ye be able to against-stand in the evil day; and in all things stand perfect.
(t) ¶ For this cause take unto you the armor of God, that ye may be able to resist in the evil day, and to stand perfect in all things.
(g) For this cause take unto you the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to resist in the evil day, and having finished all things, stand fast.
(k) Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done {or, overcome} all, to stand.
- 6:14 (w) Therefore stand ye, girded about your loins in soothfastness, and clothed with the habergeon of righteousness,
(p) Therefore stand ye, and be girded about your loins in soothfastness, and clothed with the habergeon of righteousness,
(t) ¶ Stand therefore and your loins gird about with verity, having on the breastplate of righteousness,
(g) Stand therefore, and your loins girded about with verity, and having on the breastplate of righteousness,
(k) Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness;
- 6:15 (w) and your feet shod in making ready of the gospel of peace.
(p) and your feet shod in making ready of the gospel of peace.
(t) and shod with shoes prepared by the gospel of peace.
(g) And your feet shod with the preparation of the Gospel of peace.
(k) And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;
- 6:16 (w) In all things taking the shield of faith, in which ye be able to quench all the fiery darts of the worst.
(p) In all things take ye the shield of faith, in which ye be able to quench all the fiery darts of him that is most wicked.
(t) Above all take to you the shield of faith, wherewith ye may quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.
(g) Above all, take the shield of faith, wherewith ye may quench all the fiery darts of the wicked,
(k) Above all, taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.
- 6:17 (w) And take ye the helmet of health, and the sword of the Ghost, that is, the word of God.
(p) And take ye the helmet of health, and the sword of the Ghost, that is, the word of God.
(t) And take the helmet of salvation [health], and the sword of the spirit, which is the word of God,
(g) And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

Book 49 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Ephesians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:
- 6:18 (w) By all prayer and beseeching praying all time in Spirit, and in him waking in all busyness, and beseeching for all saints,
(p) By all prayer and beseeching pray ye all time in Spirit, and in him waking in all busyness, and beseeching for all holy men,
(t) and pray always with all manner prayer and supplication: and that in the spirit: and watch thereunto with all instance and supplication for all saints,
(g) And pray always with all manner prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watch thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all Saints,
(k) Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints;
- 6:19 (w) and for me; that word be given to me in opening of my mouth, with trust to make known the mystery of the gospel,
(p) and for me; that word be given to me in opening of my mouth, with trust to make known the mystery of the gospel,
(t) and for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to utter the secrets of the gospel,
(g) And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly to publish the secret of the Gospel,
(k) And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,
- 6:20 (w) for which I am set in legacy, or message, in this chain; so that in it I be hardy to speak, as it behooveth me to speak out.
(p) for which I am set in message in a chain; so that in it I be hardy to speak, as it behooveth me.
(t) whereof I am a messenger in bonds, that therein I may speak freely, as it becometh me to speak.
(g) Whereof I am the ambassador in bonds, that therein I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.
(k) For which I am an ambassador in bonds {or, in a chain}: that therein {or, therefore} I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.
- 6:21 (w) And that ye know, what things be about me, what I do, Tychicus, my most dear brother, and true minister in the Lord, shall make all things known to you;
(p) And ye know, what things be about me, what I do, Tychicus, my most dear brother, and true minister in the Lord, shall make all things known to you;
(t) ¶ But that ye may also know that condition I am in, and what I do, Tychicus my dear brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall show you of all things,
(g) ¶ But that ye may also know my affairs, and what I do, Tychicus my dear brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall shew you of all things;
(k) But that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, Tychicus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things:
- 6:22 (w) whom I sent to you for this same thing, that ye know what things be about us, and that he comfort your hearts.
(p) whom I sent to you for this same thing, that ye know what things be about us, and that he comfort your hearts.
(t) whom I sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know what case I stand in, and that he might comfort your hearts.
(g) Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know my affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.
(k) Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) Paul and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, to all the holy men in Christ Jesus, that be at Philippi, with bishops and deacons,
(p) Paul and Timothy, servants of Jesus Christ, to all the holy men in Christ Jesus, that be at Philippi, with bishops and deacons,
(t) ¶ Paul and Timotheus the servants of Jesus Christ. To all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons.
(g) Paul and Timothy the servants of JESUS CHRIST, to all the Saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the Bishops and Deacons:
(k) Paul and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:
- 1:2 (w) grace to you and peace of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) grace and peace to you of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) ¶ Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
(g) Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
(k) Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

- 1:3 (w) I do thankings to my God in all mind of you
(p) I do thankings to my God in all mind of you
(t) ¶ I thank my God with all remembrance of you,
(g) I thank my God, having you in perfect memory,
(k) I thank my God upon every remembrance {or, mention} of you,
- 1:4 (w) evermore in all my prayers for all you with joy, and make beseeching
(p) evermore in all my prayers for all you with joy, and make beseeching
(t) always in all my prayers for you [my prayers for you all], and pray with gladness,
(g) (Always in all my prayers for you all, praying with gladness,)
(k) Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,
- 1:5 (w) on your communing in the gospel of Christ, from the first day unto now;
(p) on your communing in the gospel of Christ, from the first day till now;
(t) because of the fellowship which ye have in the gospel from the first day unto now,
(g) Because of the fellowship which ye have in the Gospel, from the first day unto now.
(k) For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;
- 1:6 (w) trusting this same thing, that he that began in you a good work, shall perform it till into the day of Jesus Christ.
(p) trusting this same thing, that he that began in you a good work, shall perform it till into the day of Jesus Christ.
(t) and am surely certified of this, that he which began a good work in you shall go forth with [perform] it until the day of Jesus Christ,
(g) And I am persuaded of this same thing, that he that hath begun this good work in you, will perform it until the day of Jesus Christ,
(k) Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun a good work in you will perform {or, finish} it until the day of Jesus Christ:
- 1:7 (w) As it is just to me to feel this thing for you all, for that I have you in heart, and in my bonds, and in defending and confirming of the gospel, that all ye be fellows of my joy.
(p) As it is just to me to feel this thing for all you, for that I have you in heart, and in my bonds, and in defending and confirming of the gospel, that all ye be fellows of my joy.
(t) as it becometh me so to judge of you all, because I have you in my heart, and have you also every one companions of grace with me, even in my bonds as I defend, and establish the gospel.
(g) As it becometh me so to judge of you all, because I have you in remembrance, that both in my bands, and in my defense, and confirmation of the Gospel you all were partakers of my grace.
(k) Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because I have you in my heart {or, ye have me in your heart} ; inasmuch as both in my bonds, and in the defence and confirmation of the gospel, ye all are partakers of my grace {or, partakers with me of grace}.
- 1:8 (w) For God is a witness to me, how I covet you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.
(p) For God is a witness to me, how I covet all you in the bowels of Jesus Christ.
(t) ¶ For God beareth me record how greatly I long after you all from the very heart root in Jesus Christ.
(g) For God is my record, how I long after you all from the very heart root in Jesus Christ.
(k) For God is my record, how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Jesus Christ.
- 1:9 (w) And this thing I pray, that your charity be plenteous more and more in science, or knowing, and in all wit;

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) And this thing I pray, that your charity be plenteous more and more in knowing, and in all wit;
(t) And this I pray, that your love may increase more and more in knowledge, and in all feeling,
(g) And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all judgment,
(k) And this I pray, that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all judgment {or, sense};
- 1:10 (w) that ye prove the better things, that ye be clean and without offence in the day of Christ;
(p) that ye approve the better things, that ye be clean and without offence in the day of Christ;
(t) that ye might accept things most excellent, that ye might be pure and such as should hurt no man's conscience, until the day of Christ,
(g) That ye may discern those things that differ one from another which are best, that ye may be pure, and without offence, until the day of Christ,
(k) That ye may approve {or, try} things that are excellent {or, differ}; that ye may be sincere and without offence till the day of Christ;
- 1:11 (w) full-filled with the fruit of rightwiseness by Jesus Christ, into the glory and praising of God.
(p) filled with the fruit of rightwiseness by Jesus Christ, into the glory and praising of God.
(t) filled with the fruits of righteousness, which fruits come by Jesus Christ unto the glory and laud of God.
(g) Filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ unto the glory and praise of God.
(k) Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, which are by Jesus Christ, unto the glory and praise of God.
- 1:12 (w) For, brethren, I will that ye know, that the things that be about me have come more to the profit of the gospel,
(p) For, brethren, I will that ye know, that the things that be about me have come more to the profit of the gospel,
(t) ¶ I would ye understood brethren that my business is happened unto the greater furthering of the gospel.
(g) ¶ I would ye understood, brethren, that the things which have come unto me, are turned rather to the furthering of the Gospel,
(k) But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;
- 1:13 (w) so that my bonds were made known in Christ, in each moot hall, and in all other places;
(p) so that my bonds were made known in Christ, in each moot hall, and in all other places;
(t) So that my bonds in Christ are manifest throughout all the judgment hall: and in all other places,
(g) So that my bands in Christ are famous throughout all the judgment hall, and in all other places,
(k) So that my bonds in Christ {or, for Christ} are manifest in all the palace {or, Caesar's Court}, and in all other places {or, all others};
- 1:14 (w) that more of the brethren in the Lord trusting in my bonds, more plenteously durst without dread speak the word of God.
(p) that more of brethren trusting in the Lord more plenteously for my bonds, durst without dread speak the word of God.
(t) In so much that many of the brethren in the Lord are boldened through my bonds, and dare more largely speak the word without fear.
(g) In so much that many of the brethren in the Lord are boldened through my bands, and dare more frankly speak the word.
(k) And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.
- 1:15 (w) But some for envy and strife, some for good will, preach Christ;

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) But some for envy and strife, some for good will, preach Christ;
(t) Some there are which preach Christ of envy and strife, and some of goodwill.
(g) Some preach Christ even through envy and strife, and some also of good will.
(k) Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and strife; and some also of good will:
- 1:16 (w) and some of charity, witting that I am put in the defence of the gospel.
(p) and some of charity, witting that I am put in the defence of the gospel.
(t) The one part preacheth Christ of strife, and not purely, supposing to add more adversity to my bonds.
(g) The one part preacheth Christ of contention, and not purely, supposing to add more affliction to my bands.
(k) The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:
- 1:17 (w) Forsooth some of contention, or strife, show Christ not cleanly, guessing them(selves) to raise tribulation to my bonds.
(p) But some of strife show Christ not cleanly, guessing them(selves) to raise tribulation to my bonds.
(t) The other part of love, because they see that I am set to defend the gospel.
(g) But the others of love, knowing that I am set for the defense of the Gospel.
(k) But the other of love, knowing that I am set for the defence of the gospel.
- 1:18 (w) What soothly? the while on all manner, either by contention, either by truth, Christ is showed; and in this thing I have joy, but also I shall have joy.
(p) But what? while on all manner, either by occasion, either by truth, Christ is showed; and in this thing I have joy, but also I shall have joy.
(t) ¶ What then? So that Christ be preached all manner ways, whether it be by occasion, or of true meaning, I therein joy: yea and will joy. [What thing is this? Notwithstanding by all manner ways, whether it be by occasion or of truth, yet Christ is preached: and therefore I joy.]
(g) What then? Yet Christ is preached all manner ways, whether it be under a pretence, or sincerely; and I therein joy, yea, and will joy.
(k) What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.
- 1:19 (w) And I know, that this thing shall come to me into health by your prayer, and the under-ministering of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,
(p) And I know, that this thing shall come to me into health by your prayer, and the under-ministering of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,
(t) For I know that this shall chance to my salvation [be for my health], through your prayer, and ministering of the spirit of Jesus Christ,
(g) For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and by the help of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,
(k) For I know that this shall turn to my salvation through your prayer, and the supply of the Spirit of Jesus Christ,
- 1:20 (w) after mine abiding and hope. For in nothing I shall be ashamed, but in all trust as evermore and now, Christ shall be magnified in my body, either by life, either by death.
(p) by mine abiding and hope. For in nothing I shall be ashamed, but in all trust as evermore and now, Christ shall be magnified in my body, either by life, either by death.
(t) as I heartily look for and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed: but that with all confidence, as always in times past, even so now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be through life, or else death.
(g) As I heartily look for, and hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all confidence, as always, so now Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life or by death.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

1:21 (w) For to me to live is Christ, and to die is winning.

(p) For me to live is Christ, and to die is winning.

(t) For Christ is to me life, and death is to me advantage.

(g) For Christ is to me both in life, and in death advantage.

(k) For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

1:22 (w) That if to live in flesh, this is fruit of work to me, and what I shall choose, I know not.

(p) That if to live in flesh, is fruit of work to me, lo! what I shall choose, I know not.

(t) ¶ If it chance me to live in the flesh, that is to me fruitful for to work, and what to choose I know not.

(g) And whether to live in the flesh were profitable for me, and what to choose I know not.

(k) But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

1:23 (w) Forsooth I am constrained of two things, having desire to be dissolved, or departed the soul from the body, and to be with Christ, it is much more better;

(p) But I am constrained of two things, I have desire to be departed, and to be with Christ, it is much more better;

(t) I am constrained of two things: I desire to be loosed, and to be with Christ, which thing is best of all:

(g) For I am greatly in doubt on both sides, desiring to be loosed, and to be with Christ, which is best of all.

(k) For I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better:

1:24 (w) but to dwell in flesh, is needful for you.

(p) but to dwell in flesh, is needful for you.

(t) Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

(g) Nevertheless, to abide in the flesh, is more needful for you.

(k) Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

1:25 (w) And I trusting this thing, know that I shall dwell, and perfectly dwell to all you, to your profit and joy of faith,

(p) And I trusting this thing, know that I shall dwell, and perfectly dwell to all you, to your profit and joy of faith,

(t) And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, and with you all continue, for the furtherance and joy of your faith,

(g) And this am I sure of, that I shall abide, and with you all continue, for your furtherance and joy of your faith,

(k) And having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;

1:26 (w) that your thanking abound in Christ Jesus in me, by my coming again to you.

(p) that your thanking abound in Christ Jesus in me, by my coming again to you.

(t) that ye may more abundantly rejoice in Jesus Christ through me, by my coming to you again.

(g) That ye may more abundantly rejoice in Jesus Christ for me, by my coming to you again.

(k) That your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

1:27 (w) Only live ye worthily to the gospel of Christ, that whether when I come and see you, or absent I shall hear of you, that ye stand in one spirit of one will, travailing together to the faith of the gospel.

(p) Only live ye worthily to the gospel of Christ, that whether when I come and see you, either absent I hear of you, that ye stand in one spirit of one will, travailing together to the faith of the gospel.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) ¶ Only let your conversation be, as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may yet hear of you, that ye continue in one spirit, and in one soul laboring as we do to maintain the faith of the gospel,

(g) Only let your conversation be as it becometh the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your matters, that ye continue in one Spirit, and in one mind, fighting together through the faith of the Gospel.

(k) Only let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, that ye stand fast in one spirit, with one mind striving together for the faith of the gospel;

1:28 (w) And in nothing be ye afeared of adversaries, which is to them cause of perdition, but to you a cause of health. And this thing is of God.

(p) And in nothing be ye afeared of adversaries, which is to them cause of perdition, but to you a cause of health. And this thing is of God.

(t) and in nothing fearing your adversaries: which is to them a token of perdition, and to you of salvation [a sign of health], and that of God.

(g) And in nothing fear your adversaries, which is to them a token of perdition, and to you of salvation, and that of God.

(k) And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: which is to them an evident token of perdition, but to you of salvation, and that of God.

1:29 (w) For it is given to you for Christ, that not only ye believe in him, but also that ye suffer for him;

(p) For it is given to you for Christ, that not only ye believe in him, but also that ye suffer for him;

(t) For unto you it is given, that not only ye should believe on Christ: but also suffer for his sake,

(g) For unto you it is given for Christ, that not only ye should believe in him, but also suffer for his sake,

(k) For unto you it is given in the behalf of Christ, not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake;

1:30 (w) having the same strife, which ye saw in me, and now ye have heard of me.

(p) having the same strife, which ye saw in me, and now ye have heard of me.

(t) and have even the same fight which ye saw me have and now hear of me.

(g) Having the same fight, which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

(k) Having the same conflict which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAPTER 2

2:1 (w) Therefore if any comfort is in Christ, if any solace of charity, if any fellowship of Spirit, if any entrails of mercy doing,

(p) Therefore if any comfort is in Christ, if any solace of charity, if any fellowship of Spirit, if any inwardness of mercy doing,

(t) ¶ If there be among you any consolation in Christ, if there be any comfortable love, if there be any fellowship of the spirit, if there be any compassion of mercy:

(g) If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any compassion and mercy,

(k) If there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any bowels and mercies,

2:2 (w) fulfill ye my joy, that ye understand the same thing, having the same charity, of one will, feeling the same thing;

(p) fill ye my joy, that ye understand the same thing, and have the same charity, of one will, and feel the same thing;

(t) fulfill my joy, that ye draw one way, having one love, being of one accord, and of one mind,

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Fulfill my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, and of one judgment,
(k) Fulfil ye my joy, that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.
- 2:3 (w) nothing doing, neither by strife, neither by vain glory, but in meekness, deeming higher than themselves together, or each holding others higher in virtue;
(p) nothing by strife, neither by vain glory, but in meekness, deeming each other to be higher than himself;
(t) that nothing be done through strife or vain glory, but that in meekness of mind every man esteem other better than himself, [but in meekness of mind. Let every person think every other man better than himself,]
(g) That nothing be done through contention or vain glory, but that in meekness of mind every man esteem others better than himself.
(k) Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.
- 2:4 (w) not each by themselves beholding what things be their own, but those things that be of others.
(p) not beholding each by himself what things be his own, but those things that be of other men.
(t) and that no man consider his own, but what is meet for other. [so that ye consider every man, not what is in himself: But what is in worther men.]
(g) Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of other men.
(k) Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.
- 2:5 (w) And feel ye this thing in you, which was also in Christ Jesus;
(p) And feel ye this thing in you, which was also in Christ Jesus;
(t) ¶ Let the same mind be in you that [the which] was in Christ Jesus:
(g) Let the same mind be in you that was even in Christ Jesus,
(k) Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:
- 2:6 (w) which when he was in the form of God, deemed not raven, himself to be even to God;
(p) which when he was in the form of God, deemed not raven, that himself were even to God;
(t) Which being in the shape of God, and thought it not robbery to be equal with God.
(g) Who being in the form of God, thought it no robbery to be equal with God;
(k) Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God:
- 2:7 (w) but he meeked himself, taking the form of a servant, and was made into the likeness of men,
(p) but he lowed himself, taking the form of a servant, and was made into the likeness of men,
(t) Nevertheless he made himself of no reputation, and took on him the shape of a servant, and became like unto men,
(g) But he made himself of no reputation, and took on him the form of a servant, and was made like unto men, and was found in shape as a man.
(k) But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness {or, habit} of men:
- 2:8 (w) and in habit was found as a man. He meeked himself, made obedient unto the death/till to death, yea, to the death of the cross.
(p) and in habit was found as a man. He meeked himself, and was made obedient to the death, yea, to the death of the cross.
(t) and was found in his apparel as a man. He humbled himself and became obedient unto the death, even the death of the cross.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) He humbled himself, and became obedient unto the death, even the death of the cross.

(k) And being found in fashion {or, habit} as a man, he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

2:9 (w) For which thing and God enhanced him, and gave to him a name that is above all names;

(p) For which thing God enhanced him, and gave to him a name that is above all name;

(t) Wherefore God hath exalted him, and given him a name above all names:

(g) Wherefore God hath also highly exalted him, and given him a Name above every name,

(k) Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name:

2:10 (w) that in the name of Jesus each knee be bowed, of heavenly things, and of earthly things, and of hell's;

(p) that in the name of Jesus each knee be bowed, of heavenly things, of earthly things, and of hell's;

(t) that in the name of Jesus should every knee bow, both of things in heaven, and things in earth and things under earth,

(g) That at the Name of Jesus should every knee bow, both of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth,

(k) That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

2:11 (w) and each tongue acknowledge, that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father.

(p) and each tongue acknowledge, that the Lord Jesus Christ is in the glory of God the Father.

(t) and that all tongues should confess that Jesus Christ is the Lord unto the praise of God the father.

(g) And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is the Lord, unto the glory of God the Father.

(k) And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

2:12 (w) Therefore, my most dear-worthy, as evermore ye have obeyed, not in my presence only, but much more now in mine absence, work ye with dread and trembling your health.

(p) Therefore, my most dear-worthy, as evermore ye have obeyed, not in my presence only, but much more now in mine absence, work ye with dread and trembling your health.

(t) ¶ Wherefore my dearly beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not when I was present only, but now much more in mine absence, even so work out your own salvation [perform your own health] with fear and trembling.

(g) Wherefore my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, so make an end of your own salvation with fear and trembling.

(k) Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling.

2:13 (w) For it is God that worketh in you, both to desire, and to perform, for good will.

(p) For it is God that worketh in you, both to will, and to perform, for good will.

(t) For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and also the deed, even of good will.

(g) For it is God which worketh in you, both the will and the deed, even of his good pleasure.

(k) For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

2:14 (w) Forsooth do ye all things without grutchings and doubtings;

(p) And do ye all things without grumblings and doubtings;

(t) ¶ Do all things without murmuring and disputing,

(g) Do all things without murmuring and reasonings,

(k) Do all things without murmurings and disputings:

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:15 (w) that ye be without plaint, and simple as the sons of God, without reproof, in the middle of a shrewd nation and a wayward; among whom ye shine as givers of light in the world;
(p) that ye be without plaint, and simple as the sons of God, without reproof, in the middle of a depraved nation and a wayward; among which ye shine as givers of light in the world.
(t) that ye may be faultless, and pure, and the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked, and a perverse nation, among which see that ye shine as lights in the world,
(g) That ye may be blameless, and pure, and the sons of God without rebuke in the midst of a naughty and crooked nation, among whom ye shine as lights in the world,
(k) That ye may be blameless and harmless {or, sincere}, the sons of God, without rebuke, in the midst of a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ye shine {or, shine ye} as lights in the world;
- 2:16 (w) holding together the word of life to my glory in the day of Christ; for I have not run in vain, neither in vain travailed.
(p) And hold ye together the word of life to my glory in the day of Christ; for I have not run in vain, neither I have travailed in vain.
(t) holding fast the word of life, unto my rejoicing in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither have labored in vain.
(g) Holding forth the word of life, that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither have labored in vain.
(k) Holding forth the word of life; that I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.
- 2:17 (w) But and if I be offered, or slain, upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I have joy, and together thank you all.
(p) But though I be offered, or slain, on the sacrifice and service of your faith, I have joy, and I thank you all.
(t) Yea and though I be offered up upon the offering and sacrifice of your faith: [on your sacrifice and your serving of God in the faith:] I rejoice and rejoice with you all.
(g) Yea, and though I be offered up upon the sacrifice, and service of your faith, I am glad, and rejoice with you all.
(k) Yea, and if I be offered {Gr. poured forth} upon the sacrifice and service of your faith, I joy, and rejoice with you all.
- 2:18 (w) The same thing forsooth and ye have joy, and together thank me.
(p) And for the same thing have ye joy, and thank ye me.
(t) For the same cause also, rejoice ye, and rejoice ye with me.
(g) For the same cause also be ye glad, and rejoice with me.
(k) For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.
- 2:19 (w) Forsooth I hope in the Lord Jesus, me to send Timothy soon to you, that I be of good comfort, when those things be known that be about you.
(p) And I hope in the Lord Jesus, that I shall send Timothy soon to you, that I be of good comfort, when those things be known that be about you.
(t) ¶ I trust in the Lord Jesus for to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know what case ye stand in.
(g) And I trust in the Lord Jesus, to send Timothy shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.
(k) But {or, Moreover} I trust in the Lord Jesus to send Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.
- 2:20 (w) For I have no man so of one will, that is busy for you with clean affection.
(p) For I have no man so of one will, that is busy for you with clean affection.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) For I have no man that is so like minded to me, which with so pure affection careth for your matters.
(g) For I have no man likeminded, who will faithfully care for your matters.
(k) For I have no man likeminded {or, so dear unto me}, who will naturally care for your state.
- 2:21 (w) For all men seek those things that be their own, not those that be of Christ Jesus.
(p) For all men seek those things that be their own, not those that be of Christ Jesus.
(t) For all others seek their own, and not that which is Jesus Christ's.
(g) For all seek their own, and not that which is Jesus Christ's.
(k) For all seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.
- 2:22 (w) Forsooth know ye the experiment, or assay, of him, for as a son to the father he hath served with me in the gospel.
(p) But know ye the assay of him, for as a son to the father he hath served with me in the gospel.
(t) Ye know the proof of him, how that as a son with the father, so with me bestowed he his labor upon the gospel.
(g) But ye know the proof of him, that as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the Gospel.
(k) But ye know the proof of him, that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.
- 2:23 (w) Forsooth I hope me to send him to you, anon as I shall see what things be about me.
(p) Therefore I hope that I shall send him to you, at once as I see what things be about me.
(t) Him I hope to send [Him trust I to send] as soon as I know how it will go with me.
(g) Him therefore I hope to send as soon as I know how it will go with me,
(k) Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.
- 2:24 (w) And I trust in the Lord, that also myself shall come to you soon.
(p) And I trust in the Lord, that also myself shall come to you soon.
(t) I trust in the Lord [that] I also myself shall come shortly.
(g) And I trust in the Lord, that I also myself shall come shortly.
(k) But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.
- 2:25 (w) And I guessed it needful to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and even-worker, and mine even-knight, but your apostle, and the minister of my need.
(p) And I guessed it needful to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother and even-worker, and mine even-knight, but your apostle, and the minister of my need.
(t) ¶ I supposed it necessary to send brother Epaphroditus unto you, my companion in labor and fellow-soldier, your apostle, and my minister at my needs.
(g) But I supposed it necessary to send my brother Epaphroditus unto you, my companion in labor, and fellow soldier, even your messenger, and he that ministered unto me such things as I wanted.
(k) Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and fellowsoldier, but your messenger, and he that ministered to my wants.
- 2:26 (w) For he desired you all, and he was sorrowful, therefore that ye heard that he was sick.
(p) For he desired you all, and he was sorrowful, therefore that ye heard that he was sick.
(t) For he longed after you, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard say that he should be sick,
(g) For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because ye had heard that he had been sick.
(k) For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:27 (w) For he was sick till to the death, but God had mercy on him; and not only on him, but also on me, lest I had heaviness upon heaviness.
(p) For he was sick to the death, but God had mercy on him; and not only on him, but also on me, lest I had heaviness on heaviness.
(t) and no doubt he was sick, and that nigh unto death, but God had mercy on him: not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have had sorrow upon sorrow.
(g) And no doubt he was sick, very near unto death, but God had mercy on him, and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.
(k) For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.
- 2:28 (w) Therefore more hastily I sent him, that when ye have seen him, ye have joy again, and I be without heaviness.
(p) Therefore more hastily I sent him, that when ye have seen him, ye have joy again, and I be without heaviness.
(t) ¶ I sent him therefore the diligentlier, that when ye should see him, ye might rejoice again, and I might be the less sorrowful.
(g) I sent him therefore the more diligently, that when ye should see him again, ye might rejoice, and I might be the less sorrowful.
(k) I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.
- 2:29 (w) Therefore receive ye him with all joy in the Lord, and have ye such with all honour.
(p) Therefore receive ye him with all joy in the Lord, and have ye such with all honour.
(t) Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness, and make much of such:
(g) Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness, and make much of such;
(k) Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and hold such in reputation {or, honor such}:
- 2:30 (w) For why for the work of Christ unto the death he went, giving his life, that he should fulfill that that failed to you with my service.
(p) For the work of Christ he went to death, giving his life, that he should fulfill that that failed of you with my service.
(t) because that for the work of Christ he went so far, that he was nigh unto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfill that service which was lacking on your part toward me.
(g) Because that for the work of Christ he was near unto death, and regarded not his life, to fulfill that service which was lacking on your part toward me.
(k) Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) Henceforward, my brethren, have ye joy in the Lord. To write to you the same things, to me it is not slow, and to you it is necessary.
(p) Henceforward, my brethren, have ye joy in the Lord. To write to you the same things, to me it is not slow, and to you it is necessary.
(t) ¶ Moreover my brethren [brethren mine], rejoice in the Lord. It grieveth me not to write one thing often to you [the very same things unto you]. For to you it is a sure thing.
(g) Moreover, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. It grieveth me not to write the same things to you, and for you it is a sure thing.
(k) Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

- 3:2 (w) See ye hounds, see ye evil workmen, see ye concision.
(p) See ye hounds, see ye evil workmen, see ye division.
(t) Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers. Beware of dissension:
(g) Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision;
(k) Beware of dogs, beware of evil workers, beware of the concision.
- 3:3 (w) For we be circumcision, which by spirit serve to God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have not trust in the flesh,
(p) For we be circumcision, which by spirit serve to God, and glory in Christ Jesus, and have not trust in the flesh,
(t) For we are circumcision which worship God in the spirit, and rejoyce in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh:
(g) For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoyce in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh;
(k) For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoyce in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.
- 3:4 (w) though I have trust, yea, in the flesh. If any other man is seen to trust in the flesh, I more,
(p) though I have trust, yea, in the flesh. If any other man is seen to trust in the flesh, I more,
(t) though I have whereof I might rejoyce in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh: much more I:
(g) Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, much more I,
(k) Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:
- 3:5 (w) circumcised in the eighth day, of the kindred of Israel, of the lineage of Benjamin, an Hebrew of Hebrews, after the law a Pharisee,
(p) that was circumcised in the eighth day, of the kin of Israel, of the lineage of Benjamin, an Hebrew of Hebrews, by the law a Pharisee,
(t) circumcised the eighth day, of the kindred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin an Hebrew born of the Hebrews: as concerning the law, a Pharisee,
(g) Circumcised the eighth day, of the kindred of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of the Hebrews, by the law a Pharisee.
(k) Circumcised the eighth day, of the stock of Israel, of the tribe of Benjamin, an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, a Pharisee;
- 3:6 (w) after love pursuing the church of God, after rightwiseness that is in the law living without complaint.
(p) by love pursuing the church of God, by rightwiseness that is in the law living without complaint.
(t) and as concerning ferventness I persecuted the congregation, and as touching the righteousness which is in the law I was unrebukable [such a one as no man could complain on].
(g) Concerning zeal, I persecuted the Church; touching the righteousness which is in the Law, I was unrebukeable.
(k) Concerning zeal, persecuting the church; touching the righteousness which is in the law, blameless.
- 3:7 (w) But which things were to me winnings, I have deemed these impairings for Christ.
(p) But which things were to me winnings, I have deemed these impairings for Christ.
(t) ¶ But the things that were vantage [winning] unto me I counted loss for Christ's sake.
(g) But the things that were vantage unto me, the same I counted loss for Christ's sake.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

- (k) But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.
- 3:8 (w) Nevertheless I guess all things to be impairment for the clear science of Jesus Christ my Lord. For whom I made all things impairment, and I deem as turds, that I win Christ,
(p) Nevertheless I guess all things to be impairment for the clear science of Jesus Christ my Lord. For whom I made all things impairment, and I deem as drit, that I win Christ,
(t) Yea I think all things but loss for that excellent knowledge's sake of Christ Jesus my Lord. For whom I have counted all thing loss, and do judge them but dung, that I might win Christ,
(g) Yea, doubtless I think all things but loss for the excellent knowledge sake of Christ Jesus my Lord, for whom I have counted all things loss, and do judge them to be dung, that I might win Christ,
(k) Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,
- 3:9 (w) and that I be found in him, not having my rightwiseness that is of the law, but that that is of the faith of Christ, that is of God the rightwiseness in faith,
(p) and that I be found in him, not having my rightwiseness that is of the law, but that that is of the faith of Christ Jesus, that is of God the rightwiseness in faith,
(t) and might be found in him, not having mine own righteousness which is of the law: But that which springeth of the faith which is in Christ. I mean the righteousness which cometh of God through faith in knowing him,
(g) And might be found in him, that is, not having my own righteousness, which is of the Law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, even the righteousness which is of God through faith,
(k) And be found in him, not having mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:
- 3:10 (w) to know him, and the virtue of his rising again, and the fellowship of his passion, I configured, or made like, to his death,
(p) to know him, and the virtue of his rising again, and the fellowship of his passion, and to be made like to his death,
(t) and the virtue of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his passions, that I might be conformable unto his death,
(g) That I may know him, and the virtue of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his afflictions, and be made conformable unto his death,
(k) That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;
- 3:11 (w) if on any manner I shall come to the resurrection that is of dead men.
(p) if on any manner I come to the resurrection that is from death.
(t) if by any means I might attain unto the resurrection from death.
(g) If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.
(k) If by any means I might attain unto the resurrection of the dead.
- 3:12 (w) Not that now I have taken, or now am perfect; forsooth I follow, if on any manner I shall comprehend, in which thing also I am comprehended of Christ Jesus.
(p) Not that now I have taken, or now am perfect; but I follow, if in any manner I catch, in which thing also I am caught of Christ Jesus.
(t) ¶ Not as though I had already attained to [received] it, either were already perfect: but I follow, if that I may comprehend that, wherein I am comprehended of Christ Jesus.
(g) Not as though I had already attained to it, either were already perfect, but I follow, if that I may comprehend that for whose sake also I am comprehended of Christ Jesus.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) Not as though I had already attained, either were already perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.
- 3:13 (w) Brethren, I deem me not to have comprehended; one thing, forsooth, I forgetting soothly those things that be behind, stretching myself forsooth to those things that be the former,
(p) Brethren, I deem me not that I have caught; but one thing, I forget those things that be behind, and stretching forth myself to those things that be before,
(t) Brethren I count not myself that I have gotten it: but one thing I say: I forget that which is behind [me], and stretch myself unto that which is before [me]
(g) Brethren, I count not myself, that I have attained to it, but one thing I do: I forget that which is behind, and endeavor myself unto that which is before,
(k) Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before,
- 3:14 (w) to the ordained thing, pursue to the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.
(p) and pursue to the ordained meed of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.
(t) and press unto that [the] mark appointed, to obtain the reward of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.
(g) And follow hard toward the mark, for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.
(k) I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.
- 3:15 (w) Therefore whoever we be perfect, feel we this thing. And if ye understand in other manner any thing, this thing God shall show to you.
(p) Therefore whoever we be perfect, feel we this thing. And if ye understand in other manner any thing, this thing God shall show to you.
(t) Let us therefore as many as be perfect be thus wise minded: and if ye be other wise minded, I pray God open even this unto you.
(g) Let us therefore as many as be perfect, be thus minded; and if ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even the same unto you.
(k) Let us therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.
- 3:16 (w) Nevertheless to what thing we have come, that we understand the same thing, and that we perfectly dwell in the same rule.
(p) Nevertheless to what thing we have come, that we understand the same thing, and that we perfectly dwell in the same rule.
(t) Nevertheless in that whereunto we are come, let us proceed by one rule, that we may be of one accord.
(g) Nevertheless, in that whereunto we are come, let us proceed by one rule, that we may mind one thing.
(k) Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, let us walk by the same rule, let us mind the same thing.
- 3:17 (w) Brethren, be ye my followers, and wait ye (on) them that walk so, as ye have our form.
(p) Brethren, be ye my followers, and watch ye them that walk so, as ye have our form.
(t) ¶ Brethren be followers of [counterfeit] me, and look on them which walk even so, as ye have us for an example.
(g) Brethren, be followers of me, and look on them, which walk so, as ye have us for an example.
(k) Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an ensample.
- 3:18 (w) Forsooth many walk, whom I have said oft to you, forsooth now and I weeping say, them, the enemies of Christ's cross,

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

- (p) For many walk, which I have said oft to you, but now I weeping say, the enemies of Christ's cross,
(t) For many walk (of whom I have told you often, and now tell you weeping) that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ,
(g) For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you weeping, that they are the enemies of the Cross of Christ;
(k) (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are the enemies of the cross of Christ:
- 3:19 (w) whose end is death, whose god is the womb, and the glory in the confusion of them, that savour, or understand, earthly things.
(p) whose end is death, whose god is the womb, and the glory in confusion of them, that savour earthly things.
(t) whose end is damnation, whose God is their belly and whose glory is to their shame, which are worldly minded.
(g) Whose end is damnation, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is to their shame, which mind earthly things.
(k) Whose end is destruction, whose God is their belly, and whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things.)
- 3:20 (w) Forsooth our living is in heaven; from whence also we abide the Saviour our Lord Jesus Christ,
(p) But our living is in heavens; from whence also we abide the Saviour our Lord Jesus Christ,
(t) But our conversation is in heaven, from whence we look for a savior, even the Lord [the savior] Jesus Christ,
(g) But our conversation is in heaven, from whence also we look for the Saviour, [even] the Lord Jesus Christ,
(k) For our conversation is in heaven {or, we live or conduct ourselves as citizens of heaven, or, for obtaining heaven}; from whence also we look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:
- 3:21 (w) which shall reform the body of our meekness, configured, or made like, to the body of his clearness, after the working by which he may also make all things subject to him.
(p) which shall reform the body of our meekness, that is made like to the body of his clearness, by the working by which he may also make all things subject to him.
(t) which shall change [into another fashion] our vile bodies, that they may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able to subdue all things unto himself.
(g) Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working, whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.
(k) Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, according to the working whereby he is able even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER 4

- 4:1 (w) Therefore, my brethren most dear-worthy and most desired, my joy and my crown, so stand ye in the Lord, most dear brethren.
(p) Therefore, my brethren most dear-worthy and most desired, my joy and my crown, so stand ye in the Lord, most dear brethren.
(t) ¶ Wherefore brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so continue in the Lord ye beloved [beloved in the Lord].
(g) Therefore, my brethren, beloved and longed for, my joy and my crown, so continue in the Lord, ye beloved.
(k) Therefore, my brethren dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown, so stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.
- 4:2 (w) I pray Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, to understand the same thing in the Lord.
(p) I pray Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, to understand the same thing in the Lord.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) I pray Euodias, and beseech Sintiches that they be of one accord in the Lord.

(g) I pray Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of one accord in the Lord;

(k) I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

4:3 (w) Also and I pray thee, german even-fellow, help thou those women that travailed with me in the gospel, with Clement and other mine helpers, whose names be in the book of life.

(p) Also I pray and thee, german fellow, help thou those women that travailed with me in the gospel, with Clement and other mine helpers, whose names be in the book of life.

(t) Yea and I beseech thee faithful yokefellow, help the women which labored with me in the gospel, and with Clement also, and with other my labor-fellows, whose names are in the book of life.

(g) Yea, and I beseech thee, faithful yokefellow, help those women, which labored with me in the Gospel, with Clement also, and with others my fellow laborers, whose names are in the book of life.

(k) And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in the book of life.

4:4 (w) Joy ye in the Lord evermore; again I say, joy ye.

(p) Joy ye in the Lord evermore; again I say, joy ye.

(t) Rejoice in the Lord always, and again I say rejoice.

(g) Rejoice in the Lord alway, again I say, rejoice.

(k) Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.

4:5 (w) Be your temperance, or patience, known to all men; the Lord is nigh.

(p) Be your patience known to all men; the Lord is nigh.

(t) Let your softness be known unto all men. The Lord is even at hand.

(g) Let your patient mind be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

(k) Let your moderation be known unto all men. The Lord is at hand.

4:6 (w) Be nothing busy, but in all prayer and beseeching, with doing of thankings, be your askings known at God.

(p) Be ye nothing busy, but in all prayer and beseeching, with doing of thankings, be your askings known at God.

(t) Be not careful: but in all things show your petition unto God in prayer and supplication with giving of thanks.

(g) Be nothing careful, but in all things let your requests be shewed unto God in prayer and supplication with giving of thanks.

(k) Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

4:7 (w) And the peace of God, that passeth all wit, keep your hearts and understandings in Christ Jesus.

(p) And the peace of God, that passeth all wit, keep your hearts and understandings in Christ Jesus.

(t) And the peace of God which passeth all understanding keep your hearts, and minds in Christ Jesus.

(g) And the peace of God which passeth all understanding, shall preserve your hearts and minds in Christ Jesus.

(k) And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

4:8 (w) From henceforth, brethren, whatever things be sooth, whatever things chaste, whatever things just, whatever things holy, whatever things amiable/whatever things lovable, or able to be loved, whatever things of good fame, if any virtue, if any praising of discipline, think ye (on) these things,

(p) From henceforth, brethren, whatever things be sooth, whatever things chaste, whatever things just, whatever things holy, whatever things able to be loved, whatever things of good fame, if any virtue, if any praising of discipline, think ye (on) these things,

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) ¶ Furthermore brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things pertain to love, whatsoever things are of honest report, if there be any virtuous thing, if there be any laudable thing, those same have ye in your mind,

(g) Furthermore, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things pertain to love, whatsoever things are of good report, if there be any virtue, or if there be any praise, think on these things;

(k) Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest {or, venerable}, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

4:9 (w) that also ye have learned, and taken, and heard, and seen in me. Do ye these things, and God of peace shall be with you.

(p) that also ye have learned, and taken, and heard, and seen in me. Do ye these things, and God of peace shall be with you.

(t) which ye have both learned and received, heard and also seen in me: those things do, and the God of peace shall be with you.

(g) Which ye have both learned and received, and heard, and seen in me, those things do, and the God of peace shall be with you.

(k) Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

4:10 (w) But I joyed greatly in the Lord, for sometime afterward ye again flourished for to feel for me, as also ye feeled. But ye were occupied,

(p) But I joyed greatly in the Lord, that sometime afterward ye flowered again to feel for me , as also ye feeled. But ye were occupied,

(t) I rejoice [rejoiced] in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are revived again to care for me, in that wherein ye were also careful [are revived, and are waxed mindful of me again in that wherein ye were also mindful], but ye lacked opportunity.

(g) Now I rejoice also in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are revived again to care for me, wherein notwithstanding ye were careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

(k) But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last your care of me hath flourished again {or, is revived}; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

4:11 (w) I say not as for need, for I have learned, in which things I am, sufficient to be.

(p) I say not as for need, for I have learned to be sufficient in which things I am.

(t) I speak not because of necessity. For I have learned in whatsoever estate I am, therewith to be content.

(g) I speak not because of want, for I have learned in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

(k) Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content.

4:12 (w) I know and how to be lowed/bowed, or meeked, I know and how to abound, or have plenty. Every where and in all things I am ordained, either taught, and I know how to be full-filled, and to hunger, and to abound, and to suffer mis-ease.

(p) And I know also how to be lowed, I know also how to have plenty. Every where and in all things I am taught to be filled, and to hunger, and to abound, and to suffer need.

(t) I can both cast down myself, I can also exceed. Everywhere, and in all things I am instructed, both to be full, and to be hungry: to have plenty, and to suffer need.

(g) And I can be abased, and I can abound; everywhere in all things I am instructed, both to be full, and to be hungry, and to abound, and to have want.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

4:13 (w) I may all things in him that comforteth me.

(p) I may all things in him that comforteth me.

(t) I can do all things through the help of Christ, which strengtheneth me.

(g) I am able to do all things through the help of Christ, which strengtheneth me.

(k) I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.

4:14 (w) Nevertheless ye have done well, communing to my tribulation.

(p) Nevertheless ye have done well, communing to my tribulation.

(t) Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye bare part with me in my tribulation.

(g) Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate to my affliction.

(k) Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.

4:15 (w) For ye, Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I went forth from Macedonia, no church communed with me in reason of thing given and taken, but ye alone.

(p) For ye, Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I went forth from Macedonia, no church communed with me in reason of thing given and taken, but ye alone.

(t) ¶ Ye of Philippi know that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no congregation bare part with me as concerning giving and receiving but ye only.

(g) And ye Philippians know also that in the beginning of the Gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no Church communicated with me, concerning the matter of giving and receiving, but ye only.

(k) Now ye Philippians know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

4:16 (w) For and to Thessalonica ye sent once and twice into use to me.

(p) Which sent to Thessalonica once and twice also into use to me.

(t) For when I was in Thessalonica, ye sent once, and afterward again, unto my needs:

(g) For even when I was in Thessalonica, ye sent once, and afterward again for my necessity;

(k) For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

4:17 (w) Not for I seek gift, but I require, or seek again, fruit abounding in your reason.

(p) Not for I seek gift, but I require fruit abounding in your reason.

(t) not that I desire gifts: but I desire abundant fruit on your part.

(g) Not that I desire a gift, but I desire the fruit which may further your reckoning.

(k) Not because I desire a gift: but I desire fruit that may abound to your account.

4:18 (w) For I have all things, and abound; I am full-filled/I am replete with those things taken of Epaphroditus, which ye sent into the odour of sweetness, a covenable host, or sacrifice, pleasing to God.

(p) For I have all things, and abound; I am filled with those things taken of Epaphroditus, which ye sent into the odour of sweetness, a suitable sacrifice, pleasing to God.

(t) I received all, and have plenty. I was even filled after that I had received of Epaphroditus, that which came from you, an odor that smelleth sweet, a sacrifice accepted and pleasant to God.

(g) Now I have received all, and have plenty; I was even filled, after that I had received of Epaphroditus that which came from you, an odor that smelleth sweet, a sacrifice acceptable and pleasant to God.

Book 50 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Philippians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) But I have all {or, I have received all}, and abound: I am full, having received of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, wellpleasing to God.

- 4:19 (w) Forsooth my God full-fill all your desire, after his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.
(p) And my God fill all your desire, by his riches in glory in Christ Jesus.
(t) My God fulfill all your needs through his glorious riches in Jesus Christ.
(g) And my God shall fulfill all your necessities through his riches with glory in Jesus Christ.
(k) But my God shall supply all your need according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

- 4:20 (w) But to God and our Father be glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(p) But to God and our Father be glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(t) Unto God and our father be praise for ever more Amen.
(g) Unto God even our Father be praise for evermore, Amen.
(k) Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

- 4:21 (w) Greet ye well every holy man in Christ Jesus. Those brethren that be with me, greet you well.
(p) Greet ye well every holy man in Christ Jesus. Those brethren that be with me, greet you well.
(t) Salute all the saints in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you.
(g) Salute all the Saints in Christ Jesus. The brethren, which are with me, greet you.
(k) Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren which are with me greet you.

- 4:22 (w) All holy men greet you well, most soothly those that be of Caesar's house.
(p) All holy men greet you well, most soothly they that be of the emperor's house.
(t) All the saints salute you: and most of all they which are of the emperors household.
(g) All the Saints salute you, and most of all they which are of Caesar's household.
(k) All the saints salute you, chiefly they that are of Caesar's household.

- 4:23 (w) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
(p) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
(t) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all Amen.
(g) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen.
(k) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

- (t) Sent from Rome by Epaphroditus.
(g) Written to the Philippians from Rome, and sent by Epaphroditus.
(k) It was written to the Philippians from Rome, by Epaphroditus.

PHILIPPIANS END

The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Generally attributed to the apostle Paul about C.E. 62 during his first confinement in Rome as an expose against anything that distracts from the absolute divinity of Christ

- 1:1 (w) Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy, brother,
 (p) Paul, apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy, brother,
 (t) ¶ Paul an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and brother Timotheus.
 (g) Paul an Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the will of God, and Timothy our brother,
 (k) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,
- 1:2 (w) to them that be at Colosse, holy and faithful brethren in Christ Jesus, grace to you and peace of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
 (p) to them that be at Colosse, holy and faithful brethren in Christ Jesus, grace and peace to you of God our Father and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
 (t) ¶ To the saints which are at Colosse, and brethren that believe in Christ. ¶ Grace be with you and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
 (g) To them which are at Colosse, Saints and faithful brethren in Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
 (k) To the saints and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:3 (w) We do thankings to God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, evermore praying for you,
(p) We do thankings to God, and to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, evermore praying for you,
(t) ¶ We give thanks to God the father of our Lord Jesus Christ always praying for you [for you in our prayers],
(g) We give thanks to God even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, always praying for you;
(k) We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,
- 1:4 (w) we hearing your faith in Christ Jesus, and the love that ye have to all holy men,
(p) hearing your faith in Christ Jesus, and the love that ye have to all holy men,
(t) since we heard of your faith which ye have in Christ Jesus: and of the love which ye bear to all saints
(g) Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of your love toward all Saints,
(k) Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of the love which ye have to all the saints,
- 1:5 (w) for the hope that is kept to you in heavens. Which ye heard in the word of truth of the gospel,
(p) for the hope that is kept to you in heavens. Which ye heard in the word of truth of the gospel,
(t) for the hope's sake which is laid up in store for you in heaven, of which hope ye have heard before by the true word of the gospel,
(g) For the hope's sake, which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye have heard before by the word of truth, which is the Gospel,
(k) For the hope which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;
- 1:6 (w) that came to you, as also it is in all the world, and maketh fruit, and waxeth, as it is in you, from that day in which ye heard and knew the grace of God in truth.
(p) that came to you, as also it is in all the world, and maketh fruit, and waxeth, as in you, from that day in which ye heard and knew the grace of God in truth.
(t) which is come unto you, even as it is into all the world, and is fruitful as it is among you, from the first day in the which ye heard of it, and had experience in [of] the grace of God in the truth,
(g) Which is come unto you, even as it is unto all the world, and is fruitful, as it is also among you, from the day that ye heard and truly knew the grace of God,
(k) Which is come unto you, as it is in all the world; and bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew the grace of God in truth:
- 1:7 (w) As ye learned of Epaphras, our even-servant most dear-worthy, which is a true minister of Jesus Christ for you;
(p) As ye learned of Epaphras, our fellow most dear-worthy, which is a true minister of Jesus Christ for you;
(t) as ye learned of Epaphras our dear fellow servant, which is for you a faithful minister of [in] Christ,
(g) As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellow servant, which is for you a faithful minister of Christ;
(k) As ye also learned of Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you a faithful minister of Christ;
- 1:8 (w) which also showed to us your loving in Spirit.
(p) which also showed to us your loving in Spirit.
(t) which also declared unto us your love, which ye have in the spirit.
(g) Who hath also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.
(k) Who also declared unto us your love in the Spirit.
- 1:9 (w) And therefore we from the day in which we heard, cease not to pray for you, and to ask, that ye be filled with the knowing of his will in all wisdom and ghostly understanding;

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) And therefore we from the day in which we heard, cease not to pray for you, and to ask, that ye be filled with the knowing of his will in all wisdom and ghostly understanding;

(t) ¶ For this cause we also, since the day we heard of it have not ceased praying for you, and desiring that ye might be fulfilled with the knowledge of his will, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding,

(g) For this cause we also, since the day we heard of it, cease not to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be fulfilled with knowledge of his will in all wisdom, and spiritual understanding,

(k) For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire that ye might be filled with the knowledge of his will in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

1:10 (w) that ye walk worthily to God pleasing by all things, making fruit in all good work, and waxing in the science of God,

(p) that ye walk worthily to God pleasing by all things, and make fruit in all good work, and wax in the science of God,

(t) that ye might walk worthy of the Lord in all things that please, being fruitful in all good works and increasing in the knowledge of God

(g) That ye might walk worthy of the Lord, and please him in all things, being fruitful in all good works, and increasing in the knowledge of God,

(k) That ye might walk worthy of the Lord unto all pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

1:11 (w) and be comforted in all virtue after the might of his clearness, in all patience and long abiding with joy,

(p) and be comforted in all virtue by the might of his clearness, in all patience and long abiding with joy,

(t) strengthened with all might, through his glorious power, unto all patience, and long suffering, with joyfulness,

(g) Strengthened with all might through his glorious power, unto all patience, and long suffering with joyfulness,

(k) Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, unto all patience and longsuffering with joyfulness;

1:12 (w) doing thankings to God the Father, the which made us worthy into the part of heritage of holy men in light.

(p) that ye do thankings to God and to the Father, which made you worthy into the part of heritage of holy men in light.

(t) giving thanks unto the father which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of saints in light.

(g) Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the Saints in light,

(k) Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light:

1:13 (w) The which delivered us from the power of darkness, and translated us into the kingdom of the Son of his loving,

(p) Which delivered us from the power of darkneses, and translated into the kingdom of the Son of his loving,

(t) ¶ Which hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear son,

(g) Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son,

(k) Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son {Gr. the Son of his love}:

1:14 (w) in whom we have again-buying and remission of sins.

(p) in whom we have again-buying and remission of sins.

(t) in whom we have redemption through his blood, that is to say, the forgiveness of sins,

(g) In whom we have redemption through his blood, that is, the forgiveness of sins,

(k) In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

1:15 (w) Which is the image of God invisible, the first begotten of each creature.

(p) Which is the image of God invisible, the first begotten of each creature.

(t) which is the image of the invisible God, first begotten of [before] all creatures:

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature.

(k) Who is the image of the invisible God, the firstborn of every creature:

1:16 (w) For in him all things be made, in heavens and in earth, visible and invisible, either thrones, either dominations, either princehoods, either powers, all things be made of nought by him, and in him,

(p) For in him all things be made, in heavens and in earth, visible and invisible, either thrones, either dominations, either princehoods, either powers, all things be made of nought by him, and in him,

(t) for by him were all things created, things that are in heaven, and things that are in earth: things visible, and things invisible: whether they be majesty or lordship, either rule or power. All things are created by him, and in him,

(g) For by him were all things created, which are in heaven, and which are in earth, things visible and invisible, whether they be Thrones, or Dominions, or Principalities, or Powers, all things were created by him, and for him,

(k) For by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created by him, and for him:

1:17 (w) and he is before all, and all things be in him.

(p) and he is before all, and all things be in him.

(t) and he is before all things, and in him all things have their being.

(g) And he is before all things, and in him all things consist.

(k) And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

1:18 (w) And he is head of the body of the church; the which is the beginning, or the first of all, and the first begotten of dead, that he be holding primacy, or the first dignity, in all things.

(p) And he is head of the body of the church; which is the beginning and the first begotten of dead men, that he hold the first dignity in all things.

(t) ¶ And he is the head of the body, that is to wit of the congregation, he is the beginning and first begotten of the dead, that in all things he might have the preeminence.

(g) And he is the head of the body of the Church; he is the beginning, and the firstborn of the dead, that in all things he might have the preeminence.

(k) And he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all {or, among all} things he might have the preeminence.

1:19 (w) For in him it pleased all plenty to inhabit,

(p) For in him it pleased all plenty to inhabit,

(t) For it pleased the father that in him should all fullness dwell,

(g) For it pleased the Father, that in him should all fullness dwell,

(k) For it pleased the Father that in him should all fulness dwell;

1:20 (w) and by him all things to be reconciled into him, and made peace by the blood of his cross, either those things that be in earth's, or that be in heavens.

(p) and by him all things to be reconciled into him, and made peace by the blood of his cross, those things that be in earth's, either that be in heavens.

(t) and by him to reconcile all things unto himself, and to set at peace by him throw the blood of his cross both things in heaven and things in earth.

(g) And by him to reconcile all things unto himself, to set at peace through the blood of his cross, through him, I say, both the things in earth, and the things in heaven.

(k) And, having made peace {or, making peace} through the blood of his cross, by him to reconcile all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:21 (w) And when ye were sometime aliened, and enemies by wit in evil works, now he hath reconciled you
(p) And when ye were sometime aliened, and enemies by wit in evil works, now he hath reconciled you
(t) ¶ And you (which were in times past strangers and enemies, because your minds were set in evil works) hath he now reconciled
(g) And you which were in times past strangers and enemies, because your minds were set in evil works, hath he now also reconciled,
(k) And you, that were sometime alienated and enemies in your mind by {or, by your mind in} wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled
- 1:22 (w) in the body of his flesh by death, to have you holy, and unwemmed, and without reproof before him.
(p) in the body of his flesh by death, to have you holy, and unwemmed, and without reproof before him.
(t) in the body of his flesh through death, to make you holy, un-blamable [and such as no man could complain on], and without fault in his own sight,
(g) In that body of his flesh through death, to make you holy, and unblameable, and without fault in his sight,
(k) In the body of his flesh through death, to present you holy and unblameable and unreprouable in his sight:
- 1:23 (w) If nevertheless ye dwell in the faith, founded, and stabled, and unmoveable from the hope of the gospel that ye have heard, which is preached in all creature that is under heaven. Of which I Paul am made a minister,
(p) If nevertheless ye dwell in the faith, founded, and stable, and unmoveable from the hope of the gospel that ye have heard, which is preached in all creature that is under heaven. Of which I Paul am made a minister,
(t) if ye continue grounded and established in the faith, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, whereof ye have heard, how that it is preached among all creatures, which are under heaven, whereof I Paul am made a minister.
(g) If ye continue, grounded and stablished in the faith, and be not moved away from the hope of the Gospel, whereof ye have heard, and which hath been preached to every creature which is under heaven, whereof I Paul am a minister.
(k) If ye continue in the faith grounded and settled, and be not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, and which was preached to every creature which is under heaven; whereof I Paul am made a minister;
- 1:24 (w) the which now I have joy in passions for you, and full-fill those things that fail of the passions of Christ in my flesh, for his body, that is the church.
(p) and now I have joy in passion for you, and I fill those things that fail of the passions of Christ in my flesh, for his body, that is the church.
(t) ¶ Now joy I in my sufferings [passions] which I suffer for you, and fulfill that which is behind of the passions [afflictions] of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the congregation,
(g) Now rejoice I in my sufferings for you, and fulfill the rest of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh, for his body's sake, which is the Church,
(k) Who now rejoice in my sufferings for you, and fill up that which is behind of the afflictions of Christ in my flesh for his body's sake, which is the church:
- 1:25 (w) Of which I Paul am made minister/am made a servant, after the dispensation of God, that is given to me in you, that I fulfill the word of God,
(p) Of which I Paul am made minister by the dispensation of God, that is given to me in you, that I fill the word of God,
(t) whereof am I made a minister according to the ordinance of God, which ordinance was given me unto you ward, to fulfill the word of God,
(g) Whereof I am a minister, according to the dispensation of God, which is given me towards you, to fulfill the word of God,
(k) Whereof I am made a minister, according to the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, to fulfil {or, fully to preach} the word of God;

- 1:26 (w) the mystery, or private, that was hid from worlds and generations. But now it is showed to his saints,
(p) the private, that was hid from worlds and generations. But now it is showed to his saints,
(t) that mystery hid since the world began, and since the beginning of generations: But now is opened to his saints,
(g) Which is the mystery hid since the world began, and from all ages, but now is made manifest to his Saints,
(k) Even the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, but now is made manifest to his saints:
- 1:27 (w) to whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this sacrament in heathen men, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.
(p) to whom God would make known the riches of the glory of this sacrament in heathen men, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory.
(t) to whom God would make known the glorious riches of this [his] mystery among the gentiles, which riches is Christ in you, the hope of glory,
(g) To whom God would make known what is the riches of this glorious mystery among the Gentiles, which riches is Christ in you, the hope of glory,
(k) To whom God would make known what is the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gentiles; which is Christ in {or, amongst} you, the hope of glory:
- 1:28 (w) Whom we show, reprovng each man, and teaching each man in all wisdom, that we offer each man perfect in Christ Jesus.
(p) Whom we show, reprovng each man, and teaching each man in all wisdom, that we offer each man perfect in Christ Jesus.
(t) whom we preach warning all men, and teaching all men in all wisdom, to make all men perfect in Christ Jesus:
(g) Whom we preach, admonishing every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus,
(k) Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus:
- 1:29 (w) In which thing and I travail, striving after the working of him, that he worketh in me in virtue.
(p) In which thing also I travail, in striving by the working of him, that he worketh in me in virtue.
(t) Wherein I also labor and strive, even as far forth as his working worketh in me mightily.
(g) Whereunto I also labor and strive, according to his working which worketh in me mightily.
(k) Whereunto I also labour, striving according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) But I will that ye know, what busyness I have for you, and for them that be at Laodicea, and whichever saw not my face in flesh,
(p) But I will that ye know, what busyness I have for you, and for them that be at Laodicea, and whichever saw not my face in flesh,
(t) ¶ I would ye knew what fighting I have for your sakes and for them of Laodicia, and for as many as have not seen my person in the flesh,
(g) For I would ye knew what great fighting I have for your sakes, and for them of Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my person in the flesh,
(k) For I would that ye knew what great conflict {or, fear, or, care} I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:2 (w) that the hearts of them be comforted, taught in charity, and into all riches of plenty of understanding, into the knowing of the mystery of God, the Father of Jesus Christ,
(p) that their hearts be comforted, and they be taught in charity, into all the riches of the plenty of understanding, into the knowing of mystery of God, the Father of Jesus Christ,
(t) that their hearts might be comforted and knit together in love, and in all riches of full understanding, for to know the mystery of God the father and of Christ
(g) That their hearts might be comforted, and they knit together in love, and in all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to know the mystery of God, even the Father, and of Christ;
(k) That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;
- 2:3 (w) in whom be all the treasures of wisdom and knowing hid.
(p) in whom all the treasures of wisdom and of science be hid.
(t) in whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
(g) In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
(k) In whom {or, Wherein} are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.
- 2:4 (w) For this thing I say, that no man deceive you in height of words.
(p) For this thing I say, that no man deceive you in height of words.
(t) This I say lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.
(g) And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words;
(k) And this I say, lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.
- 2:5 (w) For though I be absent in body, but by spirit I am with you, joying and seeing your order and the firmness of your belief that is in Christ.
(p) For though I be absent in body, by spirit I am with you, joying and seeing your order and the firmness of your belief that is in Christ.
(t) For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I present with you in the spirit joying and beholding the order that ye keep, and your steadfast faith in Christ.
(g) For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, rejoicing and beholding your order, and your steadfast faith in Christ.
(k) For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding your order, and the stedfastness of your faith in Christ.
- 2:6 (w) Therefore as ye have taken Jesus Christ our Lord, walk ye in him,
(p) Therefore as ye have taken Jesus Christ our Lord, walk ye in him,
(t) As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, even so walk rooted and built in him,
(g) As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk in him.
(k) As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:
- 2:7 (w) rooted and built above in Christ, and confirmed in the belief, as ye have learned, abounding in him in doing of thankings.
(p) and be ye rooted and builded above in him, and confirmed in the belief, as ye have learned, abounding in him in doing of thankings.
(t) and steadfast in the faith, as ye have learned: and therein be plenteous in giving thanks.
(g) Rooted and built in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.
(k) Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

- 2:8 (w) See ye that no man deceive you by philosophy and vain fallacy, after the tradition of men, after the elements of the world, and not after Christ.
(p) See ye that no man deceive you by philosophy and vain fallacy, after the tradition of men, after the elements of the world, and not after Christ.
(t) ¶ Beware lest any man come and spoil you through philosophy and deceitful vanity, through the traditions of men, and ordinances after the world, and not after Christ.
(g) Beware lest there be any man that spoil you through philosophy, and vain deceit, through the traditions of men, according to the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.
(k) Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men, after the rudiments {or, elements} of the world, and not after Christ.
- 2:9 (w) For in him dwelleth body-like all the fullness of the Godhead.
(p) For in him dwelleth body-like all the fullness of the Godhead.
(t) For in him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily,
(g) For in him dwelleth all the fullness of the Godhead bodily.
(k) For in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.
- 2:10 (w) And ye be fulfilled in him, that is head of all principat and power.
(p) And ye be filled in him, that is head of all principat and power.
(t) and ye are complete [full] in him, which is the head of all rule and power,
(g) And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power;
(k) And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principality and power:
- 2:11 (w) In whom also ye be circumcised in circumcision not made with hand, in nakedness of the body of flesh, but in circumcision of Christ;
(p) In whom also ye be circumcised in circumcision not made with hand, in despoiling of the body of flesh, but in circumcision of Christ;
(t) in whom also ye are circumcised with circumcision made without hands, by putting off the sinful body of the flesh, through the circumcision that is in Christ,
(g) In whom also ye are circumcised with circumcision made without hands, by putting off the sinful body of the flesh, through the circumcision of Christ,
(k) In whom also ye are circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ:
- 2:12 (w) together buried with him in baptism, in whom and ye have risen again by faith of the working of God, that raised him from dead.
(p) and ye be buried together with him in baptism, in whom also ye have risen again by faith of the working of God, that raised him from death.
(t) in that ye are buried with him through baptism, in whom ye are also risen again through faith, that is wrought by the operation of God which raised him from death.
(g) In that ye are buried with him through baptism, in whom ye are also raised up together through the faith of the operation of God, which raised him from the dead.
(k) Buried with him in baptism, wherein also ye are risen with him through the faith of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.
- 2:13 (w) And when ye were dead in your guilts, and in the prepuce of your flesh, he quickened together you with him; forgiving to you all guilts, or trespasses,

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) And when ye were dead in your guilts, and in the prepuce of your flesh, he quickened together you with him; forgiving to you all guilts,
- (t) ¶ And ye which were dead in sin through the un-circumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened with him [And hath with him quickened you also which were dead in sin and in the un-circumcision of your flesh], and hath forgiven us all our trespasses,
- (g) And you which were dead in sins, and in the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, forgiving you all your trespasses,
- (k) And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;
- 2:14 (w) doing away that writing of decree that was against us, that was contrary to us; and he took away that from the middle, pitching it to the cross;
- (p) doing away that writing of decree that was against us, that was contrary to us; and he took away that from the middle, pitching it on the cross;
- (t) and hath put out the handwriting [obligation] that was against us, contained [made] in the law written, and that hath he taken out of the way, and hath fastened it to [on] his cross,
- (g) And putting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, he even took it out of the way, and fastened it upon the cross,
- (k) Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;
- 2:15 (w) and he spoiled principats and powers, and led out trustily, openly overcoming them in himself.
- (p) and he spoiled principats and powers, and led out trustily, openly overcoming them in himself.
- (t) and hath spoiled rule and power, and hath made a show of them openly, and hath triumphed over them in his own person.
- (g) And hath spoiled the Principalities, and Powers, and hath made a shew of them openly, and hath triumphed over them in the same cross.
- (k) And having spoiled principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them in it {or, in himself}.
- 2:16 (w) Therefore no man judge you in meat, or in drink, or in part of feast day, or of new moon, or of sabbaths,
- (p) Therefore no man judge you in meat, or in drink, or in part of feast day, or of new moon, or of sabbaths,
- (t) ¶ Let no man therefore trouble your consciences about meat and drink: or for a piece of an holyday, as the holyday of the new moon or of the Sabbath days [day],
- (g) Let no man therefore condemn you in meat and drink, or in respect of a holy day, or of the new moon, or of the Sabbath days,
- (k) Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or in drink {or, for eating and drinking}, or in respect {or, in part} of an holy day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:
- 2:17 (w) which be shadow of things to come; for the body is of Christ.
- (p) which be shadow of things to coming; for the body is of Christ.
- (t) which are nothing but shadows of things to come: but the body is in Christ.
- (g) Which are but a shadow of things to come; but the body is in Christ.
- (k) Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.
- 2:18 (w) No man deceive you, willing to teach in meekness, and the religion of angels, those things which he hath not seen, walking vainly, in-blown with wit of his flesh,

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) No man deceive you, willing to teach in meekness, and religion of angels, those things which he hath not seen, walking vainly, swollen with wit of his flesh,

(t) Let no man make you shoot at a wrong mark, which after his own imagination walketh in the humbleness and holiness of angels, things which he never saw: causeless puffed up with his fleshly mind,

(g) Let no man at his pleasure bear rule over you by humbleness of mind, and worshipping of Angels, advancing himself in those things which he never saw, rashly puffed up with his fleshly mind,

(k) Let no man beguile you {or, judge against you} of your reward in a voluntary humility {Gr. being a voluntary in humility} and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

2:19 (w) and not holding the head, of which all the body, by bonds and joinings together under-ministered and made, waxeth into the increasing of God.

(p) and not holding the head, of which all the body, by bands and joinings together under-ministered and made, waxeth into increasing of God.

(t) and holdeth not the head, whereof all the body by joints and couples receiveth nourishment, and is knit together, and increaseth with the increasing that cometh of God.

(g) And holdeth not the head, whereof all the body furnished and knit together by joints and bands, increaseth with the increasing of God.

(k) And not holding the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

2:20 (w) For if ye be dead with Christ from the elements of the world, what yet as men living to the world deem ye?

(p) For if ye be dead with Christ from the elements of the world, what yet as men living to the world deem ye?

(t) ¶ Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from ordinances [doctrine] of the world: Why as though ye yet lived in the world, are ye led with traditions of them that say?

(g) Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the ordinances of the world, why, as though ye lived in the world, are ye burdened with traditions?

(k) Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments {or, elements} of the world, why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

2:21 (w) Neither ye shall touch, neither taste, neither treat with hands,

(p) That ye touch not, neither taste, neither treat with hands those things,

(t) Touch not, taste not, handle not:

(g) As, Touch not, Taste not, Handle not.

(k) (Touch not; taste not; handle not;

2:22 (w) which all be into death by that use, after the commandments and teachings of men;

(p) which all be into death by that use, after the commandments and teachings of men;

(t) which all perish with the using of them, and are after the commandments, and doctrines of men:

(g) Which all perish with the using, and are after the commandments and doctrines of men.

(k) Which all are to perish with the using;) after the commandments and doctrines of men?

2:23 (w) which be soothly having reason of wisdom in superstition, or vain religion, and meekness, and not to spare the body, not in any honour to the fulfilling of the flesh.

(p) which have a reason of wisdom in vain religion and meekness, and not to spare the body, not in any honour to the fulfilling of the flesh.

(t) which things have the similitude of wisdom in chosen holiness, and humbleness, and in that they spare not the body, and do the flesh no worship unto his need.

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom, in voluntary religion and humbleness of mind, and in not sparing the body, which are things of no value, since they pertain to the filling of the flesh.

(k) Which things have indeed a shew of wisdom in will worship, and humility, and neglecting {or, punishing, or, not sparing} of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER 3

3:1 (w) Therefore if ye have risen together with Christ, seek ye those things that be above, where Christ is sitting on the right half of God.

(p) Therefore if ye have risen together with Christ, seek ye those things that be above, where Christ is sitting on the right half of God.

(t) ¶ If ye be then risen again with Christ seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

(g) If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth at the right hand of God.

(k) If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

3:2 (w) Savour, or understand, ye those things that be above, not those that be on the earth.

(p) Savour ye those things, that be above, not those that be on the earth.

(t) Set your affection on things that are above, and not on things which are on the earth.

(g) Set your affections on things which are above, and not on things which are on the earth.

(k) Set your affection {or, mind} on things above, not on things on the earth.

3:3 (w) For ye be dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

(p) For ye be dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

(t) For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

(g) For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

(k) For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.

3:4 (w) For when Christ shall appear, your life, then also ye shall appear with him in glory.

(p) For when Christ shall appear, your life, then also ye shall appear with him in glory.

(t) When Christ which is our life shall show himself, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

(g) When Christ which is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

(k) When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory.

3:5 (w) Therefore slay your members, which be on the earth, fornication, uncleanness, lechery, evil covetousness, and avarice, which is service of simulacra;

(p) Therefore slay ye your members, which be on the earth, fornication, uncleanness, lechery, evil covetousness, and avarice, which is service of maumets;

(t) ¶ Mortify therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, uncleanness, unnatural lust, evil concupiscence, and covetousness which is worshipping of idols:

(g) Mortify therefore your members which are on the earth, fornication, uncleanness, the inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness which is idolatry.

(k) Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth; fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, evil concupiscence, and covetousness, which is idolatry:

3:6 (w) for which things the wrath of God came on the sons of unbelief;

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) for which things the wrath of God came on the sons of unbelief;
(t) for which thing's sake the wrath of God cometh [falleth] on the children of unbelief.
(g) For the which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience.
(k) For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on the children of disobedience:
- 3:7 (w) in which also ye walked some time, when ye lived in them.
(p) in which also ye walked some time, when ye lived in them.
(t) In which things ye walked once, when ye lived in them.
(g) Wherein ye also walked once, when ye lived in them.
(k) In the which ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.
- 3:8 (w) But now and ye put away all things, wrath, indignation, malice, blasphemy, foul word of your mouth.
(p) But now put ye away all things, wrath, indignation, malice, blasphemy and foul words of your mouth.
(t) ¶ But now put ye also away from you all things, wrath, fierceness, maliciousness, cursed speaking, filthy speaking out of your mouths.
(g) But now put ye away even all these things, wrath, anger, maliciousness, cursed speaking, filthy speaking, out of your mouth.
(k) But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, filthy communication out of your mouth.
- 3:9 (w) Do not ye lie, or gab, together, spoiling the old man with his deeds,
(p) Do not ye lie together; despoil ye you from the old man with his deeds,
(t) Lie not one to another, that the old man with his works be put off [seeing that ye have put off the old man with his works],
(g) Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his works,
(k) Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;
- 3:10 (w) and clothing the new man, that is made new again into the knowing of God, after the image of him that made him;
(p) and clothe ye the new man, that is made new again into the knowing of God, after the image of him that made him;
(t) and the new put on, which is renewed in knowledge [have put on the new, which is renewed in knowledge of God], after the image of him that made him,
(g) And have put on the new, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him,
(k) And have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him:
- 3:11 (w) where is not male and female, heathen man and Jew, circumcision and prepuce, barbarous and Scythian, bondman and free, but all things and in all things Christ.
(p) where is not male and female, heathen man and Jew, circumcision and prepuce, barbarous and Scythian, bondman and free, but all things and in all things Christ.
(t) where is neither gentile [Greek] nor Jew, circumcision nor un-circumcision, barbarous or Scythian, bond or free: But Christ is all in all things.
(g) Where is neither Grecian nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free; but Christ is all, and in all things.
(k) Where there is neither Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: but Christ is all, and in all.
- 3:12 (w) Therefore clothe ye you, as the chosen of God, holy, and loved, with the entrails of mercy, benignity, and meekness, temperance, patience;

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) Therefore ye, as the chosen of God, holy and loved, clothe you with the entrails of mercy, benignity, and meekness, temperance, patience;
- (t) ¶ Now therefore as elect of God, holy and beloved, put on tender mercy, kindness, humbleness of minds [mind], meekness, long suffering,
- (g) Now therefore as the elect of God, holy and beloved, put on the bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;
- (k) Put on therefore, as the elect of God, holy and beloved, bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;
- 3:13 (w) supporting, or bearing up together, and forgiving to yourselves, if any man against any hath quarrel, or plaint, as and the Lord Christ forgave to you, so and ye.
- (p) and support ye each one (the) other, and forgive to yourselves, if any man against any hath a quarrel; as the Lord forgave to you, so also ye.
- (t) forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel to another, even as Christ forgave you, even so do ye.
- (g) Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel to another; even as Christ forgave you, even so do ye.
- (k) Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a quarrel {or, complaint} against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.
- 3:14 (w) And upon all these things have ye charity, that is the bond of perfection.
- (p) And upon all these things have ye charity, that is the bond of perfectness.
- (t) Above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfectness,
- (g) And above all these things put on love, which is the bond of perfectness.
- (k) And above all these things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectness.
- 3:15 (w) And the peace of Christ enjoy in your hearts, in which ye be called in one body, and be ye kind.
- (p) And the peace of Christ enjoy in your hearts, in which ye be called in one body, and be ye kind.
- (t) and the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which peace ye are called in one body: and see that ye be thankful.
- (g) And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which ye are called in one body, and be ye thankful.
- (k) And let the peace of God rule in your hearts, to the which also ye are called in one body; and be ye thankful.
- 3:16 (w) The word of Christ dwell in you plenteously, in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, in grace singing in your hearts to the Lord.
- (p) The word of Christ dwell in you plenteously, in all wisdom; and teach and admonish yourselves in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, in grace singing in your hearts to the Lord.
- (t) Let the word of Christ [God] dwell in you plenteously in all wisdom. Teach and exhort your own selves, in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs which have favor with them, singing in your hearts to the Lord.
- (g) Let the word of Christ dwell in you plenteously in all wisdom, teaching and admonishing your own selves, in psalms, and hymns, and spiritual songs, singing with a grace in your hearts to the Lord.
- (k) Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.
- 3:17 (w) All thing, whatever ye do, in word or deed, all things in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, doing thankings to God the Father by him.
- (p) All thing, whatever thing ye do, in word or in deed, all things in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, doing thankings to God and to the Father by him.

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) And all things (whatsoever ye do in word or deed) do in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God the father by him.
- (g) And whatsoever ye shall do, in word or deed, do all in the Name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God even the Father by him.
- (k) And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

(p) Sons, obey ye to your father and mother by all things; for this is well pleasing in the Lord.
(t) Children obey your fathers and mothers, in all things, for that is well pleasing unto the Lord.
(g) ¶ Children, obey your parents in all things, for that is well pleasing unto the Lord.
(k) Children, obey your parents in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.
- 3:21 (w) Fathers, do not ye provoke your sons to indignation, that they be not made feeble-hearted.
(p) Fathers, do not ye provoke your sons to indignation, that they be not made feeble-hearted.
(t) Fathers berate not your children, lest they be of a desperate mind.
(g) Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.
(k) Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.
- 3:22 (w) Servants, obey ye by all things to fleshly lords, not serving at eye, as pleasing to men, but in simpleness of heart, dreading the Lord God.
(p) Servants, obey ye by all things to fleshly lords, not serving at the eye, as pleasing to men, but in simpleness of heart, dreading the Lord.
(t) Servants be obedient unto your bodily masters in all things: not with eye service as men pleasers, but in singleness of heart fearing God.
(g) ¶ Servants, be obedient unto them that are your masters according to the flesh, in all things, not with eye service as men pleasers, but in singleness of heart, fearing God.
(k) Servants, obey in all things your masters according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:
- 3:23 (w) Whatever ye do, work ye of will, as to the Lord and not to men;
(p) Whatever ye do, work ye of will, as to the Lord and not to men;
(t) And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily as though ye did it to the Lord, and not unto men,
(g) And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men,

Book 51 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Colossians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

- 3:24 (w) witting that of the Lord ye shall take reward of heritage. Serve ye to the Lord Christ.
(p) witting that of the Lord ye shall take yielding of heritage. Serve ye to the Lord Christ.
(t) forasmuch as ye know [remembering] that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of inheritance, for ye serve the Lord Christ.
(g) Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance, for ye serve the Lord Christ.
(k) Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: for ye serve the Lord Christ.
- 3:25 (w) Forsooth he that doeth injury, or wrong, shall receive that that he did evil; and acceptance of persons/and taking of persons is not with God.
(p) For he that doeth injury, shall receive that that he did evil; and acception of persons is not with God.
(t) But he that doth wrong shall receive for the wrong that he hath done: for there is no respect of persons.
(g) But he that doeth wrong, shall receive for the wrong that he hath done, and there is no respect of persons.
(k) But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER 4

- 4:1 (w) Lords, give ye to servants that that is just and even, witting that also ye have a Lord in heaven.
(p) Lords, give ye to servants that that is just and even, witting that also ye have a Lord in heaven.
(t) Ye masters do unto your servants that which is just and egal, seeing you know [remembering] that ye also have [have also] a master in heaven. {This verse was at the end of the previous chapter in the original Tyndale}
(g) Ye masters, do unto your servants, that which is just, and equal, knowing that ye also have a master in heaven.
(k) Masters, give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.
- 4:2 (w) Be ye busy in prayer, and wake in it, in doing of thankings;
(p) Be ye busy in prayer, and wake in it, in doing of thankings;
(t) ¶ Continue in prayer and watch in the same with thanksgiving,
(g) Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving,
(k) Continue in prayer, and watch in the same with thanksgiving;
- 4:3 (w) praying together and for us, that God open to us the door of word, to speak the mystery of Christ; for which also I am bound,
(p) and pray each for other, and for us, that God open to us the door of word, to speak the mystery of Christ; for which also I am bound,
(t) praying also for us that God open unto us the door of utterance, that we may speak the mystery of Christ, wherefore I am in bonds:
(g) Praying also for us, that God may open unto us the door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, wherefore I am also in bonds,
(k) Withal praying also for us, that God would open unto us a door of utterance, to speak the mystery of Christ, for which I am also in bonds:
- 4:4 (w) that I show it, so as it behooveth me to speak.
(p) that I show it, so as it behooveth me to speak.
(t) that I may utter it, as it becometh me to speak.
(g) That I may utter it, as it becometh me to speak.

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of Thessalonians, in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ, grace to you, and peace.
(p) Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, to the church of Thessalonians, in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ, grace and peace to you.
(t) ¶ Paul Silvanus and Timotheus. ¶ Unto the congregation of the Thessalonians, in God the father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ. ¶ Grace be with you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
(g) Paul, and Silvanus, and Timothy, unto the Church of the Thessalonians, which is in God the Father, and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
(k) Paul, and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.
- 1:2 (w) We do thankings to God evermore for all you, making mind of you in our prayers without ceasing;
(p) We do thankings to God evermore for all you, and we make mind of you in our prayers without ceasing;
(t) ¶ We give God thanks always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers without ceasing,
(g) We give God thanks always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers
(k) We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:3 (w) mindful of your work of faith, and travail, and charity, and sustaining of the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, before God and our Father.
(p) having mind of the work of your faith, and travail, and charity, and abiding of the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, before God and our Father.
(t) and call to remembrance your work in the faith, and labor in love and perseverance in the hope of our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God our father:
(g) Without ceasing, remembering your effectual faith, and diligent love, and the patience of your hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God even our Father,
(k) Remembering without ceasing your work of faith, and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;
- 1:4 (w) We witting, ye loved brethren of God, your choosing,
(p) Ye beloved brethren of God, we witting your choosing,
(t) Because we know brethren beloved of God, how that ye are elect.
(g) Knowing, beloved brethren, that ye are elect of God.
(k) Knowing, brethren beloved, your election of God {or, beloved of God, your election}.
- 1:5 (w) for our gospel was not at you in word only, but also in virtue, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much plenty; as ye know, what manner men we were in you for you;
(p) for our gospel was not at you in word only, but also in virtue, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much plenty; as ye know, which we were among you for you;
(t) For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and also in the holy ghost and in much certainty, as ye know after what manner [how that] we behaved ourselves among you, for your sakes.
(g) For our Gospel was not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the holy Ghost, and in much assurance, as ye know after what manner we were among you for your sakes.
(k) For our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and in the Holy Ghost, and in much assurance; as ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.
- 1:6 (w) and ye be made followers of us, and of the Lord, receiving the word in much tribulation, with joy of the Holy Ghost;
(p) and ye be made followers of us, and of the Lord, receiving the word in much tribulation, with joy of the Holy Ghost;
(t) ¶ And ye became followers of us and of the Lord [counterfeited us, and the Lord], and received the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy ghost:
(g) And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, and received the word in much affliction, with joy of the holy Ghost,
(k) And ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, with joy of the Holy Ghost:
- 1:7 (w) so that ye be made form, or example, to all men believing, in Macedonia and in Achaia.
(p) so that ye be made ensample to all men that believe, in Macedonia and in Achaia.
(t) So that ye were an example to all that believe in Macedonia, and Achaia.
(g) So that ye were as examples to all that believe in Macedonia and in Achaia.
(k) So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.
- 1:8 (w) Forsooth of you the word of the Lord is famed, or much told, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but in each place your faith that is to God is gone forth; so that it is not need to us to speak any thing.
(p) For of you the word of the Lord is published, not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith that is to God, in each place is gone forth; so that it is not need to us to speak any thing.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia only: But your faith also which ye have unto God, spread herself abroad in all quarters, so greatly that it needeth not us to speak anything at all:

(g) For from you sounded out the word of the Lord, not in Macedonia and in Achaia only, but your faith also which is toward God, spread abroad in all quarters, that we need not to speak anything.

(k) For from you sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

1:9 (w) For they show of you, what manner entry we had to you, and how ye be converted to God from simulacra, to serve to the living God and very;

(p) For they show of you, what manner entry we had to you, and how ye be converted to God from maumets, to serve to the living God and very;

(t) For they themselves show of you what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from images for to serve the living and true God,

(g) For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols, to serve the living and true God,

(k) For they themselves shew of us what manner of entering in we had unto you, and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God;

1:10 (w) and for to abide his son from heavens, whom he raised from dead, Jesus, that delivered us from wrath to come.

(p) and to abide his Son from heavens, whom he raised from death, the Lord Jesus, that delivered us from wrath to coming.

(t) and for to look for his son from heaven, whom he raised from death: I mean Jesus which delivereth us from wrath to come.

(g) And to look for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus which delivereth us from the wrath to come.

(k) And to wait for his Son from heaven, whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER 2

2:1 (w) For, brethren, ye know our entry to you, for it was not vain;

(p) For, brethren, ye know our entry to you, for it was not vain;

(t) ¶ For ye yourselves know brethren [brethren know] of our entrance in unto you, how that it was not in vain:

(g) For ye yourselves know, brethren, that our entrance in unto you was not in vain,

(k) For yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2:2 (w) but first we suffered, and were punished with wrongs, as ye know in Philippi, we had trust in the Lord, to speak to you the gospel of God in much busyness.

(p) but first we suffered, and were punished with wrongs, as ye know in Philippi, and had trust in our Lord, to speak to you the gospel of God in much busyness.

(t) But even after that we had suffered before and were shamefully entreated at Philippos (as ye well know) then were we bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God, with much striving.

(g) But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated at Philippi, (as ye know) we were bold in our God, to speak unto you the Gospel of God with much striving.

(k) But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at Philippi, we were bold in our God to speak unto you the gospel of God with much contention.

2:3 (w) Soothly our exhortation, or teaching, was not of error, neither of uncleanness, neither in guile,

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) And our exhortation is not of error, neither of uncleanness, neither in guile,
(t) Our exhortation was not to bring you to error, nor yet to uncleanness, neither was it with guile:
(g) For our exhortation was not by deceit, nor by uncleanness, nor by guile.
(k) For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:
- 2:4 (w) but as we be proved of God, that the gospel should be taken to us, so we speak; not as pleasing to men, but to God that proveth our hearts.
(p) but as we be approved of God, that the gospel of God should be taken to us, so we speak; not as pleasing to men, but to God that proveth our hearts.
(t) But as we were allowed of God, that the gospel should be committed unto us: Even so we speak, not as though we intended to please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.
(g) But as we were allowed of God, that the Gospel should be committed unto us, so we speak, not as they that please men, but God, which trieth our hearts.
(k) But as we were allowed of God to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; not as pleasing men, but God, which trieth our hearts.
- 2:5 (w) Forsooth neither we were any time in word of flattering, as ye know, neither in occasion of avarice; God is witness;
(p) For neither we were any time in word of glossing, as ye know, neither in occasion of avarice; God is witness;
(t) ¶ Neither was our conversation at any time with flattering words, as ye well know, neither in cloaked covetousness, God is record:
(g) Neither yet did we ever use flattering words, as ye know, nor colored covetousness, God is record.
(k) For neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; God is witness:
- 2:6 (w) neither seeking glory of men, neither of you, neither of others, when we might have been chargeous to you, as Christ's apostles.
(p) neither seeking glory of men, neither of you, neither of others, when we, as Christ's apostles, might have been in charge to you.
(t) Neither sought we praise of men, neither of you, nor yet of any other, when we might have been chargeable, as the apostles of Christ:
(g) Neither sought we praise of men, neither of you, nor of others, when we might have been chargeable, as the Apostles of Christ.
(k) Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when we might have been burdensome {or, used authority}, as the apostles of Christ.
- 2:7 (w) But we were made little in the middle of you, as if a nurse foster her sons;
(p) But we were made little in the middle of you, as if a nurse foster her sons;
(t) But were tender among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children,
(g) But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children.
(k) But we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:
- 2:8 (w) so we desiring you covetingly, or with great love, would betake to you, not only the gospel of God, but also our souls, or lives, for ye be made most dear-worthy to us.
(p) so we desiring you with great love, would have betaken to you, not only the gospel of God, but also our lives, for ye be made most dear-worthy to us.
(t) so was our affection toward you our good will was to have dealt unto you, not the gospel of God only: but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Thus being affectioned toward you, our good will was to have dealt unto you, not the Gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.
- (k) So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.
- 2:9 (w) For, brethren, ye be mindful of our travail and weariness; night and day working, that we should not grieve any of you, we preached to you the evangel of God.
- (p) For, brethren, ye be mindful of our travail and weariness; we worked night and day, that we should not grieve any of you, and preached to you the gospel of God.
- (t) ¶ Ye remember brethren our labor and travail. For we labored day and night, because we would not be grievous unto any of you, and preached unto you the gospel of God.
- (g) For ye remember, brethren, our labor and travail, for we labored day and night, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, and preached unto you the Gospel of God.
- (k) For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for labouring night and day, because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.
- 2:10 (w) Ye be witnesses, and God, how holily, and justly, and without quarrel, or plaint, we were to you that believed.
- (p) God and ye be witnesses, how holily, and justly, and without plaint, we were to you that believed.
- (t) Ye are witnesses, and so is God, how holily and justly and un-blamable [(that no man could blame us)] we behaved ourselves among you that believe,
- (g) Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe.
- (k) Ye are witnesses, and God also, how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:
- 2:11 (w) As ye know, how we prayed you, and comforted each of you, as the father his sons,
- (p) As ye know, how we prayed you, and comforted each of you, as the father his sons,
- (t) as ye know how that we exhorted and comforted, and besought every one of you, as a father his children,
- (g) As ye know how that we exhorted you, and comforted, and besought every one of you, (as a father his children.)
- (k) As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,
- 2:12 (w) and we have witnessed, that ye should go worthily to God, that called you into his kingdom and glory.
- (p) and we have witnessed, that ye should go worthily to God, that called you into his kingdom and glory.
- (t) that ye would walk worthy of God [the Lord], which hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.
- (g) That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.
- (k) That ye would walk worthy of God, who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.
- 2:13 (w) and we do thankings to God without ceasing. For when ye had taken of us the word of the hearing of God, ye took it not as the word of men, but as it is verily, the word of God, that worketh in you that have believed.
- (p) Therefore we do thankings to God without ceasing. For when ye had taken of us the word of the hearing of God, ye took it not as the word of men, but as it is verily, the word of God, that worketh in you that have believed.
- (t) ¶ For this cause thank we God without ceasing, because that when ye received of us the word, wherewith God was preached, ye received it not as the word of man: but even as it was indeed, the word of God, which worketh in you that believe.
- (g) For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, that when ye received the word of God, which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is indeed the word of God, which also worketh in you that believe.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) For this cause also thank we God without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.
- 2:14 (w) For, brethren, ye be made followers of the churches of God, that be in Judaea, in Christ Jesus, and ye have suffered the same things of your even-lineages, and they of the Jews.
(p) For, brethren, ye be made followers of the churches of God, that be in Judaea, in Christ Jesus, for ye have suffered the same things of your even-lineages, as they of the Jews.
(t) For ye brethren became followers of [did counterfeit] the congregations of God which in Jewry are in Christ Jesus: for ye have suffered like things of your kinsmen, as we ourselves have suffered of the Jews,
(g) For brethren, ye are become followers of the Churches of God, which in Judea are in Christ Jesus, because ye have also suffered the same things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews,
(k) For ye, brethren, became followers of the churches of God which in Judaea are in Christ Jesus: for ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, even as they have of the Jews:
- 2:15 (w) Which slew both the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and pursued us, and they please not to God, and they be adversaries to all men;
(p) Which slew both the Lord Jesus and the prophets, and pursued us, and they please not to God, and they be adversaries to all men;
(t) which as they killed the Lord Jesus and their own prophets, even so have they persecuted us, and God they please not, and are contrary to all men:
(g) Who both killed the Lord Jesus and their own Prophets, and have persecuted us, and God they please not, and are contrary to all men,
(k) Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and their own prophets, and have persecuted us {or, chased us out}; and they please not God, and are contrary to all men:
- 2:16 (w) forbidding us to speak to heathen men, that they be made safe, that they fill their sins evermore; forsooth the wrath of God before came upon them till into the end.
(p) forbidding us to speak to heathen men, that they be made safe, that they fill their sins evermore; for the wrath of God came on them into the end.
(t) and forbid us to preach unto the gentiles, that they might be saved, to fulfill their sins all way: For the wrath of God is come on them, even to the utmost.
(g) And forbid us to preach unto the Gentiles, that they might be saved, to fulfill their sins always, for the wrath of God is come on them to the utmost.
(k) Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, to fill up their sins alway: for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.
- 2:17 (w) Forsooth, brethren, we be desolate from you at the time of an hour, in beholding, as in presence, not in heart, more abundantly have hied to see your face with great desire.
(p) And, brethren, we desolate from you for a time, by mouth and in beholding, but not in heart, have hied more plenteously to see your face with great desire.
(t) ¶ For as much brethren as we are kept from you for a season, as concerning the bodily presence but not in the heart, we enforced the more to see you personally with great desire,
(g) For as much, brethren, as we were kept from you for a season, concerning sight, but not in the heart, we enforced the more to see your face with great desire.
(k) But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly to see your face with great desire.
- 2:18 (w) For we would come to you, yea, I Paul, once and again, but Satan letted us.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) For we would come to you, yea, I Paul, once and again, but Satan hindered us.
(t) and therefore we would have come unto you, I Paul once and again: but Satan withstood us.
(g) Therefore we would have come unto you (I Paul, at least once or twice) but Satan hindered us.
(k) Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but Satan hindered us.
- 2:19 (w) For why what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glory? Whether ye be not before our Lord Jesus Christ in his coming?
(p) For why what is our hope, or joy, or crown of glory? Whether ye be not before our Lord Jesus Christ in his coming?
(t) For what is our hope or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not ye it in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?
(g) For what is our hope or joy, or crown of rejoicing? Are not even you it in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?
(k) For what is our hope, or joy, or crown of rejoicing {or, glorifying}? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ at his coming?
- 2:20 (w) For ye be our glory and joy.
(p) For ye be our glory and joy.
(t) Yes ye are our glory and joy.
(g) Yea, ye are our glory and joy.
(k) For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) For which thing we sustaining no longer, it pleased to us to dwell at Athens alone;
(p) For which thing we suffered no longer, and it pleased to us to dwell alone at Athens;
(t) ¶ Wherefore since we could no longer forbear, it pleased us to remain at Athens alone,
(g) Wherefore since we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to remain at Athens alone,
(k) Wherefore when we could no longer forbear, we thought it good to be left at Athens alone;
- 3:2 (w) and sent Timothy, our brother, and minister of God in the evangel of Christ, to you to be confirmed, and to be taught for your faith,
(p) and we sent Timothy, our brother, and minister of God in the evangel of Christ, to you to be confirmed, and to be taught for your faith,
(t) and sent Timotheus our brother and minister of God, and our labor-fellow in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you over your faith,
(g) And have sent Timothy our brother and minister of God, and our laborfellow in the Gospel of Christ, to stablish you, and to comfort you touching your faith,
(k) And sent Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellowlabourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:
- 3:3 (w) that no man be moved in these tribulations. For ye yourselves know, that in this thing we be put.
(p) that no man be moved in these tribulations. For yourselves know, that in this thing we be set.
(t) that no man should be moved in these afflictions. For ye yourselves know that we are even appointed thereunto.
(g) That no man should be moved with these afflictions; for ye yourselves know, that we are appointed thereunto.
(k) That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that we are appointed thereunto.
- 3:4 (w) For when we were at you, we before-said to you, that we should suffer tribulations; and it is done, and ye know.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) For when we were at you, we before-said to you, that we should suffer tribulations; as it is done, and ye know.
(t) For verily when I was with you, I told you before that we should suffer tribulation even as it came to pass, and as ye know.
(g) For verily when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulations, even as it came to pass, and ye know it.
(k) For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.
- 3:5 (w) Therefore I Paul, not sustaining more, sent to know your faith, lest peradventure he that tempteth shall tempt you, and our travail be made vain.
(p) Therefore I Paul, no longer abiding, sent to know your faith, lest peradventure he that tempteth tempt you, and your travail be made vain.
(t) For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent that I might have knowledge of your faith, lest haply the tempter had tempted you, and that our labor had been bestowed in vain.
(g) Even for this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent him that I might know of your faith, lest the tempter had tempted you in any sort, and that our labor had been in vain.
(k) For this cause, when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and our labour be in vain.
- 3:6 (w) Now forsooth Timothy coming to us from you, and telling to us your faith and charity, and for ye have evermore good mind of us, desiring to see us, as we also you;
(p) But now, when Timothy shall come to us from you, and tell to us your faith and charity, and that ye have good mind of us, ever desiring to see us, as we also you;
(t) ¶ But Now lately when Timotheus came from you unto us and declared to us your faith, and your love, and how that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring to see us, as we desire to see you.
(g) But now lately when Timothy came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and love, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring to see us, as we also do you,
(k) But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, as we also to see you:
- 3:7 (w) therefore, brethren, we be comforted in you, in all our need and tribulation, by your faith.
(p) therefore, brethren, we be comforted in you, in all our need and tribulation, by your faith.
(t) Therefore brethren we had [had I] consolation in you, in all our adversity, and necessity through your faith.
(g) Therefore, brethren, we had consolation in you, in all our affliction and necessity through your faith.
(k) Therefore, brethren, we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:
- 3:8 (w) For now we live, if ye stand in the Lord.
(p) For now we live, if ye stand in the Lord.
(t) For now are we alive if ye stand steadfast in the Lord.
(g) For now are we alive, if ye stand fast in the Lord.
(k) For now we live, if ye stand fast in the Lord.
- 3:9 (w) For why what doing of thankings may we yield to God for you, in all joy, in which we joy for you before our Lord?
(p) For what doing of thankings be we able to yield to God for you, in all joy, in which we joy for you before our Lord?
(t) For what thanks can we recompense to God again for you, over all the joy that we joy for your sakes before our God,
(g) For what thanks can we recompense to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we rejoice for your sakes before our God,

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;
- 3:10 (w) night and day more plenteously praying, that we see your face, and fulfill those things that fail of your faith.
(p) night and day more plenteously praying, that we see your face, and fulfill those things that fail to your faith.
(t) while we night and day pray exceedingly, that we might see you presently, and might fulfill that which is lacking in your faith.
(g) Night and day, praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might accomplish that which is lacking in your faith?
(k) Night and day praying exceedingly that we might see your face, and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?
- 3:11 (w) But God himself and our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ, dress our way to you.
(p) But God himself and our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ, direct our way to you.
(t) ¶ God himself our father, and our Lord Jesus Christ guide our journey unto you:
(g) Now God himself, even our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, guide our journey unto you,
(k) Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, direct {or, guide} our way unto you.
- 3:12 (w) And the Lord multiply you, and make your charity for to abound together, and into all men, as also we in you;
(p) And the Lord multiply you, and make your charity to be plenteous of each to other, and into all men, as also we in you;
(t) and the Lord increase you, and make you flow over in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you,
(g) And the Lord increase you, and make you abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you;
(k) And the Lord make you to increase and abound in love one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:
- 3:13 (w) that your hearts be confirmed without plaint in holiness, before God and our Father, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. Amen.
(p) that your hearts be confirmed without plaint in holiness, before God and our Father, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints. Amen.
(t) to make your hearts stable and unblamable [to establish your hearts that they might be without aught to be complained on], in holiness before God our father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, with all his saints.
(g) To make your hearts stable and unblameable in holiness before God even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his Saints.
(k) To the end he may stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ with all his saints {or, holy ones, or, angels}.

CHAPTER 4

- 4:1 (w) Therefore, brethren, from henceforward we pray you, and beseech in the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us, how it behooveth you to go and to please God, so walk ye, that ye abound more.
(p) Therefore, brethren, from henceforward we pray you, and beseech in the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us, how it behooveth you to go and to please God, so walk ye, that ye abound more.
(t) ¶ Furthermore we beseech you brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that ye increase more and more, even as ye have received of us, how ye ought to walk and to please God.
(g) And furthermore we beseech you, brethren, and exhort you in the Lord Jesus, that ye increase more and more, as ye have received of us, how ye ought to walk, and to please God.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) Furthermore then we beseech {or, request} you, brethren, and exhort {or, beseech} you by the Lord Jesus, that as ye have received of us how ye ought to walk and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.
- 4:2 (w) For ye know what commandments I have given to you by the Lord Jesus.
(p) For ye know what commandments I have given to you by the Lord Jesus.
(t) Ye remember what commandments we gave you in our Lord Jesus Christ [in the name of our Lord Jesus].
(g) For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.
(k) For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.
- 4:3 (w) For this is the will of God, your holiness, that ye abstain you from fornication.
(p) For this is the will of God, your holiness, that ye abstain you from fornication.
(t) For this is the will of God, even that ye should be holy [which is your sanctifying], and that ye should abstain from fornication,
(g) For this is the will of God even your sanctification, and that ye should abstain from fornication,
(k) For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication:
- 4:4 (w) That each of you know how to wield his vessel in holiness, and honour;
(p) That each of you know how to wield his vessel in holiness, and honour;
(t) that every one of you should know how to keep his vessel in holiness [sanctifying] and honor,
(g) That everyone of you should know, how to possess his vessel in holiness and honor,
(k) That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;
- 4:5 (w) not in passion of lust, as heathen men that know not God.
(p) not in passion of lust, as heathen men that know not God.
(t) and not in the lust of concupiscence, as do the heathen, which know not God,
(g) And not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God;
(k) Not in the lust of concupiscence, even as the Gentiles which know not God:
- 4:6 (w) And that no man over-go, neither deceive his brother, in chaffering. For the Lord is venger of all these things, as we before-said to you, and have witnessed.
(p) And that no man over-go, neither deceive his brother, in chaffering. For the Lord is venger of all these things, as we before-said to you, and have witnessed.
(t) that no man go too far [beyond], and defraud his brother in bargaining, because the Lord is avenger of all such things: as we told you before time, and testified [unto you].
(g) That no man oppress or defraud his brother in any matter, for the Lord is avenger of all such things, as we also have told you before time, and testified.
(k) That no man go beyond and defraud {or, oppress, or, overreach} his brother in any matter {or, in the matter}: because that the Lord is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.
- 4:7 (w) For God called not us into uncleanness, but into holiness.
(p) For God called not us into uncleanness, but into holiness.
(t) For God hath not called us unto uncleanness: but unto holiness [sanctifying].
(g) For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.
(k) For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, but unto holiness.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:8 (w) Therefore he that despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God, that also gave his Holy Spirit in us.
(p) Therefore he that despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God, that also gave his Holy Spirit in us.
(t) He therefore that despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, which hath sent his holy spirit among you.
(g) He therefore that despiseth these things, despiseth not man, but God who hath even given you his holy Spirit.
(k) He therefore that despiseth {or, rejecteth}, despiseth not man, but God, who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.
- 4:9 (w) But of the charity of brotherhood we had no need to write to you; ye yourselves have learned of God, that ye love together;
(p) But of the charity of brotherhood we had no need to write to you; ye yourselves have learned of God, that ye love together;
(t) ¶ But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you. For ye are taught of God to love one another.
(g) But as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you, for ye are taught of God to love one another.
(k) But as touching brotherly love ye need not that I write unto you: for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another.
- 4:10 (w) and for ye do that into all brethren in all Macedonia. And, brethren, we pray you, that ye abound more;
(p) for ye do that into all brethren in all Macedonia. And, brethren, we pray you, that ye abound more;
(t) Yea and that thing verily ye do unto all the brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia. We beseech you brethren that ye increase, more and more,
(g) Yea, and that thing verily ye do unto all the brethren, which are throughout all Macedonia; but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more,
(k) And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, that ye increase more and more;
- 4:11 (w) and give work, or busyness, that ye be quiet, and do your need, and that ye work with your own hands, as we have commanded to you;
(p) and take keep, that ye be quiet; and that ye do your need, and that ye work with your hands, as we have commanded to you;
(t) and that ye study to be quiet, and to meddle with your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you:
(g) And that ye study to be quiet, and to meddle with your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you,
(k) And that ye study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;
- 4:12 (w) and that ye wander honestly to them that be withoutforth, and that of no man's ye desire any thing.
(p) and that ye wander honestly to them that be withoutforth, and that of no man ye desire any thing.
(t) that ye may behave yourselves honestly toward them that are without and that nothing be lacking unto you.
(g) That ye may behave yourselves honestly toward them that are without, and that nothing be lacking unto you.
(k) That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack of nothing {or, of no man}.
- 4:13 (w) Forsooth, brethren, we will not you to unknow of men sleeping, or dying, that ye be not sorrowful, and others that have not hope.
(p) For, brethren, we will not, that ye not know of men that die, that ye be not sorrowful, as others that have not hope.
(t) ¶ I would not brethren have you ignorant [as] concerning them which are fallen asleep, that ye sorrow not as other do which have no hope.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) ¶ I would not, brethren, have you ignorant concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not even as others which have no hope.
- (k) But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, even as others which have no hope.
- 4:14 (w) For if we believe, that Jesus was dead, and rose again, so and God shall lead with him them that slept, or died, by Jesus.
- (p) For if we believe, that Jesus was dead, and rose again, so God shall lead with him them that be dead by Jesus.
- (t) For if we believe that Jesus died, and rose again: even so them also which sleep by Jesus, will God bring again with him.
- (g) For if we believe that Jesus is dead, and is risen, even so them which sleep in Jesus, will God bring with him.
- (k) For if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.
- 4:15 (w) Soothly this thing we say to you in the word of the Lord, that we that live, that be residue, or left, in the coming of the Lord, shall not come before them that slept, or died.
- (p) And we say this thing to you in the word of the Lord, that we that live, that be left in the coming of the Lord, shall not come before them that be dead.
- (t) And this say we unto you in the word of the Lord, that we which live and are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shall not come before they, which sleep.
- (g) For this say we unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which live, and are remaining in the coming of the Lord, shall not prevent them which sleep.
- (k) For this we say unto you by the word of the Lord, that we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent {or, come before, or, anticipate, or, precede} them which are asleep.
- 4:16 (w) For the Lord himself shall come down from heaven, in the commanding, and in the voice of the archangel, and in the trump of God; and the dead men that be in Christ, shall rise again first.
- (p) For the Lord himself shall come down from heaven, in the commandment, and in the voice of an archangel, and in the trump of God; and the dead men that be in Christ, shall rise again first.
- (t) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, and the voice of the archangel, and trump of God. And the dead in Christ shall arise first:
- (g) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, and with the voice of the Archangel, and with the trumpet of God, and the dead in Christ shall rise first;
- (k) For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God: and the dead in Christ shall rise first:
- 4:17 (w) Afterward we that live, that be left, shall be snatched (up) together with them in clouds, meeting Christ in the air; and so evermore we shall be with the Lord.
- (p) Afterward we that live, that be left, shall be snatched (up) together with them in clouds, meeting Christ in the air; and so evermore we shall be with the Lord.
- (t) then shall we which live and remain, be caught up with them also in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so shall we ever be with the Lord.
- (g) Then shall we which live and remain, be caught up with them also in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air, and so shall we ever be with the Lord.
- (k) Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so shall we ever be with the Lord.
- 4:18 (w) Therefore comfort ye together in these words.
- (p) Therefore be ye comforted together in these words.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) Wherefore comfort yourselves one another with these words.
- (g) Wherefore, comfort yourselves one another with these words.
- (k) Wherefore comfort {or, exhort} one another with these words.

CHAPTER 5

- 5:1 (w) But, brethren, of times and moments ye need not that I write to you.
(p) But, brethren, of times and moments ye need not that I write to you.
(t) ¶ Of the times and seasons brethren ye have no need that I write unto you:
(g) But of the times and seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.
(k) But of the times and the seasons, brethren, ye have no need that I write unto you.
- 5:2 (w) For ye yourselves know diligently, that the day of the Lord shall come, as a thief in the night.
(p) For ye yourselves know diligently, that the day of the Lord shall come, as a thief in the night.
(t) for ye yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall come even as a thief in the night.
(g) For ye yourselves know perfectly, that the day of the Lord shall come, even as a thief in the night.
(k) For yourselves know perfectly that the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.
- 5:3 (w) Soothly when they shall say peace and secureness, then suddenly perishing, or death, shall come to them, as sorrow to a woman that is with child, and they shall not escape.
(p) For when they shall say peace is, and secureness, then sudden death shall come on them, as sorrow to a woman that is with child, and they shall not escape.
(t) When they shall say peace and no danger, then cometh on them sudden destruction, as the travailing of a woman with child, and they shall not escape.
(g) For when they shall say, Peace and safety, then shall come upon them sudden destruction, as the travail upon a woman with child, and they shall not escape.
(k) For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then sudden destruction cometh upon them, as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.
- 5:4 (w) But, brethren, ye be not in darkneses, that that day as a thief catch you.
(p) But, brethren, ye be not in darkneses, that that day as a thief catch you.
(t) But ye brethren are not in darkness, that that day should come on you as it were a thief.
(g) But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day shall come on you, as it were a thief.
(k) But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.
- 5:5 (w) For all ye be the sons of light, and sons of the day; we be not of night, neither of darkneses.
(p) For all ye be the sons of light, and sons of day; we be not of night, neither of darkneses.
(t) Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, neither of darkness.
(g) Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day; we are not of the night, neither of darkness.
(k) Ye are all the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.
- 5:6 (w) Therefore sleep we not as others; but wake we, and be we sober.
(p) Therefore sleep we not as others; but wake we, and be we sober.
(t) ¶ Therefore let us not sleep as do other: but let us watch and be sober.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Therefore let us not sleep as do others, but let us watch and be sober.
(k) Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but let us watch and be sober.
- 5:7 (w) For they that sleep, sleep in the night, and they that be drunken, be drunken in the night.
(p) For they that sleep, sleep in the night, and they that be drunken, be drunken in the night.
(t) For they that sleep, sleep in the night: and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.
(g) For they that sleep, sleep in the night, and they that be drunken, are drunken in the night.
(k) For they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken are drunken in the night.
- 5:8 (w) But we that be of the day, be sober, clothed in the habergeon of faith and charity, and in the helmet, hope of health.
(p) But we that be of the day, be sober, clothed in the habergeon of faith and of charity, and in the helmet of hope of health.
(t) But let us which are of the day be sober, armed with the breast plate of faith and love, and with hope of salvation [health], as an helmet.
(g) But let us which are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love, and of the hope of salvation for a helmet.
(k) But let us, who are of the day, be sober, putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.
- 5:9 (w) For God put not us into wrath, but into the purchasing of health by our Lord Jesus Christ,
(p) For God putted not us into wrath, but into the purchasing of health by our Lord Jesus Christ,
(t) For God hath not appointed us unto wrath: but to obtain salvation [health] by the means of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(g) For God hath not appointed us unto wrath, but to obtain salvation by the means of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(k) For God hath not appointed us to wrath, but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,
- 5:10 (w) that was dead for us; that whether we wake, whether we sleep, we live together with him.
(p) that was dead for us; that whether we wake, whether we sleep, we live together with him.
(t) which died for us: that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.
(g) Which died for us, that whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.
(k) Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.
- 5:11 (w) For which thing comfort ye together, and edify ye each other, as and ye do.
(p) For which thing comfort ye together, and edify ye each other, as ye do.
(t) ¶ Wherefore comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as ye do.
(g) Wherefore exhort one another, and edify one another, even as ye do.
(k) Wherefore comfort {or, exhort} yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.
- 5:12 (w) And, brethren, we pray you, that ye know them that travail among you, and be before you in the Lord, and admonish, or teach, you,
(p) And, brethren, we pray you, that ye know them that travail among you, and be sovereigns to you in the Lord, and teach you,
(t) ¶ We beseech you brethren, that ye know them which labor among you, and have the oversight of you in the Lord, and give you exhortation,
(g) Now we beseech you, brethren, that ye know them which labor among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you,

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) And we beseech you, brethren, to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;
- 5:13 (w) that ye have them more abundantly in charity; and for the work of them, have ye peace with them.
(p) that ye have them more abundantly in charity; and for the work of them, have ye peace with them.
(t) that ye have them the more in love, for their work's sake, and be at peace with them.
(g) That ye have them in singular love for their work's sake. Be at peace among yourselves.
(k) And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. And be at peace among yourselves.
- 5:14 (w) And, brethren, we pray you, reprove ye, or chastise, unquiet men. Comfort ye men of little heart, receive ye sick men, be ye patient to all men.
(p) And, brethren, we pray you, reprove unpeaceable men. Comfort ye men of little heart, receive ye frail men, be ye patient to all men.
(t) We desire you brethren warn them that are unruly, comfort the feeble minded, forbear the weak have continual patience toward all men.
(g) We desire you, brethren, admonish them that are unruly, comfort the feebleminded, bear with the weak, be patient toward all men.
(k) Now we exhort {or, beseech} you, brethren, warn them that are unruly {or, disorderly}, comfort the feebleminded, support the weak, be patient toward all men.
- 5:15 (w) See ye, that no man yield evil for evil to any man; but evermore follow ye that that is good, together and into all men.
(p) See ye, that no man yield evil for evil to any man; but evermore follow ye that that is good, each to other and to all men.
(t) See that none recompense evil for evil unto any man: but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.
(g) See that none recompense evil for evil unto any man, but ever follow that which is good, both toward yourselves, and toward all men.
(k) See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.
- 5:16 (w) Evermore joy ye;
(p) Evermore joy ye;
(t) Rejoice ever.
(g) Rejoice evermore.
(k) Rejoice evermore.
- 5:17 (w) without ceasing pray ye;
(p) without ceasing pray ye;
(t) Pray continually.
(g) Pray continually.
(k) Pray without ceasing.
- 5:18 (w) in all things do ye thankings. For this is the will of God in Christ Jesus, in all you.
(p) in all things do ye thankings. For this is the will of God in Christ Jesus, in all you.
(t) In all things give thanks. For this is the will of God in Christ Jesus toward you.
(g) In all things give thanks; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus toward you.

Book 52 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians

(g) Despise not prophesying.
(k) Despise not prophesyings.

5:21 (w) But prove ye all things, hold ye that thing that is good.
(p) But prove ye all things, and hold ye that thing that is good.
(t) Examine all things and keep [things. Keep] that which is good.
(g) Try all things, and keep that which is good.
(k) Prove all things; hold fast that which is good.

5:22 (w) Abstain ye you from all evil species, or likeness.
(p) Abstain you from all evil species.
(t) Abstain from all suspicious things [thing].
(g) Abstain from all appearance of evil.
(k) Abstain from all appearance of evil.

5:23 (w) And God himself of peace make you holy by all things, that your spirit be kept whole, and soul, and body, without plaint, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) And God himself of peace make you holy by all things, that your spirit be kept whole, and soul, and body, without plaint, in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) The very God of peace sanctify you throughout. And I pray God that your whole spirit, soul, and body, be kept faultless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(g) Now the very God of peace sanctify you throughout; and I pray God that your whole spirit and soul and body, may be kept blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(k) And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

5:24 (w) God is true, that called you, which also shall do work of grace in you.
(p) God is true, that called you, which also shall do.
(t) Faithful is he, which called you: which will also do it.
(g) Faithful is he which calleth you, which will also do it.
(k) Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

- 1:3 (w) We owe to do thankings ever to God for you, brethren, so as it is worthy, for your faith ever-waxeth, and the charity of each of you together aboundeth.
(p) We owe to do thankings evermore to God for you, brethren, so as it is worthy, for your faith over-waxeth, and the charity of each of you to other aboundeth.
(t) ¶ We are bound to thank God always for you brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and every one of you swimeth in love toward another between yourselves,
(g) We ought to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the love of every one of you toward another, aboundeth,
(k) We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;
- 1:4 (w) So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations. Which ye sustain
(p) So that we us selves glory in you in the churches of God, for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations. Which ye sustain
(t) so that we ourselves rejoice of you in the congregations of God, over your patience and faith in all your persecutions, and tribulations that ye suffer:
(g) So that we ourselves rejoice of you in the Churches of God, because of your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer;
(k) So that we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God for your patience and faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:
- 1:5 (w) into the example of the just doom of God, that ye be had worthy in the kingdom of God, for which ye suffer.
(p) into the ensample of the just doom of God, that ye be had worthy in the kingdom of God, for which ye suffer.
(t) which is a token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye are counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer.
(g) Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for the which ye also suffer.
(k) Which is a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, for which ye also suffer:
- 1:6 (w) If nevertheless it is just at God to requite tribulation to them that trouble you,
(p) If nevertheless it is just before God to requite tribulation to them that trouble you,
(t) It is verily a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you:
(g) For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you,
(k) Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;
- 1:7 (w) and to you that be troubled, rest with us in the showing of the Lord Jesus from heaven, with angels of his virtue,
(p) and to you that be troubled, rest with us in the showing of the Lord Jesus from heaven, with angels of his virtue,
(t) and to you which are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall show himself from heaven, with his mighty angels,
(g) And to you which are troubled, rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall shew himself from heaven with his mighty Angels,
(k) And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with his mighty angels {Gr. the angels of his power},
- 1:8 (w) in the flame of fire, giving vengeance to them that know not God, and that obey not to the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Book 53 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) in the flame of fire, that shall give vengeance to them that know not God, and that obey not to the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- (t) in flaming fire, rendering vengeance unto them that know not God, and to them that obey not unto the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ,
- (g) In flaming fire, rendering vengeance unto them, that do not know God, and which obey not unto the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ,
- (k) In flaming fire taking {or, yielding} vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:
- 1:9 (w) Which shall suffer everlasting pains, in perishing from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his virtue,
(p) Which shall suffer everlasting pains, in perishing from the face of the Lord, and from the glory of his virtue,
(t) which shall be punished with everlasting damnation, from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power,
(g) Which shall be punished with everlasting perdition from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power,
(k) Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power;
- 1:10 (w) when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made wonderful in all men that believed, for our witnessing is believed on you, in that day.
(p) when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made wonderful in all men that believed, for our witnessing is believed on you, in that day.
(t) when he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made marvelous in all them that believe: because our testimony that we had unto you, was believed even the same day that we preached it.
(g) When he shall come to be glorified in his Saints, and to be made marvelous in all them that believe (because our testimony toward you was believed) in that day.
(k) When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.
- 1:11 (w) In which thing also we pray evermore for you, that our God make you worthy to his calling, and fulfill all the will of his goodness, and the work of faith in virtue;
(p) In which thing also we pray evermore for you, that our God make you worthy to his calling, and fill all the will of his goodness, and the work of faith in virtue;
(t) Wherefore we pray always for you that our God make you worthy of the calling, and fulfill all delectation of goodness, and the work of faith, with power:
(g) Wherefore, we also pray always for you, that our God may make you worthy of his calling, and fulfill all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power,
(k) Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would count {or, vouchsafe} you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and the work of faith with power:
- 1:12 (w) that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ be clarified in you, and ye in him, after the grace of our God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ be clarified in you, and ye in him, by the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) that the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, through the grace of our God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
(g) That the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
(k) That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) But, brethren, we pray you by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our congregation into the same thing,
(p) But, brethren, we pray you by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and of our congregation into the same coming,
(t) ¶ We beseech you brethren by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and in that we shall assemble unto him,
(g) Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our assembling unto him,
(k) Now we beseech you, brethren, by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our gathering together unto him {or, around him},
- 2:2 (w) that ye be not moved soon from your wit, neither be aghast, neither by spirit, neither by word, neither by epistle as sent by us, as if the day of the Lord be nigh.
(p) that ye be not moved soon from your wit, neither be afeared, neither by spirit, neither by word, neither by epistle as sent by us, as if the day of the Lord be nigh.
(t) that ye be not suddenly moved from your mind, and be not troubled, neither by spirit, neither by words, nor yet by letter, which should seem to come from us, as though the day of Christ were at hand.
(g) That ye be not suddenly moved from your mind, nor troubled neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter, as it were from us, as though the day of Christ were at hand.
(k) That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.
- 2:3 (w) That no man deceive you in any manner. For no but departing away, or dissension, shall come first, and the man of sin be showed, the son of perdition,
(p) No man deceive you in any manner. For but dissension come first, and the man of sin be showed, the son of perdition,
(t) Let no man deceive you by any means, for the Lord cometh not, except there come a departing first, and that that sinful man be opened, the son of perdition
(g) Let no man deceive you by any means, for that day shall not come, except there come a departing first, and that the man of sin be disclosed, even the son of perdition,
(k) Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, except there come a falling away first, and that man of sin be revealed, the son of perdition;
- 2:4 (w) that is adversary, and is enhanced upon all thing that is said God, or that is worshipped, so that he sit in the temple of God, showing himself as that he be God/as if he is God.
(p) that is adversary, and is enhanced over all thing that is said God, or that is worshipped, so that he sit in the temple of God, and show himself as if he were God.
(t) which is an adversary, and is exalted above all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that he shall sit as God in temple of God, and show himself as God.
(g) Which is an adversary, and exalteth himself against all that is called God, or that is worshipped, so that he doeth sit as God in the Temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.
(k) Who opposeth and exalteth himself above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.
- 2:5 (w) Whether ye hold not, that yet when I was at you, I said these things to you?
(p) Whether ye hold not, that yet when I was at you, I said these things to you?
(t) ¶ Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?
(g) Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?
(k) Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

Book 53 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:6 (w) And now what withholdeth him, ye know, that he be showed in his time.
(p) And now what withholdeth, ye know, that he be showed in his time.
(t) And now ye know what withholdeth: even that he might be uttered at his time.
(g) And now ye know what withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.
(k) And now ye know what withholdeth {or, holdeth} that he might be revealed in his time.
- 2:7 (w) For why the mystery, or private, of wickedness worketh now; only that he that holdeth now, hold, till he be done away.
(p) For the private of wickedness worketh now; only that he that holdeth now, hold, till he be done away.
(t) For the mystery of that iniquity doth he already work which only looketh [already the mystery of iniquity worketh. Only he that holdeth, let him now hold], until it be taken out of the way,
(g) For the mystery of iniquity doeth already work; only he which now withholdeth, shall let till he be taken out of the way.
(k) For the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.
- 2:8 (w) And then that wicked man shall be showed, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the illumining, or shining, of his coming;
(p) And then that wicked man shall be showed, whom the Lord Jesus shall slay with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with lightening of his coming;
(t) and then shall that wicked be uttered, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the appearance of his coming,
(g) And then shall that wicked man be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the Spirit of his mouth, and shall abolish with the brightness of his coming,
(k) And then shall that Wicked be revealed, whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightness of his coming:
- 2:9 (w) him, whose coming is after the working of Satan, in all virtue, and signs, and great wonders, lying, or false,
(p) him, whose coming is by the working of Satan, in all virtue, and signs, and great wonders, false,
(t) even him whose coming is by the working of Satan, with all lying power, signs, and wonders:
(g) Even him whose coming is by the working of Satan, with all power, and signs, and lying wonders,
(k) Even him, whose coming is after the working of Satan with all power and signs and lying wonders,
- 2:10 (w) and in all deceit of wickedness, to them that perish. For that they received not the charity of truth, that they should be made safe.
(p) and in all deceit of wickedness, to them that perish. For that they received not the charity of truth, that they should be made safe.
(t) and in all deceivableness of unrighteousness, among them that perish: because they received not [have not received] the love of the truth, that they might have been saved.
(g) And in all deceivableness of unrighteousness, among them that perish, because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.
(k) And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.
- 2:11 (w) And therefore God shall send to them a working of error, that they believe to lying, or gabbing,
(p) And therefore God shall send to them a working of error, that they believe to lying,
(t) And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe lies:

Book 53 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe lies,
(k) And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:
- 2:12 (w) that all be deemed, or damned, which believed not to truth, but consented to wickedness.
(p) that all be deemed, which believed not to truth, but consented to wickedness.
(t) that all they might be damned which believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.
(g) That all they might be damned which believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.
(k) That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness.
- 2:13 (w) Forsooth we owe to do thankings evermore to God for you, brethren loved of God, that God chose us primacies, or first fruits, into health, in hallowing of Spirit and faith of truth;
(p) But, brethren loved of God, we owe to do thankings evermore to God for you, that God chose us the first fruits into health, in hallowing of Spirit and in faith of truth;
(t) ¶ But We are bound to give thanks always to God for you brethren beloved of the Lord, for because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation [health], through sanctifying of the spirit, and through believing the truth:
(g) But we ought to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation, through sanctification of the Spirit, and the faith of truth,
(k) But we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God hath from the beginning chosen you to salvation through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth:
- 2:14 (w) in which also he called you by our gospel, into the getting of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) in which also he called you by our gospel, into the getting of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) whereunto he called you by our gospel, to obtain the glory that cometh of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(g) Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to obtain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(k) Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.
- 2:15 (w) Therefore, brethren, stand ye, and hold ye the traditions, that ye have learned, either by word, or by our epistle.
(p) Therefore, brethren, stand ye, and hold ye the traditions, that ye have learned, either by word, either by our epistle.
(t) ¶ Therefore brethren stand fast and keep the ordnances [ordinations], which ye have learned: whether it were by our preaching, or by [our] epistle:
(g) Therefore, brethren, stand fast and keep the instructions, which ye have been taught, either by word, or by our Epistle.
(k) Therefore, brethren, stand fast, and hold the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.
- 2:16 (w) And our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, which loved us, and gave everlasting comfort and good hope in grace,
(p) And our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our Father, which loved us, and gave everlasting comfort and good hope in grace,
(t) Our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God our father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation, and good hope through grace,
(g) Now the same Jesus Christ our Lord, and our God even the Father which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace,
(k) Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and good hope through grace,
- 2:17 (w) stir, or admonish, your hearts, and confirm you in all good work and word.
(p) stir your hearts, and confirm in all good work and word.

Book 53 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) comfort your hearts, and establish you in all doctrine [saying], and good doing.

(g) Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every word and good work.

(k) Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) Brethren, from henceforward pray ye for us, that the word of God run, and be clarified, as it is with you;
(p) Brethren, from henceforward pray ye for us, that the word of God run, and be clarified, as it is with you;
(t) ¶ Furthermore brethren pray for us, that the word of God may have free passage, and be glorified, as it is with you:
(g) Furthermore, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have free passage and be glorified, even as it is with you,
(k) Finally, brethren, pray for us, that the word of the Lord may have {Gr. run} free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:
- 3:2 (w) and that we be delivered from harmful and evil men; for faith is not of all men.
(p) and that we be delivered from harmful and evil men; for faith is not of all men.
(t) and that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men. For all men have not faith:
(g) And that we may be delivered from unreasonable and evil men; for all men have not faith.
(k) And that we may be delivered from unreasonable {Gr. absurd} and wicked men: for all men have not faith.
- 3:3 (w) But the Lord is true, that shall confirm you, and shall keep us from evil.
(p) But the Lord is true, that shall confirm you, and shall keep from evil.
(t) but the Lord is faithful, which shall establish you, and keep you from evil.
(g) But the Lord is faithful, which will stablish you, and keep you from evil.
(k) But the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and keep you from evil.
- 3:4 (w) And, brethren, we trust of you in the Lord, for whatever things we command to you, both ye do and shall do.
(p) And, brethren, we trust of you in the Lord, for whatever things we command to you, both ye do and shall do.
(t) We have confidence throw the Lord to you-ward, that ye both do, and will do, that which we command you.
(g) And we are persuaded of you through the Lord, that ye both do, and will do the things which we command you.
(k) And we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.
- 3:5 (w) Forsooth the Lord dress your hearts, in the charity of God, and in the patience of Christ.
(p) And the Lord direct your hearts, in the charity of God, and in the patience of Christ.
(t) And the Lord guide your hearts unto the love of God, and patience of Christ.
(g) And the Lord guide your hearts to the love of God, and the waiting for of Christ.
(k) And the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into the patient waiting for Christ {or, the patience of Christ}.
- 3:6 (w) Forsooth, brethren, we announce to you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw you from each brother wandering unordinately, or against good order, and not after the tradition, that they received of us.
(p) But, brethren, we command to you in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw you from each brother that wandereth out of order, and not after the teaching, that they received of us.
(t) ¶ We require you brethren in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the institution which ye received of us.

Book 53 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) We command you, brethren, in the Name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the instruction, which he received of us.
- (k) Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye withdraw yourselves from every brother that walketh disorderly, and not after the tradition which he received of us.
- 3:7 (w) For ye yourselves know, how it behooveth to follow us. For we were not unquiet, or unpeaceable, among you,
(p) For ye yourselves know, how it behooveth to follow us. For we were not unpeaceable among you,
(t) Ye yourselves know how ye ought to follow [counterfeit] us: For we behaved not ourselves inordinately among you.
(g) For ye yourselves know, how ye ought to follow us, for we behaved not ourselves inordinately among you,
(k) For yourselves know how ye ought to follow us: for we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;
- 3:8 (w) neither without our own travail we ate bread of any man, but in travail and weariness night and day working, that we grieve none of you.
(p) neither without our own travail we ate bread of any man, but in travail and weariness wrought night and day, that we grieved none of you.
(t) Neither took we bread of any man for nought: but wrought with labor and travail night and day, because we would not be grievous to any of you:
(g) Neither took we bread of any man for nought, but we wrought with labor and travail night and day, because we would not be chargeable to any of you.
(k) Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:
- 3:9 (w) Not as we had not power, but that we should give ourselves an ensample to you to follow us.
(p) Not as we had not power, but that we should give us selves ensample to you to follow us.
(t) not but that we had authority: but to make ourselves an ensample unto you, to follow [counterfeit] us.
(g) Not because we have not authority, but that we might make ourselves an example unto you to follow us.
(k) Not because we have not power, but to make ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.
- 3:10 (w) For why and when we were with you, this thing we announced, or warned, to you, that if any man will not work, neither eat he.
(p) For also when we were among you, we commanded this thing to you, that if any man will not work, neither eat he.
(t) For when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were any which would not work, that the same should not eat.
(g) For even when we were with you, this we warned you of, that if there were any, which would not work, that he should not eat.
(k) For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, that if any would not work, neither should he eat.
- 3:11 (w) Soothly we have heard some among you to wander unquietly, or unpeaceably, nothing working, but doing curiously.
(p) For we have heard that some among you go unrestfully, and nothing work, but do curiously.
(t) ¶ We have heard say no doubt that there are some which walk among you inordinately, and work not at all, but are busybodies.
(g) For we hear, that there are some which walk among you inordinately, and work not at all, but are busybodies.
(k) For we hear that there are some which walk among you disorderly, working not at all, but are busybodies.
- 3:12 (w) Forsooth we announce to them that be such manner, and beseech in the Lord Jesus Christ, that they with silence, or stillness, working, eat their own bread.

Book 53 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to the Thessalonians
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) But we command to them that be such men, and beseech in the Lord Jesus Christ, that they work with silence, and eat their own bread.
(t) Them that are such, we command and exhort by [in the name of] our Lord Jesus Christ, that they work with quietness, and eat their own bread.
(g) Therefore them that are such, we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that they work with quietness, and eat their own bread.
(k) Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.
- 3:13 (w) But do not ye, brethren, fail well-doing.
(p) But do not ye, brethren, fail well-doing.
(t) Brethren be not weary in well doing.
(g) And ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing.
(k) But ye, brethren, be not weary in well doing {or, faint not}.
- 3:14 (w) That if any man obey not to our word sent by epistle, mark ye him, and commune not with him, that he be ashamed;
(p) That if any man obey not to our word by epistle, mark ye him, and commune ye not with him, that he be ashamed;
(t) If any man obey not our sayings, send us word of him by a letter: and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed:
(g) If any man obey not this our saying in this letter, note him by a letter, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed;
(k) And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, note that man {or, signify that man by an epistle}, and have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.
- 3:15 (w) and do not ye guess him as an enemy, but reprove ye him as a brother.
(p) and do not ye guess him as an enemy, but reprove ye him as a brother.
(t) And count him not as an enemy: but warn him as a brother.
(g) Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.
(k) Yet count him not as an enemy, but admonish him as a brother.
- 3:16 (w) And God himself of peace give to you everlasting peace in all place. The Lord be with you all.
(p) And God himself of peace give to you everlasting peace in all place. The Lord be with you all.
(t) ¶ The very Lord of peace, give you peace always, by all means. The Lord be with you all.
(g) Now the Lord himself of peace give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.
(k) Now the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.
- 3:17 (w) My salutation by the hand of Paul; which sign in each epistle I write thus.
(p) My salutation by the hand of Paul; which sign in each epistle I write thus.
(t) The salutation of me Paul with mine own hand. This is the token in all epistles. So I write.
(g) The salutation of me Paul, with my own hand, which is the token in every Epistle; so I write,
(k) The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.
- 3:18 (w) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
(p) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.
(t) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all Amen.
(g) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all, Amen.

- 1:3 (w) As I prayed thee, that thou shouldest dwell at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou shouldest announce, or warn, to some, that they should not teach other way,
(p) As I prayed thee, that thou shouldest dwell at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou shouldest command to some men, that they should not teach other way,
(t) ¶ As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus when I departed into Macedonia, even so do that thou command [warn] some that they teach no other wise:
(g) As I besought thee to abide still in Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so do, that thou mayest command some, that they teach none other doctrine,
(k) As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some that they teach no other doctrine,
- 1:4 (w) neither give attention to fables and genealogies without end, which give questions, more than edification of God, that is in faith.
(p) neither give attention to fables and genealogies that be uncertain, which give questions, more than edification of God, that is in the faith.
(t) neither give heed to fables and genealogies, which are endless, and breed doubts, more than Godly edifying which is by faith:
(g) Neither that they give heed to fables and genealogies which are endless, which breed questions rather than godly edifying which is by faith.
(k) Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.
- 1:5 (w) For the end of the commandment is charity of clean heart, and good conscience, and of faith not feigned.
(p) For the end of the commandment is charity of clean heart, and good conscience, and of faith not feigned.
(t) for the end of the commandment is love that cometh of a pure heart and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:
(g) For the end of the commandment is love out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned.
(k) Now the end of the commandment is charity out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:
- 1:6 (w) From which things some erring, be turned together into vain speech;
(p) From which things some men have erred, and be turned into vain speech;
(t) from the which things, some have erred, and have turned unto vain jangling,
(g) From the which things some have erred, and have turned unto vain jangling.
(k) From which some having swerved {or, not aimed at} have turned aside unto vain jangling;
- 1:7 (w) willing to be teachers of the law, not understanding, neither what things they speak, neither of what things they affirm.
(p) and will to be teachers of the law, and understand not what things they speak, neither of what things they affirm.
(t) because they would be doctors [in] the scripture, and yet understand not what they speak, neither whereof they affirm.
(g) They would be doctors of the Law, and yet understand not what they speak, neither whereof they affirm.
(k) Desiring to be teachers of the law; understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.
- 1:8 (w) And we know that the law is good, if any man use it lawfully;
(p) And we know that the law is good, if any man use it lawfully;
(t) ¶ We know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully,
(g) And we know, that the Law is good, if a man use it lawfully;
(k) But we know that the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy

- 1:9 (w) witting this thing, that the law is not put to a just man, but to an unjust and not subject, to unpious men and sinners, to cursed men and defouled, to slayers of fathers, and slayers of mothers, to menslayers
(p) and witting this thing, that the law is not set to a just man, but to unjust men and not subject, to wicked men and to sinners, to cursed men and defouled, to slayers of father, and slayers of mother, to manslayers
(t) understanding this, how that the law is not given unto a righteous man, but unto the unrighteous and disobedient, to the ungodly and to sinners, to unholy and unclean, to murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, to man-slayers [man-quellers]
(g) Knowing this, that the Law is not given unto a righteous man, but unto the lawless and disobedient, to the ungodly, and to sinners, to the unholy, and to the profane, to murderers of fathers and mothers, to manslayers,
(k) Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,
- 1:10 (w) and fornicators, to them that trespass with males against kind, sellers, or stealers, of men, to lying-mongers and to forsworn men, and if any other thing is contrary to wholesome teaching,
(p) and lechers, to them that do lechery with men, lying-mongers and forsworn, and if any other thing is contrary to the wholesome teaching,
(t) and whoremongers: to them that defile themselves with mankind: to menstealers: to liars and to perjured, and so forth if there be any other thing that is contrary to wholesome doctrine
(g) To whoremongers, to buggers, to menstealers, to liars, to the perjured, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to wholesome doctrine,
(k) For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to sound doctrine;
- 1:11 (w) that is after the gospel of the glory of blessed God, which is betaken to me.
(p) that is after the gospel of the glory of blessed God, which is betaken to me.
(t) according to the gospel of the glory of the blessed God [glorious gospel of the holy God], which gospel is committed unto me.
(g) Which is according to the glorious Gospel of the blessed God, which is committed unto me.
(k) According to the glorious gospel of the blessed God, which was committed to my trust.
- 1:12 (w) I do thankings to him, that hath comforted me in Christ Jesus our Lord, for he guessed me faithful, putting me in ministry,
(p) I do thankings to him, that comforted me in Christ Jesus our Lord, for he guessed me faithful, and put me in ministry,
(t) ¶ And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord which hath made me strong [And I thank him that hath made me strong in Christ Jesus our Lord]: for he counted me true, and put me in office,
(g) Therefore I thank him which hath made me strong, that is, Christ Jesus our Lord, for he counted me faithful, and put me in his service;
(k) And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, who hath enabled me, for that he counted me faithful, putting me into the ministry;
- 1:13 (w) the which I first was a blasphemer, and a pursuer, and full of wrongs. But I have gotten the mercy of God, for I unknowing did in unbelief.
(p) that first was a blasphemer, and a pursuer, and full of wrongs. But I have gotten the mercy of God, for I unknowing did in unbelief.
(t) when before I was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and a tyrant. But [Nevertheless] I obtained mercy because I did it ignorantly, through [in] unbelief:

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) When before I was a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and an oppressor, but I was received to mercy, for I did it ignorantly through unbelief.
- (k) Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because I did it ignorantly in unbelief.
- 1:14 (w) But the grace of our Lord over abounded, with faith and love that is in Christ Jesus.
(p) But the grace of our Lord over abounded, with faith and love that is in Christ Jesus.
(t) neverthelater [but] the grace of our Lord was more abundant, with faith and love, which is in Christ Jesus.
(g) But the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love, which is in Christ Jesus.
(k) And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant with faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.
- 1:15 (w) A true word and worthy all receiving, for Christ Jesus came into this world to make sinful men safe, of whom I am the first.
(p) A true word and worthy all receiving, for Christ Jesus came into this world to make sinful men safe, of which I am the first.
(t) ¶ This is a true saying, and by all means worthy to be received, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief:
(g) This is a true saying, and by all means worthy to be received, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, of whom I am chief.
(k) This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptance, that Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.
- 1:16 (w) But therefore I have gotten mercy, that Christ Jesus should show in me first all patience, to the informing of them that shall believe to him into everlasting life.
(p) But therefore I have gotten mercy, that Christ Jesus should show in me first all patience, to the informing of them that shall believe to him into everlasting life.
(t) Notwithstanding for this cause was mercy given unto me [unto me was mercy given], that Jesus Christ should first show on me all long patience, unto the example of them which shall in time to come believe on him unto eternal life.
(g) Notwithstanding, for this cause was I received to mercy, that Jesus Christ should first shew on me all longsuffering unto the example of them, which shall in time to come believe in him unto eternal life.
(k) Howbeit for this cause I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all longsuffering, for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.
- 1:17 (w) And to the king of worlds, undeadly and invisible to God alone, be honour and glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(p) And to the king of worlds, undeadly and invisible God alone, be honour and glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(t) So then unto God, king everlasting, immortal, invisible, and wise only, be honor and praise for ever and ever Amen.
(g) Now unto the King everlasting, immortal, invisible, unto God only wise, be honor and glory, forever, and ever, Amen.
(k) Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.
- 1:18 (w) I commend this precept to thee, son Timothy, after prophecies before-going in thee, that thou fight in them a good knighthood,
(p) I betake this commandment to thee, thou son Timothy, after the prophecies that have been heretofore in thee, that thou travail in them a good travail,
(t) ¶ This commandment commit I unto thee son Timothy, according to the prophecies which in time past were prophesied of thee, that thou in them shouldst fight a good fight,
(g) This commandment commit I unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies, which went before upon thee, that thou by them shouldest fight a good fight,

(k) This charge I commit unto thee, son Timothy, according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest war a good warfare;

- 1:19 (w) having faith and good conscience, the which some casting away, perished about the faith.
(p) having faith and good conscience, which some men cast away, and perished about the faith.
(t) having faith and good conscience, which some have put away from them, and as concerning faith have made shipwreck.
(g) Having faith and a good conscience, which some have put away, and as concerning faith, have made shipwreck.
(k) Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith have made shipwreck:
- 1:20 (w) Of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I betook to Satan, that they learn not to blaspheme.
(p) Of which is Hymenaeus and Alexander, whom I betook to Satan, that they learn not to blaspheme.
(t) Of whose number is Himeneus, and Alexander, which I have delivered unto Satan, that they might be taught not to blaspheme.
(g) Of whom is Hymenaeus, and Alexander, whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they might learn not to blaspheme.
(k) Of whom is Hymenaeus and Alexander; whom I have delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to blaspheme.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) Therefore I beseech first of all things, that beseechings, prayers, askings, doing of thankings, be made for all men,
(p) Therefore I beseech first of all things, that beseechings, prayers, askings, doing of thankings, be made for all men,
(t) ¶ I exhort therefore that above all things prayers, supplications, intercessions [petitions], and giving of thanks, be had for all men:
(g) I Exhort therefore, that first of all supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men,
(k) I exhort {or, desire} therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;
- 2:2 (w) for kings and all that be set in highness, that we lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all piety and chastity.
(p) for kings and all that be set in highness, that we lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all piety and chastity.
(t) for kings, and for all that are in authority [preeminence], that we may live a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godliness and honesty.
(g) For Kings, and for all that are in authority, that we may lead a quiet and a peaceable life, in all godliness and honesty.
(k) For kings, and for all that are in authority {or, eminent place}; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.
- 2:3 (w) For this thing is good and accepted before God, our Saviour,
(p) For this thing is good and accepted before God, our Saviour,
(t) For that is good and accepted in the sight of God our savior,
(g) For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour,
(k) For this is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Saviour;
- 2:4 (w) that will all men to be made safe, and to come to the knowing of truth.
(p) that will that all men be made safe, and that they come to the knowing of truth.
(t) which will [would] have all men saved, and come unto the knowledge of the truth.
(g) Who will that all men shall be saved, and come unto the knowledge of the truth.
(k) Who will have all men to be saved, and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

- 2:5 (w) For one God and one mediator is of God and of men, a man Christ Jesus,
(p) For one God and one mediator is of God and of men, a man Christ Jesus,
(t) For there is one God, and one mediator between God and man, which is the man Christ Jesus,
(g) For there is one God, and one Mediator between God and man, which is the man Christ Jesus,
(k) For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;
- 2:6 (w) that gave himself redemption for all men. Whose witnessing is confirmed in his times;
(p) that gave himself redemption for all men. Whose witnessing is confirmed in his times;
(t) which gave himself a ransom for all men, that it should be testified [preached] at his time,
(g) Who gave himself a ransom for all men, to be the testimony in due time,
(k) Who gave himself a ransom for all, to be testified {or, a testimony} in due time.
- 2:7 (w) in which I am set a preacher and an apostle. Soothly I say truth in Christ Jesus, and I lie not, a teacher of heathen men in faith and truth.
(p) in which I am set a preacher and an apostle. For I say truth, and I lie not, that am a teacher of heathen men in faith and in truth.
(t) whereunto I am ordained [appointed] a preacher, and an apostle: I tell the truth in Christ and lie not, being the teacher of the gentiles in faith and verity.
(g) Whereunto I am ordained a preacher and an Apostle (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not) even a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.
(k) Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not;) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.
- 2:8 (w) Therefore I will, that men pray in all place, lifting up clean hands without wrath and disputing, or strife.
(p) Therefore I will, that men pray in all place, lifting up clean hands without wrath and strife.
(t) ¶ I will therefore that the men pray every where, lifting up pure hands without wrath, or doubting [arguing].
(g) I will therefore that the men pray, everywhere lifting up pure hands without wrath, or doubting.
(k) I will therefore that men pray every where, lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.
- 2:9 (w) Also and women in adorned, or covenable, habit, with shamefastness and soberness adorning themselves, not in wreathed hairs, either in gold, or pearls, or precious cloth;
(p) Also women in suitable habit, with shamefastness and soberness arraying themselves, not in wreathed hairs, either in gold, or pearls, or precious cloth;
(t) Likewise also the women that they array themselves in comely [mannerly] apparel with shamefastness, and discrete [honest] behavior, not with braided hair, other gold, or pearls, or costly array:
(g) Likewise also the women, that they array themselves in comely apparel, with shamefastness and modesty, not with broided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly apparel,
(k) In like manner also, that women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with broided {or, plaited} hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;
- 2:10 (w) but that that becometh women, promising piety by good works.
(p) but that that becometh women, promising piety by good works.
(t) but with such as becometh women that profess the worshipping of God through good works.
(g) But (as becometh women that profess the fear of God) with good works.
(k) But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

- 2:11 (w) A woman learn she in silence, with all subjection.
(p) A woman learn in silence, with all subjection.
(t) Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.
(g) Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.
(k) Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.
- 2:12 (w) But I suffer not a woman to teach, neither for to have lordship on the man, but to be in silence.
(p) But I suffer not a woman to teach, neither to have lordship on the husband, but to be in silence.
(t) I suffer not a woman to teach, neither to have authority over the man: but for to be in silence.
(g) I permit not a woman to teach, neither to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.
(k) But I suffer not a woman to teach, nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.
- 2:13 (w) For Adam was first formed, afterward Eve;
(p) For Adam was first formed, afterward Eve;
(t) For Adam was first formed, and then Eve.
(g) For Adam was first formed, then Eve.
(k) For Adam was first formed, then Eve.
- 2:14 (w) and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, in prevarication, or breaking of the law.
(p) and Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, in breaking of the law.
(t) Also Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, and was in transgression.
(g) And Adam was not deceived, but the woman was deceived, and was in the transgression.
(k) And Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.
- 2:15 (w) But she shall be saved by generation of children, if she dwell perfectly in faith, and love, and holiness, with soberness.
(p) But she shall be saved by generation of children, if she dwell perfectly in faith, and love, and holiness, with soberness.
(t) Notwithstanding through bearing of children they shall be saved, so they continue in faith, love, and holiness with discretion [they shall be saved through bearing of children, if they continue in the faith and in love, and in sanctifying].
(g) Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shall be saved, if they continue in faith, and love, and holiness with modesty.
(k) Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with sobriety.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) A faithful word I shall say. If any man desire a bishopric, he desireth a good work.
(p) A faithful word. If any man desireth a bishopric, he desireth a good work.
(t) ¶ This is a true saying: If a man covet the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.
(g) This is a true saying, If any man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a worthy work.
(k) This is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a bishop, he desireth a good work.
- 3:2 (w) Therefore it behooveth a bishop to be irreprehensible, or without reproof, the husband of one wife, sober, prudent, chaste, virtuous, holding hospitality, a teacher;

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) Therefore it behooveth a bishop to be without reproof, the husband of one wife, sober, prudent, chaste, virtuous, holding hospitality, a teacher;
- (t) Yea and a bishop must be faultless, the husband of one wife, sober, discrete [of honest behavior], honestly apparelled, harbourous, apt to teach,
- (g) A Bishop therefore must be unreprouceable, the husband of one wife, watching, sober, modest, harbourous, apt to teach,
- (k) A bishop then must be blameless, the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, of good behaviour {or, modest}, given to hospitality, apt to teach;
- 3:3 (w) not given much to wine, not smiter, but temperate, or patient, not litigious, or full of strife, or chiding, not covetous,
- (p) not given much to wine, not a smiter, but temperate, not full of chiding, not covetous,
- (t) not drunken, no fighter, not given to filthy lucre: but gentle, abhorring fighting, abhorring covetousness,
- (g) Not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre, but gentle, no fighter, not covetous,
- (k) Not given to wine {or, not ready to quarrel and offer wrong, as one in wine}, no striker, not greedy of filthy lucre; but patient, not a brawler, not covetous;
- 3:4 (w) well-ruling his house, having sons subject with all chastity;
- (p) well-ruling his house, and have sons subject with all chastity;
- (t) and one that ruleth his own house honestly, having children under obedience, with all honesty.
- (g) One that can rule his own house honestly, having children under obedience with all honesty.
- (k) One that ruleth well his own house, having his children in subjection with all gravity;
- 3:5 (w) for if any man know not how to govern his house, how shall he have diligence, or keeping, of the church of God?
- (p) for if any man know not how to govern his house, how shall he have diligence of the church of God?
- (t) For if a man cannot rule his own house, how shall he care for the congregation of God.
- (g) For if any cannot rule his own house, how shall he care for the Church of God?
- (k) (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)
- 3:6 (w) not new converted to the faith, lest he be borne up into pride, and fall into the doom of the devil.
- (p) not new converted to the faith, lest he be borne up into pride, and fall into doom of the devil.
- (t) He may not be a young scholar [man], lest he swell and fall into the judgment of the evil speaker.
- (g) He may not be a young scholar, lest he being puffed up fall into the condemnation of the devil.
- (k) Not a novice {or, one newly come to the faith}, lest being lifted up with pride he fall into the condemnation of the devil.
- 3:7 (w) For it behooveth him to have also good witnessing of them that be withoutforth, that he fall not into reproof, and into the snare of the devil.
- (p) For it behooveth him to have also good witnessing of them that be withoutforth, that he fall not into reproof, and into the snare of the devil.
- (t) He must also be well reported of among them which are without forth, lest he fall into rebuke, and [into the] snare of the evil speaker.
- (g) He must also be well reported of, even of them which are without, lest he fall into rebuke, and the snare of the devil.
- (k) Moreover he must have a good report of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach and the snare of the devil.
- 3:8 (w) Also it behooveth deacons to be chaste, not double-tongued, not given to much wine, not following foul winning;
- (p) Also it behooveth deacons to be chaste, not double-tongued, not given much to wine, not following foul winning;
- (t) ¶ Likewise must the deacons be honest, not double tongued, not given unto much drinking, neither unto filthy lucre:

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy

- (g) Likewise must Deacons be grave, not double tongued, not given unto much wine, neither to filthy lucre,
(k) Likewise must the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;
- 3:9 (w) having the mystery of faith in clean conscience.
(p) that have the mystery of faith in clean conscience.
(t) but having the mystery of the faith in pure conscience.
(g) Having the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.
(k) Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.
- 3:10 (w) And forsooth be they proved first, that they minister so, having no crime, or great sin.
(p) But be they proved first, and minister they so, having no crime.
(t) And let them first be proved, and then let them minister, if they be found faultless.
(g) And let them first be proved; then let them minister, if they be found blameless.
(k) And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.
- 3:11 (w) Also it behooveth women to be chaste, not backbiting, sober, faithful in all things.
(p) Also it behooveth women to be chaste, not backbiting, sober, faithful in all things.
(t) ¶ Even so must their wives be honest, not evil speakers: but sober, and faithful in all things.
(g) Likewise their wives must be honest, not evil speakers, but sober, and faithful in all things.
(k) Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.
- 3:12 (w) Deacons be they husbands of one wife; which govern well their sons and their houses.
(p) Deacons be husbands of one wife; which govern well their sons and their houses.
(t) Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife and such as rule their children well, and their own households.
(g) Let the Deacons be the husbands of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their own households.
(k) Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.
- 3:13 (w) For they that shall minister well, shall get a good degree to themselves, and much trust in the faith, that is in Christ Jesus.
(p) For they that minister well, shall get a good degree to themselves, and much trust in the faith, that is in Christ Jesus.
(t) For they that minister well, get themselves good degree, and great liberty in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.
(g) For they that have ministered well, get themselves a good degree, and great liberty in the faith, which is in Christ Jesus.
(k) For they that have used {or, ministered} the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.
- 3:14 (w) Son Timothy, I write to thee these things, hoping me to come soon to thee;
(p) Son Timothy, I write to thee these things, hoping that I shall come soon to thee;
(t) ¶ These things write I unto thee, trusting to come shortly unto thee.
(g) These things write I unto thee, trusting to come very shortly unto thee.
(k) These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:
- 3:15 (w) but if I tarry, that thou knowest, how it behooveth thee to live in the house of God, that is the church of living God, a pillar and firmness of truth.

(p) but if I tarry, that thou knowest, how it behooveth thee to live in the house of God, that is the church of living God, a pillar and firmness of truth.

(t) But and if I tarry long [And if I come not], that then thou mayest yet have knowledge how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the congregation of the living God, the pillar and ground of truth.

(g) But if I tarry long, that thou mayest yet know, how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the Church of the living God, the pillar and ground of truth.

(k) But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ground {or, stay} of the truth.

3:16 (w) And openly it is a great sacrament of piety, that that is showed in flesh, is justified in Spirit, it appeared to angels, it is preached to heathen men, it is believed in the world, it is taken up into glory.

(p) And openly it is a great sacrament of piety, that thing that was showed in flesh, it is justified in Spirit, it appeared to angels, it is preached to heathen men, it is believed in the world, it is taken up into glory.

(t) And without nay great is that mystery of godliness. God was showed in the flesh, was justified in the spirit, was seen of angels, was preached unto the gentiles, was believed on in earth and received up in glory.

(g) And without controversy, great is the mystery of godliness, which is, God is manifested in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of Angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, and received up in glory.

(k) And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifest in the flesh, justified in the Spirit, seen of angels, preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory.

CHAPTER 4

4:1 (w) Forsooth the Spirit saith openly, for in the last times some shall depart from the faith, giving attention to spirits of error, and to teachings of devils;

(p) But the Spirit saith openly, that in the last times some men shall depart from the faith, giving attention to spirits of error, and to teachings of devils;

(t) ¶ The spirit speaketh evidently that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, and shall give heed unto spirits of error, and devilish doctrine

(g) Now the Spirit speaketh evidently, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, and shall give heed unto spirits of error, and doctrines of devils,

(k) Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils;

4:2 (w) in hypocrisy speaking lying, and having their conscience burnt, or corrupted.

(p) that speak lying in hypocrisy, and have their conscience corrupted.

(t) of them which speak false through hypocrisy, and have their consciences marked with an hot iron,

(g) Which speak lies through hypocrisy, and have their consciences burned with a hot iron,

(k) Speaking lies in hypocrisy; having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

4:3 (w) forbidding to wed, and to abstain from meats, which God made to take with doing of thankings, to faithful men, and them that have known the truth.

(p) forbidding to be wedded, and to abstain from meats, which God made to take with doing of thankings, to faithful men, and them that have known the truth.

(t) forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with giving thanks, of them which believe, and know [have known] the truth,

(g) Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats which God hath created to be received with giving thanks of them which believe and know the truth.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) Forbidding to marry, and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created to be received with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.
- 4:4 (w) For each creature of God is good, and nothing is to be cast away, which is taken with doing of thankings;
(p) For each creature of God is good, and nothing is to be cast away, which is taken with doing of thankings;
(t) for all the creatures of God are good: and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:
(g) For every creature of God is good, and nothing ought to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving.
(k) For every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:
- 4:5 (w) forsooth it is hallowed by the word of God, and prayer.
(p) for it is hallowed by the word of God, and by prayer.
(t) For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.
(g) For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.
(k) For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.
- 4:6 (w) Thou putting forth these things to brethren, shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus; nourished with words of faith and of good doctrine, which thou hast gotten in following.
(p) Thou putting forth these things to brethren, shalt be a good minister of Christ Jesus; nourished with words of faith and of good doctrine, which thou hast gotten.
(t) If thou shalt put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ which hast been nourished up in the words of the faith, and good doctrine, which doctrine thou hast continually followed.
(g) If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, which hast been nourished up in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.
(k) If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.
- 4:7 (w) Forsooth shun thou uncovenable fables, and old women's fables; haunt thyself to piety.
(p) But eschew thou unsuitable fables, and old women's fables; haunt thyself to piety.
(t) But cast away un-ghostly and old wives' fables. ¶ Exercise thyself unto godliness.
(g) But cast away profane, and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself unto godliness.
(k) But refuse profane and old wives' fables, and exercise thyself rather unto godliness.
- 4:8 (w) For bodily exercitation is profitable to little thing; but piety is profitable to all things, having promise of life that now is, and that is to come.
(p) For bodily exercitation is profitable to little thing; but piety is profitable to all things, that hath a promise of life that now is, and that is to come.
(t) For bodily exercise profiteth little: But godliness is good unto all things, as a thing which hath promises of the life that is now, and of the life to come.
(g) For bodily exercise profiteth little, but godliness is profitable unto all things, which hath the promise of the life present, and of that which is to come.
(k) For bodily exercise profiteth little {or, for a little time}: but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.
- 4:9 (w) A true word, and worthy all acception.
(p) A true word, and worthy all acceptance.
(t) This is a sure saying, and of all parties worthy to be received.
(g) This is a true saying, and by all means worthy to be received.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation.
- 4:10 (w) And in this thing we travail, and be cursed, for we hope in living God, that is Saviour of all men, most(ly) of faithful men.
(p) And in this thing we travail, and be cursed, for we hope in living God, that is Saviour of all men, most(ly) of faithful men.
(t) For therefore we labor and suffer rebuke, because we believe in the living God, which is the savior of all men: but especially of those that believe.
(g) For therefore we labor and are rebuked, because we trust in the living God, which is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.
(k) For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.
- 4:11 (w) Command thou this thing, and teach.
(p) Command thou this thing, and teach.
(t) Such things command and teach.
(g) These things command and teach.
(k) These things command and teach.
- 4:12 (w) No man despise thy youth, but be thou example of faithful men in word, in living, in charity, in faith, in chastity.
(p) No man despise thy youth, but be thou ensample of faithful men in word, in living, in charity, in faith, in chastity.
(t) Let no man despise thy youth: but be unto them that believe, an example, in word, in conversation, in love, in spirit, in faith and in pureness.
(g) Let no man despise thy youth, but be unto them that believe, an example, in word, in conversation, in love, in spirit, in faith, and in pureness.
(k) Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.
- 4:13 (w) Till I come, take attention to reading, to exhortation and teaching.
(p) Till I come, take attention to reading, to exhortation and teaching.
(t) ¶ Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.
(g) Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, and to doctrine.
(k) Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.
- 4:14 (w) Do not thou despise, or little charge, the grace that is in thee, that is given to thee by prophecy, with putting on of the hands of the priesthood.
(p) Do not thou little care (for) the grace which is in thee, that is given to thee by prophecy, with putting on of the hands of priesthood.
(t) Despise not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee through prophecy, and with laying on of the hands of an elder [a senior].
(g) Despise not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy with the laying on of the hands of the company of the Eldership.
(k) Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.
- 4:15 (w) Think thou (on) these things, in these be thou, that thy profiting be showed to all men.
(p) Think thou (on) these things, in these be thou, that thy profiting be showed to all men.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) These things exercise, and give thyself unto them, that it may be seen how thou profitest in all things [that all men may see how thou profitest].

(g) These things exercise, and give thyself unto them, that it may be seen how thou profitest among all men.

(k) Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear to all {or, in all things}.

4:16 (w) Take attention to thyself and to doctrine; be busy in them. For thou doing these things, shalt make both thyself safe, and them that hear thee.

(p) Take attention to thyself and to doctrine; be busy in them. For thou doing these things, shalt make both thyself safe, and them that hear thee.

(t) Take heed unto thyself and unto learning, and continue therein. For if thou shalt so do thou shalt save thyself, and them that hear thee.

(g) Take heed unto thyself, and unto learning; continue therein, for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

(k) Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAPTER 5

5:1 (w) Blame thou not an elder man, but beseech him as a father, young men as brethren;

(p) Blame thou not an elder man, but beseech as a father, young men as brethren;

(t) ¶ Rebuke not an elder [a senior]: but exhort him as a father, and the younger men as brethren,

(g) Rebuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, and the younger men as brethren,

(k) Rebuke not an elder, but intreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

5:2 (w) old women as mothers, young women as sisters, in all chastity.

(p) old women as mothers, young women as sisters, in all chastity.

(t) the elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all pureness.

(g) The elder women as mothers, the younger as sisters, with all pureness.

(k) The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

5:3 (w) Honour the widows, that be very widows.

(p) Honour thou widows, that be very widows.

(t) Honor widows which are true widows.

(g) Honor widows, which are widows indeed.

(k) Honour widows that are widows indeed.

5:4 (w) Forsooth if any widow hath sons, or cousins, learn she first to govern her house, and requite to father and mother; for this thing is accepted before God.

(p) But if any widow hath children of sons, learn she first to govern her house, and requite to father and mother; for this thing is accepted before God.

(t) If any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to rule their own houses godly, and to recompense their elders. For that is good and acceptable before God.

(g) But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew godliness toward their own house, and to recompense their kindred; for that is an honest thing and acceptable before God.

(k) But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew piety {or, kindness} at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 5:5 (w) And she that is a widow verily, and desolate, hope she into God, and be busy in beseechings and prayers night and day.
(p) And she that is a widow verily, and desolate, hope into God, and be busy in beseechings and prayers night and day.
(t) She that is a very widow, and friendless, puteth her trust in God, and continueth in supplication and prayer night and day:
(g) And she that is a widow indeed and left alone, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.
(k) Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.
- 5:6 (w) For she that is living in delights, is dead in soul.
(p) For she that is living in delights, is dead.
(t) but she that liveth in pleasure, is dead even yet alive.
(g) But she that liveth in pleasure, is dead, while she liveth.
(k) But she that liveth in pleasure {or, delicately} is dead while she liveth.
- 5:7 (w) And this thing command thou, that they be without reproof.
(p) And command thou this thing, that they be without reproof.
(t) And these [such] things command, that they may be without fault.
(g) These things therefore command, that they may be blameless.
(k) And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.
- 5:8 (w) For if any man hath not care of his own, and most(ly) of his household members, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an unfaithful, or heathen, man.
(p) For if any man hath not care of his own, and most(ly) of his household members, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an unfaithful man.
(t) If there be any that provideth not for his own, and namely for them of his household, the same denieth the faith, and is worse than an infidel.
(g) If there be any that provideth not for his own, and namely for them of his household, he denieth the faith, and is worse than an infidel.
(k) But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house {or, kindred}, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.
- 5:9 (w) A widow be chosen into the temple not less than sixty years, that was wife of one husband,
(p) A widow be chosen not less than sixty years, that was wife of one husband,
(t) ¶ Let no widow be chosen under threescore year old, and such a one as was the wife of one man,
(g) Let not a widow be taken into the number under threescore years old, that hath been the wife of one husband,
(k) Let not a widow be taken {or, chosen} into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,
- 5:10 (w) having witnessing in good works, if she nourished sons, if she received poor men to harbour, if she hath washed the feet of holy men, if she under-ministered to men suffering tribulation, if she followed all good work.
(p) and hath witnessing in good works, if she nourished children, if she received poor men to harbour, if she hath washed the feet of holy men, if she ministered to men that suffered tribulation, if she followed all good work.
(t) and well reported of in good works: if she have nourished children, if she have been liberal to strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have ministered unto them which were in adversity, if she were continually given unto all manner good works.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) And well reported of for good works; if she have nourished her children, if she have lodged the strangers, if she have washed the Saint's feet, if she have ministered unto them which were in adversity, if she were continually given unto every good work.
- (k) Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.
- 5:11 (w) Forsooth eschew younger widows; forsooth when they have done lechery in Christ, they will be wedded,
(p) But eschew younger widows; for when they have done lechery, they will be wedded in Christ,
(t) The younger widows refuse. For when they have begun to wax wanton, to the dishonor of Christ, then will they marry,
(g) But refuse the younger widows, for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry,
(k) But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry;
- 5:12 (w) having damnation, for they have made void the first faith.
(p) having damnation, for they have made void the first faith.
(t) having damnation, because they have broken [despised] their first faith.
(g) Having damnation, because they have broken the first faith.
(k) Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.
- 5:13 (w) Also and they idle learn to go about houses, not only idle, but and they be full of words and curiosity, speaking things that it behooveth not.
(p) Also they idle learn to go about houses, not only idle, but full of words and curious, speaking things that it behooveth not.
(t) And also they learn to go from house to house idle, yea not idle only, but also trifling and busybodies, speaking things which are not comely.
(g) And likewise also being idle they learn to go about from house to house; yea, they are not only idle, but also prattlers and busybodies, speaking things which are not comely.
(k) And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.
- 5:14 (w) Therefore I will, that younger widows be wedded, and bring forth children, and be housewives, to give none occasion to the adversary, by cause of cursed thing.
(p) Therefore I will, that younger widows be wedded, and bring forth children, and be housewives, to give none occasion to the adversary, because of cursed thing.
(t) ¶ I will therefore that the younger women marry and bear children, and guide the house, and give none occasion to the adversary to speak evil.
(g) I will therefore that the younger women marry, and bear children, and govern the house, and give none occasion to the adversary to speak evil.
(k) I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary to speak reproachfully {Gr. for their railing}.
- 5:15 (w) For now some be turned aback after Satan.
(p) For now some be turned aback after Satan.
(t) For many of them are all ready turned back, and are gone after Satan.
(g) For certain are already turned back after Satan.
(k) For some are already turned aside after Satan.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 5:16 (w) If any faithful man hath widows, under-minister he to them, that the church be not charged, that it suffice to them that be very widows.
(p) If any faithful man hath widows, minister he to them, that the church be not charged, that it suffice to them that be very widows.
(t) And if any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them minister unto them, and let not the congregation be charged: that it may have sufficient for them that are widows indeed.
(g) If any faithful man or faithful woman have widows, let them minister unto them, and let not the Church be charged, that there may be sufficient for them that are widows indeed.
(k) If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.
- 5:17 (w) The priests that be well before, that is, truly keep well priesthood, be they had worthy to double honour; most they that travail in word and teaching.
(p) The priests that be well governors, be they had worthy to double honour; most they that travail in word and teaching.
(t) ¶ The elders [seniors] that rule well are worthy of double honor, most especially they which labor in the word and in teaching.
(g) ¶ The Elders that rule well, are worthy of double honor, specially they which labor in the word and doctrine,
(k) Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.
- 5:18 (w) For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not bridle the mouth of the ox threshing, and, A workman is worthy his hire.
(p) For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not bridle the mouth of the ox threshing, and, A workman is worthy his hire.
(t) For the scripture sayeth: Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. And the laborer is worthy of his reward.
(g) For the Scripture saith, Thou shalt not mussel the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn; and, The laborer is worthy of his wages.
(k) For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his reward.
- 5:19 (w) Do not thou receive accusing against a priest, but under two or three witnesses.
(p) Do not thou receive accusing against a priest, but under twain or three witnesses.
(t) Against an elder [a senior] receive none accusation: but under two or three witnesses.
(g) Against an Elder receive none accusation, but under two or three witnesses.
(k) Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before {or, under} two or three witnesses.
- 5:20 (w) Men sinning before all men reprove thou, that and others have dread.
(p) But reprove thou men that sin before all men, that also others have dread.
(t) Them that sin rebuke openly that other may fear.
(g) Them that sin, rebuke openly, that the rest also may fear.
(k) Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.
- 5:21 (w) I pray, or adjure, thee before God, and Jesus Christ, and his chosen angels, that thou keep these things without prejudice, doing nothing, bowing into another part.
(p) I pray thee before God, and Jesus Christ, and his chosen angels, that thou keep these things without prejudice, and do nothing in bowing to the other side.
(t) ¶ I testify before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without hasty judgment, and do nothing partially.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) ¶ I charge thee before God and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect Angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one to another, and do nothing partially.

(k) I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things without preferring one before another {or, without prejudice}, doing nothing by partiality.

5:22 (w) Put thou hands to no man soon, neither commune thou with other men's sins. Keep thyself chaste.

(p) Put thou hands to no man, neither at once commune thou with other men's sins. Keep thyself chaste.

(t) Lay hands suddenly on no man neither be partaker of other men's sins: Keep thyself pure.

(g) Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins; keep thyself pure.

(k) Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

5:23 (w) Do not thou yet drink water, but use a little wine, for thy stomach, and for thine oft falling infirmities.

(p) Do not thou yet drink water, but use a little wine, for thy stomach, and for thine oft falling infirmities.

(t) Drink no longer water, but use a little wine, for thy stomach's sake, and thine often diseases.

(g) Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake, and thine often infirmities.

(k) Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

5:24 (w) Some men's sins be open, going before to doom; forsooth of some men and they follow.

(p) Some men's sins be open, before going to doom; but of some men they come after.

(t) ¶ Some men's sins are open beforehand and go before unto judgement: some men's sins follow after.

(g) Some men's sins are open beforehand, and go before unto judgment; but some men's follow after.

(k) Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

5:25 (w) Also and good deeds be open, and they that have them otherwise, may not be hid.

(p) And also good deeds be open, and those that have them in other manner be not able to be hid.

(t) Likewise also good works are manifest beforehand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

(g) Likewise also the good works are manifest beforehand, and they that are otherwise, cannot be hid.

(k) Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAPTER 6

6:1 (w) Whatever servants be under yoke, deem they their lords worthy all honour, lest the name of their Lord God and his doctrine be blasphemed.

(p) Whatever servants be under yoke, deem they their lords worthy all honour, lest the name of the Lord and the doctrine be blasphemed.

(t) ¶ Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their masters worthy of all honor, that the name of God, and his doctrine be not evil spoken of.

(g) Let as many servants as are under the yoke, count their masters worthy of all honor, that the Name of God, and his doctrine be not evil spoken of.

(k) Let as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

6:2 (w) Forsooth, they that have faithful, or christian, lords, despise them not, for they be brethren; but more serve they them, for they be faithful and loved, the which be partners of beneficence, or good-doing. These things teach thou, and these things admonish thou.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) And they that have faithful lords, despise them not, for they be brethren; but more serve they, for they be faithful and loved, which be partners of beneficence. Teach thou these things, and admonish thou these things.

(t) See that they which have believing masters despise them not because they are brethren: but so much the rather do service, for as much as they are believing and beloved and partakers of the benefit. ¶ These things teach and exhort.

(g) And they which have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren, but rather do service, because they are faithful, and beloved, and partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

(k) And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are faithful {or, believing} and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

6:3 (w) If any man teach otherwise, and accordeth not to the wholesome words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the teaching that is after piety,

(p) If any man teach otherwise, and accordeth not to the wholesome words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to that teaching that is by piety,

(t) If any man teach otherwise, and is not content with the wholesome words of our [the] Lord Jesus Christ, and with the doctrine of godliness,

(g) If any man teach otherwise, and consenteth not to the wholesome words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness,

(k) If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

6:4 (w) he is proud, nothing knowing, but languishing about questions and fightings of words, of the which be brought forth envies, strives, blasphemies, evil suspicions,

(p) he is proud, and knoweth nothing, but languisheth about questions and strivings of words, of the which be brought forth envies, strives, blasphemies, evil suspicions,

(t) he is puffed up and knoweth nothing: but wasteth his brains about questions, and strife of words, whereof spring envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings ,

(g) He is puffed up and knoweth nothing, but doteth about questions and strife of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

(k) He is proud {or, a fool}, knowing nothing, but doting {or, sick} about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

6:5 (w) fightings of men corrupt in soul, or reason, and that be deprived from truth, deeming winning to be piety.

(p) fightings of men, that be corrupt in soul, and that be deprived from truth, that deem winning to be piety.

(t) and vain disputations [superfluous disputings in scowls] of men with corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, which think that lucre is godliness. From such separate thyself.

(g) Vain disputations of men of corrupt minds and destitute of the truth, which think that gain is godliness; from such separate thyself.

(k) Perverse disputings {or, gallings one of another} of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

6:6 (w) But a great winning is piety, with sufficiency.

(p) But a great winning is piety, with sufficiency.

(t) Godliness is great riches, if a man be content with that he hath.

(g) But godliness is great gain, if a man be content with that he hath.

(k) But godliness with contentment is great gain.

6:7 (w) Forsooth we brought nothing into this world, no doubt, for we may not bear away any thing.

(p) For we brought in nothing into this world, and no doubt, that we be not able to bear any thing away.

Book 54 The First Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) For we brought nothing into the world, and it is a plain case that we can carry nothing out.
(g) For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certain, that we can carry nothing out.
(k) For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.
- 6:8 (w) Forsooth having foods, and with what things we shall be clothed, with these things be we satisfied.
(p) But we having foods, and with what things we shall be covered, be we satisfied with these things.
(t) ¶ When we have food and raiment, let us therewith be content.
(g) Therefore when we have food and raiment, let us therewith be content.
(k) And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.
- 6:9 (w) For they that will be made rich, fall into temptation, and into the snare of the devil, and into many unprofitable desires and harmful, which drown men into death and perdition.
(p) For they that will be made rich, fall into temptation, and into the snare of the devil, and into many unprofitable desires and harmful, which drown men into death and perdition.
(t) They that will be rich, fall into temptation and snares, and into many foolish and noisome lusts, which drown men in perdition, and destruction.
(g) For they that will be rich, fall into temptation and snares, and into many foolish and noisome lusts, which drown men in perdition and destruction.
(k) But they that will be rich fall into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition.
- 6:10 (w) For the root of all evils is covetousness, which some men coveting erred from the faith, and beset them with many sorrows.
(p) For the root of all evils is covetousness, which some men coveting erred from the faith, and besetted them(selves) with many sorrows.
(t) For covetousness is the root of all evil, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and tangled themselves with many sorrows.
(g) For the desire of money is the root of all evil, which while some lusted after, they erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.
(k) For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred {or, been seduced} from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.
- 6:11 (w) But, thou, man of God, flee these things; soothly follow thou rightwiseness, piety, faith, charity, patience, mildness.
(p) But, thou, man of God, flee these things; but follow thou rightwiseness, piety, faith, charity, patience, mildness.
(t) But thou which art the man of God, fly such things. Follow righteousness, godliness, love, patience, and meekness.
(g) But thou, O man of God, flee these things, and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, and meekness.
(k) But thou, O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.
- 6:12 (w) Strive thou a good strife of faith, catch everlasting life, into which thou art called, and hast acknowledged a good acknowledging before many witnesses.
(p) Strive thou a good strife of faith, catch everlasting life, into which thou art called, and hast acknowledged a good acknowledging before many witnesses.
(t) Fight the [a] good fight of faith. Lay hand on eternal life, whereunto thou art called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.
(g) Fight the good fight of faith; lay hold of eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

(p) I command to thee before God, that quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, that yielded a witnessing under Pilate of Pontii, a good confession,
(t) ¶ I give thee charge in the sight of God, which quickeneth all things, and before Jesus Christ, which under Pontius Pilate witnessed a good witnessing,
(g) I charge thee in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Jesus Christ, which under Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession,
(k) I give thee charge in the sight of God, who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Jesus, who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession {or, profession};
- 6:14 (w) that thou keep the commandment without wem, irreprehensible, till into the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;
(p) that thou keep the commandment without wem, without reproof, into the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ;
(t) that thou keep the commandment and be without spot and un-rebukable [without spot, so that no man find fault with thee], until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(g) That thou keep this commandment without spot, and unrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(k) That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, until the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ:
- 6:15 (w) whom the blessed and alone almighty king of kings and Lord of lords shall show in his times.
(p) whom the blessed and alone almighty king of kings and Lord of lords shall show in his times.
(t) which appearing (when the time is come) he shall show that is blessed and mighty only, king of kings, and Lord of lords,
(g) Which in due time he shall shew, that is blessed and Prince only, the King of kings and Lord of lords,
(k) Which in his times he shall shew, who is the blessed and only Potentate, the King of kings, and Lord of lords;
- 6:16 (w) The which alone hath immortality, and dwelleth in light, to which light no man may come; whom no man saw, neither may see; to whom glory, and honour, and empire into without end. Amen.
(p) Which alone hath undeadliness, and dwelleth in light, to which light no man may come; whom no man saw, neither may see; to whom glory, and honour, and empire be without end. Amen.
(t) which only hath immortality, and dwelleth in light that no man can attain [obtain], whom never man saw, neither can see: unto whom be honor and rule everlasting Amen.
(g) Who only hath immortality, and dwelleth in the light that none can attain unto, whom never man saw, neither can see, unto whom be honor and power everlasting, Amen.
(k) Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; whom no man hath seen, nor can see: to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.
- 6:17 (w) Command thou to the rich of this world, that they understand not highly, or proudly, nor to hope in uncertainty of riches, but in the living God, that giveth to us all things plenteously to use;
(p) Command thou to the rich men of this world, that they understand not highly, neither that they hope in uncertainty of riches, but in the living God, that giveth to us all things plenteously to use;
(t) ¶ Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not exceeding wise, and that they trust not in the uncertain riches, but in the living God, which giveth us abundantly all things to enjoy them,
(g) Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, and that they trust not in uncertain riches, but in the living God, (which giveth us abundantly all things to enjoy.)

(k) Paul, an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,
- 1:2 (w) to Timothy, his most dear-worthy son, grace, mercy, and peace of God the Father, and Jesus Christ, our Lord.
(p) to Timothy, his most dear-worthy son, grace, mercy, and peace of God the Father, and of Jesus Christ, our Lord.
(t) ¶ To Timothy his beloved son. ¶ Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the father, and from Christ Jesus [Jesus Christ] our Lord.
(g) To Timothy my beloved son: Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from Jesus Christ our Lord.
(k) To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

Book 55 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:3 (w) I do thankings to my God, to whom I serve from my progenitors, either ancestors, in clean conscience, that without ceasing I have mind of thee in my prayers, night and day,
(p) I do thankings to my God, to whom I serve from my progenitors in clean conscience, that without ceasing I have mind of thee in my prayers, night and day,
(t) ¶ I thank God, whom I serve from mine elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I make mention of thee in my prayers night and day,
(g) I thank God, whom I serve from my elders with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day,
(k) I thank God, whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;
- 1:4 (w) desiring to see thee; having mindful of thy tears, that I be filled with joy.
(p) desiring to see thee; having mind of thy tears, that I be filled with joy.
(t) desiring to see thee, mindful of thy tears: so that I am filled with joy,
(g) Desiring to see thee, mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;
(k) Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;
- 1:5 (w) And I take recording, or mind, of that faith, that is in thee not feigned, which also dwelled first in thine aunt Lois, and in thy mother Eunice. And I am certain, that also in thee.
(p) And I bethink of that faith, that is in thee not feigned, which also dwelled first in thine aunt Lois, and in thy mother Eunice. And I am certain, that also in thee.
(t) when I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice: and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.
(g) When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and in thy mother Eunice, and am assured that it dwelleth in thee also.
(k) When I call to remembrance the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.
- 1:6 (w) For which cause I admonish thee, that thou raise again the grace of God, that is in thee by the on-putting of mine hands.
(p) For which cause I admonish thee, that thou raise again the grace of God, that is in thee by the setting on of mine hands.
(t) ¶ Wherefore I warn thee that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands.
(g) Wherefore, I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God which is in thee, by the putting on of my hands.
(k) Wherefore I put thee in remembrance that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.
- 1:7 (w) Soothly God gave not to us the spirit of dread, but of virtue, and of love, and of soberness.
(p) For why God gave not to us the spirit of dread, but of virtue, and of love, and of soberness.
(t) For God hath not given to us the spirit of fear: but of power, and of love, and of soberness of mind [honest behavior].
(g) For God hath not given to us the Spirit of fear, but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.
(k) For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.
- 1:8 (w) Therefore do not thou shame the witnessing of our Lord Jesus Christ, neither me, his prisoner; but travail thou together in the gospel after the virtue of God;
(p) Therefore do not thou shame the witnessing of our Lord Jesus Christ, neither me, his prisoner; but travail thou together in the gospel by the virtue of God;

Book 55 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) Be not ashamed to testify [of] our Lord, neither be ashamed of me, which am bound for his sake: but suffer adversity with the gospel also through the power of God,
- (g) Be not therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, neither of me his prisoner, but be partaker of the afflictions of the Gospel according to the power of God;
- (k) Be not thou therefore ashamed of the testimony of our Lord, nor of me his prisoner: but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;
- 1:9 (w) that delivered us, and called with this holy calling, not after our works, but after his purpose and grace, that is given to us in Christ Jesus before worldly times;
- (p) that delivered us, and called with his holy calling, not after our works, but by his purpose and grace, that is given in Christ Jesus before worldly times;
- (t) which saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to [after] our deeds, but according to his own [for his] purpose and grace, which grace was given us through Christ Jesus before the world was,
- (g) Who hath saved us, and called us with a holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given to us through Christ Jesus before the world was,
- (k) Who hath saved us, and called us with an holy calling, not according to our works, but according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus before the world began,
- 1:10 (w) now forsooth it is open by the lighting of our Saviour Jesus Christ, the which soothly destroyed death, forsooth lighted life and uncorruption by the gospel.
- (p) but now it is open by the lightening of our Saviour Jesus Christ, which destroyed death, and lightened life and uncorruption by the gospel.
- (t) but is now declared openly by the appearing of our savior Jesus Christ, which hath put away death, and hath brought life and immortality unto light through the gospel,
- (g) But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality unto light through the Gospel.
- (k) But is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:
- 1:11 (w) In which I am set a preacher and apostle, and master of heathen men.
- (p) In which I am set a preacher and apostle, and master of heathen men.
- (t) whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the gentiles:
- (g) Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and Apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.
- (k) Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.
- 1:12 (w) For which cause also I suffer these things; but I am not confounded. For I know to whom I have believed, and I am certain that he is mighty to keep that (which) is taken to my keeping into that day.
- (p) For which cause also I suffer these things; but I am not confounded. For I know to whom I have believed, and I am certain that he is mighty to keep that (which) is taken to my keeping into that day.
- (t) for the which cause I also suffer these things [this]. Nevertheless I am not ashamed. For I know whom I have believed, and am sure that he is able keep that which I have committed to his keeping against that day.
- (g) For the which cause I also suffer these things, but I am not ashamed; for I know whom I have believed, and I am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed to him against that day.
- (k) For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: for I know whom I have believed {or, trusted}, and am persuaded that he is able to keep that which I have committed unto him against that day.
- 1:13 (w) Have thou the form of whole words, which thou heardest of me in faith and love in Christ Jesus.
- (p) Have thou the form of wholesome words, which thou heardest of me in faith and love in Christ Jesus.

Book 55 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ See thou have the example of the wholesome words which thou heardest of me, in faith and love which is in Jesus Christ.
- (g) Keep the true pattern of the wholesome words, which thou hast heard of me in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.
- (k) Hold fast the form of sound words, which thou hast heard of me, in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.
- 1:14 (w) Keep thou a good deposit, or thing taken to thy keeping, by the Holy Ghost, that dwelleth in us.
- (p) Keep thou the good taken to thy keeping by the Holy Ghost, that dwelleth in us.
- (t) That good thing which was committed to thy keeping, keep in the holy ghost which dwelleth in us.
- (g) That worthy thing, which was committed to thee, keep through the holy Ghost, which dwelleth in us.
- (k) That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost which dwelleth in us.
- 1:15 (w) Thou knowest this, that all that be in Asia be turned away from me, of whom is Phygellus and Hermogenes.
- (p) Thou knowest this, that all that be in Asia be turned away from me, of which is Phygellus and Hermogenes.
- (t) This thou knowest how that all they which are in Asia be turned from me. Of which sort are Phigellos and Hermogenes.
- (g) This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia, be turned from me, of which sort are Phygellus and Hermogenes.
- (k) This thou knowest, that all they which are in Asia be turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.
- 1:16 (w) The Lord give mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for oft he refreshed me, and shamed not my chain.
- (p) The Lord give mercy to the house of Onesiphorus, for oft he refreshed me, and shamed not my chain.
- (t) The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he often refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain:
- (g) The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus, for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain,
- (k) The Lord give mercy unto the house of Onesiphorus; for he oft refreshed me, and was not ashamed of my chain:
- 1:17 (w) But when he came to Rome, he sought me busily, and found me.
- (p) But when he came to Rome, he sought me busily, and found.
- (t) but when he was at Rome he sought me out very diligently, and found me.
- (g) But when he was at Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.
- (k) But, when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.
- 1:18 (w) The Lord give to him to find mercy of God in that day. And how great things he ministered to me at Ephesus, thou knowest better.
- (p) The Lord give to him to find mercy of God in that day. And how great things he ministered to me at Ephesus, thou knowest better.
- (t) The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy with the Lord at that day. And in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus thou knowest very well.
- (g) The Lord grant unto him, that he may find mercy with the Lord at that day, and in how many things he hath ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.
- (k) The Lord grant unto him that he may find mercy of the Lord in that day: and in how many things he ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) Therefore thou, my son, be comforted in grace that is in Christ Jesus.
- (p) Therefore thou, my son, be comforted in grace that is in Christ Jesus.
- (t) ¶ Thou therefore my son be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

(k) Thou therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.
- 2:2 (w) And what things thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, betake thou these to faithful men, which shall be able also to teach other men.
(p) And what things thou hast heard of me by many witnesses, betake thou these to faithful men, which shall be able also to teach other men.
(t) And what things thou hast heard of me, many bearing witness, the same deliver to faithful men, which are apt to teach other.
(g) And what things thou hast heard of me, by many witnesses, the same deliver to faithful men, which shall be able to teach others also.
(k) And the things that thou hast heard of me among {or, by} many witnesses, the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be able to teach others also.
- 2:3 (w) Travail thou as a good knight of Jesus Christ.
(p) Travail thou as a good knight of Christ Jesus.
(t) Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.
(g) Thou therefore suffer affliction as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.
(k) Thou therefore endure hardness, as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.
- 2:4 (w) No man holding knighthood to God, enwrappeth himself with worldly needs, that he please to him, to whom he hath proved himself.
(p) No man holding knighthood to God, wrappeth himself with worldly needs, that he please to him, to whom he hath proved himself.
(t) No man that wareth, entangleth himself with worldly business, and that because he would please him that hath chosen him to be a soldier.
(g) No man that warreth, entangleth himself with the affairs of this life, because he would please him that hath chosen him to be a soldier.
(k) No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.
- 2:5 (w) For why and he that striveth in a battle, shall not be crowned, but he fight lawfully.
(p) For he that fighteth in a battle, shall not be crowned, but he fight lawfully.
(t) And though a man strive for a mastery, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.
(g) And if any man also strive for a mastery, he is not crowned, except he strive as he ought to do.
(k) And if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.
- 2:6 (w) It behooveth an earth-tiller to receive first of the fruits.
(p) It behooveth an earth-tiller to receive first of the fruits.

- (g) Consider what I say, and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.
(k) Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.
- 2:8 (w) Be thou mindful that the Lord Jesus Christ of the seed of David hath risen again from dead, after my gospel,
(p) Be thou mindful that the Lord Jesus Christ of the seed of David hath risen again from death, after my gospel,
(t) ¶ Remember that Jesus Christ being of the seed of David, rose again from death according to my gospel,
(g) Remember that Jesus Christ, made of the seed of David, was raised again from the dead according to my Gospel,
(k) Remember that Jesus Christ of the seed of David was raised from the dead according to my gospel:
- 2:9 (w) in which I travail unto bonds, as evil working, but the word of God is not bound.
(p) in which I travail unto bonds, as working evil, but the word of God is not bound.
(t) wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, even unto bonds. But the word of God was not bound.
(g) Wherein I suffer trouble as an evil doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound.
(k) Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, even unto bonds; but the word of God is not bound.
- 2:10 (w) Therefore I sustain all things for the chosen, that also they get the health, that is in Christ Jesus, with heavenly glory.
(p) Therefore I suffer all things for the chosen, that also they get the health, that is in Christ Jesus, with heavenly glory.
(t) Herefor I suffer all things, for the elects' sakes, that they might also obtain that salvation [health] which is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory.
(g) Therefore I suffer all things for the elect's sake, that they might also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus, with eternal glory.
(k) Therefore I endure all things for the elect's sakes, that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.
- 2:11 (w) A true word is this that I say, that if we be dead together to the world, also we shall live together in bliss;
(p) A true word, that if we be dead together, also we shall live together;
(t) ¶ It is a true saying, if we be dead with him, we also shall live with him.
(g) It is a true saying, For if we be dead together with him, we also shall live together with him.
(k) It is a faithful saying: For if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:
- 2:12 (w) if we suffer, and we shall reign together with Christ; if we deny him, and he shall deny us;
(p) if we suffer, we shall reign together; if we deny, he shall deny us;
(t) If we be patient, we shall also reign with him. If we deny him, he also shall deny us.
(g) If we suffer, we shall also reign together with him; if we deny him, he also will deny us.
(k) If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: if we deny him, he also will deny us:
- 2:13 (w) if we believe not, he dwelleth faithful, he may not deny himself.
(p) if we believe not, he dwelleth faithful, he may not deny himself.
(t) If we believe not, yet abideth he faithful. He cannot deny himself.
(g) If we believe not, yet abideth he faithful, he cannot deny himself.
(k) If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: he cannot deny himself.
- 2:14 (w) Forsooth these things I admonish, witnessing before God. Do not thou strive in words; for to nothing it is profitable, but to the subverting of men that hear.

Book 55 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Timothy
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) Teach thou these things, witnessing before God. Do not thou strive in words; for to nothing it is profitable, but to the subverting of men that hear.
- (t) Of these things put them in remembrance, and testify before the Lord, that they strive not about words, which is to no profit, but to pervert the hearers.
- (g) Of these things put them in remembrance, and protest before the Lord, that they strive not about words, which is to no profit, but to the perverting of the hearers.
- (k) Of these things put them in remembrance, charging them before the Lord that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.
- 2:15 (w) Busily care, or keep, to give thyself an approved, praiseable workman to God, without shame, rightly treating the word of truth.
- (p) Busily keep to give thyself an approved, praiseable workman to God, without shame, rightly treating the word of truth.
- (t) ¶ Study to show thyself laudable unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, dividing the word of truth justly.
- (g) Study to shew thyself approved unto God a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, dividing the word of truth aright.
- (k) Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.
- 2:16 (w) Forsooth shun thou unholy and vain speeches, soothly they profit much to unpiety,
- (p) But eschew thou unholy and vain speeches, for why those profit much to unfaithfulness,
- (t) Unghostly and vain voices pass over. For they shall increase unto greater ungodliness,
- (g) Avoid profane and vain babblings, for they shall increase unto more ungodliness.
- (k) But shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.
- 2:17 (w) and the word of them creepeth as a canker. Of whom Philetus is, and Hymenaeus,

- 1:3 (w) but he hath showed in his times his word in preaching, that is betaken to me after the commandment of our Saviour God,
(p) but he hath showed in his times his word in preaching, that is betaken to me by the commandment of God, our Saviour,
(t) but hath opened his word at the time appointed [at the time appointed opened his word] by preaching, which preaching is committed unto me, by the commandment of God our savior.
(g) But hath made his word manifest in due time through the preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour;
(k) But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, which is committed unto me according to the commandment of God our Saviour;
- 1:4 (w) to Titus, beloved son after the common faith, grace and peace of God the Father, and of Christ Jesus, our Saviour.
(p) to Titus, most dear-worthy son by the common faith, grace and peace of God the Father, and of Christ Jesus, our Saviour.
(t) ¶ To Titus his natural son in the common faith. ¶ Grace mercy and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ our savior.
(g) To Titus my natural son according to the common faith, Grace, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.
(k) To Titus, mine own son after the common faith: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.
- 1:5 (w) For cause of this thing I left thee at Crete, that thou amend those things that fail, and ordain priests by cities, as and I disposed to thee.
(p) For cause of this thing I left thee at Crete, that thou amend those things that fail, and ordain priests by cities, as also I assigned to thee.
(t) ¶ For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldst perform that which was lacking and shouldst ordain elders [seniors] in every city as I appointed thee.
(g) For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest continue to redress the things that remain, and shouldest ordain Elders in every city, as I appointed thee;
(k) For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest set in order the things that are wanting {or, left undone}, and ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:
- 1:6 (w) If any man is without crime, or great sin, husband of one wife, having faithful sons, not in accusation of lechery, or not subject.
(p) If any man is without crime, an husband of one wife, and hath faithful sons, not in accusation of lechery, or not subject.
(t) If any be faultless [such as no man can complain on], the husband of one wife, having faithful children, which are not slandered of riot, neither are disobedient.
(g) If any be unrepveable, the husband of one wife, having faithful children, which are not slandered of riot, neither are disobedient.
(k) If any be blameless, the husband of one wife, having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.
- 1:7 (w) For it behooveth a bishop to be without crime, as a dispenser of God, not proud, not wrathful, not vinolent, that is, much given to wine, not a smiter, not covetous of foul winning;
(p) For it behooveth a bishop to be without crime, a dispenser of God, not proud, not wrathful, not given to drunkenness, not smiter, not covetous of foul winning;
(t) For a bishop must be faultless [such as no man can complain on], as it becometh the minister of God: not stubborn, not angry, no drunkard, no fighter, not given to filthy lucre:

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) For a Bishop must be unreprouceable, as God's steward, not froward, not angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre,
(k) For a bishop must be blameless, as the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, not given to wine, no striker, not given to filthy lucre;
- 1:8 (w) but holding hospitality, benign, prudent, sober, just, holy, continent,
(p) but holding hospitality, benign, prudent, sober, just, holy, continent,

(p) taking that true word, that is after doctrine; that he be mighty to admonish in wholesome teaching, and to reprove them that gainsay.
(t) and such as cleaveth unto the true word of doctrine, that he may be able to exhort with wholesome learning, and to improve them that say against it.
(g) Holding fast the faithful word according to doctrine, that he also may be able to exhort with wholesome doctrine, and convince them that say against it.
(k) Holding fast the faithful word as {or, in teaching} he hath been taught, that he may be able by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.
- 1:10 (w) For there be many unobedient, and vain speakers, and deceivers, most they that be of circumcision,
(p) For there be many unobedient, and vain speakers, and deceivers, most they that be of circumcision,
(t) ¶ For there are many disobedient and talkers of vanity, and deceivers of minds, namely they of the circumcision,
(g) For there are many disobedient and vain talkers and deceivers of minds, chiefly they of the Circumcision,
(k) For there are many unruly and vain talkers and deceivers, specially they of the circumcision:
- 1:11 (w) whom it behooveth to be reprov'd; which subvert all houses, teaching which things it behooveth not, for the love of foul winning.
(p) which it behooveth to be reprov'd; which subvert all houses, teaching which things it behooveth not, for love of foul winning.
(t) whose mouths must be stopped, which pervert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, because of filthy lucre.
(g) Whose mouths must be stopped, which subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.
(k) Whose mouths must be stopped, who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthy lucre's sake.
- 1:12 (w) Some one of them, the proper prophet of them, said, said, Men of Crete be evermore liars, evil beasts, slow of womb.
(p) And one of them, their proper prophet said, said, Men of Crete be evermore liars, evil beasts, of slow womb.
(t) One being of themselves, which was a poet of their own said: The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, and slowbellies.
(g) One of themselves, even one of their own prophets said, The Cretians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.
(k) One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.
- 1:13 (w) This witnessing is true. For which cause blame them sore, that they be whole in faith,

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

- 1:15
- (w) And all things be clean to clean men; but to unclean men and to unfaithful nothing is clean, but and the soul, or reason, and conscience of them be made unclean.
 - (p) And all things be clean to clean men; but to unclean men and to unfaithful nothing is clean, for the soul and conscience of them be made unclean.
 - (t) Unto the pure, are all things pure: but unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving, is nothing pure: but even the very minds and consciences of them are defiled.
 - (g) Unto the pure are all things pure, but unto them that are defiled, and unbelieving is nothing pure, but even their minds and consciences are defiled.
 - (k) Unto the pure all things are pure: but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

- 1:16
- (w) They acknowledge that they know God, but by deeds they deny him; when they be abominable, and unbelievable, and reprobable to all good works.
 - (p) They acknowledge that they know God, but by deeds they deny; when they be abominable, and unbelievable, and reprobable to all good work.
 - (t) They confess that they know God: but with the deeds they deny him and are abominable, and disobedient, and unto all good works discommendable.
 - (g) They profess that they know God, but by works they deny him, and are abominable and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate.
 - (k) They profess that they know God; but in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, and unto every good work reprobate {or, void of judgment}.

- 2:1
- (w) Forsooth speak thou the things that become wholesome teaching;
 - (p) But speak thou those things that beseem wholesome teaching;
 - (t) ¶ But speak thou that which becometh wholesome learning;
 - (g) But speak thou the things which become wholesome doctrine,
 - (k) But speak thou the things which become sound doctrine:
- 2:2
- (w) that old men be sober, chaste, prudent, whole in faith, in love, and patience;
 - (p) that old men be sober, chaste, prudent, whole in faith, in love, and patience;
 - (t) That the elder men be sober, honest, discreet, sound in the faith, in love and in patience.
 - (g) That the elder men be sober, honest, discreet, sound in the faith, in love, and in patience;
 - (k) That the aged men be sober {or, vigilant}, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience.

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

- 2:3 (w) also old women in holy habit, not backbiters, or saying false blame on other men, not serving much to wine, well-teaching, that they teach prudence.
(p) also old women in holy habit, not slanderers, not serving much to wine, well-teaching, that they teach prudence.
(t) And the elder women likewise that they be in such raiment, as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not given to much drinking, but teachers of honest things,
(g) The elder women likewise, that they be in such behavior as becometh holiness, not false accusers, not subject to much wine, but teachers of honest things,
(k) The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh holiness {or, holy women}, not false accusers {or, makebates}, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;
- 2:4 (w) Admonish thou young women, that they love their husbands, that they love their children;
(p) Admonish thou young women, that they love their husbands, that they love their children;
(t) to make the young women sober minded, [that they nurture the young women for] to love their husbands, to love their children,
(g) That they may instruct the young women to be sober minded, that they love their husbands, that they love their children,
(k) That they may teach the young women to be sober {or, wise}, to love their husbands, to love their children,
- 2:5 (w) and that they be prudent, chaste, sober, having care of the house, benign, subject to their husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.
(p) and that they be prudent, chaste, sober, having care of the house, benign, subject to their husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.
(t) to be discrete [of honest behavior], chaste, housewifely, good, and obedient unto their own husbands, that the word of God be not evil spoken of.
(g) That they be discreet, chaste, keeping at home, good and subject unto their husbands, that the word of God be not evil spoken of.
(k) To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, obedient to their own husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.
- 2:6 (w) Also admonish young men, that they be sober.
(p) Also admonish young men, that they be sober.
(t) Young men likewise exhort that they be sober minded [of honest manners].
(g) Exhort young men likewise, that they be sober minded.
(k) Young men likewise exhort to be sober {or, discrete} minded.
- 2:7 (w) In all things give thyself example of good works, in teaching, in holiness of living, in firmness of virtues.
(p) In all things give thyself ensample of good works, in teaching, in wholeness, in firmness.
(t) ¶ Above all things show thyself an example of good works with un-corrupt doctrine, with honesty [in the doctrine, show un-corruption, honesty],
(g) In all things shew thyself an example of good works with uncorrupt doctrine, with gravity, integrity,
(k) In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, sincerity,
- 2:8 (w) An whole word, and unreprouable; that he that is of the contrary side, be ashamed, having none evil thing to say of you.
(p) An wholesome word, and unreprouable; that he that is of the contrary side, be ashamed, having none evil thing to say of you.

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) and with the wholesome word which cannot be rebuked, that he which withstandeth may be ashamed, having nothing in you that he may dispraise.

(g) And with the wholesome word, which cannot be condemned, that he which withstandeth, may be ashamed, having nothing concerning you to speak evil of.

(k) Sound speech, that cannot be condemned; that he that is of the contrary part may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

2:9 (w) Admonish thou servants to be subject to their lords; in all things pleasing, not again-saying,

(p) Admonish thou servants to be subject to their lords; in all things pleasing, not again-saying,

(t) The servants exhort to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please in all things, not answering again,

(g) Let servants be subject to their masters, and please them in all things, not answering again,

(k) Exhort servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well in all things; not answering again {or, gainsaying};

2:10 (w) not defrauding, but in all things showing good faith, that they adorn in all things the doctrine of God, our Saviour.

(p) not defrauding, but in all things showing good faith, that they honour in all things the doctrine of God, our Saviour.

(t) neither be pickers, but that they show all good faithfulness, that they may do worship to the doctrine of our savior God [God our savior] in all things.

(g) Neither pilfering, but that they shew all good faithfulness, that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

(k) Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

2:11 (w) For the grace of God, our Saviour, hath appeared to all men,

(p) For the grace of God, our Saviour, hath appeared to all men,

(t) For the grace of God, that bringeth salvation [health] unto all men, hath appeared

(g) For that grace of God, that bringeth salvation unto all men, hath appeared,

(k) For the grace of God that bringeth salvation hath appeared to all men {or, to all men hath appeared},

2:12 (w) teaching us, that we, forsaking unpiety, and worldly desires, live soberly, and justly, and piously, in this world,

(p) and taught us, that we forsake wickedness and worldly desires, and live soberly, and justly, and piously in this world,

(t) and teacheth us that we should deny ungodliness and worldly lusts, and that we should live sober minded [honestly], righteously, and godly in this present world,

(g) And teacheth us, that we should deny ungodliness and worldly lusts, and that we should live soberly and righteously, and godly in this present world,

(k) Teaching us that, denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;

2:13 (w) abiding the blessed hope and the coming of the glory of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ;

(p) abiding the blessed hope and the coming of the glory of the great God, and our Saviour Jesus Christ;

(t) looking for that blessed hope and glorious appearing of the mighty God, and of our savior Jesus Christ:

(g) Looking for the blessed hope, and appearing of the glory of our mighty God, and Saviour Jesus Christ,

(k) Looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ {Gr. the appearance of the glory of the great God, and of our Saviour Jesus Christ};

2:14 (w) that gave himself for us, that he should again-buy us from all wickedness, and make clean to himself a people acceptable, and follower of good works.

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) that gave himself for us, to again-buy us from all wickedness, and make clean to himself a people acceptable, and follower of good works.

(t) which gave himself for us, to redeem us from all unrighteousness, and to purge us a peculiar people unto himself, fervently given unto good works.

(g) Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purge us to be a peculiar people unto himself, zealous of good works.

(k) Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, and purify unto himself a peculiar people, zealous of good works.

2:15 (w) Speak thou these things, and admonish, and argue, or reprove, with all commandment; no man despise thee.

(p) Speak thou these things, and admonish thou, and reprove thou with all commandment; no man despise thee.

(t) These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke, with all commanding. See that no man despise thee.

(g) These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. See that no man despise thee.

(k) These things speak, and exhort, and rebuke with all authority. Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER 3

3:1 (w) Admonish them to be subject to princes, and to powers; to obey to that that is said, and to be ready to all good works;

(p) Admonish them to be subjects to princes, and to powers; to obey to that that is said, and to be ready to all good work;

(t) ¶ Warn them that they submit themselves to rule and power, to obey the officers, that they be ready [prompt] unto all good works,

(g) Put them in remembrance that they be subject to the principalities and powers, and that they be obedient, and ready to every good work,

(k) Put them in mind to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, to be ready to every good work,

3:2 (w) to blaspheme no man, to be not litigious, or full of chiding, but temperate, or patient, showing all mildness to all men.

(p) to blaspheme no man, to be not full of chiding, but temperate, showing all mildness to all men.

(t) that they speak evil of no man, that they be no fighters, but soft, showing all meekness unto all men.

(g) That they speak evil of no man, that they be no fighters, but soft, shewing all meekness unto all men.

(k) To speak evil of no man, to be no brawlers, but gentle, shewing all meekness unto all men.

3:3 (w) For we were sometime unwise, unbelievful, erring, and serving to desires, and diverse lusts, doing in malice and envy, hateful, hating together.

(p) For we were sometime unwise, unbelievful, erring, and serving to desires, and to diverse lusts, doing in malice and envy, worthy to be hated, hating each other.

(t) For we ourselves also were in times past, unwise, disobedient, deceived, in danger to lusts, and to diverse manners of voluptuousness, living in maliciousness and envy, full of hate, hating one another.

(g) For we ourselves also were in times past unwise, disobedient, deceived, serving the lusts and divers pleasures, living in maliciousness and envy, hateful, and hating one another;

(k) For we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

3:4 (w) Forsooth when the benignity and humanity, or manhood/or large mercy, of God our Saviour appeared,

(p) But when the benignity and the manhood of our Saviour God appeared,

(t) ¶ But after that the kindness and love of our savior God to manward appeared,

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) But when the bountifulness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared,
(k) But after that the kindness and love {or, pity} of God our Saviour toward man appeared,
- 3:5 (w) not of works of rightwiseness that we did, but after his mercy he made us safe, by the washing of again-begetting, and again-newing of the Holy Ghost,
(p) not of works of rightwiseness that we did, but by his mercy he made us safe, by washing of again-begetting, and again-newing of the Holy Ghost,
(t) not of the deeds of righteousness which we wrought, but of his mercy, he saved us, by the fountain of the new birth, and with the renewing of the holy ghost,
(g) Not by the works of righteousness, which we had done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of the new birth, and the renewing of the holy Ghost,
(k) Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;
- 3:6 (w) whom he shedded out into us plenteously by Jesus Christ, our Saviour,
(p) whom he shedded into us plenteously by Jesus Christ, our Saviour,
(t) which he shed on us abundantly, through Jesus Christ our savior,
(g) Which he shed on us abundantly, through Jesus Christ our Saviour,
(k) Which he shed on us abundantly {Gr. richly} through Jesus Christ our Saviour;
- 3:7 (w) that we justified by his grace, be heirs after hope of everlasting life.
(p) that we justified by his grace, be heirs by hope of everlasting life.
(t) that we once justified by his grace, should be heirs of eternal life, through hope.
(g) That we, being justified by his grace, should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.
(k) That being justified by his grace, we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life.
- 3:8 (w) A true word is this, and of these things I will that thou confirm others, that they that believe in God, care, or do busyness, to be before in good works. These things be good, and profitable to men.
(p) A true word is, and of these things I will that thou confirm others, that they that believe in God, be busy to be above others in good works. These things be good, and profitable to men.
(t) This is a true saying. ¶ Of these things I would thou shouldst certify, that they which believe God, might be diligent [studious] to go forward in good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.
(g) This is a true saying, and these things I will thou shouldest affirm, that they which have believed God, might be careful to shew forth good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.
(k) This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.
- 3:9 (w) And eschew thou foolish questions, and genealogies, and strives, and fightings of the law; for those be unprofitable and vain.
(p) And eschew thou foolish questions, and genealogies, and strivings, and fightings of the law; for those be unprofitable and vain.
(t) Foolish questions, and genealogies, and brawlings and strife about the law avoid, for they are unprofitable, and superfluous.
(g) But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and brawlings about the Law, for they are unprofitable and vain.
(k) But avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain.

Book 56 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Titus

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) Eschew thou a man heretic, after one and the second correction;
(t) A man that is given to heresy [the author of sects], after the first and the second admonition avoid,
(g) Reject him that is a heretic, after once or twice admonition,
(k) A man that is an heretick after the first and second admonition reject;
- 3:11 (w) witting that he that is such a manner man is subverted, and trespasseth, and is condemned by his own doom.
(p) witting that he that is such a manner man is subverted, and trespasseth, and is condemned by his own doom.
(t) remembering that he that is such, is perverted, and sinneth, even damned by his own judgment.
(g) Knowing that he that is such, is perverted, and sinneth, being damned of his own self.
(k) Knowing that he that is such is subverted, and sinneth, being condemned of himself.
- 3:12 (w) When I shall send to thee Artemas, or Tychicus, hie, or haste, thou to come to me to Nicopolis; for I have purposed to dwell in winter there.
(p) When I send to thee Artemas, or Tychicus, hie thou to come to me to Nicopolis; for I have purposed to dwell in winter there.
(t) ¶ When I shall send Artemas unto thee or Tichicus be diligent to come to me unto Nichopolis. For I have determined there to winter.
(g) When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come to me unto Nicopolis, for I have determined there to winter.
(k) When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.
- 3:13 (w) Busily send before Zenas, a wise man of law, and Apollos, that nothing fail to them.
(p) Busily before send Zenas, a wise man of law, and Apollos, that nothing fail to them.
(t) Bring Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be lacking unto them.
(g) Bring Zenas the expounder of the Law, and Apollos on their journey diligently, that they lack nothing.
(k) Bring Zenas the lawyer and Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.
- 3:14 (w) Forsooth and our men learn to be before in good works, to necessary uses, that they be not unfruitous.
(p) They that be of ours, learn to be governors in good works, to necessary uses, that they be not without fruit.
(t) And let ours also learn to excel in good works as far forth as need requireth, that they be not unfruitful.
(g) And let ours also learn to shew forth good works for necessary uses, that they be not unfruitful.
(k) And let ours also learn to maintain good works for necessary uses {or, profess honest trades}, that they be not unfruitful.
- 3:15 (w) All men that be with me greet thee well. Greet thou well them, that love us in the faith. The grace of God be with you all. Amen.
(p) All men that be with me greet thee well. Greet thou well them, that love us in faith. The grace of God be with you all. Amen.
(t) All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all, Amen.
(g) All that are with me, salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all, Amen.
(k) All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

(t) Written from Nichopolis a city of Macedonia.

- 1
 - (w) Paul, the bound of Jesus Christ, and Timothy, brother, to Philemon, beloved, and our even-worker,
 - (p) Paul, the bound of Christ Jesus, and Timothy, brother, to Philemon, beloved, and our helper,
 - (t) ¶ Paul the prisoner of Jesus Christ, and brother Timothy. ¶ Unto Philemon the beloved, and our helper,
 - (g) Paul a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and our brother Timothy, unto Philemon our dear friend, and fellow helper,
 - (k) Paul, a prisoner of Jesus Christ, and Timothy our brother, unto Philemon our dearly beloved, and fellowlabourer,
- 2
 - (w) and to Apphia, most dear sister, and to Archippus, our even-knight, and to the church that is in thine house,
 - (p) and to Apphia, most dear sister, and to Archippus, our even-knight, and to the church that is in thine house,
 - (t) and to the beloved Appia, and to Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the congregation of thy house.
 - (g) And to our dear sister Apphia, and to Archippus our fellow soldier, and to the Church that is in thy house:
 - (k) And to our beloved Apphia, and Archippus our fellowsoldier, and to the church in thy house:
- 3
 - (w) grace to you, and peace of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
 - (p) grace be to you, and peace of God our Father, and of the Lord Jesus Christ.
 - (t) ¶ Grace be with you and peace, from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
 - (g) Grace be with you, and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.
 - (k) Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Book 57 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Philemon

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4 (w) I do thankings to my God, evermore making mind of thee in my prayers,
(p) I do thankings to my God, evermore making mind of thee in my prayers,
(t) ¶ I thank my God, making mention always [always making mention] of thee in my prayers,
(g) I give thanks to my God, making mention always of thee in my prayers,
(k) I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,
- 5 (w) hearing thy charity and faith, that thou hast in the Lord Jesus, and to all holy men,
(p) hearing thy charity and faith, that thou hast in the Lord Jesus, and to all holy men,
(t) when I hear of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints:
(g) (When I hear of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all Saints.)
(k) Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Jesus, and toward all saints;
- 6 (w) that the communing of thy faith be made open, in knowing of all good thing in Christ Jesus.
(p) that the communing of thy faith be made open, in knowing of all good thing in Christ Jesus.
(t) so that the fellowship that thou hast in the faith is fruitful through knowledge of all good things, which are in you by Jesus Christ.
(g) That the fellowship of thy faith may be made effectual, and that whatsoever good thing is in you through Christ Jesus, may be known.
(k) That the communication of thy faith may become effectual by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.
- 7 (w) Forsooth I had great joy and comfort in thy charity, for the entrails of holy men rested, or were refreshed, by thee, brother.
(p) And I had great joy and comfort in thy charity, for the entrails of holy men rested by thee, brother.
(t) And we have great joy and consolation over thy love: For by thee (brother) the saints' hearts are comforted.
(g) For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because by thee, brother, the Saints' bowels are comforted.
(k) For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints are refreshed by thee, brother.
- 8 (w) For which thing I having much trust in Christ Jesus, to command to thee that that pertaineth to profit;
(p) For which thing I having much trust in Christ Jesus, to command to thee that that pertaineth to profit;
(t) ¶ Wherefore though I be bold in Christ to enjoin thee, that which becometh thee:
(g) Wherefore, though I be very bold in Christ to command thee that which is convenient,
(k) Wherefore, though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient,
- 9 (w) more for charity I beseech thee, since thou art such as Paul the old, now forsooth and the bound of Jesus Christ.
(p) but I beseech more for charity, since thou art such as the old Paul, and now the bound of Jesus Christ.
(t) yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, though I be as I am, even Paul aged, and now in bonds for Jesus Christ's sake.
(g) Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, though I be as I am, even Paul aged, and even now a prisoner for Jesus Christ.
(k) Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such an one as Paul the aged, and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.
- 10 (w) I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I in bonds begat,
(p) I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I in bonds begat,

Book 57 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Philemon

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I begat in my bonds,
(g) I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds,
(k) I beseech thee for my son Onesimus, whom I have begotten in my bonds:
- 11 (w) which sometime was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable, both to thee and to me;
(p) which sometime was unprofitable to thee, but now profitable, both to thee and to me;
(t) which in time passed was to thee unprofitable: but now profitable both to thee and also to me,
(g) Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable both to thee and to me,
(k) Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:
- 12 (w) whom I sent again to thee. And receive thou him as mine entrails;
(p) whom I sent again to thee. And receive thou him as mine entrails;
(t) whom I have sent home again. Thou therefore receive him, that is to say mine own bowels,
(g) Whom I have sent again, thou therefore receive him, that is my own bowels,
(k) Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:
- 13 (w) whom I would withhold with me, that he should serve for thee to me in bonds of the gospel;
(p) whom I would withhold with me, that he should serve for thee to me in bonds of the gospel;
(t) whom I would fain have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel.
(g) Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the Gospel.
(k) Whom I would have retained with me, that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:
- 14 (w) but without thy counsel I would not do any thing, that thy good should not be as of need, but willful.
(p) but without thy counsel I would not do any thing, that thy good should not be as of need, but willful.
(t) Nevertheless, without thy mind, would I do nothing, that that good which springeth of thee should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.
(g) But without thy mind would I do nothing, that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.
(k) But without thy mind would I do nothing; that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.
- 15 (w) For peradventure therefore he departed from thee for a time, that thou shouldest receive him into without end;
(p) For peradventure therefore he departed from thee for a time, that thou shouldest receive him without end;
(t) ¶ Haply he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldst receive him forever,
(g) It may be that he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him forever,
(k) For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;
- 16 (w) now not as a servant, but more than a servant a most dear brother, most to me; and how much more to thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord?
(p) now not as a servant, but for a servant a most dear brother, most to me; and how much more to thee, both in flesh and in the Lord?
(t) not now as a servant: but above a servant, I mean a brother beloved, specially to me: but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and also in the Lord?
(g) Not now as a servant, but above a servant, even as a brother beloved, specially to me, how much more than unto thee, both in the flesh and in the Lord?

Book 57 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Philemon

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) Not now as a servant, but above a servant, a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 (w) Therefore if thou hast me a fellow, receive him as me;

(p) Therefore if thou hast me a fellow, receive him as me;

(t) If thou count me a fellow, receive him as myself.

(g) If therefore thou count our things common, receive him as myself.

(k) If thou count me therefore a partner, receive him as myself.

18 (w) forsooth if he hath any thing harmed thee, or oweth, reckon thou this thing to me.

(p) for if he hath any thing harmed thee, either oweth, areckon thou this thing to me.

(t) If he have hurt thee or oweth thee ought, that lay to my charge.

(g) If he hath hurt thee, or oweth thee ought, that put on my account.

(k) If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account;

19 (w) I Paul wrote with mine hand, I shall yield; that I say not to thee, that also thou owest to me thyself.

(p) I Paul wrote with mine hand, I shall yield; that I say not to thee, that also thou owest to me thyself.

(t) I Paul have written it with mine own hand. I will recompense it. So that I do not say to thee how that thou owest unto me even thine own self.

(g) I Paul have written this with my own hand, I will recompense it, albeit I do not say to thee, that thou owest unto me even thy own self.

(k) I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 (w) So, brother, I shall use thee in the Lord; full-fill mine entrails in Christ.

(p) So, brother, I shall use thee in the Lord; fill thou mine entrails in Christ.

(t) Even so brother, let me enjoy thee in the Lord. Comfort my bowels in the Lord.

(g) Yea, brother, let me obtain this pleasure of thee in the Lord; comfort my bowels in the Lord.

(k) Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 (w) I trusting of thine obedience wrote to thee, witting that thou shalt do over that that I say.

(p) I trusting of thine obedience wrote to thee, witting that thou shalt do over that that I say.

(t) Trusting in thine obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do more than I say for.

(g) Trusting in thy obedience, I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt do even more than I say.

(k) Having confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22 (w) Also make thou ready to me an house to dwell in; for I hope that by your prayers I shall be given to you.

(p) Also make thou ready to me an house to dwell in; for I hope that by your prayers I shall be given to you.

(t) Moreover prepare me lodging: for I trust through the help of your prayers, I shall be given unto you.

(g) Moreover also prepare me lodging, for I trust through your prayers I shall be freely given unto you.

(k) But withal prepare me also a lodging: for I trust that through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 (w) Epaphras, mine even-captive in Christ Jesus, greeteth thee well,

(p) Epaphras, prisoner with me in Christ Jesus, greeteth thee well,

(t) There salute thee, Epaphras my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus,

Book 57 The Epistle of the Apostle Paul to Philemon

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) There salute thee Epaphras my fellow prisoner in Christ Jesus,
- (k) There salute thee Epaphras, my fellowprisoner in Christ Jesus;

- 24 (w) and Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, mine helpers.
 (p) and Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, mine helpers.
 (t) Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my helpers.
 (g) Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas and Luke, my fellow helpers.
 (k) Marcus, Aristarchus, Demas, Lucas, my fellowlabourers.
- 25 (w) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
 (p) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
 (t) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirits, Amen.
 (g) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, Amen.
 (k) The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.
- (t) Sent from Rome by Onesimus a servant.
(g) Written from Rome to Philemon, and sent by Onesimus a servant.
(k) Written from Rome to Philemon, by Onesimus a servant.

PHILEMON END

The Epistle to the Hebrews

Written by an unknown author, possibly Paul, who was thoroughly familiar with Old Testament scripture written about C.E. 61 to encourage the first century Jewish converts not to abandon the superior gifts of Jesus and return to their empty rituals

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) Manifold and in many manners sometime God speaking to fathers by prophets,
 (p) God, that spake sometime by prophets in many manners to our fathers,
 (t) ¶ God in time past diversely and many ways, spake unto the fathers by prophets:
 (g) At sundry times and in divers manners God spake in the old time to our fathers by the Prophets,
 (k) God, who at sundry times and in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:2 (w) at the last in these days he hath spoken to us by the Son; whom he hath ordained heir of all things, and by whom he made the worlds.
(p) at the last in these days he hath spoken to us by the Son; whom he hath ordained heir of all things, and by whom he made the worlds.
(t) but in these last days he hath spoken unto us by his son, whom he hath made heir of all things: by whom also he made the world.
(g) In these last days he hath spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath made heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds,
(k) Hath in these last days spoken unto us by his Son, whom he hath appointed heir of all things, by whom also he made the worlds;
- 1:3 (w) Which when also he is the brightness of glory, and the figure of his substance, and bearing all things by word of his virtue, he maketh purgation of sins, sitteth on the right half of majesty in high things;
(p) Which when also he is the brightness of glory, and figure of his substance, and beareth all things by word of his virtue, he maketh purgation of sins, and sitteth on the right half of the majesty in heavens;
(t) Which son being the brightness of his glory, and very image of his substance, bearing up all things with the word of his power, hath in his own person purged our sins, and is sitten on the right hand of the majesty on high,
(g) Who being the brightness of the glory, and the engraved form of his person, and bearing up all things by his mighty word, hath by himself purged our sins, and sitteth at the right hand of the Majesty in the highest places,
(k) Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and upholding all things by the word of his power, when he had by himself purged our sins, sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;
- 1:4 (w) and so much is made better than angels, by how much he hath inherited a more different, or excellent, name before them.
(p) and so much is made better than angels, by how much he hath inherited a more diverse name before them.
(t) and is more excellent than the angels, in as much as he hath by inheritance obtained an excellenter name than have they.
(g) And is made so much more excellent than the Angels, in as much as he hath obtained a more excellent Name than they.
(k) Being made so much better than the angels, as he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.
- 1:5 (w) For to which of the angels said God any time, Thou art my Son, I have to day gendered thee? And again, I shall be to him into a Father, and he shall be to me into a Son?
(p) For to which of the angels said God any time, Thou art my Son, I have engendered thee to day? And again, I shall be to him into a Father, and he shall be to me into a Son?
(t) ¶ For unto which of the angels said he at any time: Thou art my son, this day begat I thee? And again: I will be his father, and he shall be my son.
(g) For unto which of the Angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day begat I thee? And again, I will be his Father, and he shall be my Son;
(k) For unto which of the angels said he at any time, Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?
- 1:6 (w) And when again he bringeth in the first begotten into the roundness of the earth, he saith, And all the angels of God worship him.
(p) And when again he bringeth in the first begotten Son into the world, he saith, And all the angels of God worship him.
(t) And again when he bringeth in the first begotten son into [in] the world, he saith: And all the angels of God shall worship him.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) And again, when he bringeth in his first begotten Son into the world, he saith, And let all the Angels of God worship him.
- (k) And again, when he bringeth {or, when he bringeth again} in the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, And let all the angels of God worship him.
- 1:7 (w) And soothly to angels he saith, He that maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers flame of fire.
(p) But he saith to angels, He that maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers flame of fire.
(t) And of [unto] the angels he saith: He maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers flames of fire.
(g) And of the Angels he saith, He maketh the spirits his messengers, and his ministers a flame of fire.
(k) And of {Gr. And unto} the angels he saith, Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.
- 1:8 (w) But to the Son he saith, God, thy throne is into the world of worlds; a rod of equity is the rod of thy realm;
(p) But to the Son he saith, God, thy throne is into the world of world; a rod of equity is the rod of thy realm;
(t) But unto the son he saith: God thy seat shall be for ever, and ever. The scepter of thy kingdom is a right scepter.
(g) But unto the Son he saith, O God, thy throne is forever and ever, the scepter of thy kingdom is a scepter of righteousness.
(k) But unto the Son he saith, Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of righteousness {Gr. rightness, or, straightness} is the sceptre of thy kingdom.
- 1:9 (w) thou hast loved rightwiseness, and hatedest wickedness; therefore God, thy God, anointed thee with oil of gladness, or joy, more than thy fellows.
(p) thou hast loved rightwiseness, and hatedest wickedness; therefore the God, thy God, anointed thee with oil of joy, more than thy fellows.
(t) Thou hast loved righteousness and hated iniquity: Wherefore [hath] God, which is thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
(g) Thou hast loved righteousness and hated iniquity. Wherefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
(k) Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.
- 1:10 (w) And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning foundedest the earth, and heavens be works of thine hands;
(p) And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning foundedest the earth, and heavens be works of thine hands;
(t) ¶ And thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: And the heavens are the works of thy hands.
(g) And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast established the earth, and the heavens are the works of thy hands.
(k) And, Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth; and the heavens are the works of thine hands:
- 1:11 (w) they shall perish, but thou shalt perfectly dwell; and all shall wax old as a cloth,
(p) they shall perish, but thou shalt perfectly dwell; and all shall wax old as a cloak,
(t) They shall perish, but thou shalt endure. They all shall wax old as doth a garment:
(g) They shall perish, but thou doest remain, and they all shall wax old as doeth a garment;
(k) They shall perish; but thou remainest; and they all shall wax old as doth a garment;
- 1:12 (w) and thou shalt change them as a cloth, and they shall be changed. But thou art the same thyself, and thy years shall not fail.
(p) and thou shalt change them as a cloak, and they shall be changed. But thou art the same thyself, and thy years shall not fail.

(t) and as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shall be changed: but thou art always [the same], and thy years shall not fail.

(g) And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed. But thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

(k) And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

1:13 (w) But to which of the angels said God at any time, Sit thou on my right half, till I put thine enemies a stool of thy feet?

(p) But to which of the angels said God at any time, Sit thou on my right half, till I put thine enemies a stool of thy feet?

(t) Unto which of the angels said he at any time? Sit on my right hand till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

(g) Unto which also of the Angels said he at any time, Sit at my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

(k) But to which of the angels said he at any time, Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

1:14 (w) Whether they all be not serving spirits, sent into ministry for them that take the heritage of health?

(p) Whether they all be not serving spirits, sent to serve for them that take the heritage of health?

(t) Are they not all ministering spirits [spirits to do service], sent [for] to minister for their sakes, which shall be heirs of salvation [health]?

(g) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister, for their sakes which shall be heirs of salvation?

(k) Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be heirs of salvation?

CHAPTER 2

2:1 (w) Therefore it behooveth us to keep more plenteously those things, that we have heard, lest peradventure we float away.

(p) Therefore more plenteously it behooveth us to keep those things, that we have heard, lest peradventure we float away.

(t) ¶ Wherefore we ought to give the much more heed to the things [much more to attend unto those things] which we have heard, lest we perish [be split].

(g) Wherefore we ought diligently to give heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.

(k) Therefore we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip {Gr. run out as leaking vessels}.

2:2 (w) For if that word that was said by angels, was made firm, and each trespassing, or breaking of the law, and unobedience took just retribution of meed,

(p) For if that word that was said by angels, was made firm, and each breaking of the law and unobedience took just retribution of meed,

(t) For if the word which was spoken by angels was steadfast: that [and] every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense to reward:

(g) For if the word spoken by Angels was steadfast, and every transgression, and disobedience received a just recompense of reward,

(k) For if the word spoken by angels was stedfast, and every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward;

2:3 (w) how shall we escape, if we despise so great an health? Which, when it had taken beginning to be told out by the Lord, of them that heard is confirmed into us.

(p) how shall we escape, if we despise so great an health? Which, when it had taken beginning to be told out by the Lord, of them that heard is confirmed into us.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) how shall we escape if we despise so great salvation [health]? Which at the first began to be preached of the Lord himself, and after ward was confirmed unto us-ward, by them that heard it,
- (g) How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation, which at the first began to be preached by the Lord, and afterward was confirmed unto us by them that heard him,
- (k) How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was confirmed unto us by them that heard him;
- 2:4 (w) God together witnessing by signs, and wonders, and great marvels, and diverse virtues, and distributions of the Holy Ghost, after his will.
- (p) For God witnessed together by miracles, and wonders, and great marvels, and diverse works of power, and partings of the Holy Ghost, by his will.
- (t) God bearing witness thereto, both with signs and wonders also, and with diverse miracles, and gifts of the holy ghost, according to his own will.
- (g) God bearing witness thereto, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts of the holy Ghost, according to his own will?
- (k) God also bearing them witness, both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and gifts {or, distributions} of the Holy Ghost, according to his own will?
- 2:5 (w) Forsooth not to angels God subjected the roundness of the earth to come, of which we speak.
- (p) But not to angels God subjected the world that is to coming, of which we speak.
- (t) ¶ He hath not unto the angels put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak:
- (g) For he hath not put in subjection unto the Angels, the world to come, whereof we speak.
- (k) For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection the world to come, whereof we speak.
- 2:6 (w) Soothly some man witnessed in some place, saying, What thing is man, that thou art mindful of him, or man's son, for thou visitest him?
- (p) But some man witnessed in a place, and said, What thing is man, that thou art mindful of him, or man's son, for thou visitest him?
- (t) but one in a certain place witnessed, saying. What is man, that thou art mindful of him: [other the son of man, that thou visitest him?]
- (g) But one in a certain place witnessed, saying, What is man, that thou shouldest be mindful of him? Or the son of man, that thou wouldest consider him?
- (k) But one in a certain place testified, saying, What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?
- 2:7 (w) Thou madest him a little less from angels; thou hast crowned him with glory and honour; and thou hast ordained him upon the works of thine hands.
- (p) Thou hast made him a little less than angels; thou hast crowned him with glory and honour; and thou hast ordained him on the works of thine hands.
- (t) After thou hadst for a season made him lower than the angels: thou crownedest him with honor and glory, and hast set him above the works of thy hands.
- (g) Thou madest him a little inferior to the Angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honor, and hast set him above the works of thy hands.
- (k) Thou madest him a little lower {or, a little while inferior to} than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:
- 2:8 (w) Thou hast made all things subject under his feet. And in that that he subjected all things to him, he left nothing unsubjected to him. But now we see not yet all things subject to him;

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) Thou hast made all things subject under his feet. And in that that he subjected all things to him, he left nothing unsubject to him. But now we see not yet all things subject to him;

(t) Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. In that he put all things under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. Nevertheless we yet see not all things subdued [unto him]

(g) Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. And in that he hath put all things in subjection under him, he left nothing that should not be subject unto him. But we yet see not all things subdued unto him,

(k) Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now we see not yet all things put under him.

2:9 (w) but we see him that was made a little less than angels, Jesus, for the passion of death crowned with glory and honour, that he through the grace of God should taste death for all men.

(p) but we see him that was made a little less than angels, Jesus, for the passion of death crowned with glory and honour, that he through grace of God should taste death for all men.

(t) but him that was made less than the angels: we see that it was Jesus which is crowned with glory and honor for the suffering of death [but that Jesus which for a season was made less than the angels, we see through the punishment of death crowned with glory and honor]: that he by the grace of God, should taste of death for all men.

(g) But we see Jesus crowned with glory and honor, which was made a little inferior to the Angels, through the suffering of death, that by God's grace he might taste death for all men.

(k) But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for {or, by} the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man.

2:10 (w) Forsooth it became him, for whom all things, and by all things, the which had led together many sons into glory, the maker of the health of them, to end, either make perfect, by passions.

(p) For it beseemed him, for whom all things, and by whom all things were made, which had brought many sons into glory, and was author of the health of them, that he had an end by passion.

(t) ¶ For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, after that he had brought many sons unto glory, that he should make the Lord of their salvation [health] perfect through suffering [afflictions]:

(g) For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, seeing that he brought many children unto glory, that he should consecrate the Prince of their salvation through afflictions.

(k) For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings.

2:11 (w) For he that halloweth, and they that be hallowed, be all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

(p) For he that halloweth, and they that be hallowed, be all of one; for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

(t) For [as much as] he which sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all of one. For which cause's sake he is not ashamed to call them brethren

(g) For he that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified, are all of one; wherefore he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

(k) For both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified are all of one: for which cause he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

2:12 (w) saying, I shall tell thy name to my brethren; in the middle of the church I shall praise thee.

(p) saying, I shall tell thy name to my brethren; in the middle of the church I shall praise thee.

(t) saying: I will declare thy name unto my brethren, and in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee.

(g) Saying, I will declare thy Name unto my brethren, in the midst of the Church will I sing praises to thee.

(k) Saying, I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:13 (w) And again, I shall be trusting into him; and again, Lo! I and my children, which God gave to me.
(p) And again, I shall be trusting into him; and again, Lo! I and my children, which God gave to me.
(t) And again: I will put my trust in him. And again: behold here am I and the children which God hath given me.
(g) And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold, here am I, and the children which God hath given me.
(k) And again, I will put my trust in him. And again, Behold I and the children which God hath given me.
- 2:14 (w) Therefore for children communed to flesh and blood, and he also took part of the same, that by death he should destroy him that had lordship of death, that is to say, the devil,
(p) Therefore for children communed to flesh and blood, and he also took part of the same, that by death he should destroy him that had lordship of death, that is to say, the devil,
(t) ¶ For as much then as the children were partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part with them, for to put down through death him that had lordship over death that is to say the devil.
(g) Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part with them, that he might destroy through death, him that had the power of death, that is, the devil,
(k) Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he also himself likewise took part of the same; that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;
- 2:15 (w) and should deliver them that by dread of death, by all life were bound to servage.
(p) and that he should deliver them that by dread of death, by all life were bound to servage.
(t) And that he might deliver them which through fear of death were all their lifetime [were] in danger of bondage.
(g) And that he might deliver all them, which for fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.
(k) And deliver them who through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.
- 2:16 (w) And he took to never angels, but he took to the seed of Abraham.
(p) And he took never angels, but he took the seed of Abraham.
(t) For he in no place taketh on him the angels: but the seed of Abraham taketh he on him.
(g) For he in no sort took on him the Angel's nature, but he took on him the seed of Abraham.
(k) For verily he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham {Gr. he taketh not hold of angels, but of the seed of Abraham he taketh hold}.
- 2:17 (w) Wherefore he ought to be likened to brethren by all things, that he should be made merciful and a faithful bishop to God, that he should be merciful to the trespasses of the people.
(p) Wherefore he ought to be likened to brethren by all things, that he should be made merciful and a faithful bishop to God, that he should be merciful to the trespasses of the people.
(t) Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be merciful, and a faithful high priest in things concerning God, for to purge the people's sins.
(g) Wherefore in all things it behooved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be merciful, and a faithful high Priest in things concerning God, that he might make reconciliation for the sins of the people.
(k) Wherefore in all things it behoved him to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.
- 2:18 (w) For in that thing in which he suffered, and was tempted, he is mighty to help also them that be tempted.
(p) For in that thing in which he suffered, and was tempted, he is mighty to help also them that be tempted.
(t) For in that he himself suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succor them that are tempted.
(g) For in that he suffered, and was tempted, he is able to succor them that are tempted.
(k) For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) Wherefore, holy brethren, and partners of heavenly calling, behold ye the apostle and the bishop of our confession, Jesus,
(p) Therefore, holy brethren, and partners of heavenly calling, behold ye the apostle and the bishop of our confession, Jesus,
(t) ¶ Wherefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestial calling, consider the ambassador and high priest of our profession Christ Jesus,
(g) Therefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly vocation, consider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Jesus;
(k) Wherefore, holy brethren, partakers of the heavenly calling, consider the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;
- 3:2 (w) which is true to him that made him, as also Moses in all the house of him.
(p) which is true to him that made him, as also Moses in all the house of him.
(t) which was [being] faithful to him that made [sent] him, even as was Moses in all his house.
(g) Who was faithful to him that hath appointed him, even as Moses was in all his house.
(k) Who was faithful to him that appointed {Gr. made} him, as also Moses was faithful in all his house.
- 3:3 (w) Forsooth this bishop is had worthy of more glory than Moses, by as much as he hath more honour of the house, that made the house.
(p) But this bishop is had worthy of more glory than Moses, by as much as he hath more honour of the house, that made the house.
(t) And this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses: Inasmuch as he which hath prepared the house, hath most honor in the house.
(g) For this man is counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he which hath built the house, hath more honor than the house.
(k) For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.
- 3:4 (w) For each house is made of some man; forsooth he that made all things of nought is God.
(p) For each house is made of some man; he that made all things of nought is God.
(t) Every house is prepared of some man. But he that ordained all things is God.
(g) For every house is built of some man, and he that hath built all things, is God.
(k) For every house is builded by some man; but he that built all things is God.
- 3:5 (w) And soothly Moses was true in all his house, as a servant, into witnessing of those things that were to be said;
(p) And Moses was true in all his house, as a servant, into witnessing of those things that were to be said;
(t) And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a minister, to bear witness of those things which should be spoken afterward.
(g) Now Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a witness of the things which should be spoken after.
(k) And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as a servant, for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;
- 3:6 (w) but Christ as a son in his house. Which house we be, if we hold firm trust and glory of hope unto the end.
(p) but Christ as a son in his house. Which house we be, if we hold firm trust and glory of hope into the end.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) But Christ as a son hath rule over the house, whose house we are, so that we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of that hope, [if we keep steadfast confidence and rejoicing in the faith] unto the end.

(g) But Christ is as the Son, over his own house, whose house we are, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope unto the end.

(k) But Christ as a son over his own house; whose house are we, if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

3:7 (w) Wherefore as the Holy Ghost saith, To day, if ye have heard his voice,

(p) Wherefore as the Holy Ghost saith, To day, if ye have heard his voice,

(t) ¶ Wherefore as the holy ghost saith: today if ye shall hear his voice,

(g) Wherefore, as the holy Ghost saith, Today if ye shall hear his voice,

(k) Wherefore (as the Holy Ghost saith, To day if ye will hear his voice,

3:8 (w) do not ye harden your hearts, as in wrathing, after the day of temptation in desert;

(p) do not ye harden your hearts, as in wrathing, like the day of temptation in desert;

(t) harden not your hearts, after the rebellion in the day [as when ye provoked in time] of temptation in the wilderness,

(g) Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, according to the day of the temptation in the wilderness,

(k) Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

3:9 (w) where your fathers tempted me, proved, and saw my works.

(p) where your fathers tempted me, and proved, and saw my works forty years.

(t) where your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years long.

(g) Where your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years long.

(k) When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

3:10 (w) Wherefore I was offended, or wroth, to this generation, and I said, Evermore they err in heart, for they knew not my ways;

(p) Wherefore I was wroth to this generation, and I said, Evermore they err in heart, for they knew not my ways;

(t) Wherefore I was grieved with that generation and said: They err ever [ever err] in their hearts: they verily have not known my ways,

(g) Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They err ever in their heart, neither have they known my ways.

(k) Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

3:11 (w) to whom I swore in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest.

(p) to which I swore in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest.

(t) so that I sware in my wrath, that they should not enter into my rest.

(g) Therefore I sware in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest.

(k) So I sware in my wrath, They shall not enter {Gr. if they shall enter} into my rest.)

3:12 (w) Brethren, see ye, lest peradventure in any of you be an evil heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God.

(p) Brethren, see ye, lest peradventure in any of you be an evil heart of unbelief, to depart from the living God.

(t) Take heed brethren that there be in none of you an evil heart, in unbelief, that he should depart from the living God:

(g) Take heed, brethren, lest at any time there be in any of you an evil heart, and unfaithful, to depart away from the living God.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.
- 3:13 (w) But admonish yourselves by all days, the while to day is named, that none of you be hardened by falseness of sin.
(p) But admonish yourselves by all days, the while to day is named, that none of you be hardened by fallacy of sin.
(t) but exhort one another daily, while it is called today, lest any of you wax hard hearted, through the deceitfulness of [and be deceived with] sin.
(g) But exhort one another daily, while it is called Today, lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.
(k) But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.
- 3:14 (w) For we be made partners of Christ, if nevertheless we hold the beginning of his substance firm into the end.
(p) For we be made partners of Christ, if nevertheless we hold the beginning of his substance firm into the end.
(t) ¶ We are partakers of Christ, if we keep sure unto the end the first substance [so that we keep sure unto the end the beginning of the substance],
(g) For we are made partakers of Christ, if we keep sure unto the end the beginning, wherewith we are upholden,
(k) For we are made partakers of Christ, if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;
- 3:15 (w) While it is said, to day, if ye have heard the voice of him, do not ye harden your hearts, as in that wrathing.
(p) While it is said, to day, if ye have heard the voice of him, do not ye harden your hearts, as in that wrathing.
(t) so long as it is said: today if ye hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as when ye rebelled [provoked].
(g) So long as it is said, Today if ye hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.
(k) While it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.
- 3:16 (w) Soothly some hearing wrathed, but not all they that went out of Egypt by Moses.
(p) For some men hearing wrathed, but not all they that went out of Egypt by Moses.
(t) For some, when they heard, rebelled [provoked]: howbeit [but] not all that came out of Egypt under Moses.
(g) For some when they heard, provoked him to anger, howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.
(k) For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.
- 3:17 (w) But to whom was he wrathed forty years? Whether not to them that sinned, whose carrions were cast down into desert?
(p) But to whom was he wrathed forty years? Whether not to them that sinned, whose carrions were cast down in desert?
(t) But with whom was he displeased forty years? Was he not displeased with them that sinned: whose carcasses [bodies] were overthrown in the desert?
(g) But with whom was he displeased forty years? Was he not displeased with them that sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?
(k) But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?
- 3:18 (w) To whom he swore soothly, to not enter into his rest, no but to them that were unbelievel?
(p) And to whom swore he, that they should not enter into the rest of him, no but to them that were unbelievel?
(t) To whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest: but unto them that believed not?
(g) And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but unto them that obeyed not?
(k) And to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?
- 3:19 (w) And we see, that they might not enter into the rest of him for unbelief.

(p) And we see, that they might not enter into the rest of him for unbelief.

(t) And we see that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

(g) So we see that they could not enter in, because of unbelief.

(k) So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER 4

- 4:1 (w) Therefore dread we, least peradventure while the promise of entering into his rest is left, that any of us be guessed, or deemed, for to fail.
(p) Therefore dread we, least peradventure while the promise of entering into his rest is left, that any of us be guessed to be away.
(t) ¶ Let us fear therefore lest any of us forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, should seem to come behind.
(g) Let us fear therefore, lest at any time by forsaking the promise of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to be deprived.
(k) Let us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.
- 4:2 (w) Forsooth it is told to us, as and to them. And the word that was heard profited not to them, not mingled to faith of those things that they heard.
(p) For it is told also to us, as to them. And the word that was heard profited not to them, not mingled to faith of those things that they heard.
(t) For unto us was it declared, as well as unto them. But it profited not them that they heard the word, because they which heard it coupled it not with faith.
(g) For unto us was the Gospel preached as also unto them; but the word that they heard, profited not them, because it was not mixed with faith in those that heard it.
(k) For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but the word {Gr. the word of hearing} preached did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in {or, because they were not united by faith to} them that heard it.
- 4:3 (w) Forsooth we that have believed shall enter into rest, as he said, As I swore in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest. And soothly the works were made perfect from the ordinance of the world,
(p) For we that have believed, shall enter into rest, as he said, As I swore in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest. And when the works were made perfect at the ordinance of the world,
(t) But We which have believed, do enter into his rest, as contrarywise he said to the other: [as] I have sworn in my wrath, they shall not enter into my rest. And that spake he verily long after that the works were made, and [from] the foundation of the world laid.
(g) For we which have believed, do enter into rest, as he said to the other, As I have sworn in my wrath, If they shall enter into my rest, although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.
(k) For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.
- 4:4 (w) he said thus in some place of the seventh day, And God rested in the seventh day from all his works.
(p) he said thus in a place of the seventh day, And God rested in the seventh day from all his works.
(t) For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day, on this wise: And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.
(g) For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.
(k) For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.
- 4:5 (w) And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.
(p) And in this place again, They shall not enter into my rest.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) And in this place again: They shall not come into my rest.
(g) And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.
(k) And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.
- 4:6 (w) Therefore for it followeth, that some men shall enter into it, and they first to whom it is told, entered not for their unbelief.
(p) Therefore for it followeth, that some men shall enter into it, and they to which it was told to before, entered not for their unbelief.
(t) ¶ Seeing therefore it followeth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for unbelief's sake.
(g) Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter thereinto, and they to whom it was first preached, entered not therein for unbelief's sake;
(k) Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, and they to whom it {or, the Gospel} was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:
- 4:7 (w) Again, he termineth some day, saying in David, To day, after so much of time, as it is before-said, To day if ye have heard his voice, do not ye harden your hearts.
(p) Again, he determineth some day, and saith in David, To day, after so much time of time, as it is before-said, To day if ye have heard his voice, do not ye harden your hearts.
(t) Again he appointeth in David a certain present day after so long a time, saying as it is rehearsed: this day if ye hear his voice, be not hard hearted.
(g) Again he appointed in David a certain day, by Today, after so long a time, saying, as it is said, This day, if ye hear his voice, harden not your hearts.
(k) Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.
- 4:8 (w) For if Jesus had given rest to them, he should never speak of other after that day.
(p) For if Jesus had given rest to them, he should never speak of other after this day.
(t) For if Josuah had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.
(g) For if Jesus had given them rest, then would he not after this have spoken of another day.
(k) For if Jesus {that is, Josuah} had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.
- 4:9 (w) Therefore rest is left to the people of God.
(p) Therefore the sabbath is left to the people of God.
(t) There remaineth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.
(g) There remaineth therefore a rest to the people of God.
(k) There remaineth therefore a rest {or, keeping of a Sabbath} to the people of God.
- 4:10 (w) For he that is entered into his rest, and he rested of his works, as also God of his.
(p) For he that is entered into his rest, rested of his works, as also God of his.
(t) For he that is entered into his rest doth cease from his own works, as God did from his.
(g) For he that is entered into his rest, hath also ceased from his own works, as God did from his.
(k) For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.
- 4:11 (w) Therefore haste we to enter into that rest, that no man fall into the same example of unbelief.
(p) Therefore haste we to enter into that rest, that no man fall into the same ensample of unbelief.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ Let us study therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example, into unbelief [into such an example of unbelief]:
- (g) Let us study therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of disobedience.
- (k) Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall after the same example of unbelief {or, disobedience}.
- 4:12 (w) For the word of God is quick, and speedy in working, and more able to pierce than any two-edged sword, and entering, or stretching, unto parting of soul and spirit, and of jointures and marrows, and it is the deemer of thoughts and intents of hearts.
- (p) For the word of God is quick, and speedy in working, and more able to pierce than any twain-edged sword, and stretcheth forth to the parting of the soul and of the spirit, and of the jointures and marrows, and deemer of thoughts, and of intents of hearts.
- (t) for the word of God is quick, and mighty in operation, and sharper than any two edged sword: and entereth through, even unto the dividing asunder of the soul and the spirit and of the joints, and the marrow: and judgeth the thoughts and the intents of the heart.
- (g) For the word of God is lively, and mighty in operation, and sharper than any two edged sword, and entereth through, even unto the dividing asunder of the soul and the spirit, and of the joints, and the marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts, and the intents of the heart.
- (k) For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart.
- 4:13 (w) And no creature is invisible in the sight of God. For all things be naked and open to his eyes, to whom a word to us.
- (p) And no creature is invisible in the sight of God. For all things be naked and open to his eyes, to whom a word to us.
- (t) Neither is there any creature invisible in the sight of it: for [but] all things are naked and bare unto the eyes of him, of whom we speak.
- (g) Neither is there any creature, which is not manifest in his sight, but all things are naked and open unto his eyes, with whom we have to do.
- (k) Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.
- 4:14 (w) Therefore we that have a great bishop, that pierced heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, hold we the confession, or acknowledging, of our faith.
- (p) Therefore we that have a great bishop, that pierced heavens, Jesus, the Son of God, hold we the acknowledging of our hope.
- (t) ¶ Seeing then that we have a great high priest which is entered into heaven (I mean Jesus the son of God) let us hold [keep] our profession. {This paragraph of three verses was at the start of the following chapter in the original Tyndale}
- (g) Seeing then that we have a great high Priest, which is entered into heaven, even Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.
- (k) Seeing then that we have a great high priest, that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold fast our profession.
- 4:15 (w) For we have not a bishop, that may not have compassion on our infirmities, but was tempted by all things by likeness, without sin.
- (p) For we have not a bishop, that may not have compassion on our infirmities, but was tempted by all things by likeness, without sin.
- (t) For we have not an high priest, which cannot have compassion on our infirmities: but was in all points tempted, like as we are [in like manner]: but yet without sin.
- (g) For we have not a high Priest, which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities, but was in all things tempted in like sort, yet without sin.

(k) For we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but was in all points tempted like as we are, yet without sin.

- 4:16 (w) Therefore go we with trust to the throne of his grace, that we get mercy, and find grace in covenable help.
(p) Therefore go we with trust to the throne of his grace, that we get mercy, and find grace in opportune help.
(t) Let us therefore go boldly unto the seat of grace, that we may receive mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.
(g) Let us therefore go boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may receive mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.
(k) Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER 5

- 5:1 (w) For each bishop taken of men, is ordained for men in those things that be to God, that he offer gifts and sacrifices for sins.
(p) For each bishop taken of men, is ordained for men in these things that be to God, that he offer gifts and sacrifices for sins.
(t) ¶ For every high priest that is taken from among men, is ordained for men, in things pertaining to God: to offer gifts and sacrifices for sin [sins]:
(g) For every high Priest is taken from among men, and is ordained for men, in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins,
(k) For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God, that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:
- 5:2 (w) Which may together sorrow with them, that know not and err; for also he is environed with infirmity.
(p) Which may together sorrow with them, that be unknowing and err; for also he is environed with infirmity.
(t) which can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the [high] way, because that he himself also is compassed with infirmity:
(g) Which is able sufficiently to have compassion on them that are ignorant, and that are out of the way, because that he also is compassed with infirmity,
(k) Who can have compassion on {or, can reasonably bear with} the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that he himself also is compassed with infirmity.
- 5:3 (w) And therefore he oweth, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.
(p) And therefore he oweth, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.
(t) For the which infirmities sake, he is bound to offer for sins, as well for his own part, as for the peoples.
(g) And for the same's sake he is bound to offer for sins, as well for his own part, as for the people's.
(k) And by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.
- 5:4 (w) Neither any man taketh to him honour, but he that is called of God, as Aaron was.
(p) Neither any man taketh to him honour, but he that is called of God, as Aaron was.
(t) And No man taketh honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.
(g) And no man taketh this honor unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.
(k) And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as was Aaron.
- 5:5 (w) So and Christ clarified not himself, that he were bishop, but he that spake to him, Thou art my Son, to day I gendered thee.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) So Christ clarified not himself, that he were bishop, but he that spake to him, Thou art my Son, to day I engendered thee.
- (t) ¶ even so likewise Christ glorified [honored] not himself, to be made [that he might be] the high priest: but he that said unto him: thou art my son, this day begat I thee , glorified him [glorified him that said unto him: thou art my son, this day begat I thee].
- (g) So likewise Christ took not to himself this honor, to be made the high Priest, but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, this day begat I thee, gave it him.
- (k) So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.
- 5:6 (w) As and in another place he saith, Thou art a priest into without end, after the order of Melchisedec.
- (p) As in another place he saith, Thou art a priest without end, after the order of Melchisedec.
- (t) As he also in another place speaketh: Thou art a priest forever after the order of Melchisedech.
- (g) As he also in another place speaketh, Thou art a Priest forever after the order of Melchisedec.
- (k) As he saith also in another place, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.
- 5:7 (w) Which in the days of his flesh offered, with great cry and tears, prayers and beseechings to him that might make him safe from death, and was heard for his reverence.
- (p) Which in the days of his flesh offered, with great cry and tears, prayers and beseechings to him that might make him safe from death, and was heard for his reverence.
- (t) Which in the days of his flesh, did offer up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death: and was also heard, because of his godliness [he had God in reverence].
- (g) Who in the days of his flesh did offer up prayers and supplications, with strong crying and tears unto him, that was able to save him from death, and was also heard in that which he feared.
- (k) Who in the days of his flesh, when he had offered up prayers and supplications with strong crying and tears unto him that was able to save him from death, and was heard in that he feared {or, for his piety};
- 5:8 (w) And when he was God's Son, he learned obedience of these things that he suffered;
- (p) And when he was God's Son, he learned obedience of these things that he suffered;
- (t) And though he were God's son, yet learned he obedience, by those things which he suffered,
- (g) And though he were the Son, yet learned he obedience, by the things which he suffered.
- (k) Though he were a Son, yet learned he obedience by the things which he suffered;
- 5:9 (w) and he led to perfection is made cause of everlasting health to all that obey him,
- (p) and he brought to the end is made cause of everlasting health to all that obey him,
- (t) and was made perfect, and the cause of eternal salvation [health] unto all them that obey him:
- (g) And being consecrate, was made the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;
- (k) And being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;
- 5:10 (w) called of God a bishop, by the order of Melchisedec.
- (p) and is called of God a bishop, by the order of Melchisedec.
- (t) and is called of God an [the] high priest, after the order of Melchisedech.
- (g) And is called of God a high Priest after the order of Melchisedec.
- (k) Called of God an high priest after the order of Melchisedec.
- 5:11 (w) Of whom there is to us a great word for to say, and able to be expounded, for ye be made feeble to hear.

- (p) Of whom there is to us a great word for to say, and able to be expounded, for ye be made feeble to hear.
- (t) ¶ Whereof we have [have we] many things to say which are hard to be uttered: because ye are dull of hearing.
- (g) Of whom we have many things to say, which are hard to be uttered, because ye are dull of hearing.
- (k) Of whom we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are dull of hearing.
- 5:12 (w) For when ye ought to be masters for a time, again ye need that ye be taught, which be the elements, or letters, of the beginning of God's words. And ye be made those, to whom is need of milk, and not of firm meat.
- (p) For when ye ought to be masters for a time, again ye need that ye be taught, which be the letters of the beginning of God's words. And ye be made those, to whom is need of milk, and not firm meat.
- (t) For when as concerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet have ye need again that we teach you the first principles of the word of God: and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat:
- (g) For when as concerning the time ye ought to be teachers, yet have ye need again that we teach you what are the first principles of the word of God, and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.
- (k) For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of milk, and not of strong meat.
- 5:13 (w) For each that is partner of milk, is without part of the word of rightwiseness, for he is a little child.
- (p) For each that is partner of milk, is without part of the word of rightwiseness, for he is a little child.
- (t) For every man that is fed with milk is inexpert in the word of righteousness: For he is but a babe.
- (g) For every one that useth milk, is inexpert in the word of righteousness, for he is a babe.
- (k) For every one that useth milk is unskillful {Gr. hath no experience} in the word of righteousness: for he is a babe.
- 5:14 (w) But of perfect men is firm meat, of them that for custom have their wits exercised to discretion of good and evil.
- (p) But of perfect men is firm meat, of them that for custom have wits exercised to discretion of good and of evil.
- (t) But strong meat belongeth to them that are perfect, which through custom have their wits exercised, to judge both good and evil also.
- (g) But strong meat belongeth to them that are of age, which through long custom have their wits exercised, to discern both good and evil.
- (k) But strong meat belongeth to them that are of full age {or, perfect}, even those who by reason of use have their senses {or, of an habit or perfection} exercised to discern both good and evil.

CHAPTER 6

- 6:1 (w) Therefore we leaving a while the word of the beginning of Christ, be born to the perfection, not again laying the fundament of penance from dead works, and of faith to God,
- (p) Therefore we bringing in a word of the beginning of Christ, be we born to the perfection of him, not again laying the fundament of penance from dead works, and of the faith to God,
- (t) ¶ Wherefore let us leave the doctrine pertaining to the beginning of a Christian man, and let us go unto perfection, and now no more lay the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,
- (g) Therefore, leaving the doctrine of the beginning of Christ, let us be led forward unto perfection, not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,
- (k) Therefore leaving the principles of {or, word of the beginning of} the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God,
- 6:2 (w) and of teaching of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of rising again of dead men, and of everlasting doom.
- (p) and of teaching of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of rising again of dead men, and of everlasting doom.
- (t) of baptism, of doctrine, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection from death, and of eternal judgment.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Of the doctrine of baptisms, and laying on of hands, and of the resurrection from the dead, and of eternal judgment.
(k) Of the doctrine of baptisms, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternal judgment.
- 6:3 (w) And this thing we shall do, if God shall suffer.
(p) And this thing we shall do, if God shall suffer.
(t) And so will we do, if God permit.
(g) And this will we do if God permit.
(k) And this will we do, if God permit.
- 6:4 (w) But it is impossible, them that once be illumined, and have tasted also an heavenly gift, and be made partners of the Holy Ghost,
(p) But it is impossible, that they that be once lightened, and have tasted also an heavenly gift, and be made partners of the Holy Ghost,
(t) For it is not possible that they, which were once lighted, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were [are] become partakers of the holy ghost,
(g) For it is impossible that they which were once lightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the holy Ghost,
(k) For it is impossible for those who were once enlightened, and have tasted of the heavenly gift, and were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,
- 6:5 (w) and nevertheless have tasted the good word of God, and virtues of the world to come,
(p) and nevertheless have tasted the good word of God, and the virtues of the world to coming,
(t) and have tasted of the good word of God, and of the power of the world to come:
(g) And have tasted of the good word of God, and of the powers of the world to come,
(k) And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come,
- 6:6 (w) and be slid far away, that they be renewed again to penance. Which again crucify to themselves the Son of God, and have him to scorn.
(p) and be slid far away, that they be renewed again to penance. Which again crucify to themselves the Son of God, and have him to scorn.
(t) if they fall, should be renewed again unto repentance: For as much as they have (as concerning themselves) crucified the son of God afresh, making a mock of him.
(g) If they fall away, should be renewed again by repentance, seeing they crucify again to themselves the Son of God, and make a mock of him.
(k) If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.
- 6:7 (w) Forsooth the earth drinking rain oft coming upon it, and bringing forth covenable herb to them of whom it is tilled, taketh blessing of God.
(p) For the earth that drinketh rain oft coming on it, and bringeth forth suitable herb to them of which it is tilled, taketh blessing of God.
(t) ¶ For that earth which drinketh in the rain which cometh often upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them that dress it, receiveth blessing of God:
(g) For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing of God.
(k) For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them by {or, for} whom it is dressed, receiveth blessing from God:

- 6:8 (w) But that that is bringing forth thorns and briars, is reprovab~~e~~, and next to curse, whose ending shall be into burning.
(p) But that that is bringing forth thorns and briars, is reprovab~~e~~, and next to curse, whose ending shall be into burning.
(t) but that ground, which beareth thorns and briars, is reprov~~e~~d, and is nigh unto cursing: whose end is to be burned.
(g) But that which beareth thorns and briars, is reprov~~e~~d, and is near unto cursing, whose end is to be burned.
(k) But that which beareth thorns and briars is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned.
- 6:9 (w) But, ye most dear-worthy, we trust of you better things, and near(er) to health, though we speak so.
(p) But, ye most dear-worthy, we trust of you better things, and near(er) to health, though we speak so.
(t) Nevertheless dear friends, we trust to see better of you, and things which accompany salvation [health], though we thus speak.
(g) But beloved, we have persuaded ourselves better things of you, and such as accompany salvation, though we thus speak.
(k) But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.
- 6:10 (w) For God is not unjust, that he forget your work and love, which ye have showed in his name; for ye have ministered to saints, and minister.
(p) For God is not unjust, that he forget your work and love, which ye have showed in his name; for ye have ministered to saints, and minister.
(t) For God is not unrighteous that he should forget your work, and labor that proceedeth of love, which love [ye] showed in his name, which have ministered unto the saints, and yet minister.
(g) For God is not unrighteous, that he should forget your work, and labor of love, which ye shewed toward his Name, in that ye have ministered unto the Saints, and yet minister.
(k) For God is not unrighteous to forget your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have ministered to the saints, and do minister.
- 6:11 (w) And we covet that each of you show the same busyness to the full-filling of hope into the end;
(p) And we covet that each of you show the same busyness to the filling of hope into the end;
(t) Yea, and we desire that every one of you show the same diligence, to the establishing of hope [increase of the faith], even unto the end:
(g) And we desire that every one of you shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope unto the end,
(k) And we desire that every one of you do shew the same diligence to the full assurance of hope unto the end:
- 6:12 (w) that ye be not made slow, but also followers of them, which by faith and patience shall inherit the promises.
(p) that ye be not made slow, but also followers of them, which by faith and patience shall inherit the promises.
(t) that ye faint not, but follow [counterfeit] them, which through faith and patience inherit the promises.
(g) That ye be not slothful, but followers of them, which through faith and patience, inherit the promises.
(k) That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience inherit the promises.
- 6:13 (w) For God promising to Abraham, for he had none greater, by whom he should swear, swore by himself,
(p) For God promising to Abraham, for he had none greater, by whom he should swear, swore by himself,
(t) ¶ For when God made promise to Abraham, because he had no greater thing to swear by, he sware by himself,
(g) For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he had no greater to swear by, he sware by himself,
(k) For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, he sware by himself,
- 6:14 (w) saying, I blessing shall bless thee, and I multiplying shall multiply thee;

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) and said, I blessing shall bless thee, and I multiplying shall multiply thee;
(t) saying: Surely I will bless thee, and multiply thee indeed.
(g) Saying, Surely I will abundantly bless thee and multiply thee marvelously.
(k) Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.
- 6:15 (w) and so he long suffering got repromission.
(p) and so he long abiding had the promise.
(t) And so after that he had tarried a long time, he enjoyed the promises.
(g) And so after that he had tarried patiently, he enjoyed the promise.
(k) And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.
- 6:16 (w) For men swear by a greater than themselves, and the end of all their controversy, or debate, is an oath to confirmation.
(p) For men swear by a greater than themselves, and the end of all their plea is an oath to confirmation.
(t) Men verily swear by him that is greater than themselves, and an oath to confirm the thing, is among them an end of all strife.
(g) For men verily swear by him that is greater than themselves, and an oath for confirmation is among them an end of all strife.
(k) For men verily swear by the greater: and an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.
- 6:17 (w) In which thing God willing to show plenteouslier to the heirs of his promise the unmoveableness, or firmness, of his counsel, put between an oath,
(p) In which thing God willing to show plenteouslier to the heirs of his promise the firmness of his counsel, put betwixt an oath,
(t) So God willing very abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise, the stableness of his counsel, he added an oath,
(g) So God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the stableness of his counsel, bound himself by an oath,
(k) Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by {Gr. interposed himself by} an oath:
- 6:18 (w) that by two things unmoveable, by which it is impossible God for to lie, we have strongest solace, or comfort, which flee together to hold the hope put forth.
(p) that by two things unmoveable, by which it is impossible that God lie, we have a strongest solace, that flee together to hold the hope that is put forth to us.
(t) that by two immutable things (in which it was impossible that God should lie) we might have perfect consolation, which have fled, for to hold fast the hope that is set before us [forth before our faces],
(g) That by two immutable things, wherein it is impossible that God should lie, we might have strong consolation, which have our refuge to lay hold upon the hope that is set before us,
(k) That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us:
- 6:19 (w) Which hope as an anchor we have secure to the soul, and firm, and going into the inner things of hiding;
(p) Which hope as an anchor we have secure to the soul, and firm, and going into the inner things of hiding;
(t) which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast. Which hope also entereth in, into those things which are within the veil,
(g) Which hope we have, as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and it entereth into that which is within the veil,

(k) Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, and which entereth into that within the veil;

6:20 (w) where the fore-goer for us entered in, Jesus, made bishop into without end after the order of Melchisedec.

(p) where the before-goer, Jesus, that is made bishop without end by the order of Melchisedec, entered for us.

(t) whither the forerunner is for us entered in, I mean Jesus that is made an high priest forever, after the order of Melchisedech.

(g) Whither the forerunner is for us entered in, even Jesus that is made a high Priest forever after the order of Melchisedec.

(k) Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Jesus, made an high priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

CHAPTER 7

7:1 (w) And this Melchisedec, king of Salem, the priest of the highest God, which met Abraham, as he turned again from the slaying of the kings, and blessed him;

(p) And this Melchisedec, king of Salem, and priest of the highest God, which met Abraham, as he turned again from the slaying of the kings, and blessed him;

(t) ¶ This Melchisedech king of Salem (which being priest of the most high God, met Abraham, as he returned again from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him:

(g) For this Melchisedec was King of Salem, the Priest of the most high God, who met Abraham, as he returned from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him;

(k) For this Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

7:2 (w) to whom also Abraham parted tithes of all things; first soothly the which is interpreted king of rightwiseness, and afterward king of Salem, that is to say, king of peace,

(p) to whom also Abraham parted tithes of all things; first he is said king of rightwiseness, and afterward king of Salem, that is to say, king of peace,

(t) to whom also Abraham gave tithes of all things) first is by interpretation king of righteousness, after that he is king of Salem, that is to say king of peace,

(g) To whom also Abraham gave the tithe of all things, who first is by interpretation King of righteousness, after that, he is also King of Salem, that is, King of peace,

(k) To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace;

7:3 (w) without father, without mother, without genealogy, neither having beginning of days, neither end of life; forsooth he likened to the Son of God, dwelleth priest into without end.

(p) without father, without mother, without genealogy, neither having beginning of days, neither end of life; and he is likened to the Son of God, and dwelleth priest without end.

(t) without father, without mother, without kin, and hath neither beginning of his time, neither yet end of his life: but is likened unto the son of God, and continueth [remaineth] a priest forever.

(g) Without father, without mother, without kindred, and hath neither beginning of his days, neither end of life, but is likened unto the Son of God, and continueth a Priest forever.

(k) Without father, without mother, without descent {Gr. without pedigree}, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.

7:4 (w) Forsooth behold ye how great this man is, to whom Abraham the patriarch gave tithes of the best things.

(p) But behold ye how great is this, to whom Abraham the patriarch gave tithes of the best things.

(t) ¶ Consider what a man this was, unto whom the patriarch Abraham gave tithes of the spoils.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the Patriarch Abraham gave the tithe of the spoils.
(k) Now consider how great this man was, unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.
- 7:5 (w) And soothly men taking priesthood of the sons of Levi have commandment to take tithes of the people, after the law, that is to say, of their brethren, though also they went out of the loins of Abraham.
(p) For men of the sons of Levi taking priesthood have commandment to take tithes of the people, by the law, that is to say, of their brethren, though also they went out of the loins of Abraham.
(t) And verily those children of Levi, which receive the office of the priests, have a commandment to take according to the law, tithes of the people, that is to say, of their brethren, yea though they sprung out of the loins of Abraham.
(g) For verily they which are the children of Levi, which receive the office of the Priesthood, have a commandment to take, according to the Law, tithes of the people (that is, of their brethren) though they came out of the loins of Abraham.
(k) And verily they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:
- 7:6 (w) But he whose generation is not numbered in them, took tithes of Abraham; and he blessed this Abraham, which had repromissions.
(p) But he whose generation is not numbered in them, took tithes of Abraham; and he blessed this Abraham, which had repromissions.
(t) But he whose kindred is not counted among them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
(g) But he whose kindred is not counted among them, received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
(k) But he whose descent {or, pedigree} is not counted from them received tithes of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
- 7:7 (w) Forsooth without any against-saying, that that is less, is blessed of the better.
(p) Without any gainsaying, that that is less, is blessed of the better.
(t) And no man denyeth but that which is less, receiveth blessing of that which is greater.
(g) And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the greater.
(k) And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.
- 7:8 (w) And here soothly men dying take tithes; forsooth there it is witnessed, that he liveth.
(p) And here deadly men take tithes; but there he beareth witnessing, that he liveth.
(t) And here men that die receive tithes. But there he receiveth tithes of whom it is witnessed, that he liveth.
(g) And here men that die, receive tithes, but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed, that he liveth.
(k) And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.
- 7:9 (w) And that it is so said, by Abraham also Levi, that took tithes, was tithed;
(p) And that it be said so, by Abraham also Levi, that took tithes, was tithed;
(t) And to say the truth, Levi himself also which receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.
(g) And to say as the thing is, Levi also which receiveth tithes, paid tithes in Abraham.
(k) And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.
- 7:10 (w) and yet he was in his father's loins, when Melchisedec met him.
(p) and yet he was in his father's loins, when Melchisedec met him.
(t) For he was yet in the loins of his father Abraham, when Melchisedech met him.
(g) For he was yet in the loins of his father Abraham, when Melchisedec met him.
(k) For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

- 7:11 (w) Therefore if perfection was by the priesthood of Levi, for under him the people took the law, what yet was it needful, another priest to rise, after the order of Melchisedec, and not to be said after the order of Aaron?
(p) Therefore if perfection was by the priesthood of Levi, for under him the people took the law, what yet was it needful, another priest to rise, by the order of Melchisedec, and not to be said by the order of Aaron?
(t) ¶ If now therefore perfection came by the priesthood of the Levites (for under that priesthood the people received the law) what needed it furthermore that another priest should rise, after the order of Melchisedech, and not after the order of Aaron?
(g) If therefore perfection had been by the Priesthood of the Levites (for under it the Law was established to the people) what needed it furthermore, that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not to be called after the order of Aaron?
(k) If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?
- 7:12 (w) For why when the priesthood is translated, it is needful that also the translation of the law be made.
(p) For why when the priesthood is translated, it is need that also translation of the law be made.
(t) Now no doubt, if the priesthood be translated, then of necessity must the law be translated also.
(g) For if the Priesthood be changed, then of necessity must there be a change of the Law.
(k) For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.
- 7:13 (w) But he in whom these things be said, is of another lineage, of which no man was priest, or ready, to the altar.
(p) But he in whom these things be said, is of another lineage, of which no man was priest to the altar.
(t) ¶ For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth unto [until] another tribe, of which, never man served at the altar.
(g) For he of whom these things are spoken, pertaineth unto another tribe, whereof no man served at the altar.
(k) For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.
- 7:14 (w) Soothly it is openly known, that our Lord is born of Juda, in which lineage Moses spake nothing of priests.
(p) For it is open, that our Lord is born of Juda, in which lineage Moses spake nothing of priests.
(t) For it is evident that our Lord sprung of the tribe of Juda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning priesthood.
(g) For it is evident, that our Lord sprung out of Judah, concerning the which tribe Moses spake nothing, touching the Priesthood.
(k) For it is evident that our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.
- 7:15 (w) And more yet it is known, if after the order of Melchisedec another priest riseth;
(p) And more yet it is known, if by the order of Melchisedec another priest is risen up;
(t) ¶ And it is yet a more evident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another priest,
(g) And it is yet a more evident thing, because that after the similitude of Melchisedec there is risen up another Priest,
(k) And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest,
- 7:16 (w) the which is not made after the law of fleshly commandment, but after virtue of life indissoluble, or that may not be undone.
(p) which is not made by the law of fleshly commandment, but by virtue of life that may not be undone.
(t) which is not made after the law of the carnal commandment: but after the power of the endless life.
(g) Which is not made Priest after the Law of the carnal commandment, but after the power of the endless life.
(k) Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 7:17 (w) Soothly he witnesseth, For thou art a priest into without end, after the order of Melchisedec;
(p) For he witnesseth, That thou art a priest without end, by the order of Melchisedec;
(t) For he testifieth: Thou art a priest forever, after the order of Melchisedech.
(g) For he testifieth thus, Thou art a Priest forever, after the order of Melchisedec.
(k) For he testifieth, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.
- 7:18 (w) that reprovng of the commandment before-going is made, for the unfirmness and unprofit of it.
(p) that reprovng of the commandment before-going is made, for the unfirmness and unprofit of it.
(t) Then the commandment that went afore, is disannulled, because of his weakness and unprofitableness.
(g) For the commandment that went afore, is disannulled, because of the weakness thereof, and unprofitableness.
(k) For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before for the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.
- 7:19 (w) For why the law brought nothing to perfection, but there is a bringing in of a better hope, by which we nigh to God.
(p) For why the law brought nothing to perfection, but there is a bringing in of a better hope, by which we approach to God.
(t) For the law made nothing perfect: but was an introduction of a better hope, by which hope, we draw nigh unto God.
(g) For the Law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in of a better hope made perfect, whereby we draw near unto God.
(k) For the law made nothing perfect, but the bringing in {or, but it was the bringing in} of a better hope did; by the which we draw nigh unto God.
- 7:20 (w) And how great it is, not without swearing that Christ is made priest after the order of Melchisedec;
(p) And how great it is, not without swearing;
(t) ¶ And for this cause it is a better hope, that it was not promised without an oath.
(g) And for as much as it is not without an oath (for these are made Priests without an oath;
(k) And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:
- 7:21 (w) forsooth others be made priests without an oath; but this priest with an oath, by him that said to him, The Lord swore, and it shall not rue him, Thou art a priest into without end, after the order of Melchisedec;
(p) but the others be made priests without an oath; but this priest with an oath, by him that said to him, The Lord swore, and it shall not rue him, Thou art a priest without end, by the order of Melchisedec;
(t) Those priests were made without an oath: but this priest with an oath, by him that said unto him: The Lord sware, and will not repent: Thou art a priest forever after the order of Melchisedech:
(g) But this, he is made with an oath by him that said unto him, The Lord hath sworn, and will not repent, Thou art a Priest forever, after the order of Melchisedec.)
(k) (For those priests were made without an oath {or, without swearing of an oath}; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec:)
- 7:22 (w) in so much Jesus is made better promiser of the better testament.
(p) in so much Jesus is made promiser of the better testament.
(t) And for that cause was Jesus a stablisher of a better testament.
(g) By so much is Jesus made a surety of a better Testament.
(k) By so much was Jesus made a surety of a better testament.
- 7:23 (w) And soothly the others were made many priests, for that they were forbidden by death to dwell;

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) And the others were made many priests, therefore for they were forbidden by death to dwell still;
(t) ¶ And among them many were made priests, because they were not suffered to endure by the reason of death.
(g) And among them many were made Priests, because they were not suffered to endure, by the reason of death.
(k) And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:
- 7:24 (w) but this man, for that he dwelleth into without end, hath an everlasting priesthood.
(p) but this man, for he dwelleth without end, hath an everlasting priesthood.
(t) But this man, because he endureth ever, hath an everlasting priesthood:
(g) But this man, because he endureth ever, hath an everlasting Priesthood.
(k) But this man, because he continueth ever, hath an unchangeable {or, which passeth not from one to another} priesthood.
- 7:25 (w) Wherefore and he may save into without end, coming nigh by himself to God, evermore living to pray for us.
(p) Wherefore also he may save without end, coming nigh by himself to God, and evermore liveth to pray for us.
(t) Wherefore he is able also ever to save them that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth, to make intercession for us.
(g) Wherefore, he is able also perfectly to save them that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.
(k) Wherefore he is able also to save them to the uttermost {or, evermore} that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth to make intercession for them.
- 7:26 (w) Forsooth it became that such a man were bishop to us, holy, innocent, unfiled, parted from sinners, and made higher than heavens;
(p) For it beseeemed that such a man were a bishop to us, holy, innocent, undefouled, clean, separated from sinful men, and made higher than heavens;
(t) ¶ Such an high priest it became [becometh] us to have, which is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than heaven [heavens].
(g) For such a high Priest it became us to have, which is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;
(k) For such an high priest became us, who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher than the heavens;
- 7:27 (w) which hath not need each day, as priests, first for his own guilts to offer sacrifices, and afterward for the people; soothly he did this thing, once offering himself.
(p) which hath not need each day, as priests, first for his own guilts to offer sacrifices, and afterward for the people; for he did this thing in offering himself once.
(t) Which needeth not daily (as yonder high priests) to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's sins. For that did he at once for all, when he offered up himself:
(g) Which needeth not daily as those high Priests to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the peoples, for that did he once, when he offered up himself.
(k) Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, first for his own sins, and then for the people's: for this he did once, when he offered up himself.
- 7:28 (w) And the law ordained men priests having sickness, or frailty; but the word of swearing, which is after the law, ordained the Son perfect into without end.
(p) And the law ordained men priests having frailty; but the word of swearing, which is after the law, ordained the Son perfect without end.

(t) For the law maketh men priests, which have infirmity: but the word of the oath that came since the law, maketh the son priest, which is perfect for evermore.

(g) For the Law maketh men high Priests, which have infirmity, but the word of the oath that was since the Law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated for evermore.

(k) For the law maketh men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, who is consecrated {Gr. perfected} for evermore.

CHAPTER 8

8:1 (w) But a recapitulation on those things that be said. We have such a bishop, that sat on the right half of the seat of greatness in heavens,

(p) But a recapitulation on those things that be said. We have such a bishop, that sat on the right half of the seat of greatness in heavens,

(t) ¶ Of the things which we have spoken, this is the pith: that we have such an high priest that is sitten on the right hand of the seat of majesty in heaven,

(g) Now of the things which we have spoken, this is the sum, that we have such a high Priest, that sitteth at the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens,

(k) Now of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an high priest, who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

8:2 (w) the minister of saints, and of the very tabernacle, that God set, and not man.

(p) the minister of saints, and of the very tabernacle, that God made, and not man.

(t) and is a minister of holy things, and of the very tabernacle, which God pitched, and not man.

(g) And is a minister of the Sanctuary, and of the true Tabernacle which the Lord pight, and not man.

(k) A minister of the sanctuary {or, of holy things}, and of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

8:3 (w) For each bishop is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices; wherefore it is need, and this man, for to have something that he shall offer.

(p) For each bishop is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices; wherefore it is need, that also this bishop have something that he shall offer.

(t) For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity, that this man have somewhat also to offer.

(g) For every high Priest is ordained to offer both gifts and sacrifices; wherefore it was of necessity, that this man should have somewhat also to offer.

(k) For every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

8:4 (w) Therefore if he were on earth, he were not priest, when there were that should offer gifts after the law,

(p) Therefore if he were on earth, he were no priest, when there were that should offer gifts by the law,

(t) For he were not a priest, if he were on the earth where are priests that according to the law offer gifts,

(g) For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing there are Priests that according to the Law offer gifts,

(k) For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that there are priests {or, they are priests} that offer gifts according to the law:

8:5 (w) which serve to the sampler, or figure, and shadow of heavenly things. As it was answered to Moses, when he should make the tabernacle, See, the Lord saith, make all things after the sampler, that is showed to thee in the mount.

(p) which serve to the exemplar and shadow of heavenly things. As it was answered to Moses, when he should end the tabernacle, See, he said, make thou all things by the exemplar, that is showed to thee in the mount.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) which priests serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things: even as the answer of God was given unto Moses when he was about to finish the tabernacle: [For] Take heed (said he) that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee in the mount.

(g) Who serve unto the pattern and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was warned by God when he was about to finish the Tabernacle. See, said he, that thou make all things according to the pattern, shewed to thee in the mount.

(k) Who serve unto the example and shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

8:6 (w) But now he hath gotten a better ministry, by how much and he is a mediator of a better testament, which is confirmed with better promises.

(p) But now he hath gotten a better ministry, by so much as he is a mediator of a better testament, which is confirmed with better promises.

(t) ¶ Now hath he obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the mediator of a better testament, which was made for better promises.

(g) But now our high Priest hath obtained a more excellent office, in as much as he is the Mediator of a better Testament, which is established upon better promises.

(k) But now hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better covenant {or, testament}, which was established upon better promises.

8:7 (w) For if that first had been voided from blame, the place of the second should not have been sought.

(p) For if that first had lacked blame, the place of the second should not have been sought.

(t) For if that first testament had been faultless [such a one that no man could have found fault with it]: then should no place have been sought for the second.

(g) For if that first Testament had been faultless, no place should have been sought for the second.

(k) For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8:8 (w) Forsooth reproving them he saith, Lo! days come, saith the Lord, and I shall make perfect a new testament on the house of Israel, and on the house of Juda;

(p) For he reproving them saith, Lo! days come, saith the Lord, and I shall make perfect a new testament on the house of Israel, and on the house of Juda;

(t) For in rebuking them he saith: Behold the days will come (saith the Lord) and I will finish upon the house of Israel, and upon the house of Judah,

(g) For in rebuking them he saith, Behold, the days will come, saith the Lord, when I shall make with the house of Israel, and with the house of Judah a New Testament;

(k) For finding fault with them, he saith, Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

8:9 (w) not after the testament that I made to their fathers, in the day in which I caught their hand, that I should lead them out of the land of Egypt; for they dwelled not perfectly in my testament, and I have despised them, saith the Lord.

(p) not like the testament that I made to their fathers, in the day in which I caught their hand, that I should lead them out of the land of Egypt; for they dwelled not perfectly in my testament, and I have despised them, saith the Lord.

(t) a new testament: not like the testament that I made with their fathers at that time, when I took them by the hands, to lead them out of the land of Egypt, for they continued not in my testament, and I regarded them not saith the Lord.

(g) Not like the Testament that I made with their fathers, in the day that I took them by the hand, to lead them out of the land of Egypt; for they continued not in my Testament, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

(k) Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

- 8:10 (w) For this is the testament, which I shall dispose to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord, in giving my laws into the souls of them, and into the hearts of them I shall above write them; and I shall be to them into God, and they shall be to me into a people.
(p) But this is the testament, which I shall assign to the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord, in giving my laws into the souls of them, and into the hearts of them I shall above write them; and I shall be to them into a God, and they shall be to me into a people.
(t) ¶ For this is the testament that I will make with the house of Israel: After those days (saith the Lord:) I will put my laws in their minds, and in their hearts, I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.
(g) For this is the Testament that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my Laws in their mind, and in their heart I will write them, and I will be their God, and they shall be my people,
(k) For this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will put {Gr. give} my laws into their mind, and write them in {or, upon} their hearts: and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:
- 8:11 (w) And each man shall not teach his neighbour, and each man his brother, saying, Know thou the Lord; for all men shall know me, from the less unto the more of them.
(p) And each man shall not teach his neighbour, and each man his brother, saying, Know thou the Lord; for all men shall know me, from the least to the more of them.
(t) And they shall not teach, every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying: know the Lord: For they shall know me, from the least to the most of them:
(g) And they shall not teach every man his neighbor and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord, for all shall know me, from the least of them to the greatest of them.
(k) And they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.
- 8:12 (w) For I shall be merciful to the wickedness of them, and now I shall not bethink on the sins of them.
(p) For I shall be merciful to the wickedness of them, and now I shall not bethink on the sins of them.
(t) For I will be merciful over their unrighteousness [iniquities]: and on their sins and on their iniquities [unrighteousness, will I not think any more].
(g) For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and I will remember their sins and their iniquities no more.
(k) For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.
- 8:13 (w) But in saying a new, the former waxed old; and that that is of many days, and waxeth old, is nigh death.
(p) But in saying a new, the former waxed old; and that that is of many days, and waxeth old, is nigh the death.
(t) In that he saith a new testament, he hath abrogate the old. Now that which is disannulled and waxed old, is ready to vanish away.
(g) In that he saith a New Testament, he hath abrogated the old. Now that which is disannulled and waxed old, is ready to vanish away.
(k) In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER 9

- 9:1 (w) Soothly and the former testament had justifying of worship, and holy thing worldly, that is, during for a time.
(p) And the former testament had justifying of worship, and holy thing during for a time.
(t) ¶ That first tabernacle verily had ordinances [justifying], and servings of God, and worldly holiness.
(g) Then the first Testament had also ordinances of religion, and a worldly Sanctuary.
(k) Then verily the first covenant had also ordinances {or, ceremonies} of divine service, and a worldly sanctuary.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 9:2 (w) For the tabernacle was made first, in which were candlesticks, and a board, and putting forth of loaves, which is said holy.
(p) For the tabernacle was made first, in which were candlesticks, and board, and setting forth of loaves, which is said holy.
(t) For there was a fore tabernacle made [For that first tabernacle was made], wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the showbread, which is called holy.
(g) For the first Tabernacle was made, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread, which Tabernacle is called the Holy places.
(k) For there was a tabernacle made; the first, wherein was the candlestick, and the table, and the shewbread; which is called the sanctuary {or, holy}.
- 9:3 (w) And after the veil, the second tabernacle, that is said sanctum sanctorum, that is, holy of holy things;
(p) And after the veil, the second tabernacle, that is said sanctum sanctorum, that is, holy of holy things;
(t) But Within the second veil was there a [the] tabernacle, which is called holiest of all,
(g) And after the second veil was the Tabernacle, which is called the Holiest of all,
(k) And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;
- 9:4 (w) having a golden censer, and the ark of the testament, covered about on each side with gold, in which was a pot of gold having manna, and the rod of Aaron that flourished, and the tables of the testament;
(p) having a golden censer, and the ark of the testament, covered about on each side with gold, in which was a pot of gold having manna, and the rod of Aaron that flowered, and the tables of the testament;
(t) which had the golden censer, and the ark of the testament overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot with manna, and Aaron's rod that sprung, and the tables of the testament.
(g) Which had the golden censer, and the Ark of the Testament overlaid round about with gold, wherein the golden pot, which had Manna, was, and Aaron's rod that had budded, and the tables of the Testament.
(k) Which had the golden censer, and the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot that had manna, and Aaron's rod that budded, and the tables of the covenant;
- 9:5 (w) upon which things were cherubims of glory, shadowing the propitiatory, or mercyable place; of which things it is not now to say by all.
(p) on which things were cherubims of glory, overshadowing the propitiatory; of which things it is not now to say by all.
(t) Over the ark were the cherubim of glory shadowing the seat of grace. Of which things, we will not now speak particularly.
(g) And over the Ark were the glorious Cherubims, shadowing the mercyseat; of which things we will not now speak particularly.
(k) And over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.
- 9:6 (w) But when these were made thus together, priests entered evermore in the former tabernacle, ending the offices of sacraments;
(p) But when these were made thus together, priests entered evermore in the former tabernacle, doing the offices of sacrifices;
(t) ¶ When these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle and [which] executed the service of God:
(g) Now when these things were thus ordained, the Priests went always into the first Tabernacle, and accomplished the service.
(k) Now when these things were thus ordained, the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

- 9:7 (w) but in the second tabernacle, the bishop alone entered once in the year, not without blood, which he offered for his ignorance and the people's.
(p) but in the second tabernacle, the bishop entered once in the year, not without blood, which he offered for his ignorance and the people's.
(t) But Into the second went the high priest alone, once every year: and [but] not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the ignorance of the people:
(g) But into the second went the high Priest alone, once every year, not without blood which he offered for himself, and for the ignorance's of the people.
(k) But into the second went the high priest alone once every year, not without blood, which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:
- 9:8 (w) The Holy Ghost signifying this thing, that not yet the way of saints was opened, while the former tabernacle had state.
(p) For the Holy Ghost signified this thing, that not yet the way of saints was opened, while the former tabernacle had state.
(t) Wherewith The holy ghost this signifying, that the way of holy things was not yet opened, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing,
(g) Whereby the holy Ghost this signified, that the way into the Holiest of all was not yet opened, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing,
(k) The Holy Ghost this signifying, that the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:
- 9:9 (w) Which parable is of this present time, by which also gifts and sacrifices be offered, which may not make a man serving perfect by conscience,
(p) Which parable is of this present time, by which also gifts and sacrifices be offered, which be not able to make a man serving perfect by conscience,
(t) which was a similitude for the time then present [of this present time], and in which were [are] offered gifts and sacrifices, that could [which can] not make them that minister perfect, as pertaining to the conscience,
(g) Which was a figure for that present time, wherein were offered gifts and sacrifices that could not make holy, concerning the conscience, him that did the service,
(k) Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience;
- 9:10 (w) only in meats, and drinks, and diverse washings, and rightwisenesses of flesh, put unto the time of correction.
(p) only in meats, and drinks, and diverse washings, and rightwisenesses of flesh, that were set to the time of correction.
(t) with only meats [meats only] and drinks, and diverse washings, and justifying of the flesh, which were ordained until the time of reformation.
(g) Which only stood in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal rites, which were enjoined, until the time of reformation.
(k) Which stood only in meats and drinks, and divers washings, and carnal ordinances {or, rites, or, ceremonies}, imposed on them until the time of reformation.
- 9:11 (w) Forsooth Christ being a bishop of goods to come, by a larger and perfecter tabernacle, not made by hand, that is to say, not of this making,
(p) But Christ being a bishop of goods to coming, entered by a larger and perfecter tabernacle, not made by hand, that is to say, not of this making,

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

- (t) ¶ But Christ being an [the] high priest of good things to come, came by a greater, and a more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands: that is to say, not of this manner building,
- (g) But Christ being come a high Priest of good things to come, by a greater and a more perfect Tabernacle, not made with hands, that is, not of this building,
- (k) But Christ being come an high priest of good things to come, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;
- 9:12 (w) neither by blood of goat bucks, or calves, but by his own blood, entered once into holy things, when everlasting redemption was found.
- (p) neither by blood of goat bucks, or of calves, but by his own blood, entered once into the holy things, that were found by an everlasting redemption.
- (t) neither by the blood of goats, and calves: but by his own blood, we [he] entered once for all into the holy place, and found eternal redemption.
- (g) Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood entered he in once unto the holy place, and obtained eternal redemption for us.
- (k) Neither by the blood of goats and calves, but by his own blood he entered in once into the holy place, having obtained eternal redemption for us.
- 9:13 (w) For if the blood of goat bucks, and of bulls, and the ashes of a cow calf sprinkled, halloweth unclean men to the cleansing of flesh,
- (p) For if the blood of goat bucks, and of bulls, and the ashes of a cow calf sprinkled, halloweth unclean men to the cleansing of flesh,
- (t) For if the blood of oxen, and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer, when it was sprinkled, purified the unclean, as touching the purifying of the flesh:
- (g) For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of a heifer, sprinkling them that are unclean, sanctifieth as touching the purifying of the flesh,
- (k) For if the blood of bulls and of goats, and the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:
- 9:14 (w) how much more the blood of Christ, which by the Holy Ghost offered himself unwemmed to God, shall cleanse our conscience from dead works, for to serve to living God?
- (p) how much more the blood of Christ, which by the Holy Ghost offered himself unwemmed to God, shall cleanse our conscience from dead works, to serve God that liveth?
- (t) How much more shall the blood of Christ (which through the eternal spirit, offered himself without spot to God) purge your [our] consciences from dead works, for to serve the living God?
- (g) How much more shall the blood of Christ which through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot to God, purge your conscience from dead works, to serve the living God?
- (k) How much more shall the blood of Christ, who through the eternal Spirit offered himself without spot {or, fault} to God, purge your conscience from dead works to serve the living God?
- 9:15 (w) And therefore he is a mediator of the new testament, that death falling between, into redemption of the trespassings that were under the former testament, they that be called take the promise of everlasting heritage.
- (p) And therefore he is a mediator of the new testament, that by death falling betwixt, into redemption of the trespassings that were under the former testament, they that be called take the promise of everlasting heritage.
- (t) ¶ And for this cause is he the mediator of the new testament, (that through death which chanced for the redemption of those transgressions that were in the first testament) [that as soon (as his death was fulfilled for the redemption of those transgressions that were in the first testament)] they which were called, might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.
- (g) And for this cause is he the Mediator of the New Testament, that through death which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were in the former Testament, they which were called, might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) And for this cause he is the mediator of the new testament, that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

9:16 (w) For where a testament is, it is need, that the death of the testament maker come between.

(p) For where a testament is, it is need, that the death of the testament maker come betwixt.

(t) For wheresoever is a testament, there must also be the death of him that maketh the testament.

(g) For where a Testament is, there must be the death of him that made the Testament.

(k) For where a testament is, there must also of necessity be {or, be brought in} the death of the testator.

9:17 (w) For a testament is confirmed in dead men; else it is (of) no worth, while he liveth, that made the testament.

(p) For a testament is confirmed in dead men; else it is not worth, while he liveth, that made the testament.

(t) For the testament taketh authority when men are dead: For it is of no value as long as he that made it is alive.

(g) For the Testament is confirmed when men are dead, for it is yet of no force as long as he that made it, is alive.

(k) For a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

9:18 (w) Wherefore neither the first testament was hallowed without blood.

(p) Wherefore neither the first testament was hallowed without blood.

(t) For which cause also, neither that first testament was ordained without blood.

(g) Wherefore neither was the first ordained without blood.

(k) Whereupon neither the first testament was dedicated {or, purified} without blood.

9:19 (w) For when each commandment of the law was read of Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves, and of bucks of goats, with water, and red wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both that book and all the people,

(p) For when each commandment of the law was read of Moses to all the people, he took the blood of calves, and of bucks of goats, with water, and red wool, and hyssop, and besprinkled both that book and all the people,

(t) For when all the commandments were read of Moses unto all the people, he took the blood of calves, and of goats, with water and purple wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

(g) For when Moses had spoken every precept to the people, according to the Law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water and purple wool and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

(k) For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves and of goats, with water, and scarlet {or, purple} wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

9:20 (w) saying, This is the blood of the testament, that God commanded to you.

(p) and said, This is the blood of the testament, that God commanded to you.

(t) saying this is the blood of the testament, which God hath appointed unto you.

(g) Saying, This is the blood of the Testament, which God hath appointed unto you.

(k) Saying, This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

9:21 (w) Also he sprinkled with blood the tabernacle, and all the vessels of ministry, or service, in like manner.

(p) Also he sprinkled with blood the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the service in like manner.

(t) Moreover, he sprinkled the tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministering vessels.

(g) Moreover, he sprinkled likewise the Tabernacle with blood also, and all the ministering vessels.

(k) Moreover he sprinkled with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

9:22 (w) And almost all things be cleansed in blood by the law; and without shedding of blood remission of sins is not made.

(p) And almost all things be cleansed in blood by the law; and without shedding of blood remission of sins is not made.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) And almost all things, are by the law, purged [according to the law, are cleansed] with blood, and without effusion of blood, is no remission.
- (g) And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.
- (k) And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission.
- 9:23 (w) Therefore it is need, that the samplers of heavenly things be cleansed with these things; but those heavenly things with better sacrifices than these.
- (p) Therefore it is need, that the exemplars of heavenly things be cleansed with these things; but those heavenly things with better sacrifices than these.
- (t) ¶ It is then need that the similitudes of heavenly things, be purified with such things: but the heavenly things themselves are purified with better sacrifices than are those [these].
- (g) It was then necessary, that the similitudes of heavenly things should be purified with such things, but the heavenly things themselves are purified with better sacrifices than are these.
- (k) It was therefore necessary that the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.
- 9:24 (w) Forsooth Jesus entered not into holy things made by hands, the which be samplers of very things, but into heavens itself, that he appear now to the cheer, or face, of God for us;
- (p) For Jesus entered not into holy things made by hands, that be exemplars of very things, but into heaven itself, that he appear now to the face of God for us;
- (t) For Christ is not entered into the holy places, that are made with hands, which are but similitudes of true things: but is entered into very heaven, for to appear now in the sight of God for us.
- (g) For Christ is not entered into the holy places that are made with hands, which are similitudes of the true Sanctuary, but is entered into the very heaven, to appear now in the sight of God for us;
- (k) For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us:
- 9:25 (w) nor that he offer himself oft, as the bishop entered into holy things by all years in alien blood,
- (p) neither that he offer himself oft, as the bishop entered into holy things by all years in alien blood,
- (t) Not to offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with strange blood:
- (g) Not that he should offer himself often, as the high Priest entered into the Holy place every year with others blood,
- (k) Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;
- 9:26 (w) else it behooved him oft to suffer from the beginning of the world; but now once in the ending of the worlds, to the destruction of sin by his sacrifice he appeared.
- (p) else it behooved him to suffer oft from the beginning of the world; but now once in the ending of the worlds, to the destruction of sin by his sacrifice he appeared.
- (t) for then must he have often suffered since the world began: But now in the end of the world, hath he appeared once [for all], to put sin to flight, by the offering up of himself.
- (g) (For then must he have often suffered since the foundation of the world) but now in the end of the world hath he appeared once to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.
- (k) For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now once in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.
- 9:27 (w) And as it is ordained to men, once to die, but after this is the doom,
- (p) And as it is ordained to men, once to die, but after this is the doom,
- (t) And as it is appointed unto men that they shall once die, and then cometh the judgment,

(g) And as it is appointed unto men that they shall once die, and after that cometh the judgment;

(k) And as it is appointed unto men once to die, but after this the judgment:

9:28 (w) so Christ was offered once, for to void, or do away, the sins of many men; the second time he shall appear without sin to men that abide him into health.

(p) so Christ was offered once, to void the sins of many men; the second time he shall appear without sin to men that abide him into health.

(t) even so Christ was once offered to take away the sins of many, and unto them that look for him, shall he appear again, without sin unto salvation [their health].

(g) So Christ was once offered to take away the sins of many, and unto them that look for him, shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

(k) So Christ was once offered to bear the sins of many; and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER 10

10:1 (w) Forsooth the law having shadow of goods to come, not that image of things, by all years by those same hosts, which they offer without ceasing, never may make men coming nigh perfect;

(p) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, not that image of things, may never make men approaching perfect by those same sacrifices, which they offer without ceasing by all years;

(t) ¶ For the law which hath but the shadow of good things to come, and not the things in their own fashion, can never with the sacrifices which they offer year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

(g) For the Law having the shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices, which they offer year by year continually, sanctify the comers thereunto.

(k) For the law having a shadow of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto perfect.

10:2 (w) else they should have ceased to be offered, for as much as the worshippers cleansed once, had no conscience of sin furthermore.

(p) else they should have ceased to be offered, for as much as the worshippers cleansed once, had not furthermore conscience of sin.

(t) For would not then those sacrifices have ceased to have been offered? Because that the offerors once purged, should have had no more consciences of sins.

(g) For would they not then have ceased to have been offered, because that the offerers once purged, should have had no more conscience of sins?

(k) For then would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

10:3 (w) But in them by oft offering mind of sins is made by all years.

(p) But in them mind of sins is made by all years.

(t) Nevertheless in those sacrifices is there mention made of sins every year.

(g) But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again of sins every year.

(k) But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

10:4 (w) For it is impossible that sins be done away by blood of bulls, and of bucks of goats.

(p) For it is impossible that sins be done away by blood of bulls, and of bucks of goats.

(t) For it is impossible that the blood of oxen, and of goats should take away sins.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) For it is impossible that the blood of bulls and goats should take away sins.
(k) For it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.
- 10:5 (w) Therefore he entering into the world, saith, Thou wouldest not sacrifice and offering; but thou hast shaped a body to me;
(p) Therefore he entering into the world, saith, Thou wouldest not sacrifice and offering; but thou hast shaped a body to me;
(t) ¶ Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith: Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not have: but a body hast thou ordained me,
(g) Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou ordained me.
(k) Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he saith, Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body hast thou prepared me {or, thou hast fitted me}:
- 10:6 (w) and burnt sacrifices also for sin pleased not to thee.
(p) burnt sacrifices also for sin pleased not to thee.
(t) in sacrifices and sin offerings thou hast no lust [holocausts and sacrifice for sin thou hast not allowed].
(g) In burnt offerings, and sin offerings thou hast had no pleasure.
(k) In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure.
- 10:7 (w) Then I said, Lo! I come; in the beginning of the book it is written of me, that I do thy will, thou God.
(p) Then I said, Lo! I come; in the beginning of the book it is written of me, that I do thy will, God.
(t) Then I said: Lo I come, in the chiefest [beginning] of the book it is written of me, that I should do [fulfill] thy will, O God.
(g) Then I said, Lo, I come (In the beginning of the book it is written of me) that I should do thy will, O God.
(k) Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God.
- 10:8 (w) He above saying, or before, For thou wouldest not hosts, and offerings, and burnt sacrifices, for sin, nor those things be pleasant to thee, which be offered by the law,
(p) He saying before, That thou wouldest not sacrifices, and offerings, and burnt sacrifices for sin, nor those things be pleasant to thee, which be offered by the law,
(t) Above when he had said [sayeth] sacrifice, and offering, and burnt sacrifices [holocausts], and sin offerings [sacrifice for sin], thou wouldest not have, neither hast allowed (which yet are offered by the law)
(g) Above, when he said, Sacrifice and offering, and burnt offerings, and sin offerings thou wouldest not have, neither hadst pleasure therein (which are offered by the Law.)
(k) Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;
- 10:9 (w) then I said, Lo! I come, that I do thy will, God. He doeth away the first, that he make steadfast the second.
(p) then I said, Lo! I come, that I do thy will, God. He doeth away the first, that he make steadfast the second.
(t) and then [then he] said: Lo I come [am ready] to do thy will O God: he taketh away the first to establish the latter.
(g) Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God, he taketh away the first, that he may stablish the second.
(k) Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.
- 10:10 (w) In which will we be hallowed by the offering of the body of Christ Jesus once.
(p) In which will we be hallowed by the offering of the body of Christ Jesus once.
(t) By the which will we are sanctified, by the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) By the which will we are sanctified, even by the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once made.
(k) By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all.
- 10:11 (w) And soothly each priest is ready each day ministering, and oft times offering the same hosts, which may never do away sins.
(p) And each priest is ready ministering each day, and oft times offering the same sacrifices, which be never able to do away sins.
(t) ¶ And every priest is ready daily ministering, and often times offereth one manner of offering, which can never take away sins:
(g) And every Priest standeth daily ministering, and oft times offereth one manner of offering, which can never take away sins;
(k) And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins:
- 10:12 (w) But this man offering one sacrifice for sins, for evermore sitteth on the right half of God the Father;
(p) But this man offering one sacrifice for sins, for evermore sitteth in the right half of God the Father;
(t) but this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, sat him down forever on the right hand of God,
(g) But this man after he had offered one sacrifice for sins, sitteth forever at the right hand of God,
(k) But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God;
- 10:13 (w) from thenceforth abiding, till his enemies be put a stool under his feet.
(p) from thenceforth abiding, till his enemies be put a stool of his feet.
(t) and from henceforth tarryeth till his foes be made his footstool.
(g) And from henceforth tarrieth, till his enemies be made his footstool.
(k) From henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool.
- 10:14 (w) For by one offering he made perfect for ever hallowed men.
(p) For by one offering he made perfect for ever hallowed men.
(t) For with one offering hath he made perfect forever them that are sanctified.
(g) For with one offering hath he consecrated forever them that are sanctified.
(k) For by one offering he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.
- 10:15 (w) And the Holy Ghost witnesseth to us; forsooth afterward he said,
(p) And the Holy Ghost witnesseth to us; for after that he said,
(t) And the holy ghost also beareth us record of this, even when he told before:
(g) For the holy Ghost also beareth us record; for after that he had said before,
(k) Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,
- 10:16 (w) This is the testament, which I shall witness to them after those days, saith the Lord, in giving my laws in the hearts of them, and in the souls of them I shall above write them;
(p) This is the testament, which I shall witness to them after those days, the Lord saith, in giving my laws in the hearts of them, and in the souls of them I shall above write them;
(t) This is the testament that I will make unto them after those days saith the Lord. [And] I will put my laws in their hearts, and in their mind [minds] I will write them,
(g) This is the Testament that I will make unto them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my Laws in their heart, and in their minds I will write them;

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

10:17 (w) and now I shall no more think on the sins and wickednesses of them.

(p) and now I shall no more think on the sins and the wickedness of them.

(t) and their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

(g) And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

(k) And their {or, Then he said}, sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

10:18 (w) And where remission of these is, now is there none offering for sin.

(p) And where remission of these is, now is there none offering for sin.

(t) And where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for sin.

(g) Now where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for sin.

(k) Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

10:19 (w) Therefore, brethren, having trust into the entering of holy things in the blood of Christ,

(p) Therefore, brethren, having trust into the entering of holy things in the blood of Christ,

(t) ¶ Seeing brethren that by the means of the blood of Jesus, we may be bold to enter into that holy place,

(g) Seeing therefore, brethren, that by the blood of Jesus we may be bold to enter into the Holy place,

(k) Having therefore, brethren, boldness {or, liberty} to enter into the holiest by the blood of Jesus,

10:20 (w) which he hallowed to us a new way, and living by a veil, or covering, that is to say, his flesh,

(p) which hallowed to us a new way, and living by the covering, that is to say, his flesh,

(t) by the new and living way, which he hath prepared for us, through the veil, that is to say by his flesh.

(g) By the new and living way, which he hath prepared for us, through the veil, that is, his flesh;

(k) By a new and living way, which he hath consecrated {or, new made} for us, through the veil, that is to say, his flesh;

10:21 and (w) we having the great priest upon the house of God,

(p) and we having the great priest on the house of God,

(t) And seeing also that we have an high priest which is ruler over the house of God,

(g) And seeing we have a high Priest, which is over the house of God,

(k) And having an high priest over the house of God;

10:22 (w) nigh we with very heart in the plenty of faith; and be our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with clean water,

(p) approach we with very heart in the plenty of faith; and be our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with clean water,

(t) let us draw nigh with a true heart in a full faith sprinkled in our hearts, from an evil conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water,

(g) Let us draw near with a true heart in assurance of faith, sprinkled in our hearts from an evil conscience, and washed in our bodies with pure water;

(k) Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water.

10:23 (w) hold we the confession of our hope unbowing, unpliant; for he is true that hath made the promise.

(p) and hold we the confession of our hope, bowing to no side; for he is true that hath made the promise.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) and let us keep the profession of our hope, without wavering (for he is faithful that promised)
(g) Let us keep the profession of our hope, without wavering, (for he is faithful that promised.)
(k) Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; (for he is faithful that promised;)
- 10:24 (w) And behold we together in the stirring of charity and of good works;
(p) And behold we together in the stirring of charity and of good works;
(t) and let us consider one another to provoke unto love, and to good works:
(g) And let us consider one another, to provoke unto love, and to good works,
(k) And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works:
- 10:25 (w) not forsaking our gathering together, as it is of custom of some men, but counseling them, and by so much the more, by how much ye shall see the day nighing.
(p) not forsaking our gathering together, as it is the custom to some men, but comforting, and by so much the more, by how much ye see the day approaching.
(t) and let us not forsake the fellowship that we have among ourselves, as the manner of some is: but let us exhort one another, and that so much the more, because ye see that the day draweth nigh.
(g) Not forsaking the fellowship that we have among ourselves, as the manner of some is, but let us exhort one another, and that so much the more, because ye see that the day draweth near.
(k) Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching.
- 10:26 (w) Forsooth to us sinning willfully, after the knowing of truth taken, now an host for sins is not left.
(p) For why now a sacrifice for sins is not left to us, that sin willfully, after that we have taken the knowing of truth.
(t) ¶ For if we sin willingly after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins:
(g) For if we sin willingly after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,
(k) For if we sin wilfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,
- 10:27 (w) For why some abiding of doom is dreadful, and the following of fire, which shall waste adversaries.
(p) For why some abiding of doom is dreadful, and the following of fire, which shall waste adversaries.
(t) but a fearful looking for judgment, and violent fire, which shall devour the adversaries.
(g) But a fearful looking for of judgment, and violent fire, which shall devour the adversaries.
(k) But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.
- 10:28 (w) Who that breaketh Moses' law, dieth without any mercy, by two or three witnesses;
(p) Who that breaketh Moses' law, dieth without any mercy, by two or three witnesses;
(t) He that despiseth Moses' law, dieth without mercy under two or three witnesses.
(g) He that despiseth Moses' Law, dieth without mercy under two, or three witnesses;
(k) He that despised Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses:
- 10:29 (w) how much more guess ye, him to deserve worse torments, which defouleth the Son of God, and holdeth the blood of the testament polluted, in which he is hallowed, and shall do wrong, or despite, to the Spirit of grace?
(p) how much more guess ye, that he deserveth worse torments, which defouleth the Son of God, and holdeth the blood of the testament polluted, in which he is hallowed, and doeth despite to the Spirit of grace?

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye shall he be counted worthy, which treadeth under foot the son of God: and counteth the blood of the testament as an unholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and doth dishonor to the spirit of grace.

(g) Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye shall he be worthy, which treadeth under foot the Son of God, and counteth the blood of the Testament as an unholy thing, wherewith he was sanctified, and doeth despite the Spirit of grace?

(k) Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

10:30 (w) For we know him that said, To me vengeance, and I shall yield. And again, For the Lord shall deem his people.

(p) For we know him that said, To me vengeance, and I shall yield. And again, For the Lord shall deem his people.

(t) For we know him that hath said, vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense saith the Lord. And again: the Lord shall judge his people.

(g) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

(k) For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, The Lord shall judge his people.

10:31 (w) It is fearful to fall into the hands of living God.

(p) It is fearedful to fall into the hands of God living.

(t) It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

(g) It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

(k) It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

10:32 (w) And have ye mind on the former days, in which ye lightened sustained great strife, or fight, of passions.

(p) And have ye mind on the former days, in which ye were lightened, and suffered great strife of passions.

(t) ¶ Call to remembrance the days that are passed in the which, after ye had received light, ye endured [abode] a great fight in adversities,

(g) Now call to remembrance the days that are passed, in the which, after ye had received light, ye endured a great fight in afflictions,

(k) But call to remembrance the former days, in which, after ye were illuminated, ye endured a great fight of afflictions;

10:33 (w) And soothly in the tother ye were made a spectacle by reproofs and tribulations; in the tother forsooth ye be made fellows of men living so.

(p) And in the tother ye were made a spectacle by shames and tribulations; in another ye were made fellows of men living so.

(t) partly while all men wondered and gazed at you for the shame and tribulation that was done unto you, and partly while ye became companions of them which so passed their time.

(g) Partly while ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions, and partly while ye became companions of them which were so tossed to and fro.

(k) Partly, whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst ye became companions of them that were so used.

10:34 (w) For also to bound men ye had compassion, and ye received with joy the raven of your goods, knowing you to have a better and dwelling substance.

(p) For also to bound men ye had compassion, and ye received with joy the robbing of your goods, knowing that ye have a better and a dwelling substance.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) For ye suffered also with my bonds, and took a worth the spoiling of your goods, and that with gladness, knowing [remembering] in yourselves how that ye had in heaven a better, and an enduring substance.

(g) For both ye sorrowed with me for my bonds, and suffered with joy the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves how that ye have in heaven a better, and an enduring substance.

(k) For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in yourselves {or, that ye have in [or, for] yourselves} that ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

10:35 (w) Therefore do not ye lose your trust, which hath great rewarding.

(p) Therefore do not ye lose your trust, which hath great rewarding.

(t) Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great reward to recompense.

(g) Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath great recompense of reward.

(k) Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.

10:36 (w) For patience is needful to you, that ye doing the will of God, bring again the promise.

(p) For patience is needful to you, that ye do the will of God, and bring again the promise.

(t) For ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

(g) For ye have need of patience, that after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

(k) For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise.

10:37 (w) For yet a little, and he that is to come shall come, and he shall not tarry.

(p) For yet a little, and he that is to come shall come, and he shall not tarry.

(t) For yet a very little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry:

(g) For yet a very little while, and he that shall come, will come, and will not tarry.

(k) For yet a little while, and he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

10:38 (w) For my just man liveth of faith; that if he withdraweth himself, he shall not please to my soul.

(p) For my just man liveth of faith; that if he withdraweth himself, he shall not please to my soul.

(t) But the just shall live by faith. And if he withdraw himself, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

(g) Now the just shall live by faith; but if any withdraw himself, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

(k) Now the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

10:39 (w) But we be not the sons of withdrawing away into perdition, but of faith into the getting of soul.

(p) But we be not the sons of withdrawing away into perdition, but of faith into getting of soul.

(t) We are not which withdraw ourselves unto damnation, but pertain to faith, to the winning of the soul [for to win our souls].

(g) But we are not they which withdraw ourselves unto perdition, but follow faith unto the conservation of the soul.

(k) But we are not of them who draw back unto perdition; but of them that believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER 11

11:1 (w) Forsooth faith is the substance of things to be hoped, an argument, or certainty, of things not appearing.

(p) But faith is the substance of things that be to be hoped, and an argument of things not appearing.

(t) ¶ Faith is a sure confidence of things which are hoped for, and a certainty of things which are not seen.

(g) Now faith is the ground of things which are hoped for, and the evidence of things which are not seen.

(k) Now faith is the substance {or, ground, or, confidence} of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 11:2 (w) And in this faith old men have gotten witnessing.
(p) And in this faith old men have gotten witnessing.
(t) By it the elders were well reported of.
(g) For by it our elders were well reported of.
(k) For by it the elders obtained a good report.
- 11:3 (w) By faith we understand the worlds to be shaped, or made, by God's word, that visible things were made of invisible things.
(p) By faith we understand that the worlds were made by God's word, that visible things were made of invisible things.
(t) Through faith we understand that the world was ordained, by the word of God: And that things which are seen, were made of things which are not seen [That by the means of things which appear, things which are invisible might be known].
(g) Through faith we understand that the world was ordained by the word of God, so that the things which we see, are not made of things which did appear.
(k) Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.
- 11:4 (w) By faith Abel offered full much more host, or sacrifice, to God than Cain, by which he got witnessing to be just, God bearing witnessing to his gifts; and by that faith he dead speaketh yet.
(p) By faith Abel offered a much more sacrifice than Cain to God, by which he got witnessing to be just, for God bare witnessing to his gifts; and by that faith he dead speaketh yet.
(t) By faith Abel offered unto God a more plenteous sacrifice than Cain: by which, he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by which also he being dead, yet speaketh.
(g) By faith Abel offered unto God a greater sacrifice than Cain, by the which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts, by the which faith also he being dead, yet speaketh.
(k) By faith Abel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead yet speaketh {or, is yet spoken of}.
- 11:5 (w) By faith Enoch was translated, that he should not see death; and he was not found, for the Lord translated him. For before the translation he had witnessing that he pleased God.
(p) By faith Enoch was translated, that he should not see death; and he was not found, for the Lord translated him. For before translation he had witnessing that he pleased God.
(t) ¶ By faith was Enoch translated that he should not see death: neither was he found: for God had taken him away. Before he was taken away, he was reported of [obtained record], that he had pleased God:
(g) By faith was Enoch taken away, that he should not see death; neither was he found, for God had taken him away; for before he was taken away, he was reported of, that he had pleased God.
(k) By faith Enoch was translated that he should not see death; and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.
- 11:6 (w) And it is impossible to please God without faith. For it behooveth that a man coming to God, believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of men that seek him.
(p) And it is impossible to please God without faith. For it behooveth that a man coming to God, believe that he is, and that he is rewarder of men that seek him.
(t) but without faith it is impossible to please him. For he that cometh to God, must believe that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek him.
(g) But without faith it is impossible to please him, for he that cometh to God, must believe that God is, and that he is a rewarder of them that seek him.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

11:7 (w) By faith Noah, an answer taken of these things that yet were not seen, dreading shaped an ark, or ship, into the health of his house; by which he condemned the world, and is ordained heir of rightwiseness, which is by faith.

(p) By faith Noah dreaded, through answer taken of these things that yet were not seen, and shaped a ship into the health of his house; by which he condemned the world, and is ordained heir of rightwiseness, which is by faith.

(t) ¶ By faith Noah honored God, after that he was warned of things which were not seen, and prepared the ark to the saving of his household, through the which ark he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which cometh by faith.

(g) By faith Noah being warned of God of the things which were as yet not seen, moved with reverence, prepared the Ark to the saving of his household, through the which Ark he condemned the world, and was made heir of the righteousness, which is by faith.

(k) By faith Noah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, moved with fear {or, being wary}, prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of the righteousness which is by faith.

11:8 (w) By faith he that is called Abraham, obeyed to go out into a place, which he should take into heritage; and he went out, not witting whither he should go.

(p) By faith he that is called Abraham, obeyed to go out into a place, which he should take into heritage; and he went out, not witting whither he should go.

(t) ¶ By faith Abraham, when he was called obeyed to go out into a place, which he should afterward receive to inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he should go.

(g) By faith Abraham, when he was called, obeyed God, to go out into a place, which he should afterward receive for inheritance, and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

(k) By faith Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

11:9 (w) By faith he dwelt in the land of promise, as in an alien land, dwelling in little houses with Isaac and Jacob, even-heirs of the same promise.

(p) By faith he dwelt in the land of promise, as in an alien land, dwelling in little houses with Isaac and Jacob, even-heirs of the same promise.

(t) ¶ By faith he removed into the land that was promised him, as into a strange country, and dwelt in tabernacles: and so did Isaac, and Jacob, heirs with him of the same promise.

(g) By faith he abode in the land of promise, as in a strange country, as one that dwelt in tents with Isaac and Jacob heirs with him of the same promise.

(k) By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, dwelling in tabernacles with Isaac and Jacob, the heirs with him of the same promise:

11:10 (w) For he abode a city having foundations, whose craftsman and maker is God.

(p) For he abode a city having foundations, whose craftsman and maker is God.

(t) For he looked for a city having a foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

(g) For he looked for a city having a foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

(k) For he looked for a city which hath foundations, whose builder and maker is God.

11:11 (w) By faith also that Sara barren, took virtue in conceiving of seed, yea, against the time of age; for she believed him true, that had promised.

(p) By faith also that Sara barren, took virtue in conceiving of seed, yea, against the time of age; for she believed him true, that had promised.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ Through faith Sara also received strength to be with child, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful which had promised.
- (g) Through faith Sarah also received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful which had promised.
- (k) Through faith also Sara herself received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised.
- 11:12 (w) For which thing, and of one, and him nigh dead, men be born as stars of heaven in multitude, and as gravel, or sand, that is at the seaside unnumerable.
- (p) For which thing of one, and yet nigh dead, there were born as stars of heaven in multitude, and as gravel that is at the seaside out of number.
- (t) ¶ And therefore sprang there of one (and of one which was as good as dead) so many in multitude, as the stars of the sky, and as the sand of the sea shore which is innumerable.
- (g) And therefore sprang thereof one, even of one which was dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand of the seashore which is innumerable.
- (k) Therefore sprang there even of one, and him as good as dead, so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.
- 11:13 (w) By faith all these be dead, when the promises were not taken, but they beholding them afar, and greeting them well, and acknowledged that they were pilgrims, and harboured men on the earth.
- (p) By faith all these be dead, when the promises were not taken, but they beheld them afar, and greeting them well, and acknowledged that they were pilgrims, and harboured men on the earth.
- (t) ¶ And they all died in faith, and received not the promises: but saw them afar off, and believed them, and saluted them: and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.
- (g) All these died in faith, and received not the promises, but saw them afar off, and believed them, and received them thankfully, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.
- (k) These all died in faith {Gr. according to faith}, not having received the promises, but having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.
- 11:14 (w) And they that say these things, signify that they seek a country.
- (p) And they that say these things, signify that they seek a country.
- (t) They that say such things, declare that they seek a country.
- (g) For they that say such things, declare plainly, that they seek a country.
- (k) For they that say such things declare plainly that they seek a country.
- 11:15 (w) And forsooth if they had mind of that, of which they went out, soothly they had time of turning again;
- (p) If they had had mind of that, of which they went out, they had time of turning again;
- (t) Also if they had been mindful of that country, from whence they came out, they had leisure to have returned again.
- (g) And if they had been mindful of that country, from whence they came out, they had leisure to have returned.
- (k) And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned.
- 11:16 (w) but now they desire a better, that is to say, heavenly. Therefore God is not confounded, or shamed, to be called the God of them; for he made ready to them a city.
- (p) but now they desire a better, that is to say, heavenly. Therefore God is not confounded to be called the God of them; for he made ready to them a city.
- (t) But now they desire a better, that is to say a heavenly [celestial]. Wherefore God is not ashamed of them, even to be called their God: for he hath prepared for them a city.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

(g) God providing a better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.
(k) God having provided {or, foreseen} some better thing for us, that they without us should not be made perfect.

CHAPTER 12

- 12:1 (w) Therefore and we that have so great a cloud of witnesses put to us, do we away all charge, and sin standing about us, and by patience run we to the battle purposed to us,
(p) Therefore we that have so great a cloud of witnesses put to, do we away all charge, and sin standing about us, and by patience run we to the battle purposed to us,
(t) ¶ Wherefore let us also (seeing that we are encompassed with so great a multitude of witnesses) lay away all that presseth [us] down, and the sin that hangeth on [us], and let us run with patience, unto the battle that is set before us,
(g) Wherefore, let us also, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, cast away everything that presseth down, and the sin that hangeth so fast on, let us run with patience the race that is set before us,
(k) Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,
- 12:2 (w) beholding into the maker of faith, and the perfect ender, Jesus; which when joy was purposed to him, suffered the cross, and despised confusion, and sitteth on the right half of the seat of God.
(p) beholding into the maker of faith, and the perfect ender, Jesus; which when joy was purposed to him, he suffered the cross, and despised confusion, and sitteth on the right half of the seat of God.
(t) looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, which for the joy that was set before him, abode the cross, and despised the shame, and is set down on the right hand of the throne of God.
(g) Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him, endured the cross, and despised the shame, and is set at the right hand of the throne of God.
(k) Looking unto Jesus the author {or, beginner} and finisher of our faith; who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.
- 12:3 (w) Forsooth bethink ye on him that sustained such against-saying of sinful men against himself, that ye be not made weary, failing in your souls.
(p) And bethink ye on him that suffered such gainsaying of sinful men against himself, that ye be not made weary, failing in your souls.
(t) Consider therefore how that he endured such speaking against him of sinners, lest ye should be wearied and faint in your minds.
(g) Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against of sinners, lest ye should be wearied and faint in your minds.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.
- 12:4 (w) For ye against-stood not yet unto blood, fighting against sin.
(p) For ye against-stood not yet unto blood, fighting against sin.
(t) For ye have not yet resisted unto bloodshedding, striving against sin.
(g) Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.
(k) Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.
- 12:5 (w) And ye have forgotten the comfort that speaketh to you as to sons, saying, My son, do not thou despise the discipline of the Lord, neither be thou made weary, the while thou art chastised of him.
(p) And ye have forgotten the comfort that speaketh to you as to sons, and saith, My son, do not thou despise the teaching of the Lord, neither be thou made weary, the while thou art chastised of him.
(t) And ye have forgotten the consolation which speaketh unto you, as unto children: My son despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him:
(g) And ye have forgotten the consolation, which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.
(k) And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:
- 12:6 (w) Forsooth whomever the Lord loveth he chastiseth; forsooth he scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.
(p) For the Lord chastiseth him that he loveth; he beateth every son that he receiveth.
(t) For whom the Lord loveth, him he chasteneth: yea, and he scourgeth every son that he receiveth.
(g) For whom the Lord loveth, he chasteneth, and he scourgeth every son that he receiveth;
(k) For whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.
- 12:7 (w) Last ye therefore in discipline; God offereth him to you as to sons. For what son is it, whom the father chastiseth not?
(p) Abide ye still in chastising; God proffereth him(self) to you as to sons. For what son is it, whom the father chastiseth not?
(t) ¶ If ye [shall] endure chastening, God offereth himself unto you, as unto sons. What son is that whom the father chasteneth not?
(g) If ye endure chastening, God offereth himself unto you as unto sons; for what son is it whom the father chasteneth not?
(k) If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?
- 12:8 (w) That if ye be out of discipline, of which all be made partners, then ye be adulterers, and not sons.
(p) That if ye be out of chastising, whose partners be ye all made, then ye be adulterers, and not sons.
(t) If ye be not under correction (whereof all are partakers) then are ye bastards and not sons.
(g) If therefore ye be without correction, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.
(k) But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.
- 12:9 (w) And afterward we had fathers of our flesh, teachers, and we with reverence dreaded them. Whether not much more we shall obey to the Father of spirits, and we shall live?
(p) And afterward we had fathers of our flesh, teachers, and we with reverence dreaded them. Whether not much more we shall obey to the Father of spirits, and we shall live?

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) Moreover seeing we had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: should we not [shall not we] much rather be in subjection unto the father of spiritual gifts, that we might live [and shall live]?
- (g) Moreover we have had the fathers of our bodies which corrected us, and we gave them reverence; should we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, that we might live?
- (k) Furthermore we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto the Father of spirits, and live?
- 12:10 (w) And they soothly in time of few days taught us by their will; forsooth this Father to that thing that is profitable, in receiving the hallowing of him.
- (p) And they in time of few days taught us by their will; but this Father teacheth to that thing that is profitable, in receiving the hallowing of him.
- (t) And they verily for a few days, nurtured us after their own pleasure: but he learneth us unto that which is profitable, that we might receive of his holiness.
- (g) For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure, but he chasteneth us for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.
- (k) For they verily for a few days chastened us after their own pleasure {or, as seemed good, or, meet to them}; but he for our profit, that we might be partakers of his holiness.
- 12:11 (w) And each chastising in this present time seemeth to be not of joy, but of sorrow; but afterward it shall yield fruit of rightwiseness most peaceable to men exercised by it.
- (p) And each chastising in present time seemeth to be not of joy, but of sorrow; but afterward it shall yield fruit of rightwiseness most peaceable to men exercised by it.
- (t) No manner chastising [learning] for the present time seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousness unto them which are therein [therein are] exercised.
- (g) Now no chastising for the present seemeth to be joyous, but, grievous; but afterward, it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousness, unto them which are thereby exercised.
- (k) Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.
- 12:12 (w) For which thing raise ye up slow hands, and knees unbound,
- (p) For which thing raise ye slow hands, and knees unbound,
- (t) ¶ Stretch forth therefore again the hands which were let down, and the weak knees,
- (g) Wherefore lift up your hands which hang down, and your weak knees,
- (k) Wherefore lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;
- 12:13 (w) and make rightful goings, or steps, to your feet; that no man halting err, but more be healed.
- (p) and make ye rightful steps to your feet; that no man halting err, but more be healed.
- (t) and see that ye have straight steps unto your feet, lest any halting turn out of the way: yea, let it rather be healed.
- (g) And make straight steps unto your feet, lest that which is halting, be turned out of the way, but let it rather be healed.
- (k) And make straight {or, even} paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; but let it rather be healed.
- 12:14 (w) Follow ye peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see God.
- (p) Follow ye peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see God.
- (t) Embrace peace with all men, and holiness: without the which, no man shall see the Lord.
- (g) Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without the which no man shall see the Lord.
- (k) Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord:

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 12:15 (w) Beholding that no man fail to the grace of God, that no root of bitterness burrowing upward hinder us, and by it be many men defouled;
(p) Behold ye, that no man fail to the grace of God, that no root of bitterness burrowing upward hinder, and many be defouled by it;
(t) And look to, [see] that no man be destitute of the grace of God, and that no [lest any] root of bitterness spring up and trouble: and thereby many be defiled.
(g) Take heed, that no man fall away from the grace of God; let no root of bitterness spring up and trouble you, lest thereby many be defiled.
(k) Looking diligently lest any man fail of {or, fall from} the grace of God; lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;
- 12:16 (w) that no man be lecher, or unholy, as Esau, the which for one meal's meat sold his first things, or heritage.
(p) that no man be lecher, either unholy, as Esau, which for one meat sold his first things.
(t) And That there be no fornicator, or unclean person, as Esau, which for one breakfast sold his birthright [right that belonged unto him, in that he was the eldest brother].
(g) Let there be no fornicator, or profane person as Esau, which for one portion of meat sold his birthright.
(k) Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as Esau, who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.
- 12:17 (w) For know ye, that afterward he coveting to inherit blessing, was reprov'd. For he found not place of penance, though he sought it with tears.
(p) For know ye, that afterward he coveting to inherit blessing, was reprov'd. For he found not place of penance, though he sought it with tears.
(t) Ye know how that afterward when [that] he would have inherited the blessing, he was put by, he was put by, and he found no means to come thereby again: no though he desired it with tears [his repentance found no grace, no though he desired that blessing with tears].
(g) For ye know how that afterward also when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected, for he found no place to repentance, though he sought the blessing with tears.
(k) For ye know how that afterward, when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: for he found no place of repentance {or, way to change his mind}, though he sought it carefully with tears.
- 12:18 (w) Forsooth ye have not come to the fire able to be touched, and able to come to, and to the whirlwind, and mist, and tempest,
(p) But ye have not come to the fire able to be touched, and able to come to, and to the whirlwind, and mist, and tempest,
(t) ¶ For ye are not come unto the mount that can be [is] touched, and unto burning fire, nor yet to mist and darkness and tempest of weather,
(g) For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, nor unto burning fire, nor to blackness and darkness, and tempest,
(k) For ye are not come unto the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,
- 12:19 (w) and sound of the trump, and voice of words; which they that heard, excused them(selves), that the word should not be made to them.
(p) and sound of trumpet, and voice of words; which they that heard, excused them(selves), that the word should not be made to them.
(t) neither unto the sound of a trumpet and the voice of words: which voice they that heard it, wished away, that the communication should not be spoken to them.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) Neither unto the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words, which they that heard it, excused themselves, that the word should not be spoken to them anymore,

(k) And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

12:20 (w) For they bare not that that was said, And if a beast touched the hill, it shall be stoned.

(p) For they bare not that that was said, And if a beast touched the hill, it was stoned.

(t) For they were not able to abide that which was spoken. If a beast had touched the mountain, it must have been stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

(g) (For they were not able to abide that which was commanded, Yea, though a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart;

(k) (For they could not endure that which was commanded, And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

12:21 (w) And so dreadful it was that was seen, that Moses said, I am afeared, and full of trembling.

(p) And so dreadful it was that was seen, that Moses said, I am afeared, and full of trembling.

(t) even so terrible was the sight which appeared. Moses said I fear and quake.

(g) And so terrible was the sight which appeared, that Moses said, I fear and quake.)

(k) And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

12:22 (w) But ye have come nigh to the hill Sion, and to the city of living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to the multitude of many thousand angels,

(p) But ye have come nigh to the hill Sion, and to the city of God living, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to the multitude of many thousand angels,

(t) But ye are come unto the mount Sion, and to the city of the living God, the celestial Jerusalem: and to an innumerable sight of angels,

(g) But ye are come unto the mount Sion, and to the city of the living God, the celestial Jerusalem, and to the company of innumerable Angels,

(k) But ye are come unto mount Sion, and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, and to an innumerable company of angels,

12:23 (w) and to the church of the first men, which be written in heavens, and to God, doomsman of all, and to the spirits of just perfect men,

(p) and to the church of the first men, which be written in heavens, and to God, doomsman of all, and to the spirit of just perfect men,

(t) and unto the congregation of the first born sons, which are written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of just and perfect men,

(g) And to the assembly and congregation of the first born, which are written in heaven, and to God the judge of all, and to the spirits of just and perfect men,

(k) To the general assembly and church of the firstborn, which are written {or, enrolled} in heaven, and to God the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men made perfect,

12:24 (w) and to Jesus, mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinkling of blood, better speaking than Abel's blood.

(p) and to Jesus, mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinkling of blood, speaking better than Abel.

(t) and to Jesus the mediator of the new testament, and to the sprinkling of blood that speaketh better than the blood of Abel.

(g) And to Jesus the Mediator of the New Testament, and to the blood of sprinkling that speaketh better things than that of Abel.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) And to Jesus the mediator of the new covenant {or, testament}, and to the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things than that of Abel.
- 12:25 (w) See ye, that ye refuse not the speaker; if forsooth they escaped not (that) refused him that spake on earth, much more we that turn away from him that speaketh to us from heavens.
(p) See ye, that ye forsake not the speaker; for if they that forsake him that spake on the earth, escaped not, much more we that turn away from him that speaketh to us from heavens.
(t) ¶ See that ye despise not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not which refused him that spake on earth: Much more shall we not escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:
(g) See that ye despise not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not which refused him, that spake on earth, much more shall we not escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven.
(k) See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:
- 12:26 (w) Whose voice then moved the earth, but now he again promiseth, saying, Yet once and I shall move not only the earth, but also heaven.
(p) Whose voice then moved the earth, but now he again promiseth, and saith, Yet once and I shall move not only the earth, but also heaven.
(t) whose voice then shook the earth, and now declareth saying: yet once more will I shake, not the earth only, but also heaven.
(g) Whose voice then shook the earth, and now hath declared, saying, Yet once more will I shake, not the earth only, but also heaven.
(k) Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.
- 12:27 (w) And that he saith, Yet once, he declareth the translation of moveable things, as of made things, that those things dwell, that be unmoveable.
(p) And that he saith, Yet once, he declareth the translation of moveable things, as of made things, that those things dwell, that be unmoveable.
(t) No doubt the [that] same that he sayeth, yet once more, signifieth the removing away of those things which are shaken, as of things which have ended their course: that the things which are not shaken may remain.
(g) And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things which are shaken, as of things which are made with hands, that the things which are not shaken, may remain.
(k) And this word, Yet once more, signifieth the removing of those things that are shaken {or, may be shaken}, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.
- 12:28 (w) Therefore we receiving the kingdom unmoveable, have we grace, by which serve we pleasing to God with dread and reverence.
(p) Therefore we receiving the kingdom unmoveable, have we grace, by which serve we pleasing to God with dread and reverence.
(t) Wherefore if we receive a [the] kingdom which is not moved, we have grace, whereby we may serve God and please him with reverence and godly fear.
(g) Wherefore seeing we receive a kingdom, which cannot be shaken, let us have grace whereby we may so serve God, that we may please him with reverence and fear.
(k) Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, let us have grace {or, let us hold fast}, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:
- 12:29 (w) For why our God is fire wasting.

- (p) For our God is fire that wasteth.
- (t) For our God is a consuming fire.
- (g) For even our God is a consuming fire.
- (k) For our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER 13

- 13:1 (w) The charity of brotherhood dwell in you,
(p) The charity of brotherhood dwell in you,
(t) ¶ Let brotherly love continue.
(g) Let brotherly love continue.
(k) Let brotherly love continue.
- 13:2 (w) and do not ye forget hospitality; for by this some pleased to angels received to harbour.
(p) and do not ye forget hospitality; for by this some men pleased to angels, that were received to harbour.
(t) Be not forgetful to lodge [be kind to] strangers. For thereby have diverse received angels into their houses unawares.
(g) Be not forgetful to entertain strangers, for thereby some have received Angels into their houses unawares.
(k) Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.
- 13:3 (w) Be ye mindful of bound men, as ye together bound, and of travailing men, as and yourselves dwelling in the body.
(p) Think ye on bound men, as ye were together bound, and of travailing men, as yourselves dwelling in the body.
(t) Remember them that are in bonds, even as though ye were bound with them. Be mindful of them which are in adversity, as ye which are yet in your bodies.
(g) Remember them that are in bonds, as though ye were bound with them, and them that are in affliction, as if ye were also afflicted in the body.
(k) Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.
- 13:4 (w) Wedding is in all things honourable, and the bed undefouled; for God shall deem fornicators and adulterers.
(p) Wedding is in all things honourable, and bed unwemmed; for God shall deem fornicators and adulterers.
(t) Let wedlock be had in price in all points, and let the chamber be undefiled: for whore keepers and adulterors God will judge.
(g) Marriage is honorable among all, and the bed undefiled; but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.
(k) Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.
- 13:5 (w) Be your manners without covetousness, satisfied with things being; for he said, I shall not leave thee, neither forsake,
(p) Be your manners without covetousness, satisfied with present things; for he said, I shall not leave thee, neither forsake,
(t) Let your conversation be without covetousness, and be content with that ye have already. For he verily said: I will not fail thee, neither forsake thee:
(g) Let your conversation be without covetousness, and be content with those things that ye have, for he hath said, I will not fail thee, neither forsake thee;
(k) Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.
- 13:6 (w) so that we trustily say, The Lord is an helper to me; I shall not dread, what a man shall do to me.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) so that we say trustily, The Lord is an helper to me; I shall not dread, what a man shall do to me.
(t) that we may boldly say: The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man doeth unto me.
(g) So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, neither will I fear what man can do unto me.
(k) So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.
- 13:7 (w) Be ye mindful of your provosts, that have spoken to you the word of God; of whom ye beholding the going out of conversation, follow ye their faith,
(p) Have ye mind of your sovereigns, that have spoken to you the word of God; of whom behold ye the going out of living, and follow ye the faith of them,
(t) Remember them which have the oversight of you, which have declared unto you the word of God: The end of whose conversation see that ye look upon, and follow their faith [Consider the conversation of their living, and counterfeit their faith].
(g) Remember them which have the oversight of you, which have declared unto you the word of God; whose faith follow, considering what hath been the end of their conversation.
(k) Remember them which have the rule {or, are the guides} over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation.
- 13:8 (w) Jesus Christ, yesterday, and to day, he is also into worlds.
(p) Jesus Christ, yesterday, and to day, he is also into worlds.
(t) ¶ Jesus Christ yesterday and today, and the same continueth forever.
(g) Jesus Christ yesterday, and today, the same also is forever.
(k) Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.
- 13:9 (w) Do not ye be led away with diverse and strange teachings. For it is best to stable the heart with grace, not with meats, which profited not to men wandering in them.
(p) Do not ye be led away with diverse and strange teachings. For it is best to stable the heart with grace, not with meats, which profited not to men wandering in them.
(t) Be not carried about [hither and thither] with diverse and strange learning. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace, and not with meats, which have not profited them that have had their pastime in them.
(g) Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines; for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace, and not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.
(k) Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.
- 13:10 (w) We have an altar, of which they that serve to the tabernacle, have not power, or leave, to eat.
(p) We have an altar, of which they that serve to the tabernacle, have not power to eat.
(t) We have an altar whereof they may not eat which serve in the tabernacle.
(g) We have an altar, whereof they have no authority to eat, which serve in the Tabernacle.
(k) We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.
- 13:11 (w) For of which beasts the blood is borne in for sin into holy things by the bishop, the bodies of them be burnt without the castles.
(p) For of which beasts the blood is borne in for sin into holy things by the bishop, the bodies of them be burnt without the castles.
(t) For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high priest to purge sin are burnt without the tents.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) For the bodies of those beasts whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high Priest for sin, are burned without the camp.
- (k) For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.
- 13:12 (w) For which thing Jesus, that he should hallow the people by his blood, suffered without the gate.
(p) For which thing Jesus, that he should hallow the people by his blood, suffered without the gate.
(t) Therefore Jesus, to sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.
(g) Therefore even Jesus, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.
(k) Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.
- 13:13 (w) Go we out therefore to him without the castles, bearing his reproof, or shame.
(p) Therefore go we out to him without the castles, bearing his reproof.
(t) Let us go forth therefore out of the tents, and suffer rebuke with him.
(g) Let us go forth to him therefore out of the camp, bearing his reproach.
(k) Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing his reproach.
- 13:14 (w) Soothly we have not here a dwelling city, but we seek a city to come.
(p) For we have not here a city dwelling, but we seek a city to coming.
(t) For here have we no continuing city: but we seek one [a city] to come.
(g) For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.
(k) For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.
- 13:15 (w) By him therefore offer we an host of praising allway to God, that is to say, the fruit of lips acknowledging to his name.
(p) Therefore by him offer we a sacrifice of praising evermore to God, that is to say, the fruit of lips acknowledging to his name.
(t) ¶ For by him offer we the sacrifice of laud always to God: that is to say the fruit of those lips, which confess his name.
(g) Let us therefore by him offer the sacrifice of praise always to God, that is, the fruit of the lips, which confess his Name.
(k) By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to {Gr. confessing to} his name.
- 13:16 (w) And do not ye forget well-doing, and communing; forsooth by such hosts, God is well served, or pleased/or well satisfied.
(p) And do not ye forget well-doing, and communing; for by such sacrifices God is well served.
(t) To do good, and to distribute forget not, for with such sacrifices God is pleased.
(g) To do good, and to distribute forget not, for with such sacrifices God is pleased.
(k) But to do good and to communicate forget not: for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.
- 13:17 (w) Obey ye to your provosts, or prelates, and under-lay ye to them; they forsooth busily wake, as to yielding reason for your souls, that they do this thing with joy, and not sorrowing; for this thing speedeth not to you.
(p) Obey ye to your sovereigns, and be ye subject to them; for they perfectly wake, as to yielding reason for your souls, that they do this thing with joy, and not sorrowing; for this thing speedeth not to you.
(t) Obey them that have the oversight of you, and submit yourselves to them, for they watch for your souls, even as they should give accounts [for them]: that they may do it with joy, and not with grief. For that is an unprofitable thing for you.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) Obey them that have the oversight of you, and submit yourselves, for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief, for that is unprofitable for you.

(k) Obey them that have the rule over you {or, guide you}, and submit yourselves: for they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

13:18 (w) Pray ye for us, and we trust that we have good conscience in all things, willing to live well.

(p) Pray ye for us, and we trust that we have good conscience in all things, willing to live well.

(t) Pray for us. We have confidence because we have a good conscience in all things, and desire to live honestly.

(g) Pray for us, for we are assured that we have a good conscience in all things, desiring to live honestly.

(k) Pray for us: for we trust we have a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

13:19 (w) Moreover I beseech you to do this thing, that I be restored the sooner to you.

(p) Moreover I beseech you to do, that I be restored the sooner to you.

(t) I desire you therefore somewhat the more abundantly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you quickly.

(g) And I desire you somewhat the more earnestly, that ye so do, that I may be restored to you more quickly.

(k) But I beseech you the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

13:20 (w) Soothly God of peace, that led out from dead our Lord Jesus Christ, the great shepherd of sheep, in the blood of the everlasting testament,

(p) And God of peace, that led out from death the great shepherd of sheep, in the blood of everlasting testament, our Lord Jesus Christ,

(t) ¶ The God of peace that brought again from death our Lord Jesus [Christ], the great shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting testament,

(g) The God of peace that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, the great shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting Covenant,

(k) Now the God of peace, that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus, that great shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant {or, testament},

13:21 (w) shape, or make you able, in all good work, that ye do his will; he doing in you that thing that shall please before him, by Jesus Christ, to whom be glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.

(p) shape you in all good thing, that ye do the will of him; and he do in you that thing that shall please before him, by Jesus Christ, to whom be glory into worlds of worlds. Amen.

(t) make you perfect in all good works, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight through [and bring to pass, that whatsoever ye do, may be accepted in his sight, by the means of] Jesus Christ. To whom be praise forever while the world endureth Amen.

(g) Make you perfect in all good works, to do his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise forever and ever, Amen.

(k) Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, working {or, doing} in you that which is wellpleasing in his sight, through Jesus Christ; to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

13:22 (w) And, brethren, I pray you, that ye suffer a word of solace; and soothly by few I have written to you.

(p) And, brethren, I pray you, that ye suffer a word of solace; for by full few things I have written to you.

(t) ¶ I beseech you brethren, suffer the words of exhortation: For we have written unto you in few words.

(g) I beseech you also, brethren, suffer the words of exhortation, for I have written unto you in few words.

(k) And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for I have written a letter unto you in few words.

13:23 (w) Know ye our brother Timothy, that is sent forth, with whom if he shall come more hastily, I shall see you.

Book 58 The Epistle to the Hebrews

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) Know ye our brother Timothy, that is sent forth, with whom if he shall come more hastily, I shall see you.

(t) Know the brother Timothy, whom we have sent from us, with whom (if he come shortly) I will see you.

(g) Know that our brother Timothy is delivered, with whom (if he come shortly) I will see you.

(k) Know ye that our brother Timothy is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

13:24 (w) Greet well all your provosts, and all saints. The brethren of Italy greet you well.

(p) Greet ye well all your sovereigns, and all holy men. The brethren of Italy greet you well.

(t) Salute them that have the oversight of you, and all the saints. They of Italy, salute you.

(g) Salute all them that have the oversight of you, and all the Saints. They of Italy salute you.

(k) Salute all them that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of Italy salute you.

13:25 (w) Grace with you. Amen.

(p) The grace of God be with you all. Amen.

(t) Grace be with you all Amen.

(g) Grace be with you all, Amen.

(k) Grace be with you all. Amen.

(t) Sent from Italy by Timotheus.

(g) Written to the Hebrews from Italy, and sent by Timothy.

(k) Written to the Hebrews, from Italy, by Timothie.

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) James, the servant of God, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve kindreds, that be in scattering abroad, health.
(p) James, the servant of God, and of our Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve kindreds, that be in scattering abroad, health.
(t) ¶ James the servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, sendeth greeting to the twelve. tribes which are scattered here and there.
(g) James a servant of God, and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve Tribes, which are scattered abroad, salutation.
(k) James, a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, to the twelve tribes which are scattered abroad, greeting.
- 1:2 (w) My brethren, guess ye all joy, when ye fall into diverse temptations,
(p) My brethren, deem ye all joy, when ye fall into diverse temptations,
(t) My brethren, count it exceeding joy when ye fall into diverse temptations,
(g) My brethren, count it exceeding joy, when ye fall into divers temptations,
(k) My brethren, count it all joy when ye fall into divers temptations {or, trials};
- 1:3 (w) witting, that the proving of your faith worketh patience;
(p) witting, that the proving of your faith worketh patience;
(t) for as much as ye know [remembering] how that the trying of your faith bringeth patience:
(g) Knowing that the trying of your faith bringeth forth patience,
(k) Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:4 (w) soothly patience hath a perfect work, that ye be perfect and whole, in nothing failing.
(p) and patience hath a perfect work, that ye be perfect and whole, and fail in nothing.
(t) and let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and sound, lacking nothing [that nothing be lacking unto you].
(g) And let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, lacking nothing.
(k) But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.
- 1:5 (w) And if any of you needeth wisdom, ask he of God, that giveth to all men largely, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given to him.
(p) And if any of you needeth wisdom, ask he of God, which giveth to all men largely, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given to him.
(t) ¶ If any [that is] among you lack wisdom, let him ask of God which giveth to all men indifferently [without doubleness], and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shall be given him:
(g) If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, which giveth to all men liberally, and reproacheth no man, and it shall be given him.
(k) If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him.
- 1:6 (w) But ask he in faith, nothing doubting; for he that doubteth, is like to a wave of the sea, the which of wind is moved and borne about.
(p) But ask he in faith, and doubt nothing; for he that doubteth, is like to a wave of the sea, which is moved and borne about of the wind.
(t) but let him ask in faith, and waver not. For he that doubteth is like the waves of the sea, tossed of the wind, and carried with violence.
(g) But let him ask in faith, and waver not; for he that wavereth, is like a wave of the sea, tossed of the wind, and carried away.
(k) But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.
- 1:7 (w) Therefore guess not that man, that he shall take any thing of the Lord.
(p) Therefore guess not that man, that he shall take any thing of the Lord.
(t) Neither let that man think that he shall receive anything of the Lord [God].
(g) Neither let that man think that he shall receive anything of the Lord.
(k) For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.
- 1:8 (w) A man double in soul is unstable in all his ways.
(p) A man double in soul is unstable in all his ways.
(t) A wavering minded man is unstable in all his ways.
(g) A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.
(k) A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.
- 1:9 (w) Forsooth a meek brother glory in his enhancing.
(p) And a meek brother have glory in his enhancing.
(t) ¶ Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted,
(g) Let the brother of low degree rejoice in that he is exalted;
(k) Let the brother of low degree rejoice {or, glory} in that he is exalted:

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:10 (w) and a rich man in his lowness; for as the flower of grass he shall pass.
(p) and a rich man in his lowness; for as the flower of grass he shall pass.
(t) and the rich in that he is made low. For even as the flower of the grass shall he vanish away.
(g) Again, he that is rich, in that he is made low, for as the flower of the grass, shall he vanish away.
(k) But the rich, in that he is made low: because as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.
- 1:11 (w) For the sun rose with burning, or heat, and dried the hay, and the flower of it fell down, and the fairness of his cheer perished; so and a rich man withereth in his ways.
(p) The sun rose up with heat, and dried the grass, and the flower of it felled down, and the fairness of his face perished; and so a rich man withereth in his ways.
(t) The sun riseth [is risen] with heat, and the grass withereth [is withered], and his flower falleth [is fallen] away, and the beauty of the fashion of it perisheth [is perished]: even so shall the rich man perish with [in] his abundance.
(g) For as when the sun riseth with heat, then the grass withereth, and his flower falleth away, and the beauty of the fashion of it perisheth; even so shall the rich man fade away in all his ways.
(k) For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.
- 1:12 (w) Blessed is the man, that suffereth temptation; for when he shall be proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which God promised to men that love him.
(p) Blessed is the man, that suffereth temptation; for when he shall be proved, he shall receive the crown of life, which God promised to men that love him.
(t) ¶ Happy is the man that endureth in temptation, for when he is tried he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to [prepared for] them that love him.
(g) Blessed is the man, that endureth temptation; for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.
(k) Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.
- 1:13 (w) No man when he is tempted, say, that he is tempted of God; for why God is not a tempter of evil things, for he tempteth no man.
(p) No man when he is tempted, say, that he is tempted of God; for why God is not a tempter of evil things, for he tempteth no man.
(t) ¶ Let no man say when he is tempted that he is tempted of God: for God tempteth not unto evil: neither tempteth he any man [he tempteth no man]:
(g) Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God; for God cannot be tempted with evil, neither tempteth he any man.
(k) Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with evil {or, evils}, neither tempteth he any man:
- 1:14 (w) Soothly each man is tempted of his own coveting, drawn from reason, and snared, or deceived.
(p) But each man is tempted, drawn and stirred of his own coveting.
(t) But every man is tempted drawn away, and enticed of his own concupiscence.
(g) But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away by his own concupiscence, and is enticed.
(k) But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.
- 1:15 (w) Then coveting, when it hath conceived, bringeth forth sin; soothly sin, when it is fulfilled, gendereth death.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) Afterward coveting, when it hath conceived, bringeth forth sin; but sin, when it is filled, engendereth death.
(t) Then when lust hath conceived, she bringeth forth sin, and sin when it is finished bringeth forth death.
(g) Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin, and sin when it is finished, bringeth forth death.
(k) Then when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.
- 1:16 (w) And so, my most dear-worthy brethren, do not ye err.
(p) Therefore, my most dear-worthy brethren, do not ye err.
(t) ¶ Err not my dear brethren.
(g) Err not, my dear brethren.
(k) Do not err, my beloved brethren.
- 1:17 (w) Each best thing given, and all perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with whom is not any changing, neither shadowing of whiteness, or time.
(p) Each good gift, and each perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is none other changing, nor overshadowing of reward.
(t) Every good gift, and every perfect gift, is from above and cometh down from the father of light, with whom is no variableness, neither is he changed unto darkness.
(g) Every good giving and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.
(k) Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.
- 1:18 (w) Forsooth willfully he gendered us with the word of truth, that we be a beginning of his creature.
(p) For willfully he begat us by the word of truth, that we be a beginning of his creature.
(t) Of his own will begat he us with the word of life, that we should be the first fruits of his creatures.
(g) Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be as the firstfruits of his creatures.
(k) Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, that we should be a kind of firstfruits of his creatures.
- 1:19 (w) Know ye, my brethren most loved, be each man swift to hear, but slow to speak, and slow to wrath;
(p) Know ye, my brethren most loved, be each man swift to hear, but slow to speak, and slow to wrath;
(t) ¶ Wherefore dear brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to wrath.
(g) Wherefore my dear brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, and slow to wrath.
(k) Wherefore, my beloved brethren, let every man be swift to hear, slow to speak, slow to wrath:
- 1:20 (w) for the wrath of man worketh not the rightwiseness of God.
(p) for the wrath of man worketh not the rightwiseness of God.
(t) For the wrath of man worketh not that which is righteous before God.
(g) For the wrath of man doeth not accomplish the righteousness of God.
(k) For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.
- 1:21 (w) For which thing cast ye away all uncleanness, and plenty of malice, and in mildness receive ye the word inset, or joined, that may save your souls.
(p) For which thing cast ye away all uncleanness, and plenty of malice, and in mildness receive ye the word that is planted, that may save your souls.
(t) ¶ Wherefore lay apart all filthiness, all superfluity of maliciousness, and receive with meekness the word that is grafted in you, which is able to save your souls:

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) Wherefore lay apart all filthiness, and superfluity of maliciousness, and receive with meekness the word that is grafted in you, which is able to save your souls.

(k) Wherefore lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

1:22 (w) But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.

(p) But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves.

(t) And see that ye be doers of the word and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves with sophistry.

(g) And be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

(k) But be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

1:23 (w) For if any man is an hearer of the word, and not a doer, this shall be comparised, or likened, to a man beholding the cheer of his birth in a mirror;

(p) For if any man is an hearer of the word, and not a doer, this shall be likened to a man that beholdeth the face of his birth in a mirror;

(t) For if any [a man] hear the word, and do it not, he is like unto a man that beholdeth his bodily face in a glass.

(g) For if any hear the word, and do it not, he is like unto a man, that beholdeth his natural face in a glass.

(k) For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

1:24 (w) for he beheld himself, and went away, and anon he forgot what manner man he was.

(p) for he beheld himself, and went away, and at once he forgot which he was.

(t) For as soon as he hath looked on himself, he goeth his way, and forgetteth immediately [hath immediately forgotten] what his fashion was:

(g) For when he hath considered himself, he goeth his way, and forgetteth immediately what manner of one he was.

(k) For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

1:25 (w) But he that beholdeth into the law of perfect freedom, and dwelleth in it, and is not made a forgetful hearer, but a doer of work, this shall be blessed in his deed.

(p) But he that beholdeth into the law of perfect freedom, and dwelleth in it, and is not made a forgetful hearer, but a doer of work, this shall be blessed in his deed.

(t) but whosoever looketh in the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein (if he be not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work) the same [he] shall be happy in his deed.

(g) But who so looketh in the perfect Law of liberty, and continueth therein, he not being a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, shall be blessed in his deed.

(k) But whoso looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deed {or, doing}.

1:26 (w) And if any man guesseth himself to be religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiveth his heart, the religion of him is vain.

(p) And if any man guesseth himself to be religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiveth his heart, the religion of him is vain.

(t) ¶ If any man among you seem devout, and refrain not his tongue: but deceive his own heart, this man's devotion is in vain.

(g) If any man among you seem religious, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

(k) If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

- 1:27 (w) A clean religion, and unwemmed with God and the Father, is this, to visit fatherless and motherless children, and widows in their tribulation, and to keep himself undefouled from the world.
(p) A clean religion, and unwemmed with God and the Father, is this, to visit fatherless and motherless children, and widows in their tribulation, and to keep himself undefouled from this world.
(t) Pure devotion and undefiled before God the father, is this: To visit the friendless, and widows in their adversity, and to keep himself unspotted of [from] the world.
(g) Pure religion and undefiled before God, even the Father, is this, to visit the fatherless, and widows in their adversity, and to keep himself unspotted of the world.
(k) Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) My brethren, do not ye have the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory, in acception, or taking, of persons.
(p) My brethren, do not ye have the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ of glory, in acception of persons.
(t) ¶ Brethren have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ the Lord of glory in respect of persons.
(g) My brethren, have not the faith of our glorious Lord Jesus Christ in respect of persons.
(k) My brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Lord of glory, with respect of persons.
- 2:2 (w) Forsooth if there shall enter into your covent, or gathering together, a man having a gold ring, in white, or fair, cloth, forsooth and a poor man shall enter in foul habit, or cloth,
(p) For if a man that hath a golden ring, and in a fair clothing, cometh in your company, and a poor man entereth in a foul clothing,
(t) If there come into your company a man with a golden ring, and in goodly apparel and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment,
(g) For if there come into your company a man with a gold ring, and in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment,
(k) For if there come unto your assembly {Gr. synagogue} a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;
- 2:3 (w) and ye behold into him that is clothed with clear clothing, and if ye say to him, Sit thou here well; but to the poor man ye say, Stand thou there, or sit under the stool of my feet;
(p) and if ye behold into him that is clothed with clear clothing, and if ye say to him, Sit thou here well; but to the poor man ye say, Stand thou there, either sit under the stool of my feet;
(t) and ye have a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing and say unto him: Sit thou here in a good place: and say unto the poor, stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:
(g) And ye have a respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place, and say unto the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool,
(k) And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here in a good place {or, well, or seemly}; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:
- 2:4 (w) whether ye deem not with yourselves, and be made doomsmen of wicked thoughts?
(p) whether ye deem not with yourselves, and be made doomsmen of wicked thoughts?
(t) are ye not [even] partial in yourselves, and have judged after evil thoughts?
(g) Are ye not partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?
(k) Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:5 (w) Hear ye, my most dear-worthy brethren, whether God chose not poor men in this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, that God promised to men that love him?
(p) Hear ye, my most dear-worthy brethren, whether God chose not poor men in this world, rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, that God promised to men that love him?
(t) ¶ Hearken my dear beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poor of this world, which are rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom, which he promised to them that love him?
(g) Hearken my beloved brethren, hath not God chosen the poor of this world, that they should be rich in faith, and heirs of the kingdom which he promised to them that love him?
(k) Hearken, my beloved brethren, Hath not God chosen the poor of this world rich in faith, and heirs of the {or, that} kingdom which he hath promised to them that love him?
- 2:6 (w) But ye have despised the poor man. Whether rich men oppress not you by power, and draw you to dooms?
(p) But ye have despised the poor man. Whether rich men oppress not you by power, and they draw you to dooms?
(t) But ye have despised the poor. Are not the rich they which oppress you: and they which draw you before judges?
(g) But ye have despised the poor. Do not the rich oppress you by tyranny, and do they not draw you before the judgment seats?
(k) But ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, and draw you before the judgment seats?
- 2:7 (w) Whether they blaspheme not the good name, that is in-called of you?
(p) Whether they blaspheme not the good name, that is called to help on you?
(t) Do not they speak evil of that good name after which ye be named [that is called on over you]?
(g) Do not they blaspheme the worthy Name after which ye be named?
(k) Do not they blaspheme {or, revile, or, slander} that worthy name by the which ye are called?
- 2:8 (w) Nevertheless if ye perform the king's law, after scriptures/by scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well.
(p) Nevertheless if ye perform the king's law, by scriptures, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well.
(t) ¶ If ye fulfill the royal law according to the scripture which saith: Thou shalt love thine neighbor as thyself, ye do well:
(g) But if ye fulfill the royal Law according to the Scripture, which saith, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, ye do well.
(k) If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:
- 2:9 (w) But if ye take persons, ye work sin, and be reprov'd of the law, as transgressors.
(p) But if ye take persons, ye work sin, and be reprov'd of the law, as trespassers.
(t) but if ye regard one person more than another, ye commit sin, and are rebuked of the law as transgressors.
(g) But if ye regard the persons, ye commit sin, and are rebuked of the Law, as transgressors.
(k) But if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.
- 2:10 (w) Forsooth whoever shall keep all the law, soothly offend in one, he is made guilty of all.
(p) And whoever keepeth all the law, but offendeth in one, he is made guilty of all.
(t) Whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet fail in one point, he is guilty in all.
(g) For whosoever shall keep the whole Law, and yet faileth in one point, he is guilty of all.
(k) For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, he is guilty of all.

- 2:11 (w) For he that said, Thou shalt not do lechery, said also, Thou shalt not slay; that if thou doest no lechery, but thou slayest, thou art made a trespasser of the law.
(p) For he that said, Thou shalt do no lechery, said also, Thou shalt not slay; that if thou doest no lechery, but thou slayest, thou art made trespasser of the law.
(t) For he that said: Thou shalt not commit adultery [fornication], said also: thou shalt not kill. Though thou do no adultery [shalt do no fornication], yet if thou kill, thou art a transgressor of the law.
(g) For he that said, Thou shalt not commit adultery, said also, Thou shalt not kill. Now though thou doest none adultery, yet if thou killest, thou art a transgressor of the Law.
(k) For he that said {or, that law which said}, Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.
- 2:12 (w) Thus speak ye, and thus do ye, as beginning to be deemed by the law of freedom.
(p) Thus speak ye, and thus do ye, as beginning to be deemed by the law of freedom.
(t) So speak ye, and so do as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.
(g) So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the Law of liberty.
(k) So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by the law of liberty.
- 2:13 (w) For why doom without mercy is to him, that doeth no mercy; but mercy above raiseth doom.
(p) For why doom without mercy is to him, that doeth no mercy; but mercy above raiseth doom.
(t) For there shall be judgment merciless to him that showeth no mercy, and mercy rejoiceth against judgment:
(g) For there shall be judgment merciless to him that sheweth no mercy, and mercy rejoiceth against judgment.
(k) For he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and mercy rejoiceth {or, glorifyeth} against judgment.
- 2:14 (w) My brethren, what shall it profit, if any man say that he hath faith, but he hath not works? whether faith shall be able to save him?
(p) My brethren, what shall it profit, if any man say that he hath faith, but he hath not works? whether faith shall be able to save him?
(t) ¶ What availeth it my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, when he hath no deeds? Can faith save him?
(g) What availeth it, my brethren, though a man saith he hath faith, when he hath no works? Can that faith save him?
(k) What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?
- 2:15 (w) And if a brother or sister be naked, and have need of each day's lifelode,
(p) And if a brother or sister be naked, and have need of each day's livelode,
(t) If a brother or a sister be naked or destitute of daily food,
(g) For if a brother or a sister be naked and destitute of daily food,
(k) If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,
- 2:16 (w) and if any of you say to them, Go in peace, be ye made hot, and be ye filled; but if ye give not to them those things that be necessary to the body, what shall it profit?
(p) and if any of you say to them, Go ye in peace, be ye made hot, and be ye filled; but if ye give not to them those things that be necessary to the body, what shall it profit?
(t) and one of you say unto them: Depart in peace, God send you warmness and food: notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body: what helpeth it them?
(g) And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, warm yourselves, and fill your bellies, notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body, what helpeth it?

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) And one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?
- 2:17 (w) So also faith, if it hath not works, is dead in itself.
(p) So also faith, if it hath not works, is dead in itself.
(t) Even so faith, if it have no deeds is dead in itself.
(g) Even so the faith, if it have no works, is dead in itself.
(k) Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being alone {Gr. by itself}.
- 2:18 (w) But some man shall say, Thou hast faith, and I have works; show thou me thy faith without works, and I shall show to thee my faith of works.
(p) But some man shall say, Thou hast faith, and I have works; show thou to me thy faith without works, and I shall show to thee my faith of works.
(t) ¶ Yea and a man might say [But one shall say]: Thou hast faith, and I have deeds: Show me thy faith by thy deeds: and I will show thee my faith by my deeds.
(g) But some man might say, Thou hast the faith, and I have works; shew me thy faith out of thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.
(k) Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith without {or, by} thy works, and I will shew thee my faith by my works.
- 2:19 (w) Thou believest, that one God is; thou doest well; and devils believe, and together tremble.
(p) Thou believest, that one God is; thou doest well; and devils believe, and tremble.
(t) Believest thou that there is one God? Thou doest well. The devils also believe and tremble.
(g) Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well, the devils also believe it, and tremble.
(k) Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: the devils also believe, and tremble.
- 2:20 (w) But wilt thou know, thou vain man, that faith without works is idle?
(p) But wilt thou know, thou vain man, that faith without works is idle?
(t) ¶ Wilt thou understand o thou vain man, that faith without deeds is dead?
(g) But wilt thou understand, O thou vain man, that the faith which is without works, is dead?
(k) But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?
- 2:21 (w) Abraham, our father, whether he was not justified of works, offering Isaac, his son, on the altar?
(p) Whether Abraham, our father, was not justified of works, offering Isaac, his son, on the altar?
(t) Was not Abraham our father justified through works [of his deeds] when he offered Isaac his son upon the altar?
(g) Was not Abraham our father justified through works, when he offered Isaac his son upon the altar?
(k) Was not Abraham our father justified by works, when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?
- 2:22 (w) Therefore thou seest, that faith wrought with his works, and his faith was fulfilled of works.
(p) Therefore thou seest, that faith wrought with his works, and his faith was filled of works.
(t) Thou seest how that faith wrought with [in] his deeds, and through the deeds was the faith made perfect.
(g) Seest thou not that the faith wrought with his works? And through the works was the faith made perfect.
(k) Seest thou {or, Thou seeist} how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?
- 2:23 (w) And the scripture is fulfilled, saying, Abraham believed to God, and it was reckoned to him to rightwiseness, and he was called the friend of God.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) And the scripture was filled, saying, Abraham believed to God, and it was areckoned to him to rightwiseness, and he was called the friend of God.

(t) And the scripture was fulfilled which saith: Abraham believed God, and it was reputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the friend of God.

(g) And the Scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness, and he was called the friend of God.

(k) And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called the Friend of God.

2:24 (w) Ye see that a man is justified of works, and not of faith only.

(p) Ye see that a man is justified of works, and not of faith only.

(t) Ye see then how that of deeds a man is justified, and not of faith only.

(g) Ye see then how that of works a man is justified, and not of faith only.

(k) Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

2:25 (w) In like manner, whether also Rahab, the whore, was not justified of works, and received the messengers, and sent them out by another way?

(p) In like manner, whether also Rahab, the whore, was not justified of works, and received the messengers, and sent them out by another way?

(t) Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified through works when she received the messengers, and sent them out another way?

(g) Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified through works, when she had received the messengers, and sent them out another way?

(k) Likewise also was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

2:26 (w) For as the body without spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

(p) For as the body without spirit is dead, so also faith without works is dead.

(t) For as the body, without the spirit is dead, even so faith without deeds is dead.

(g) For as the body without the spirit is dead, even so the faith without works is dead.

(k) For as the body without the spirit {or, breath} is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER 3

3:1 (w) My brethren, do not ye be made many masters, witting that ye take the more doom.

(p) My brethren, do not ye be made many masters, witting that ye take the more doom.

(t) ¶ My brethren, be not every man a master, remembering how that we shall receive the more damnation.

(g) My brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation.

(k) My brethren, be not many masters, knowing that we shall receive the greater condemnation {or, judgment}.

3:2 (w) For all we offend in many things. If any man offendeth not in word, this is a perfect man; forsooth he may with a bridle lead about all the body.

(p) For all we offend in many things. If any man offendeth not in word, this is a perfect man; for also he may lead about all the body with a bridle.

(t) For in many things we sin all. If a man sin not in word, the same [he] is a perfect man and able to tame all the body.

(g) For in many things we sin all. If any man sin not in word, he is a perfect man, and able to bridle all the body.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) For in many things we offend all. If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.
- 3:3 (w) For if we put bridles into horses' mouths, for to consent to us, and we lead about all the body of them.
(p) For if we put bridles into horses' mouths, for to consent to us, and we lead about all the body of them.
(t) Behold we put bits into the horses' mouths that they should obey us, and we turn about all the body.
(g) Behold, we put bits into the horses' mouths, that they should obey us, and we turn about all their body.
(k) Behold, we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.
- 3:4 (w) And lo! ships, when they be great, and be driven of strong winds, yet they be borne about of a little rudder, where the moving of the governor will.
(p) And lo! ships, when they be great, and be driven of strong winds, yet they be borne about of a little rudder, where the moving of the governor will.
(t) Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the violence of the governor will:
(g) Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small rudder, whithersoever the governor listeth.
(k) Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.
- 3:5 (w) So also the tongue is but a little member, and raiseth great things. Lo! how much fire kindleth how great a wood.
(p) So also the tongue is but a little member, and raiseth great things. Lo! how little fire burneth a full great wood.
(t) even so the tongue is little member and boasteth great things.
(g) Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth of great things; behold, how great a thing a little fire kindleth.
(k) Even so the tongue is a little member, and boasteth great things. Behold, how great a matter {or, wood} a little fire kindleth!
- 3:6 (w) And our tongue is fire, the university of wickedness. The tongue is ordained in our members, which defouleth all the body; and it is inflamed, or set afire, of hell, and inflameth the wheel of our birth.
(p) And our tongue is fire, the university of wickedness. The tongue is ordained in our members, which defouleth all the body; and it is inflamed of hell, and inflameth the wheel of our birth.
(t) ¶ Behold how great a thing a little fire kindleth, and the tongue is fire, and a world of wickedness. So is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth afire all that we have of nature, and is itself set afire, even of hell.
(g) And the tongue is fire, yea, a world of wickedness; so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.
(k) And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the course {Gr. wheel} of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.
- 3:7 (w) Soothly all kind of beasts, and fowls, and serpents, and of others, be overcome, or under-yoked, and be made tame, of mankind;
(p) And all the kind of beasts, and of fowls, and of serpents, and of others is chastised, and those be made tame of man's kind;
(t) ¶ All the natures of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and things of the sea, are meeked and tamed of the nature of man.
(g) For the whole nature of beasts, and of birds, and of creeping things, and things of the sea is tamed, and hath been tamed of the nature of man.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) For every kind {Gr. nature} of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of mankind {Gr. nature of man}:

- 3:8 (w) but no man may chastise the tongue, soothly it is an unquiet, or unpeaceable, evil thing, and full of deadly venom.
(p) but no man may chastise the tongue, for it is an unpeaceable evil, and full of deadly venom.
(t) But the tongue can no man tame. It is an unruly evil full of deadly poison.
(g) But the tongue can no man tame. It is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.
(k) But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, full of deadly poison.
- 3:9 (w) In it we bless God, the Father, and in it we curse men, that be made to the likeness of God.
(p) In it we bless God, the Father, and in it we curse men, that be made to the likeness of God.
(t) Therewith bless we God the father, and therewith curse we men which are made after [into] the similitude of God.
(g) Therewith bless we God even the Father, and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.
(k) Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, which are made after the similitude of God.
- 3:10 (w) Of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, it behooveth not that these things be done so.
(p) Of the same mouth passeth forth blessing and cursing. My brethren, it behooveth not that these things be done so.
(t) Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren these things ought not so to be.
(g) Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.
(k) Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.
- 3:11 (w) Whether a well of the same hole bring forth sweet and salt water?
(p) Whether a well of the same hole bringeth forth sweet and salt water?
(t) Doth a fountain send forth at one place sweet water, and bitter also?
(g) Doeth a fountain send forth at one place sweet water and bitter?
(k) Doth a fountain send forth at the same place {or, hole} sweet water and bitter?
- 3:12 (w) My brethren, whether a fig tree may make grapes, or a vine figs? So neither salt water may make sweet water.
(p) My brethren, whether a fig tree may make grapes, either a vine figs? So neither salt water may make sweet water.
(t) Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries: other a vine bear figs? So can no fountain give both salt water and fresh also.
(g) Can the fig tree, my brethren, bring forth olives, either a vine, figs? So can no fountain make both salt water and sweet.
(k) Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.
- 3:13 (w) Who is wise, and taught among you? show he of good living his work, in mildness of wisdom.
(p) Who is wise, and taught among you? show he of good living his working, in mildness of his wisdom.
(t) If any man [Who] is wise and endued with learning among you? Let him show the works of his good conversation in meekness that is coupled with wisdom.
(g) Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? Let him shew by good conversation his works in meekness of wisdom.
(k) Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation his works with meekness of wisdom.
- 3:14 (w) That if ye have bitter zeal, or envy, and strives be in your hearts, do not ye glory, and be liars against the truth.

- (p) That if ye have bitter envy, and strivings be in your hearts, do not ye have glory, and be liars against the truth.
(t) ¶ But If ye have bitter envying [among you] and strife in your hearts, rejoice not: neither be liars against the truth.
(g) But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, rejoice not, neither be liars against the truth.
(k) But if ye have bitter envying and strife in your hearts, glory not, and lie not against the truth.
- 3:15 (w) For this wisdom is not from above coming down, but earthly, beastly, fiendly.
(p) For this wisdom is not from above coming down, but earthly, and beastly, and fiendly.
(t) This wisdom descendeth not from above: but is earthy, and natural, and devilish:
(g) This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual, and devilish.
(k) This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, sensual {or, natural}, devilish.
- 3:16 (w) For where is envy and strife, there is unsteadfastness and all shrewd work.
(p) For where is envy and strife, there is unsteadfastness and all depraved work.
(t) For where envying and strife is, there is unstableness, and all manner of evil works:
(g) For where envying and strife is, there is sedition, and all manner of evil works.
(k) For where envying and strife is, there is confusion {Gr. tumult, unquietness} and every evil work.
- 3:17 (w) But wisdom that is from above, first it is chaste, afterward peaceable, persuadable, that is, easy to treat, and to be treated, consenting to good things, full of mercy and of good fruits, deeming without feigning.
(p) But wisdom that is from above, first it is chaste, afterward peaceable, mild, able to be counseled, consenting to good things, full of mercy and of good fruits, deeming without feigning.
(t) but the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without judging, and without simulation:
(g) But the wisdom that is from above, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, easy to be entreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without judging, and without hypocrisy.
(k) But the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, without partiality {or, wrangling}, and without hypocrisy.
- 3:18 (w) And the fruit of rightwiseness is sown in peace, to men that make peace.
(p) And the fruit of rightwiseness is sown in peace, to men that make peace.
(t) yea, and the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace, of them that maintain [keep] peace.
(g) And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace, of them that make peace.
(k) And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAPTER 4

- 4:1 (w) Whereof be battles and chidings among you? Whether not of your covetings, that fight in your members?
(p) Whereof be battles and chidings among you? Whether not of your covetings, that fight in your members?
(t) ¶ From whence cometh war, and fighting among you? Come they not here hence? Even of your voluptuousness that reign [reigneth] in your members.
(g) From whence are wars and contentions among you? Are they not hence, even of your pleasures, that fight in your members?
(k) From whence come wars and fightings {or, brawlings} among you? come they not hence, even of your lusts {or, pleasures} that war in your members?

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:2 (w) Ye covet, and ye have not; ye slay, and have envy, and ye be not able to get. Ye chide, and make battle; and ye have not, for that ye ask not.
(p) Ye covet, and ye have not; ye slay, and ye have envy, and ye be not able to get. Ye chide, and make battle; and ye have not, for that ye ask not.
(t) Ye lust, and have not. Ye envy and have indignation, and cannot obtain [come by it]. Ye fight and war, and have not, because ye ask not.
(g) Ye lust, and have not; ye envy, and desire immoderately, and cannot obtain; ye fight and war, and get nothing, because ye ask not.
(k) Ye lust, and have not: ye kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.
- 4:3 (w) Ye ask, and ye receive not; for that ye ask evil, as ye show openly in your covetings.
(p) Ye ask, and ye receive not; for that ye ask evil, as ye show openly in your covetings.
(t) Ye ask and receive [have] not, because ye ask amiss, even [for] to consume it upon your voluptuousness.
(g) Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye might lay the same out on your pleasures.
(k) Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your lusts {or, pleasures}.
- 4:4 (w) Adulterers, know not ye, that the friendship of this world is enemy to God? Therefore whoever will be the friend of this world, is made the enemy of God.
(p) Adulterers, know not ye, that the friendship of this world is enemy to God? Therefore whoever will be the friend of this world, is made the enemy of God.
(t) Ye adulterors, and women that break matrimony: know ye not how that the friendship of the world is enmity to godward? Whosoever will be friend of the world, is made the enemy of God.
(g) Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the amity of the world is the enmity of God? Whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world, maketh himself the enemy of God.
(k) Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that the friendship of the world is enmity with God? whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.
- 4:5 (w) Whether ween ye, that the scripture saith vainly, The spirit that dwelleth in you, coveteth to envy?
(p) Whether ye guess, that the scripture saith vainly, The spirit that dwelleth in you, coveteth to envy?
(t) Either do ye think [Do ye suppose] that the scripture saith in vain: The spirit that dwelleth in you, lusteth even contrary to envy:
(g) Do ye think that the Scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us, lusteth after envy?
(k) Do ye think that the scripture saith in vain, The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth to envy {or, enviously}?
- 4:6 (w) Forsooth he giveth more grace; for which thing he saith, God withstandeth proud men, but to meek men he giveth grace.
(p) But he giveth the more grace; for which thing he saith, God withstandeth proud men, but to meek men he giveth grace.
(t) but giveth more grace.
(g) But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore saith, God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.
(k) But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.
- 4:7 (w) Therefore be ye subject to God; but withstand ye the devil, and he shall flee from you.
(p) Therefore be ye subject to God; but withstand ye the devil, and he shall flee from you.
(t) ¶ Submit yourselves to God, and resist the devil, and he will fly from you.
(g) Submit yourselves to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) Submit yourselves therefore to God. Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.
- 4:8 (w) Nigh ye to God, and he shall nigh to you. Ye sinners, cleanse the hands, and ye double of will, purge the hearts.
(p) Approach ye to God, and he shall approach to you. Ye sinners, cleanse ye the hands, and ye double in soul, purge ye the hearts.
(t) Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands ye sinners, and purge your hearts ye wavering minded.
(g) Draw near to God, and he will draw near to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purge your hearts, ye double minded.
(k) Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded.
- 4:9 (w) Be ye wretches, and weep ye; your laughing be it turned into weeping, and your joy into sorrow of heart.
(p) Be ye wretches, and wail ye; your laughing be turned into weeping, and joy into sorrow of heart.
(t) Suffer afflictions: sorrow ye and weep. Let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.
(g) Suffer afflictions, and sorrow ye, and weep; let your laughter be turned into mourning, and your joy into heaviness.
(k) Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.
- 4:10 (w) Be ye meeked in the sight of the Lord, and he shall enhance you.
(p) Be ye meeked in the sight of the Lord, and he shall enhance you.
(t) Cast down yourselves before the Lord, and he shall lift you up.
(g) Cast down yourselves before the Lord, and he will lift you up.
(k) Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.
- 4:11 (w) My brethren, do not ye backbite each other. He that backbiteth his brother, or that deemeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and deemeth the law. And if thou deemest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a doomsman.
(p) My brethren, do not ye backbite each other. He that backbiteth his brother, either that deemeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and deemeth the law. And if thou deemest the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a doomsman.
(t) Backbite not one another, brethren. He that backbiteth his brother, and he that judgeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and judgeth the law: but and if thou judge the law, thou art not an observer of the law: but a judge.
(g) Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, or he that condemneth his brother, speaketh evil of the Law, and condemneth the Law, and if thou condemnest the Law, thou art not an observer of the Law, but a judge.
(k) Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.
- 4:12 (w) But one is maker of the law, and judge, that may lose, and deliver. And who art thou, that deemest thy neighbour?
(p) But one is maker of the law, and judge, that may destroy, and deliver. And who art thou, that deemest thy neighbour?
(t) There is one law giver, which is able to save and to destroy. What art thou that judgest another man?
(g) There is one Lawgiver, which is able to save, and to destroy. Who art thou that judgest another man?
(k) There is one lawgiver, who is able to save and to destroy: who art thou that judgest another?
- 4:13 (w) Lo! now ye, that say, To day or to morrow we shall go into that city, and there we shall dwell a year, and we shall make merchandise, and we shall make winning;
(p) Lo! now ye, that say, To day either to morrow we shall go into that city, and there we shall dwell a year, and we shall make merchandise, and we shall make winning;

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ Go to now ye that say: today and tomorrow let us go into such a city and continue there a year and buy, and sell, and win:
- (g) Go to now, ye that say, Today or tomorrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain,
- (k) Go to now, ye that say, To day or to morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:
- 4:14 (w) that know not, what is to you in the morrow. For what is your life? A vapour, or smoke, appearing at a little time, and afterward it shall be wasted.
- (p) which know not, what is to you in the morrow. For what is your life? A smoke appearing at a little time, and afterward it shall be wasted.
- (t) and yet cannot tell what shall happen tomorrow. For what thing is your life? It is even a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away:
- (g) (And yet ye cannot tell what shall be tomorrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapor that appeareth for a little time, and afterward vanisheth away.)
- (k) Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is {or, For it is} even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.
- 4:15 (w) Therefore that ye say, If the Lord will, and if we shall live, we shall do this thing, or that thing.
- (p) Therefore that ye say, If the Lord will, and if we live, we shall do this thing, either that thing.
- (t) For that ye ought to say: If the Lord will and if we live, let us do this or that.
- (g) For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, and, if we live, we will do this or that.
- (k) For that ye ought to say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.
- 4:16 (w) And now ye make full out joy in your prides; every such joying is wicked.
- (p) And now ye make full out joy in your prides; every such joying is wicked.
- (t) But now ye rejoice in your boastings. All such rejoicing is evil.
- (g) But now ye rejoice in your boastings; all such rejoicing is evil.
- (k) But now ye rejoice in your boastings: all such rejoicing is evil.
- 4:17 (w) Therefore to a man knowing to do good, and not doing, sin is to him.
- (p) Therefore it is sin to him, that knoweth to do good, and doeth not.
- (t) Therefore to him that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sin.
- (g) Therefore, to him that knoweth how to do well, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.
- (k) Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAPTER 5

- 5:1 (w) Do now, ye rich men, weep ye, yelling in your wretchednesses that shall come to you.
- (p) Do now, ye rich men, weep ye, yelling in your wretchednesses that shall come to you.
- (t) ¶ Go to now ye rich men. Weep, and howl on your wretchedness that shall come upon you.
- (g) Go to now, ye rich men, weep, and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.
- (k) Go to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.
- 5:2 (w) Your riches be rotten, and your clothes be eaten of moths.
- (p) Your riches be rotten, and your clothes be eaten of moths.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) Your riches is corrupt, your garments are motheaten.
(g) Your riches are corrupt, and your garments are moth eaten.
(k) Your riches are corrupted, and your garments are motheaten.
- 5:3 (w) Your gold and silver hath rusted, and the rust of them shall be to you into witnessing, and shall eat your flesh, as fire. Ye have treasured to you wrath in the last days.
(p) Your gold and silver hath rusted, and the rust of them shall be to you into witnessing, and shall eat your flesh, as fire. Ye have treasured to you wrath in the last days.
(t) Your gold and your silver are cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness unto you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together in your last days:
(g) Your gold and silver is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh, as it were fire. Ye have heaped up treasure for the last days.
(k) Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.
- 5:4 (w) Lo! the hire of your workmen, that reaped your fields, which is frauded of you, crieth; and the cry of them hath entered into the ears of the Lord of hosts.
(p) Lo! the hire of your workmen, that reaped your fields, which is defrauded of you, crieth; and the cry of them hath entered into the ears of the Lord of hosts.
(t) Behold the hire of the laborers which have reaped down your fields (which hire is of you kept back by fraud) crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped, are entered into the ears of the Lord -Sabbath.
(g) Behold, the hire of the laborers, which have reaped your fields (which is of you kept back by fraud) crieth, and the cries of them which have reaped, are entered into the ears of the Lord of hosts.
(k) Behold, the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth.
- 5:5 (w) Ye have eaten on the earth, and in your lecheries ye have nourished your hearts. In the day of slaying
(p) Ye have eaten on the earth, and in your lecheries ye have nourished your hearts. In the day of slaying
(t) Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth and in wantonness. Ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.
(g) Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and in wantonness. Ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.
(k) Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.
- 5:6 (w) ye brought, and slew the just man, and he withstood you not.
(p) ye brought, and slew the just man, and he against-stood not you.
(t) Ye have condemned and have killed the just, and he hath not resisted you.
(g) Ye have condemned and have killed the just, and he hath not resisted you.
(k) Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you.
- 5:7 (w) Therefore, brethren, be ye patient, till to the coming of the Lord. Lo! an earth-tiller abideth the precious fruit of the earth, patiently suffering, till he receive timeful and lateful fruit.
(p) Therefore, brethren, be ye patient, till to the coming of the Lord. Lo! an earth-tiller abideth precious fruit of the earth, patiently suffering, till he receive timeful and lateful fruit.
(t) ¶ Be patient therefore brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience there upon, until he receive the early and the latter rain.
(g) Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the former, and the latter rain.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) Be patient {or, be long patient, or suffer with long patience} therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive the early and latter rain.

5:8 (w) And be ye patient, and confirm your hearts, for the coming of the Lord shall nigh.

(p) And be ye patient, and confirm ye your hearts, for the coming of the Lord shall approach.

(t) Be ye also patient therefore, and settle your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

(g) Be ye also patient therefore, and settle your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth near.

(k) Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

5:9 (w) Brethren, do not ye be scornful each to other, that ye be not deemed. Lo! the judge standeth nigh before the gate.

(p) Brethren, do not ye be sorrowful each to other, that ye be not deemed. Lo! the judge standeth nigh before the gate.

(t) Grudge not one against another brethren, lest ye be damped. Behold the judge standeth before the door.

(g) Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned; behold, the judge standeth before the door.

(k) Grudge {or, groan, or grieve} not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge standeth before the door.

5:10 (w) Brethren, take ye example of evil going out, and of long abiding of travail, and of patience, the prophets, that spake to you in the name of the Lord.

(p) Brethren, take ye ensample of evil going out, and of long abiding, and travail, and of patience, the prophets, that spake to you in the name of the Lord.

(t) Take (my brethren) the prophets for an example of suffering adversity, and of long patience, which spake in the name of the Lord.

(g) Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an example of suffering adversity, and of long patience, which have spoken in the Name of the Lord.

(k) Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

5:11 (w) Lo! we bless them that suffered. Ye have heard the patience of Job, and ye saw the end of the Lord, for the Lord is merciful, and doing mercy.

(p) Lo! we bless them that suffered. Ye have heard the patience of Job, and ye saw the end of the Lord, for the Lord is merciful, and doing mercy.

(t) Behold we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have known what end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitiful, and merciful.

(g) Behold, we count them blessed which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have known what end the Lord made. For the Lord is very pitiful and merciful.

(k) Behold, we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of the patience of Job, and have seen the end of the Lord; that the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

5:12 (w) Before all things, my brethren, do not ye swear, neither by heaven, neither by earth, neither by whatever other oath. But be your word Yea, yea, Nay, nay, that ye fall not under doom.

(p) Before all things, my brethren, do not ye swear, neither by heaven, neither by earth, neither by whatever other oath. But be your word Yea, yea, Nay, nay, that ye fall not under doom.

(t) ¶ But above all things my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by earth, neither by any other oath. Let your yea be yea and your nay nay [saying be yea, yea, nay, nay]: lest ye fall into hypocrisy.

(g) But before all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, nor by earth, nor by any other oath; but let your yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest ye fall into condemnation.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) But above all things, my brethren, swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

5:13 (w) Soothly if any of you is sorrowful, or heavy, pray he with patient soul, and say he a psalm.

(p) And if any of you is sorrowful, pray he with patient soul, and say he a psalm.

(t) If any of you be evil vexed, let him pray [Is there any among of you that is evil vexed? Let him pray]. If any of you be merry, let him sing psalms [Is there any among you that is merry? Let him sing psalms].

(g) Is any among you afflicted? Let him pray. Is any merry? Let him sing.

(k) Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing psalms.

5:14 (w) If any of you is sick, lead he in priests of the church, and pray they for him, anointing with oil in the name of the Lord;

(p) If any of you is sick, lead he in priests of the church, and pray they for him, and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord;

(t) If any be diseased among you, let him [Is there any man diseased among you? Let him] call for the elders [seniors] of the congregation, and let them pray over him, and anoint him with oil in the name of the Lord:

(g) Is any sick among you? Let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and anoint him with oil in the Name of the Lord.

(k) Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

5:15 (w) and the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall discharge him, or make him light; and if he be in sins, they shall be forgiven to him.

(p) and the prayer of faith shall save the sick man, and the Lord shall make him light; and if he be in sins, they shall be forgiven to him.

(t) and the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up: and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

(g) And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up, and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

(k) And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

5:16 (w) Therefore acknowledge ye one to another your sins, and pray ye for each other, that ye be saved. For the continual prayer of a just man is much worth.

(p) Therefore acknowledge ye each to other your sins, and pray ye each for other, that ye be saved. For the continual prayer of a just man is much worth.

(t) ¶ Knowledge your faults one to another: and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The prayer of a righteous man availeth much, if it be fervent.

(g) Acknowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. For the prayer of a righteous man availeth much, if it be fervent.

(k) Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

5:17 (w) Elias was a man like to us passible, or able to suffer, and in prayer he prayed, that it should not rain on the earth, and it rained not three years and six months.

(p) Elias was a deadly man like us, and in prayer he prayed, that it should not rain on the earth, and it rained not three years and six months.

Book 59 The Epistle of James

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) Elias was a man mortal even [in danger to tribulation] as we are, and he prayed in his prayer, that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

(g) Elijah was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly that it might not rain, and it rained not on the earth for three years and six months.

(k) Elias was a man subject to like passions as we are, and he prayed earnestly {or, in his prayer} that it might not rain: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

5:18 (w) And again he prayed, and heaven gave rain, and the earth gave his fruit.

(p) And again he prayed, and heaven gave rain, and the earth gave his fruit.

(t) And he prayed again [again he prayed], and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

(g) And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

(k) And he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

5:19 (w) Brethren, forsooth if any of you shall err from the truth, and any shall convert him,

(p) And, brethren, if any of you erreth from truth, and any converteth him,

(t) ¶ Brethren if any of you err from the truth, and another convert him,

(g) Brethren, if any of you hath erred from the truth, and some man hath converted him,

(k) Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him;

5:20 (w) he oweth to know, that he that maketh a sinner to be turned from the error of his way, shall save the soul of him from death, and covereth the multitude of sins. Amen.

(p) he oweth to know, that he that maketh a sinner to be turned from the error of his way, shall save the soul of him from death, and covereth the multitude of sins.

(t) let the same know, that he which converted the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall save a soul from death, and shall hide the multitude of sins.

(g) Let him know that he which hath converted the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

(k) Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins.

- 1:2 (w) after the prescience of God, the Father, into hallowing of the Spirit, into obedience, and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ, grace and peace to you be multiplied.
(p) by the before-knowing of God, the Father, in hallowing of Spirit, by obedience, and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ, grace and peace be multiplied to you.
(t) elect by the foreknowledge of God the father, through the sanctifying of the spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ. ¶ Grace be with you, and peace be multiplied.
(g) Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father unto sanctification of the Spirit, through obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace and peace be multiplied unto you.
(k) Elect according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.
- 1:3 (w) Blessed be God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which after his great mercy begat us again into living hope, by the again-rising of Jesus Christ from dead,
(p) Blessed be God, and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which by his great mercy begat us again into living hope, by the again-rising of Jesus Christ from death,
(t) ¶ Blessed be God the father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which through his abundant mercy begat us again unto a lively hope, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from death,
(g) Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,
(k) Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant {Gr. much} mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,
- 1:4 (w) into heritage uncorruptible, and undefouled, and that shall not fade, kept in heavens for you,
(p) into heritage uncorruptible, and undefouled, and that shall not fade, that is kept in heavens for you,
(t) to enjoy an inheritance immortal, and undefiled, and that putrifieth not, reserved in heaven for you
(g) To an inheritance immortal and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for us,
(k) To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you {or, for us},
- 1:5 (w) that in the virtue of God be kept by the faith into health, made ready to be showed in the last time.
(p) that in the virtue of God be kept by the faith into health, and is ready to be showed in the last time.
(t) which are kept by the power of God through faith, unto salvation [health], which salvation [health] is prepared all ready to be shown in the last time,
(g) Which are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation, which is prepared to be shewed in the last time.
(k) Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.
- 1:6 (w) In which ye shall make joy, though it behooveth now a little to be sorry in diverse temptations;
(p) In which ye shall make joy, though it behooveth now a little to be sorry in diverse temptations;
(t) in the which time ye shall rejoice, though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heaviness, through manifold temptations,
(g) Wherein ye rejoice, though now for a season (if need require) ye are in heaviness, through manifold temptations,
(k) Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now for a season, if need be, ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:
- 1:7 (w) that the proving of your faith be much more precious than gold, that is proved by fire; and be found into praising, and glory, and honour, in the revelation of Jesus Christ.
(p) that the proving of your faith be much more precious than gold, that is proved by fire; and be found into praising, and glory, and honour, in the revelation of Jesus Christ.

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) that your faith once tried being much more precious than gold that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might be found unto laud, glory, and honor, at the appearing of Jesus Christ [when Jesus Christ shall appear]:

(g) That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than gold that perisheth (though it be tried with fire) might be found unto your praise, and honor and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ;

(k) That the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

- 1:8 (w) Whom when ye have not seen, ye love; into whom also now ye not seeing, believe; forsooth ye believing shall have joy withoutforth in gladness unnarrable, that is, that may not be told out, and glorified,
(p) Whom when ye have not seen, ye love; into whom also now ye not seeing, believe; but ye that believe shall have joy, and gladness that may not be told out, and ye shall be glorified,
(t) whom ye have not seen and [ye] yet love him, in whom even now, though ye see him not, ye yet [yet ye] believe, and rejoice with joy unspeakable [ineffable], and glorious:
(g) Whom ye have not seen, and yet love him, in whom now, though ye see him not, yet do you believe, and rejoice with joy unspeakable and glorious,
(k) Whom having not seen, ye love; in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:
- 1:9 (w) bringing again the end of your faith, the health of your souls.
(p) and have the end of your faith, the health of your souls.
(t) receiving the end of your faith, the salvation [health] of your souls.
(g) Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.
(k) Receiving the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.
- 1:10 (w) Of which health prophets sought out, and ensearched, that prophesied of the grace to come into you,
(p) Of which health prophets sought, and searched into, that prophesied of the grace to coming in you,
(t) ¶ Of which salvation [health], have the prophets enquired, and sought, which prophesied of the grace that should come unto you,
(g) Of the which salvation the Prophets have inquired and searched, which prophesied of the grace that should come unto you,
(k) Of which salvation the prophets have enquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:
- 1:11 (w) seeking which or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ signified in them, before-telling the passions, that be in Christ, and the latter glories.
(p) and sought which either what manner time the Spirit of Christ signified in them, and before-told those passions, that be in Christ, and the latter glories.
(t) searching when, or at what time the spirit of Christ which was in them should signify, which spirit testified before, the passions that should come unto Christ, and the glory that should follow after:
(g) Searching when or what time the Spirit which testified before of Christ which was in them, should declare the sufferings that should come unto Christ, and the glory that should follow.
(k) Searching what, or what manner of time the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.
- 1:12 (w) To whom it is showed, for not to themselves, but to you they ministered those things, that now be told to you by them that evangelized to you by the Holy Ghost sent from heaven, into whom angels desire to behold.
(p) To which it was showed, for not to themselves, but to you they ministered those things, that now be told to you by them that preached to you by the Holy Ghost sent from heaven, into whom angels desire to behold.

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) unto which prophets it was declared, that not unto themselves, but unto us, they should minister the things which are now shown unto you, of them which by the holy ghost sent down from heaven, have preached unto you the things which the angels desire to behold.

(g) Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they should minister the things, which are now shewed unto you by them which have preached unto you the Gospel by the holy Ghost sent down from heaven, the which things the Angels desire to behold.

(k) Unto whom it was revealed, that not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; which things the angels desire to look into.

1:13 (w) For which thing be ye gird the loins of your soul, sober, perfect, and hope ye into that grace that is offered to you by the revelation, or showing, of Jesus Christ,

(p) For which thing be ye gird the loins of your soul, sober, perfect, and hope ye into that grace that is proffered to you by the showing of Jesus Christ,

(t) ¶ Wherefore gird up the loins of your minds, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought unto you, by the declaring of Jesus Christ [in that Jesus Christ is opened],

(g) Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought unto you, in the revelation of Jesus Christ,

(k) Wherefore gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end {Gr. perfectly} for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

1:14 (w) as sons of obedience, not together likened to the former desires of your ignorance,

(p) as sons of obedience, not made like to the former desires of your unknowingness,

(t) as obedient children, not fashioning yourselves unto your old lusts of ignorance:

(g) As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves unto the former lusts of your ignorance;

(k) As obedient children, not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts in your ignorance:

1:15 (w) but like him that hath called you holy; that and yourselves be holy in all living;

(p) but like him that hath called you holy; that also ye self be holy in all living;

(t) But as he which called you is holy, even so be ye holy in all manner of conversation,

(g) But as he which hath called you, is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

(k) But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

1:16 (w) for it is written, Ye shall be holy, for I am holy.

(p) for it is written, Ye shall be holy, for I am holy.

(t) because it is written: Be ye holy, for I am holy.

(g) Because it is written, Be ye holy, for I am holy.

(k) Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy.

1:17 (w) And if ye inwardly call him Father, the which without acception of persons deemeth after the work of each man, live ye in dread in the time of your pilgrimage in earth;

(p) And if ye inwardly call him Father, which deemeth without acception of persons by the work of each man, live ye in dread in the time of your pilgrimage;

(t) ¶ And if so be that ye call on the father which without respect of person judgeth according to every man's works, see that ye pass the time of your pilgrimage in fear.

(g) And if ye call him Father, which without respect of person judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your dwelling here in fear,

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) And if ye call on the Father, who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, pass the time of your sojourning here in fear:

- 1:18 (w) witting that not by corruptible gold, or silver, ye be bought again of your vain living of fathers' tradition,
(p) witting that not by corruptible gold, either silver, ye be bought again of your vain living of fathers' tradition,
(t) For as much as ye know how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible silver and gold [gold and silver] from your vain conversation, which ye received by the traditions of the fathers:
(g) Knowing that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation, received by the traditions of the fathers,
(k) Forasmuch as ye know that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation received by tradition from your fathers;
- 1:19 (w) but by the precious blood as of the lamb undefouled and unspotted, Christ Jesus,
(p) but by the precious blood as of the lamb undefouled and unspotted, Christ Jesus,
(t) but with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb undefiled, and without spot,
(g) But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lamb undefiled, and without spot.
(k) But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:
- 1:20 (w) that was known before the making of the world, but he is showed in the last times, for you
(p) that was known before the making of the world, but he is showed in the last times, for you
(t) which was ordained before the world was made: but was declared in the last times for your sakes,
(g) Which was ordained before the foundation of the world, but was declared in the last times for your sakes,
(k) Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest in these last times for you,
- 1:21 (w) that by him be faithful in God; that raised him from dead men, and gave to him everlasting glory, that your faith and hope were in God.
(p) that by him be faithful in God; that raised him from death, and gave to him everlasting glory, that your faith and hope were in God.
(t) which by his means have believed on God that raised him from death, and glorified him, that your faith and hope might be in God [that ye might have faith and hope toward God].
(g) Which by his means do believe in God that raised him from the dead, and gave him glory, that your faith and hope might be in God,
(k) Who by him do believe in God, that raised him up from the dead, and gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God.
- 1:22 (w) Ye making chaste your souls in obedience of charity, in love of brotherhood; of simple heart love ye together more busily.
(p) And make ye chaste your souls in obedience of charity, in love of brotherhood; of simple heart love ye together more busily.
(t) ¶ And for as much as ye have purified your souls through the spirit, in obeying the truth for to love brotherly without feigning, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:
(g) Having purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit, to love brotherly without feigning, love one another with a pure heart fervently,
(k) Seeing ye have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

- 1:23 (w) And be ye born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of living God, and dwelling into without end.
(p) And be ye born again, not of corruptible seed, but incorruptible, by the word of living God, and dwelling into without end.
(t) for ye are born anew, not of mortal seed, but of immortal [seed], by the word of God which liveth, and lasteth forever,
(g) Being born anew, not of mortal seed, but of immortal, by the word of God, who liveth and endureth forever.
(k) Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.
- 1:24 (w) For each flesh is hay, and all the glory of it is as the flower of hay; the hay drieth up, and the flower fell down;
(p) For each flesh is hay, and all the glory of it is as the flower of hay; the hay dried up, and his flower felled down;
(t) for [because that] all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man is as the flower of grass, the grass withereth [is withered], and the flower falleth [is faded] away,
(g) For all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man is as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower falleth away.
(k) For {For that} all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:
- 1:25 (w) but the word of the Lord dwelleth into without end. Soothly this is the word, that is evangelized to you.
(p) but the word of the Lord dwelleth without end. And this is the word, that is preached to you.
(t) but the word of the Lord endureth ever. And this is the word which by the gospel was preached among you.
(g) But the word of the Lord endureth forever. And this is the word which is preached among you.
(k) But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) Therefore putting away all malice, and all guile, and simulations, or feignings, and envies, and all detractions;
(p) Therefore put ye away all malice, and all guile, and feignings, and envies, and all backbitings;
(t) ¶ Wherefore lay a side all maliciousness, and all guile, and dissimulation, and envy, and all backbiting:
(g) Wherefore, laying aside all maliciousness, and all guile, and dissimulation, and envy, and all evil speaking,
(k) Wherefore laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,
- 2:2 (w) as now born young children, reasonable, without guile, covet ye milk of full teaching, that in it ye wax into health;
(p) as now born young children, reasonable, without guile, covet ye milk, that in it ye wax into health;
(t) and as newborn babies, desire that reasonable milk which is without corruption, that ye may be grown therein.
(g) As newborn babes desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby,
(k) As newborn babes, desire the sincere milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:
- 2:3 (w) if nevertheless ye have tasted, that the Lord is sweet.
(p) if nevertheless ye have tasted, that the Lord is sweet.
(t) If so be that ye have tasted how pleasant the Lord is,
(g) If so be that ye have tasted that the Lord is bountiful.
(k) If so be ye have tasted that the Lord is gracious.
- 2:4 (w) To whom ye going nigh, a quick stone, reprov'd soothly of men, but chosen of God, and honoured;
(p) And approach ye to him, that is a living stone, and reprov'd of men, but chosen of God, and honoured;

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) to whom ye come as unto a living stone [which is] disallowed of men, but chosen [elect] of God and precious:
- (g) To whom coming as unto a living stone, disallowed of men, but chosen of God and precious,
- (k) To whom coming, as unto a living stone, disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,
- 2:5 (w) and yourselves as quick stones be above builded into spiritual houses, and an holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.
- (p) and yourselves as quick stones be ye above builded into spiritual houses, and an holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.
- (t) and ye as living stones, are made a spiritual house, and an holy priesthood, for to offer up spiritual sacrifice, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.
- (g) Ye also as lively stones, be made a spiritual house, a holy Priesthood to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.
- (k) Ye also, as lively stones, are built {or, be ye built} up a spiritual house, an holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.
- 2:6 (w) For which thing the scripture holdeth, Lo! I shall put in Sion the highest stone, a corner stone, chosen, precious; and he that shall believe in him, shall not be confounded.
- (p) For which thing the scripture saith, Lo! I shall set in Sion the highest corner stone, chosen and precious; and he that shall believe in him, shall not be confounded.
- (t) ¶ Wherefore it is contained in the scripture: behold, I put in Zion an head corner stone, elect and precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be ashamed.
- (g) Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, Behold, I put in Sion a chief cornerstone, elect and precious, and he that believeth therein, shall not be ashamed.
- (k) Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.
- 2:7 (w) Therefore honour to you that believe; but to men that believe not, the stone whom the builders reprov'd, this is made into the head of the corner;
- (p) Therefore honour to you that believe; but to men that believe not, the stone whom the builders reprov'd, this is made into the head of the corner;
- (t) Unto you therefore which believe he is [is he] precious: but unto them which believe not the [same] stone which the builders refused, the same is made the head stone in the corner,
- (g) Unto you therefore which believe, it is precious; but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,
- (k) Unto you therefore which believe he is precious {or, an honour}: but unto them which be disobedient, the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,
- 2:8 (w) and the stone of hurting, and the stone of offence, to them that offend by word, neither believe, in which and they be put.
- (p) and the stone of hurting, and the stone of stumbling, to them that offend to the word, neither believe it, in which they be set.
- (t) and a stone to stumble at, and a rock to offend them which stumble at the word, and believe not that where on they were set.
- (g) And a stone to stumble at, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient, unto the which thing they were even ordained.
- (k) And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: whereunto also they were appointed.

- 2:9 (w) But ye be a chosen kin, a kingly priesthood, holy folk, a people of purchasing, that ye tell the virtues of him, that called you from darknesses into his wonderful light.
(p) But ye be a chosen kin, a kingly priesthood, holy folk, a people of purchasing, that ye tell the virtues of him, that called you from darknesses into his wonderful light.
(t) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, and a peculiar people, that ye should show the virtues of him that called you out of darkness into his marvelous light,
(g) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal Priesthood, a holy nation, a peculiar people, that ye should shew forth the virtues of him that hath called you out of darkness into his marvelous light,
(k) But ye are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar {or, purchased} people; that ye should shew forth the praises {or, virtues} of him who hath called you out of darkness into his marvellous light:
- 2:10 (w) Which sometime were not a people of God, but now ye be the people of God; which had not mercy, but now ye have mercy.
(p) Which sometime were not a people of God, but now ye be the people of God; which had not mercy, but now ye have mercy.
(t) which in time past were not a people, yet are now the people of God [yet are ye now], which were not under mercy: but now have obtained mercy.
(g) Which in time past were not a people, yet are now the people of God; which in time past were not under mercy, but now have obtained mercy.
(k) Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.
- 2:11 (w) Most dear, I beseech you, as comelings and pilgrims, to abstain you from fleshly desires, that fight against the soul;
(p) Most dear, I beseech you, as comelings and pilgrims, to abstain you from fleshly desires, that fight against the soul;
(t) ¶ Dearly beloved I beseech you as strangers, and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts which fight against the soul,
(g) Dearly beloved, I beseech you, as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts which fight against the soul,
(k) Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul;
- 2:12 (w) having your conversation, or life, good among heathen men, that in that thing that they backbite of you, as of misdoers, they behold you of good works, and glorify God in the day of visitation.
(p) and have ye your conversation good among heathen men, that in that thing that they backbite of you, as of misdoers, they behold you of good works, and glorify God in the day of visitation.
(t) and see that ye have honest conversation among the gentiles, that they which backbite you as evil doers, may see your good works and praise God in the day of visitation.
(g) And have your conversation honest among the Gentiles, that they which speak evil of you as of evil doers, may by your good works which they shall see, glorify God in the day of visitation.
(k) Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, whereas {or, wherein} they speak against you as evildoers, they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God in the day of visitation.
- 2:13 (w) Be ye subject to each creature of man, for God; either to the king, as precellent, or more worthy in state,
(p) Be ye subject to each creature of man, for God; either to the king, as to him that is higher in state,
(t) ¶ Submit yourselves unto all manner ordinance of man for the Lord's sake, whether it be unto the King as unto the chief head:
(g) Therefore submit yourselves unto all manner ordinance of man for the Lord's sake, whether it be unto the King, as unto the superior,
(k) Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

- 2:14 (w) either to dukes, as to those that be sent of him to the vengeance of misdoers, forsooth to the praising of good deeds, or good men.
(p) either to dukes, as to those that be sent of him to the vengeance of misdoers, and to the praising of good men.
(t) other unto rulers, as unto them that are sent of him, for the punishment of evil doers: but for the laud of them that do well [well do].
(g) Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent of him, for the punishment of evil doers, and for the praise of them that do well.
(k) Or unto governors, as unto them that are sent by him for the punishment of evildoers, and for the praise of them that do well.
- 2:15 (w) For so is the will of God, that ye doing well, make the unknowingness of unwise men to be dumb.
(p) For so is the will of God, that ye do well, and make the unknowingness of unprudent men to be dumb.
(t) For so is the will of God, that ye put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men [that with well doing ye should stop the mouths of ignorant men]:
(g) For so is the will of God, that by well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of the foolish men,
(k) For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:
- 2:16 (w) As free men, and not as having freedom the covering of malice, but as the servants of God.
(p) As free men, and not as having freedom the covering of malice, but as the servants of God.
(t) as free, and not as having the liberty [though ye took liberty] for a cloak of maliciousness: but even as the servants of God.
(g) As free, and not as having the liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.
(k) As free, and not using {Gr. having} your liberty for a cloke of maliciousness, but as the servants of God.
- 2:17 (w) Honour ye all men, love ye brotherhood, dread ye God, honour ye the king.
(p) Honour ye all men, love ye brotherhood, dread ye God, honour ye the king.
(t) [See that ye] Honor all men. Love brotherly fellowship, fear God, and honor the king.
(g) Honor all men, love brotherly fellowship, fear God, honor the King.
(k) Honour {or, Esteem} all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honour the king.
- 2:18 (w) Servants, be ye subject in all dread to lords, not only to good and mild, but also to tyrants.
(p) Servants, be ye subject in all dread to lords, not only to good and to mild, but also to tyrants.
(t) ¶ Servants obey your masters with all fear, not only if they be good and courteous: but also though they be froward.
(g) Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear, not only to the good and courteous, but also to the froward.
(k) Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.
- 2:19 (w) Forsooth this is grace, if for conscience of God any man suffereth sorrows, or heavinesses, suffering unjustly.
(p) For this is grace, if for conscience of God any man suffereth heavinesses, and suffereth unjustly.
(t) For it is thankworthy [For it cometh of grace,] if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.
(g) For this is thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.
(k) For this is thankworthy {or, thank}, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.
- 2:20 (w) For what grace is it, if ye sin, and be buffeted, and suffer? But if ye do well, and suffer patiently, this is grace with God.
(p) For what grace is it, if ye sin, and be buffeted, and suffer? But if ye do well, and suffer patiently, this is grace with God.

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) For what praise is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye take it patiently? But and if when ye do well, ye suffer wrong and take it patiently, then is there thank with God.

(g) For what praise is it, if when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye take it patiently? But and if when ye do well, ye suffer wrong and take it patiently, this is acceptable to God.

(k) For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable {or, thank} with God.

2:21 (w) For to this thing ye be called. For also Christ suffered for us, leaving to you example, that ye follow the steps of him.

(p) For to this thing ye be called. For also Christ suffered for us, and left ensample to you, that ye follow the steps of him.

(t) ¶ For Hereunto verily were ye called, for Christ also suffered for us [our sakes]: leaving us an example that ye should follow his steps,

(g) For hereunto ye are called, for Christ also suffered for you, leaving you an example that ye should follow his steps.

(k) For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us {or, for you}, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps:

2:22 (w) Which did not sin, neither guile was found in his mouth.

(p) Which did not sin, neither guile was found in his mouth.

(t) which did no sin, neither was there guile found in his mouth:

(g) Who did no sin, neither was there guile found in his mouth.

(k) Who did no sin, neither was guile found in his mouth:

2:23 (w) Which, when he was cursed, cursed not; when he suffered, he menaced not; but he betook himself to him, that deemed him unjustly.

(p) And when he was cursed, he cursed not; when he suffered, he menaced not; but he betook himself to him, that deemed him unjustly.

(t) which when he was reviled, reviled not again: when he suffered, he threatened not: but committed the cause to him that judgeth righteously,

(g) Who when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not, but committed it to him that judgeth righteously.

(k) Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but committed himself {or, his cause} to him that judgeth righteously:

2:24 (w) Which he himself suffered, or bare, our sins in his body on the tree, that we be dead to sins, and live to rightwiseness, by whose wan wound ye be healed.

(p) And he himself bare our sins in his body on a tree, that we be dead to sins, and live to rightwiseness, by whose wan wound ye be healed.

(t) which his own self bare our sins in his body on the tree, that we should be delivered from sin and should live in righteousness. By whose stripes ye were healed.

(g) Who his own self bare our sins in his body on the tree, that we being dead to sin, should live in righteousness; by whose stripes ye were healed.

(k) Who his own self bare our sins in his own body on {or, to} the tree, that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: by whose stripes ye were healed.

2:25 (w) For ye were as sheep erring, but ye be now turned to the shepherd, and bishop of your souls.

(p) For ye were as sheep erring, but ye be now turned to the shepherd, and bishop of your souls.

(t) For ye were as sheep going [which go] astray: but are now returned unto the shepherd, and bishop of your souls.

(g) For ye were as sheep going astray, but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

(k) For ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) Also women be subject to their husbands; that if any believe not to the word, by the conversation of women they be won without word.
(p) Also women be they subject to their husbands; that if any man believe not to the word, by the conversation of women they be won without word.
(t) ¶ Likewise let the wives [women] be in subjection to their husbands, that even they which believe not the word, may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives:
(g) Likewise let the wives be subject to their husbands, that even they which obey not the word, may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives,
(k) Likewise, ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, they also may without the word be won by the conversation of the wives;
- 3:2 (w) And behold ye in dread your holy conversation.
(p) And behold ye in dread your holy conversation.
(t) while they behold your pure conversation coupled with fear.
(g) While they behold your pure conversation which is with fear.
(k) While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.
- 3:3 (w) Of which be not withoutforth curious adorning of hair, or doing about of gold, or adorning of clothing of vestments;
(p) Of whom be there not withoutforth curious adorning of hair, either doing about of gold, either adorning of clothing;
(t) Whose apparel shall not be outward with broided hair, and hanging on of gold, other in putting on of gorgeous apparel:
(g) Whose appareling let it not be that outward, as with broided hair, and gold put about, or in putting on of apparel;
(k) Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;
- 3:4 (w) but that that is the hid man of heart, in uncorruptibility of quiet and mild spirit, which is rich in the sight of God.
(p) but that that is the hid man of heart, in uncorruption, and of mild spirit, which is rich in the sight of God.
(t) but let the hid man of the heart be uncorrupt, with a meek and a quiet spirit, which spirit is before God a thing much set by.
(g) But let it be the hidden man of the heart, which consisteth in the incorruption of a meek and quiet spirit, which is before God a thing much set by.
(k) But let it be the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.
- 3:5 (w) For so sometime holy women hoping in God adorned themselves, and were subject to their own husbands.
(p) For so sometime holy women hoping in God adorned themselves, and were subject to their own husbands.
(t) For after this manner in the old time did the holy women which trusted in God tire themselves, and were obedient to their husbands,
(g) For even after this manner in time past did the holy women, which trusted in God, attire themselves, and were subject to their husbands.
(k) For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

- 3:6 (w) As Sara obeyed to Abraham, calling him lord; of whom ye be daughters well-doing, and not dreading any perturbation.
(p) As Sara obeyed to Abraham, and called him lord; of whom ye be daughters well-doing, and not dreading any perturbation.
(t) even as Sara obeyed Abraham and called him lord: whose daughters ye are as long as ye do well, and be not afraid of every shadow.
(g) As Sarah obeyed Abraham, and called him Sir, whose daughters ye are, while ye do well, not being afraid of any terror.
(k) Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, calling him lord: whose daughters {Gr. children} ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.
- 3:7 (w) Also men together dwelling, after science, or knowing, giving honour to the woman's vessel, or body, as to the more sick, as and to even-heirs of grace of life, that your prayers be not letted.
(p) Also men dwell together, and by knowing give ye honour to the woman's frailty, as to the more feeble, and as to even-heirs of grace and of life, that your prayers be not hindered.
(t) ¶ Likewise ye men dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honor unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as unto them that are heirs also of the grace of life, that your prayers be not lett.
(g) Likewise ye husbands, dwell with them as men of knowledge, giving honor unto the woman, as unto the weaker vessel, even as they which are heirs together of the grace of life, that your prayers be not interrupted.
(k) Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; that your prayers be not hindered.
- 3:8 (w) Forsooth in faith all of one understanding, or will, in prayer be ye compassionate, or each suffering with other, lovers of fraternity, merciful, mild, meek;
(p) And in faith all of one will, in prayer be ye each suffering with other, lovers of brotherhood, merciful, mild, meek;
(t) ¶ In conclusion, be ye all of one mind, one suffer with another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous,
(g) Finally, be ye all of one mind, one suffer with another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous,
(k) Finally, be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as {or, loving to the} brethren, be pitiful, be courteous:
- 3:9 (w) not yielding evil for evil, neither cursing for cursing, but on the contrary blessing; for in this thing ye be called, that ye wield blessing by heritage.
(p) not yielding evil for evil, neither cursing for cursing, but on the contrary blessing; for in this thing ye be called, that ye wield blessing by heritage.
(t) not rendering evil for evil, neither rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise, bless: remembering that ye are thereunto called, even that ye should be heirs of blessing.
(g) Not rendering evil for evil, neither rebuke for rebuke, but contrariwise bless; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should be heirs of blessing.
(k) Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, that ye should inherit a blessing.
- 3:10 (w) For he that will love life, and see good days, constrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak no guile.
(p) For he that will love life, and see good days, constrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak not guile.
(t) If any man long after life [For whoso listeth to love life], and loveth to see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips, that they speak not guile:
(g) For if any man long after life, and to see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile.

- (k) For he that will love life, and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:
- 3:11 (w) And bow he from evil, and do good; seek he peace, and perfectly sue it.
(p) And bow he from evil, and do good; seek he peace, and perfectly follow it.
(t) Let him eschew evil and do good: let him seek peace, and ensue it.
(g) Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and follow after it.
(k) Let him eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.
- 3:12 (w) For the eyes of the Lord be on just men, and his ears on the prayers of them; forsooth the cheer of the Lord is on men doing evils.
(p) For the eyes of the Lord be on just men, and his ears on the prayers of them; but the face of the Lord is on men that do evils.
(t) For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord beholdeth them that do evil.
(g) For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers, and the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.
(k) For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against {Gr. upon} them that do evil.
- 3:13 (w) And who is it that shall harm you, if ye shall be good followers?
(p) And who is it that shall harm you, if ye be followers and lovers of goodness?
(t) ¶ Moreover who is it that will harm you if ye follow that which is good?
(g) And who is it that will harm you, if ye follow that which is good?
(k) And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?
- 3:14 (w) But and if ye suffer any thing for rightwiseness, ye be blessed; but dread ye not the dread of them, that ye be not distroubled.
(p) But also if ye suffer any thing for rightwiseness, ye be blessed; but dread ye not the dread of them, that ye be not disturbed.
(t) Notwithstanding happy are ye [nevertheless fear not] if ye suffer for righteousness' sake. Nevertheless fear not though they seem terrible unto you, neither be troubled:
(g) Notwithstanding blessed are ye, if ye suffer for righteousness' sake. Yea, fear not their fear, neither be troubled.
(k) But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;
- 3:15 (w) But hallow ye the Lord Christ in your hearts, and evermore be ye ready to do satisfaction to each man asking you reason of that faith and hope that is in you, but with mildness and dread,
(p) But hallow ye the Lord Christ in your hearts, and evermore be ye ready to satisfaction to each man asking you reason of that faith and hope that is in you, but with mildness and dread,
(t) but sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you [ye have], and that with meekness and fear:
(g) But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts, and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekness and reverence,
(k) But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear {or, reverence}:
- 3:16 (w) having good conscience; that in that thing that they backbite of you, they be confounded, which challenge falsely your good conversation in Christ.

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) having good conscience; that in that thing that they backbite of you, they be confounded, which challenge falsely your good conversation in Christ.
- (t) having a good conscience, that when they backbite you as evil doers, they may be ashamed, for as much as they have falsely accused your good conversation in Christ.
- (g) Having a good conscience, that when they speak evil of you as of evil doers, they may be ashamed, which slander your good conversation in Christ.
- (k) Having a good conscience; that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evildoers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.
- 3:17 (w) Soothly it is better, if the will of God will, ye well-doing, to suffer, than evil-doing.
- (p) For it is better that ye do well, and suffer, if the will of God will, than doing evil.
- (t) ¶ It is better (if the will of God be so) that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.
- (g) For it is better (if the will of God be so) that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.
- (k) For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.
- 3:18 (w) For also Christ once died for our sins, he just for unjust, that he should offer us to God, made dead in flesh, but made quick in Spirit.
- (p) For also Christ once died for our sins, he just for unjust, that he should offer to God us, made dead in flesh, but made quick in Spirit.
- (t) For as much as Christ hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, for to bring us to God, and was killed, as pertaining to the flesh: but was quickened in the spirit.
- (g) For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, and was put to death concerning the flesh, but was quickened by the spirit.
- (k) For Christ also hath once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, being put to death in the flesh, but quickened by the Spirit:
- 3:19 (w) For which thing he came in Spirit, and also to them that were closed together in prison;
- (p) For which thing he came in Spirit, and also to them that were closed together in prison;
- (t) ¶ In which spirit, he also went and preached unto the spirits that were in prison,
- (g) By the which he also went, and preached unto the spirits that are in prison.
- (k) By which also he went and preached unto the spirits in prison;
- 3:20 (w) which were sometime unbelievful, when they abided the patience of God in the days of Noah, when the ark, or ship, was made, in which a few, that is to say, eight souls were made safe by water.
- (p) which were sometime unbelievful, when they abided the patience of God in the days of Noah, when the ship was made, in which a few, that is to say, eight souls were made safe by water.
- (t) which were in time past disobedient, when the long suffering of God abode exceeding patiently in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few (that is to say eight souls) were saved by water,
- (g) Which were in time passed disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God abode in the days of Noah, while the Ark was preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved in the water.
- (k) Which sometime were disobedient, when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.
- 3:21 (w) The which thing and baptism of like form maketh us safe; not the putting away of the filths of flesh, but the asking of a good conscience in God, by the again-rising of our Lord Jesus Christ,
- (p) And so baptism of like form maketh us safe; not the putting away of the filths of flesh, but the asking of a good conscience in God, by the again-rising of our Lord Jesus Christ,

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

(t) which signifieth baptism that now saveth us, not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience consenteth to God, by the resurrection of Jesus Christ,

(g) To the which also the figure that now saveth us, even Baptism agreeth (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ,

(k) The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

3:22 (w) that is in the right half of God, he swallowing death, that we should be made heirs of everlasting life. He gone into heaven, and angels, and powers, and virtues, be made subject to him.

(p) that is in the right half of God, and swalloweth death, that we should be made heirs of everlasting life. He went into heaven, and angels, and powers, and virtues, be made subject to him.

(t) which is our [on the] right hand of God, and is gone into heaven, angels, power, and might, subdued unto him.

(g) Which is at the right hand of God, gone into heaven, to whom the Angels, and Powers, and might are subject.

(k) Who is gone into heaven, and is on the right hand of God; angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER 4

4:1 (w) Therefore for Christ suffered in flesh, be ye also armed by the same thinking; for he that suffered in flesh ceased from sins,

(p) Therefore for Christ suffered in flesh, be ye also armed by the same thinking; for he that suffered in flesh ceased from sins,

(t) ¶ For as much as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he which suffereth in the flesh ceaseth from sin,

(g) Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind, which is, that he which hath suffered in the flesh, hath ceased from sin,

(k) Forasmuch then as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

4:2 (w) that he live not now to the desires of men, but to the will of God, that that is more of time in flesh.

(p) that that is left now of time in flesh live not now to the desires of men, but to the will of God.

(t) that he henceforward should live as much time as remaineth in the flesh, not after the lusts of men: but after the will of God.

(g) That he henceforward should live (as much time as remaineth in the flesh) not after the lusts of men, but after the will of God.

(k) That he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, but to the will of God.

4:3 (w) Soothly the time passed is enough to the will of heathen men to be ended, which walked in lecheries, and lusts, in much drinking of wine, in oft eatings, and drinkings, and unleaveful worshippings of idols.

(p) For the time that is passed is enough to the will of heathen men to be ended, which walked in lecheries, and lusts, in much drinking of wine, in unmeasurable eatings, and drinkings, and unleaveful worshipping of maumets.

(t) For it is sufficient for us that we have spent the time that is past of the life, after the will of the gentiles, walking in wantonness lusts, drunkenness, in eating, drinking, and in abominable idolatry.

(g) For it is sufficient for us that we have spent the time past of the life, after the lust of the Gentiles, walking in wantonness, lusts, drunkenness, in gluttony, drinkings, and in abominable idolatries.

(k) For the time past of our life may suffice us to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

- 4:4 (w) In which now they be astonished, in which thing they wonder, for ye run not together into the same confusion of lechery, blaspheming.
(p) In which now they be astonished, in which thing they wonder, for ye run not together into the same confusion of lechery, and blasphememe.
(t) ¶ And it seemeth to them a strange thing that ye run not also with them unto the same excess of riot, and therefore speak they evil of you,
(g) Wherein it seemeth to them strange, that ye run not with them unto the same excess of riot, therefore speak they evil of you,
(k) Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, speaking evil of you:
- 4:5 (w) And they shall give reason to him, that is ready to deem the quick and the dead.
(p) And they shall give reason to him, that is ready to deem the quick and the dead.
(t) which shall give accounts to him that is ready to judge quick and dead.
(g) Which shall give account to him, that is ready to judge quick and dead.
(k) Who shall give account to him that is ready to judge the quick and the dead.
- 4:6 (w) For why for this thing to dead men it is evangelized also, that they be deemed soothly after men in flesh, but that they live after God in spirit.
(p) For why for this thing it is preached also to dead men, that they be deemed by men in flesh, and that they live by God in spirit.
(t) For unto this purpose verily was the gospel preached unto the dead, that they should be condemned [judged after the manner] of men in the flesh, but should live before God [Godly] in the spirit. The end of all things is at hand.
(g) For unto this purpose was the Gospel preached also unto the dead, that they might be condemned according to men in the flesh, but might live according to God in the spirit.
(k) For for this cause was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.
- 4:7 (w) Forsooth the end of all things shall nigh. Therefore be ye prudent, and wake ye in prayers;
(p) For the end of all things shall approach. Therefore be ye prudent, and wake ye in prayers;
(t) ¶ Be ye therefore discreet, and sober, that ye may be apt to prayers.
(g) Now the end of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watching in prayer.
(k) But the end of all things is at hand: be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.
- 4:8 (w) before all things have ye charity each to other in yourselves all-gates lasting; for charity covereth the multitude of sins.
(p) before all things have ye charity each to other in yourselves always lasting; for charity covereth the multitude of sins.
(t) But above all things have fervent love among you. For love covereth the multitude of sins.
(g) But above all things have fervent love among you, for love shall cover the multitude of sins.
(k) And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for charity shall {or, will} cover the multitude of sins.
- 4:9 (w) Hold ye hospitality together without grutching;
(p) Hold ye hospitality together without grudging;
(t) Be ye harbourous one to another, and that without grudging.
(g) Be ye harberous one to another, without grudging.
(k) Use hospitality one to another without grudging.

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4:10 (w) each man as he hath received grace, ministering each to other, as good dispensers of the manifold grace of God.
(p) each man as he hath received grace, ministering it into each other, as good dispensers of the manifold grace of God.
(t) As every man hath received the gift, minister the same one to another as good ministers of the manyfold grace of God.
(g) Let every man as he hath received the gift, minister the same one to another, as good disposers of the manifold grace of God.
(k) As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.
- 4:11 (w) If any man speaketh, speak he as the words of God; if any man ministereth, as of the virtue which God ministereth; that God be honoured in all things by Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom is glory and lordship into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(p) If any man speaketh, speak he as the words of God; if any man ministereth, as of the virtue which God ministereth; that God be honoured in all things by Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom is glory and lordship into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(t) If any man speak, let him talk as though he speak the words of God. If any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God ministereth unto him. That God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion forever and while the world standeth Amen.
(g) If any man speak, let him speak as the words of God. If any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God ministereth, that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom is praise and dominion forever, and ever, Amen.
(k) If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.
- 4:12 (w) Most dear, do not ye go in pilgrimage in fervor, that is made to you into temptation, as if any new thing befall to you;
(p) Most dear brethren, do not ye go in pilgrimage in fervor, that is made to you to temptation, as if any new thing befall to you;
(t) ¶ Dearly beloved, be not troubled in this heat, which now is come among you to try you, as though some strange thing had happened unto you:
(g) Dearly beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial, which is among you to prove you, as though some strange thing were come unto you;
(k) Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:
- 4:13 (w) but ye communing to the passions of Christ, have joy, that and ye gladdening withoutforth, have joy in the revelation of his glory.
(p) but commune ye with the passions of Christ, and have ye joy, that also ye be glad, and have joy in the revelation of his glory.
(t) but rejoice inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's passions, that when his glory appeareth, ye may be merry and glad.
(g) But rejoice, in as much as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings, that when his glory shall appear, ye may be glad and rejoice.
(k) But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.
- 4:14 (w) If ye be despised for the name of Christ, ye shall be blessed; for that that is of the glory and virtue of God, and the Spirit that is his, resteth on you.
(p) If ye be despised for the name of Christ, ye shall be blessed; for that that is of the honour, and of the glory, and of the virtue of God, and the Spirit that is his, shall rest on you.

Book 60 The First Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ If ye be railed upon for the name of Christ happy are ye [Happy are ye when ye suffer rebuke for the name of Christ]. For the spirit of glory and the spirit of God resteth upon you. On their part he is evil spoken of: but on your part he is glorified.
- (g) If ye be railed upon for the Name of Christ, blessed are ye, for the Spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you; which on their part is evil spoken of, but on your part is glorified.
- (k) If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.
- 4:15 (w) Forsooth no man of you suffer as a manslayer, or a thief, or curser, or desirer of other men's things;
(p) But no man of you suffer as a manslayer, either a thief, either curser, either a desirer of other men's goods;
(t) ¶ See that none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or an evil doer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.
(g) But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or an evil doer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.
(k) But let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, or as a busybody in other men's matters.
- 4:16 (w) but if he suffer as a christian man, shame he not, but glorify he God in this name.
(p) but if he suffer as a christian man, shame he not, but glorify he God in this name.
(t) If any man suffer as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorify God on this [his] behalf.
(g) But if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorify God in this behalf.
(k) Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God on this behalf.
- 4:17 (w) For time is, that doom begin of God's house; and if it begin first at us, what end shall be of them, that believe not to the gospel?
(p) For time is, that doom begin at God's house; and if it begin first at us, what end shall be of them, that believe not to the gospel?
(t) For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God. If it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them which believe not the gospel of God?
(g) For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God. If it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them which obey not the Gospel of God?
(k) For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?
- 4:18 (w) And if a just man scarcely shall be saved, where shall the unpious man and sinner appear?
(p) And if a just man scarcely shall be saved, where shall the unfaithful man and the sinner appear?
(t) And if the righteous scarcely be saved: where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?
(g) And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?
(k) And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?
- 4:19 (w) And so, and they that suffer after the will of God, betake their souls in good deeds to the faithful maker of nought.
(p) Therefore and they that suffer by the will of God, betake their souls in good deeds to the faithful maker of nought.
(t) Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their souls to him with well doing, as unto a faithful creator.
(g) Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God, commit their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.
(k) Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAPTER 5

- 5:1 (w) Therefore I, even-elder and a witness of Christ's passions, beseech the elder men that be in you, which also am a communer of that glory that shall be showed in time to come,
(p) Therefore I, an even-elder man, and a witness of Christ's passions, which also am a communer of that glory, that shall be showed in time to come; beseech the elder men, that be among you,
(t) ¶ The elders [seniors] which are among you I exhort, which am also an elder [senior], and a witness of the afflictions of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be opened:
(g) The Elders which are among you, I beseech which am also an Elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed,
(k) The elders which are among you I exhort, who am also an elder, and a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:
- 5:2 (w) feed ye the flock of God, that is among you, purveying not constrainingly, but willfully, after God; not for love of foul winning, but willfully,
(p) feed ye the flock of God, that is among you, and purvey ye, not as constrained, but willfully, by God; not for love of foul winning, but willfully,
(t) see that ye feed Christ's flock, which is among you, taking the oversight of them, not as though ye were compelled thereto: but willingly: Not for the desire of filthy lucre: but of a good mind.
(g) Feed the flock of God, which dependeth upon you, caring for it not by constraint, but willingly, not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;
(k) Feed the flock of God which is among you {or, as much as in you is}, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;
- 5:3 (w) neither as having lordship in the clergy, but made form, or example, of the flock, and of intent, either will.
(p) neither as having lordship in the clergy, but that ye be made ensample to the flock, of will.
(t) Not as though ye were lords over the parishes: but that ye be an example to the flock.
(g) Not as though ye were lords over God's heritage, but that ye may be examples to the flock.
(k) Neither as being lords over {or, overruling} God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock.
- 5:4 (w) And when the prince of shepherds shall appear, ye shall receive the crown of glory, that shall never fade.
(p) And when the prince of shepherds shall appear, ye shall receive the crown of glory, that may never fade.
(t) And when the chief shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive an incorruptible crown of glory.
(g) And when that chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive an incorruptible crown of glory.
(k) And when the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive a crown of glory that fadeth not away.
- 5:5 (w) Also ye younger men, be subject to elder men, forsooth all show ye together meekness; for the Lord withstandeth proud men, but he giveth grace to meek men.
(p) Also, ye young men, be ye subject to elder men, and all show ye together meekness; for the Lord withstandeth proud men, but he giveth grace to meek men.
(t) ¶ Likewise ye younger submit yourselves unto the elder. Submit yourselves every man, one to another. Knit yourselves together in lowliness of mind. For God resisteth the proud and giveth grace to the humble.
(g) Likewise ye younger, submit yourselves unto the Elders, and submit yourselves every man, one to another, deck yourselves inwardly in lowliness of mind, for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.
(k) Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for God resisteth the proud, and giveth grace to the humble.

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 5:6 (w) Therefore be ye meeked under the mighty hand of God, that he raise you in the day of visitation,
(p) Therefore be ye meeked under the mighty hand of God, that he raise you in the time of visitation,
(t) Submit yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you, when the time is come.
(g) Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time.
(k) Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:
- 5:7 (w) ye casting into him all your busyness, for to him is care of you.
(p) and cast ye all your busyness into him, for to him is care of you.
(t) Cast all your care to him: for he careth for you.
(g) Cast all your care on him, for he careth for you.
(k) Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.
- 5:8 (w) Be ye sober, and wake ye, for your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion goeth about, seeking whom he shall devour.
(p) Be ye sober, and wake ye, for your adversary, the devil, as a roaring lion goeth about, seeking whom he shall devour.
(t) ¶ Be sober and watch, for your adversary the devil as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:
(g) Be sober, and watch, for your adversary the devil as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may devour;
(k) Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:
- 5:9 (w) Whom against stand ye, strong in the faith, witting the same passion to be done to that your brotherhood, that is in the world.
(p) Whom against stand ye, strong in the faith, witting that the same passion is made to that brotherhood of you, that is in the world.
(t) whom resist steadfast in the faith, remembering that ye do but fulfill the same afflictions which are appointed to your brethren that are in the world.
(g) Whom resist steadfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren which are in the world.
(k) Whom resist stedfast in the faith, knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.
- 5:10 (w) And God of all grace, that called you into his everlasting glory, you suffering a little in Christ Jesus, he shall perform, shall confirm, and shall make firm.
(p) And God of all grace, that called you into his everlasting glory, you suffering a little, he shall perform, and shall confirm, and shall make firm.
(t) The God of all grace, which called you unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, shall his own self after ye have suffered a little affliction make you perfect: shall settle, strengthen, and establish you.
(g) And the God of all grace, which hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a little, make you perfect, confirm, strengthen and stablish you.
(k) But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you.
- 5:11 (w) To him be glory and lordship, into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(p) To him be glory and lordship, into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(t) To him be glory and dominion forever, and while the world endureth Amen.
(g) To him be glory and dominion forever and ever, Amen.
(k) To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

- 5:12 (w) By Silvanus, a faithful brother to you as I deem, I wrote shortly; beseeching, and witnessing that this is the very grace of God, in which ye stand.
(p) By Silvanus, faithful brother to you as I deem, I wrote shortly; beseeching, and witnessing that this is the very grace of God, in which ye stand.
(t) ¶ By Silvanus a faithful brother unto you (as I suppose) have I written briefly, exhorting and testifying how that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.
(g) By Silvanus a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, have I written briefly, exhorting and testifying how that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.
(k) By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have written briefly, exhorting, and testifying that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.
- 5:13 (w) The church that is gathered at Babylon greeteth you well, and Marcus, my son.
(p) The church that is gathered in Babylon, and Marcus, my son, greeteth you well.
(t) The companions of your election that are at Babylon [congregation that is gathered together at Babylon], saluteth you, and Marcus my son.
(g) The Church that is at Babylon elected together with you, saluteth you, and Marcus my son.
(k) The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth Marcus my son.
- 5:14 (w) Greet ye well together in holy kiss. Grace be to you all that be in Christ. Amen.
(p) Greet ye well together in holy kiss. Grace be to you all that be in Christ. Amen.
(t) Greet ye one another with the kiss of love. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Jesus, Amen.
(g) Greet ye one another with the kiss of love. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Jesus, Amen.
(k) Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) Simon Peter, servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have taken with us the even much faith, in the rightwiseness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ,
(p) Simon Peter, servant and apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have taken with us the even-faith, in the rightwiseness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ,
(t) ¶ Simon [Simeon] Peter a servant and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to them which have obtained like precious faith with us in the righteousness that cometh of our God, and of the savior Jesus Christ.
(g) Simon Peter a servant and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to you which have obtained like precious faith with us by the righteousness of our God and Saviour Jesus Christ;
(k) Simon {or, Symeon} Peter, a servant and an apostle of Jesus Christ, to them that have obtained like precious faith with us through the righteousness of God and our Saviour Jesus Christ:
- 1:2 (w) grace to you, and peace be full-filled, in the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) grace and peace be filled to you, by the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) ¶ Grace with you, and peace be multiplied in the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord.
(g) Grace and peace be multiplied to you, through the acknowledging of God, and of Jesus our Lord,
(k) Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:3 (w) How all things of his god-like virtue, that be into life and piety, be given to us, by the knowing of him, that called us for his own glory and virtue.
(p) How all things of his god-like virtue, that be to life and piety, be given to us, by the knowing of him, that called us for his own glory and virtue.
(t) According as his godly power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness [to serve God with all], through the knowledge of him that hath called us by virtue and glory,
(g) According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the acknowledging of him that hath called us unto glory and virtue.
(k) According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that hath called us to {or, by} glory and virtue:
- 1:4 (w) By whom he gave to us most and precious promises; that by these things ye shall be made fellows of God's kind, fleeing the corruption of that covetousness, that is in the world.
(p) By whom he gave to us most precious promises; that by these things ye shall be made fellows of God's kind, and flee the corruption of that covetousness, that is in the world.
(t) by the means whereof, are given unto us excellent and most great promises, that by the help of them ye should be partakers of the godly nature, in that ye flee the corruption of worldly lust.
(g) Whereby most great and precious promises are given unto us, that by them ye should be partakers of the divine nature, in that ye flee the corruption, which is in the world through lust.
(k) Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.
- 1:5 (w) And bring ye in all busyness, and minister in your faith virtue, soothly in virtue science, or knowing;
(p) And bring ye in all busyness, and minister in your faith virtue, and in virtue knowing;
(t) ¶ And hereunto give all diligence: in your faith minister virtue, and in virtue knowledge,
(g) Therefore give even all diligence thereunto, join moreover virtue with your faith, and with virtue, knowledge;
(k) And beside this, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue knowledge;
- 1:6 (w) in science soothly abstinence, in abstinence patience, in patience piety;
(p) in knowing abstinence, in abstinence patience, in patience piety;
(t) and in knowledge temperancy, and in temperancy patience, in patience godliness,
(g) And with knowledge, temperance, and with temperance, patience, and with patience, godliness,
(k) And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;
- 1:7 (w) in piety, love of brotherhood, and in love of brotherhood charity.
(p) in piety, love of brotherhood, and in love of brotherhood charity.
(t) in godliness brotherly kindness, in brotherly kindness love.
(g) And with godliness, brotherly kindness, and with brotherly kindness, love.
(k) And to godliness brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness charity.
- 1:8 (w) For if these be with you, and overcome, or be plenteous, they shall not make you void, nor without fruit, in the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) For if these be with you, and overcome, they shall not make you void, neither without fruit, in the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) For if these things be among you, and are plenteous, they will make you that ye neither shall be idle nor unfruitful in [unto] the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) For if these things be among you, and abound, they will make you that ye neither shall be idle, nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ;

(k) For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be barren {Gr. idle} nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

1:9 (w) But to whom these be not ready, he is blind, and gropeth with his hand, and forgetteth the purging of his old trespasses.

(p) But to whom these be not ready, he is blind, and gropeth with his hand, and forgetteth the purging of his old trespasses.

(t) But He that lacketh these things is blind and gropeth for the way with his hand, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

(g) For he that hath not these things is blind, and cannot see far off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

(k) But he that lacketh these things is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his old sins.

1:10 (w) Wherefore, brethren, more busy ye, that by good works ye make your calling and choosing certain; soothly ye doing these things, shall not sin any time.

(p) Wherefore, brethren, be ye more busy, that by good works ye make your calling and choosing certain; for ye doing these things shall not do sin any time.

(t) ¶ Wherefore brethren give the more diligence for to make your calling and election sure. For if ye do such things, ye shall never err.

(g) Wherefore, brethren, give rather diligence to make your calling and election sure; for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall;

(k) Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, ye shall never fall:

1:11 (w) For thus the entering into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, shall be ministered to you plenteously.

(p) For thus the entering into everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, shall be ministered to you plenteously.

(t) Yea and by this means an entering in shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and savior Jesus Christ.

(g) For by this means an entering shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

(k) For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

1:12 (w) For which thing I shall begin to admonish you evermore of these things; and I will that ye be knowing, and confirmed in this present truth.

(p) For which thing I shall begin to admonish you evermore of these things; and I will that ye be knowing, and confirmed in this present truth.

(t) ¶ Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of such things, though that ye know them yourselves and be also established in the present truth.

(g) Wherefore, I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though that ye have knowledge, and be stablished in the present truth.

(k) Wherefore I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:13 (w) Forsooth I deem just, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to raise you in admonishing;
(p) Forsooth I deem justly, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to raise you in admonishing;
(t) Notwithstanding I think it meet (as long as I am in this tabernacle) to stir you up by putting you in remembrance,
(g) For I think it meet as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance,
(k) Yea, I think it meet, as long as I am in this tabernacle, to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;
- 1:14 (w) and I am certain, for the putting off of my tabernacle is swift, by this that our Lord Jesus Christ hath showed to me.
(p) and I am certain, that the putting away of my tabernacle is swift, by this that our Lord Jesus Christ hath showed to me.
(t) for as much as I am sure how that the time is at hand that I must put off [this] my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath showed me.
(g) Seeing I know that the time is at hand that I must lay down this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.
(k) Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.
- 1:15 (w) But I shall give busyness, that oft after my death ye have mind of these things.
(p) But I shall give busyness, that oft after my death ye have mind of these things.
(t) I will enforce therefore, that on every side ye might have wherewith to stir up the remembrance of these things after my departing.
(g) I will endeavor therefore always, that ye also may be able to have remembrance of these things after my departing.
(k) Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.
- 1:16 (w) For we not following unwise tales, have made known to you the virtue and prescience, or before-knowing, of our Lord Jesus Christ; but made beholders of his greatness.
(p) For we not following unwise tales, have made known to you the virtue and the before-knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ; but we were made beholders of his greatness.
(t) ¶ For we followed not deceivable fables when we opened unto you the power, and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ: but with our eyes we saw his majesty.
(g) For we followed not deceivable fables, when we opened unto you the power, and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but with our eyes we saw his majesty;
(k) For we have not followed cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eyewitnesses of his majesty.
- 1:17 (w) For he took of God the Father honour and glory, by such manner voice slid down to him from the great glory, This is my loved Son, in whom I have pleased to me; hear ye him.
(p) For he took of God the Father honour and glory, by such manner voice slid down to him from the great glory, This is my loved Son, in whom I have pleased to me; hear ye him.
(t) Even then verily when he received of God the father honor and glory, and when there came such a voice to him from that excellent glory. This is my dear beloved son, in whom I have delight,
(g) For he received of God the Father honor and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent Glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
(k) For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.
- 1:18 (w) And we heard this voice brought from heaven, when we were with him in the holy hill.
(p) And we heard this voice brought from heaven, when we were with him in the holy hill.
(t) this voice we heard when it came from heaven, being with him in the holy mount.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) And this voice we heard when it came from heaven, being with him in the Holy mount.

(k) And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in the holy mount.

1:19 (w) And we have a firmer word of prophecy, to which ye giving attention do well, as to a lantern that giveth light in a dark place, till the day begin to give light, and the day star spring in your hearts.

(p) And we have a firmer word of prophecy, to which ye giving attention do well, as to a lantern that giveth light in a dark place, till the day begin to give light, and the day star spring in your hearts.

(t) ¶ We have also a right [more] sure word of prophecy, whereunto if ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, ye do well, until the day dawn and the day star arise in your hearts.

(g) We have also a most sure word of the Prophets, to the which ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts.

(k) We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and the day star arise in your hearts:

1:20 (w) First understanding this thing, that each prophecy of scripture is not made by proper, or own, interpretation;

(p) And first understand ye this thing, that each prophecy of scripture is not made by proper interpretation;

(t) So that ye first know this, that no prophecy in the scripture hath any private interpretation.

(g) So that ye first know this, that no prophecy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation.

(k) Knowing this first, that no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

1:21 (w) for prophecy was not brought any time by man's will, but the holy men of God inspired with the Holy Ghost spake.

(p) for prophecy was not brought any time by man's will, but the holy men of God inspired with the Holy Ghost spake.

(t) For the scripture came never by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the holy ghost.

(g) For the Prophecy came not in old time by the will of man, but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the holy Ghost.

(k) For the prophecy came not in old time {or, not at any time} by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER 2

2:1 (w) Forsooth there were and false prophets of the people, as and in you shall be master liars, which shall bring in sects of perdition; and they denying that Lord that bought them, and bring on themselves hasty perdition, or damnation.

(p) But also false prophets were in the people, as in you shall be masters liars, that shall bring in sects of perdition; and they deny that Lord that bought them, and bring on themselves hasty perdition.

(t) ¶ There were false prophets among the people even as there shall be false teachers among you: which privily shall bring in damnable sects, even denying the Lord that hath bought them, and bring upon themselves [on their own heads] swift damnation,

(g) But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, which privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that hath bought them, and bring upon themselves swift damnation.

(k) But there were false prophets also among the people, even as there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even denying the Lord that bought them, and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2:2 (w) And many shall follow their lecheries, by whom the way of truth shall be blasphemed;

(p) And many shall follow their lecheries, by whom the way of truth shall be blasphemed;

(t) and many shall follow their damnable ways, by which the way of truth shall be evil spoken of,

(g) And many shall follow their damnable ways, by whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of,

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (k) And many shall follow their pernicious {or, lascivious} ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.
- 2:3 (w) and they shall make merchandise of you in covetousness by feigned words. To whom doom now sometime ceaseth not, and the perdition of them nappeth not.
(p) and they shall make merchandise of you in covetousness by feigned words. To whom doom now a while ago ceaseth not, and the perdition of them nappeth not.
(t) and through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you, whose judgment is not far off, and their damnation sleepeth not.
(g) And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you, whose judgment long since resteth not, and their destruction slumbereth not.
(k) And through covetousness shall they with feigned words make merchandise of you: whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.
- 2:4 (w) For if God spared not angels sinning, but betook them to be tormented, drawn down with bonds of hell into hell, to be kept into doom;
(p) For if God spared not angels sinning, but betook them to be tormented, and to be drawn down with bonds of hell into hell, to be kept into doom;
(t) ¶ For if God spared not the angels that sinned but cast them down into hell, and delivered [put] them in chains of darkness, [there] to be kept unto judgment:
(g) For if God spared not the Angels that had sinned, but cast them down into hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be kept unto damnation;
(k) For if God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;
- 2:5 (w) and spared not the first world, but kept Noah, the eighth man, the before-goer of rightwiseness, bringing in the deluge, or great flood, to the world of unpius men;
(p) and spared not the first world, but kept Noah, the eighth man, the before-goer of rightwiseness, and brought in the great flood to the world of unfaithful men;
(t) neither spared the old world: but saved Noah the eighth preacher of righteousness, and brought in the flood upon [into] the world of the ungodly,
(g) Neither hath spared the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person a preacher of righteousness, and brought in the Flood upon the world of the ungodly,
(k) And spared not the old world, but saved Noah the eighth person, a preacher of righteousness, bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;
- 2:6 (w) and driving into powder the cities of men of Sodom and of men of Gomorrha, and condemned by turning upside-down, putting example of them that were to doing evil, or unpiously;
(p) and he drove into powder the cities of men of Sodom and of men of Gomorrha, and condemned by turning upside-down, and put them the ensample of them that were to doing evil;
(t) and turned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah into ashes: overthrew them, damned them, and made on them an example unto all that after should live ungodly.
(g) And turned the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes, condemned them and overthrew them, and made them an example unto them that after should live ungodly,
(k) And turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;
- 2:7 (w) and delivered the just Lot, oppressed of the wrong, and of the lecherous conversation of cursed men;
(p) and delivered the just Lot, oppressed of the wrong, and of the lecherous conversation of cursed men;

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) And just Lot vexed with the uncleanly conversation of the wicked, delivered he.
- (g) And delivered just Lot vexed with the uncleanly conversation of the wicked;
- (k) And delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:
- 2:8 (w) for in sight and hearing he was just, dwelling with them that from day into day tormented with wicked works a just soul.
- (p) for in sight and hearing he was just, and dwelled amongst them that from day into day tormented with wicked works a just soul.
- (t) For he being righteous and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful [unrighteous] deeds.
- (g) (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds.)
- (k) (For that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;)
- 2:9 (w) The Lord knew to deliver pious men of temptation, soothly to keep wicked men into the day of doom to be tormented;
- (p) For the Lord knoweth how to deliver pious men from temptation, and keep wicked men into the day of doom to be tormented;
- (t) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and how to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment for to be punished:
- (g) The Lord knoweth to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment under punishment.
- (k) The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:
- 2:10 (w) but more them that walk after the flesh, in coveting of uncleanness, and despise lordshipping, and be bold, pleasing themselves, and dread not to bring in sects, blaspheming;
- (p) but more them that walk after the flesh, in coveting of uncleanness, and despise lordshipping, and be bold, pleasing themselves, and dread not to bring in sects, blaspheming;
- (t) namely them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise the rulers. Presumptuous are they, and stubborn and fear not to speak evil of them that are in authority.
- (g) And chiefly them that walk after the flesh, in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government, which are presumptuous, and stand in their own conceit, and fear not to speak evil of them that are in dignity.
- (k) But chiefly them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise government {or, dominion}. Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.
- 2:11 (w) where angels, when they be more in strength and virtue, bear not against them the execrable, or cursed, doom.
- (p) where angels, when they be more in strength and virtue, bear not the execrable doom against them.
- (t) When the angels which are greater both in power and might, receive not of the Lord railing judgment against them.
- (g) Where as the Angels which are greater both in power and might, give not railing judgment against them before the Lord.
- (k) Whereas angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation against them {or, themselves} before the Lord.
- 2:12 (w) But these be as unreasonable beasts, by kind into taking, and into death, blaspheming in these things that they know not, and shall perish in their corruption,

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) But these be as unreasonable beasts, naturally into taking, and into death, blaspheming in these things that they know not, and shall perish in their corruption,
- (t) But these as brute beasts, naturally made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of that they know not, and shall perish through their own destruction, and receive the reward of unrighteousness.
- (g) But these, as natural brute beasts, led with sensuality and made to be taken, and destroyed, speak evil of those things which they know not, and shall perish through their own corruption,
- (k) But these, as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;
- 2:13 (w) receiving the hire of unrightwiseness, guessing the volupties of the day delights of defouling and of wem, with delights flowing, in their feasts doing lechery with you,
- (p) and receive the hire of unrightwiseness. And they guess delights of defouling and of wem, to be likings of the day, flowing in their feasts with delights, doing lechery with you,
- (t) ¶ They count it pleasure to live deliciously for a season. Spots they are and filthiness: living at pleasure and in deceivable ways feasting with you [and of you they make a mockingstock feasting together in their deceivable ways]:
- (g) And shall receive the wages of unrighteousness, as they which count it pleasure daily to live deliciously. Spots they are and blots, delighting themselves in their deceivings, in feasting with you,
- (k) And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure to riot in the day time. Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while they feast with you;
- 2:14 (w) having eyes full of adultery, and unceasing trespass, deceiving unsteadfast souls, having the heart exercised in covetousness, the sons of cursing,
- (p) and have eyes full of adultery, and unceasing trespass, deceiving unsteadfast souls, and have the heart exercised to covetousness; the sons of cursing,
- (t) having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease to sin, beguiling unstable souls. Hearts they have exercised with covetousness.
- (g) Having eyes full of adultery, and that cannot cease to sin, beguiling unstable souls, they have hearts exercised with covetousness, cursed children;
- (k) Having eyes full of adultery {Gr. an adulteress}, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:
- 2:15 (w) that forsake the right way, and erred, following the way of Balaam of Bosor, which loved the hire of wickedness.
- (p) that forsake the right way, and erred, following the way of Balaam of Bosor, which loved the hire of wickedness.
- (t) They are cursed children, and have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, which loved the reward of unrighteousness: but was rebuked of his iniquity.
- (g) Which forsaking the right way, have gone astray, following the way of Balaam, the son of Bosor, which loved the wages of unrighteousness.
- (k) Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;
- 2:16 (w) Soothly he had correction, or reprovng, of his madness; a dumb beast under yoke, speaking with voice of a man, forbade the un wisdom of the prophet.
- (p) But he had reprovng of his madness; a dumb beast under yoke, that spake with voice of man, that forbade the un wisdom of the prophet.
- (t) The tame and dumb beast, speaking with man's voice forbade the foolishness of the prophet.
- (g) But he was rebuked for his iniquity, for the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbade the foolishness of the Prophet.
- (k) But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter
Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:17 (w) These be wells without water, and clouds driven with whirling winds, to whom the thick mist of darknesses is reserved.
(p) These be wells without water, and mists driven with whirlwinds, to whom the thick mist of darknesses is reserved.
(t) ¶ These are wells without water, and clouds carried about of a tempest, to whom the mist of darkness is reserved forever.
(g) These are wells without water, and clouds carried about with a tempest, to whom the black darkness is reserved forever.
(k) These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.
- 2:18 (w) And they speak in pride of vanity, and deceive in desires of flesh of lechery them, that escape a little. Which live in error,
(p) And they speak in pride of vanity, and deceive in desires of flesh of lechery them, that escape a little. Which live in error,
(t) For when they have spoken the swelling words of vanity, they beguile with wantonness through the lusts of the flesh them that were clean escaped: but now are wrapped in errors.
(g) For in speaking swelling words of vanity, they beguile with wantonness through the lusts of the flesh them that were clean escaped from them which are wrapped in error,
(k) For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that were clean {or, for a little, or, a while}, escaped from them who live in error.
- 2:19 (w) promising liberty, or freedom, to them, when they be servants of corruption. For of whom any man is overcome, of him also he is servant.
(p) and promise freedom to them, when they be servants of corruption. For of whom any man is overcome, of him also he is servant.
(t) They promise them liberty, and are themselves the bondservants of corruption. For of whomsoever a man is overcome, unto the same is he in bondage.
(g) Promising unto them liberty, and are themselves the servants of corruption; for of whomsoever a man is overcome, even unto the same is he in bondage.
(k) While they promise them liberty, they themselves are the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.
- 2:20 (w) For if men forsake the uncleannesses of the world, by the knowing of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, again enwrapped in these, and be overcome, the latter things be made to them worse than the former.
(p) For if men forsake the uncleannesses of the world, by the knowing of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, and again be wrapped in these, and be overcome, the latter things be made to them worse than the former.
(t) For if they, after they have escaped from the filthiness of the world through the knowledge of the Lord, and of the savior Jesus Christ, they are yet tangled again therein and overcome: then is the latter end worse with them than the beginning.
(g) For if they, after they have escaped from the filthiness of the world, through the acknowledging of the Lord, and of the Saviour Jesus Christ, are yet tangled again therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.
(k) For if after they have escaped the pollutions of the world through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.
- 2:21 (w) For it was better to them to not know the way of rightwiseness, than to turn again after the knowing, from that holy commandment that was betaken to them.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) For it was better to them to not know the way of rightwiseness, than to turn again after the knowing, from that holy commandment that was betaken to them.
- (t) For it had been better for them, not to have known the way of righteousness, than after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment given unto them.
- (g) For it had been better for them not to have acknowledged the way of righteousness, than after they have acknowledged it, to turn from the holy commandment given unto them.
- (k) For it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

- 2:22 (w) Soothly that thing of very proverb befell to them, An hound turned again to his vomit, or casting up, and a sow washed in the wallowing, or slough, of clay, or fen.
- (p) For that very proverb befelled to them, The hound turned again to his vomit, or casting, and a sow is washed in wallowing in fen.
- (t) It is happened unto them according to the true proverb: The dog is turned to his vomit again, and the sow that was washed, to her wallowing [after she is washed, is returned to her wallowing] in the mire.
- (g) But it is come unto them, according to the true proverb, The dog is returned to his own vomit, and the sow that was washed, to the wallowing in the mire.
- (k) But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER 3

- 3:1 (w) Lo! I write to you, most dear, this second epistle, in which I stir your clear soul by admonishing together,
- (p) Lo! ye most dear-worthy brethren, I write to you this second epistle, in which I stir your clear soul by admonishing together,
- (t) ¶ This is the second epistle that I now write unto you, [my dearly] beloved, wherewith I stir up and warn your pure minds,
- (g) This second Epistle I now write unto you, beloved, wherewith I stir up, and warn your pure minds,
- (k) This second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:
- 3:2 (w) that ye be mindful of the words, that I before-said of the holy prophets, and of the commandments of the holy apostles of the Lord and Saviour.
- (p) that ye be mindful of those words, that I before-said of the holy prophets, and of the commandments of the holy apostles of the Lord and Saviour.
- (t) to call to remembrance the words which were told before of the holy prophets, and also the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and savior.
- (g) To call to remembrance the words, which were told before of the holy Prophets, and also the commandment of us the Apostles of the Lord and Saviour.
- (k) That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:
- 3:3 (w) First knowing this thing, that in the last days scorners shall come in deceit, going after their own covetings,
- (p) First know ye this thing, that in the last days deceivers shall come in deceit, going after their own covetings,
- (t) ¶ This first understand, that there shall come in the last days mockers, which will walk after their own lusts and say:
- (g) This first understand, that there shall come in the last days, mockers, which will walk after their lusts,
- (k) Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts,

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 3:4 (w) saying, Where is the promise, or the coming of him? for since fathers slept, either died, so all things last from the beginning of creature.
(p) saying, Where is the promise, or the coming of him? for since the fathers died, all things last from the beginning of creature.
(t) Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers died all things continue in the same estate wherein they were at the beginning.
(g) And say, Where is the promise of his coming? For since the fathers died, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.
(k) And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.
- 3:5 (w) But it is hid from them willing this thing, that heavens were first, and the earth of water and by water being, or standing, together by God's word;
(p) But it is hid from them willing this thing, that heavens were before, and the earth of water was standing by water, by God's word;
(t) This they know not (and that willingly) how that the heavens a great while ago were, and the earth that was in the water, appeared up out of the water by the word of God:
(g) For this they willingly know not, that the heavens were of old, and the earth that was of the water, and by the water, by the word of God.
(k) For this they willingly are ignorant of, that by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth standing {Gr. consisting} out of the water and in the water:
- 3:6 (w) by which things that same world cleansed, then by water perished.
(p) by which that same world cleansed, then by water perished.
(t) by the which things the world that then was perished over flown with the water [flood].
(g) Wherefore the world that then was, perished, overflowed with the water.
(k) Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:
- 3:7 (w) Forsooth the heavens that now be, and the earth, by the same word put again, be kept to fire into the day of doom and perdition of unpius men.
(p) But the heavens that now be, and the earth, be kept by the same word, and be reserved to fire into the day of doom and perdition of wicked men.
(t) But the heavens verily and earth which are now, are kept by the same word in store, and reserved unto fire, against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.
(g) But the heavens and earth, which are now, are kept by the same word in store, and reserved unto fire against the day of judgment, and of the destruction of ungodly men.
(k) But the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.
- 3:8 (w) But, ye most dear, this one thing be not unknown, that one day with God is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.
(p) But, ye most dear, this one thing be not hid to you, that one day with God is as a thousand years, and a thousand years be as one day.
(t) ¶ Dearly beloved be not ignorant of this one thing, how that one day is with the Lord, as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.
(g) Dearly beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord, as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.

3:9 (w) The Lord tarrieth not his promise, as some men guess, but he doeth patiently for you, and will not willing any to perish, but that all turn again to penance.

(p) The Lord tarrieth not his promise, as some guess, but he doeth patiently for you, and will not that any man perish, but that all turn again to penance.

(t) The Lord is not slack to fulfill his promise as some men count slackness: but is patient to usward and would have no man lost, but would receive all men to repentance.

(g) The Lord is not slack concerning his promise (as some men count slackness) but is patient toward us, and would have no man to perish, but would all men to come to repentance.

(k) The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.

3:10 (w) For the day of the Lord shall come as a thief, in which heavens with great rush, or fierceness, shall pass, and elements shall be dissolved by heat, and the earth, and all the works that be in it, shall be burnt.

(p) For the day of the Lord shall come as a thief, in which heavens with great rush shall pass, and elements shall be dissolved by heat, and the earth, and all the works that be in it, shall be burnt.

(t) Nevertheless the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which day, the heavens shall perish with terrible noise, and the elements shall melt with heat, and the earth with the works that are therein shall burn.

(g) But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night, in the which the heavens shall pass away with a noise, and the elements shall melt with heat, and the earth with the works that are therein, shall be burned up.

(k) But the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

3:11 (w) Therefore when all these things shall be dissolved, what manner men behooveth it you to be in holy livings and pieties,

(p) Therefore when all these things shall be dissolved, what manner men behooveth it you to be in holy livings and piety,

(t) ¶ If all these things shall perish, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conversation, and godliness:

(g) Seeing therefore that all these things must be dissolved, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conversation and godliness,

(k) Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be in all holy conversation and godliness,

3:12 (w) abiding and hieing into the coming of the day of our Lord Jesus Christ, by which heavens burning shall be dissolved, and elements shall fail by burning, or heat, of fire.

(p) abiding and hieing into the coming of the day of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom heavens burning shall be dissolved, and elements shall fail by burning of fire.

(t) looking for, and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, in which the heavens shall perish with fire, and the elements shall be consumed with heat.

(g) Looking for, and hasting unto the coming of the day of God, by the which the heavens being on fire, shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with heat?

(k) Looking for and hasting unto the coming {or, hasting the coming} of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall be dissolved, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat?

3:13 (w) Soothly we abide after his promise new heavens and new earth, in which rightwiseness dwelleth.

(p) Also we abide by his promises new heavens and new earth, in which rightwiseness dwelleth.

(t) Nevertheless we look for a new heaven, and a new earth, according to his promise, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) But we look for new heavens, and a new earth, according to his promise, wherein dwelleth righteousness.
- (k) Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.
- 3:14 (w) For which thing, ye most dear, abiding these things, be ye busy to be found to him in peace unspotted and unfouled.
- (p) For which thing, ye most dear, abiding these things, be ye busy to be found to him in peace unspotted and undefouled.
- (t) ¶ Wherefore dearly beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot and undefiled:
- (g) Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot and blameless.
- (k) Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.
- 3:15 (w) And deem ye the long abiding of our Lord your health, as and our most dear brother Paul wrote to you, after wisdom given to him.
- (p) And deem ye long abiding of our Lord Jesus Christ your health, as also our most dear brother Paul wrote to you, by wisdom given to him.
- (t) And suppose that the long suffering of the Lord is salvation [health], even as our dearly beloved brother Paul, according to the wisdom given unto him, wrote to you,
- (g) And suppose that the long suffering of our Lord is salvation, even as our beloved brother Paul according to the wisdom given unto him wrote unto you,
- (k) And account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you;
- 3:16 (w) As and in all epistles he speaking in them of these things; in which be some hard things in understanding, the which unwise, or untaught, and unstable men deprave, as also they do other scriptures, to their own perdition.
- (p) As and in all his epistles he speaketh in them of these things; in which be some hard things to understand, which unwise and unstable men deprave, as also they do other scriptures, to their own perdition.
- (t) yea, almost in every epistle speaking of such things: among which are many things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned, and unstable pervert, as they do other scriptures unto their own destruction.
- (g) As one that in all his Epistles speaketh of these things, among the which some things are hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable, wrest, as they do also other Scriptures unto their own destruction.
- (k) As also in all his epistles, speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.
- 3:17 (w) Therefore ye, brethren, before-witting keep yourselves, lest ye over-led, or deceived, by error of unwise men, fall away from your own firmness.
- (p) Therefore ye, brethren, before-witting keep yourselves, lest ye be deceived by error of unwise men, and fall away from your own firmness.
- (t) Ye therefore [dearly] beloved seeing ye are warned, beware lest ye be also plucked away with the error of the wicked, and own steadfastness:
- (g) Ye therefore beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware, lest ye be also plucked away with the error of the wicked, and fall from your own steadfastness.
- (k) Ye therefore, beloved, seeing ye know these things before, beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.
- 3:18 (w) But wax ye in the grace and the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ and our Saviour; to him be glory now and into the day of everlastingness. Amen.

Book 61 The Second Epistle of the Apostle Peter

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) But wax ye in the grace and the knowing of our Lord Jesus Christ and our Saviour; to him be glory now and into the day of everlastingness. Amen.

(t) but grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord, and savior Jesus Christ. To whom be glory both now and forever, Amen.

(g) But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for evermore. Amen.

(k) But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) Which thing was from the beginning, which we heard, which we saw with our eyes, which we beheld, and our hands touched, of the word of life;
(p) That thing that was from the beginning, which we heard, which we saw with our eyes, which we beheld, and our hands touched, of the word of life;
(t) ¶ That which was from the beginning [declare we unto you], which we have heard which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the word of life.
(g) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled of the Word of life,
(k) That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 1:2 (w) and the life is showed. And we saw, and witness, and tell to you the everlasting life, that was with the Father, and appeared to us.
(p) and the life is showed. And we saw, and witness, and tell to you the everlasting life, that was with the Father, and appeared to us.
(t) For the life appeared, and we have seen, and bear witness, and show unto you that eternal life, which was with the father, and appeared unto us.
(g) (For the life was made manifest, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you the eternal life, which was with the Father, and was made manifest unto us.)
(k) (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and shew unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;)
- 1:3 (w) Therefore that thing, that we saw, and heard, we tell to you, that also ye have fellowship with us, and our fellowship be with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.
(p) Therefore that thing, that we saw, and heard, we tell to you, that also ye have fellowship with us, and our fellowship be with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.
(t) That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you that ye may have fellowship with us, and that our fellowship may be with the father, and his son Jesus Christ.
(g) That, I say, which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye may also have fellowship with us, and that our fellowship also may be with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.
(k) That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.
- 1:4 (w) And this thing we write to you, that ye have joy, and that your joy be full.
(p) And we write this thing to you, that ye have joy, and that your joy be full.
(t) And this write we unto you, that our [your] joy may be full.
(g) And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.
(k) And these things write we unto you, that your joy may be full.
- 1:5 (w) And this is the telling, that we heard of him, and tell to you, that God is light, and there be no darkneses in him.
(p) And this is the telling, that we heard of him, and tell to you, that God is light, and there be no darkneses in him.
(t) ¶ And this is the tidings which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.
(g) This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness.
(k) This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.
- 1:6 (w) If we say, that we have fellowship with him, and we wander in darkneses, we lie, and do not truth.
(p) If we say, that we have fellowship with him, and we wander in darkneses, we lie, and do not truth.
(t) If we say that we have fellowship with him, and yet walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:
(g) If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not truly;
(k) If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:
- 1:7 (w) But if we walk in light, as also he is in light, we have fellowship together; and the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin.
(p) But if we walk in light, as also he is in light, we have fellowship together; and the blood of Jesus Christ, his Son, cleanseth us from all sin.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) but and if we walk in light even as he is in light, then have we fellowship with him, and the blood of Jesus Christ his son cleanseth us from all sin.

(g) But if we walk in the light as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

(k) But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

1:8 (w) If we say, that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and truth is not in us.

(p) If we say, that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and truth is not in us.

(t) ¶ If we [shall] say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and truth is not in us.

(g) If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and truth is not in us.

(k) If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us.

1:9 (w) If we acknowledge our sins, he is faithful and just, that he forgive to us our sins, and cleanse us from all wickedness.

(p) If we acknowledge our sins, he is faithful and just, that he forgive to us our sins, and cleanse us from all wickedness.

(t) If we knowledge our sins, he is faithful and just, to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

(g) If we acknowledge our sins, he is faithful and just, to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

(k) If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

1:10 (w) If we say, that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

(p) And if we say, that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

(t) If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

(g) If we say we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

(k) If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER 2

2:1 (w) My little sons, I write to you these things, that ye sin not. But if any man sinneth, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ just,

(p) My little sons, I write to you these things, that ye sin not. But if any man sinneth, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ,

(t) ¶ My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not [should not sin]: [and] if any man sin, yet we have an advocate with the father, Jesus Christ, which is righteous:

(g) My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ, the Just.

(k) My little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2:2 (w) and he is helping for our sins; soothly not only for ours, but also for the sins of all the world.

(p) and he is the forgiveness for our sins; and not only for our sins, but also for the sins of all the world.

(t) and he it is that obtaineth grace for our sins: not for our sins only: but also for the sins of all the world.

(g) And he is the reconciliation for our sins; and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

(k) And he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world.

2:3 (w) And in this thing we know, that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

(p) And in this thing we know, that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) And hereby we are sure [know] that we know [have known] him, if we keep his commandments.
- (g) And hereby we are sure that we know him, if we keep his commandments.
- (k) And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.
- 2:4 (w) He that saith that he knoweth God, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and truth is not in him.
- (p) He that saith that he knoweth God, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and truth is not in him.
- (t) He that sayeth I know him, and keepeth not his commandments is a liar, and the verity is not in him.
- (g) He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.
- (k) He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, is a liar, and the truth is not in him.
- 2:5 (w) Forsooth who keepeth his word, verily in him is perfect charity. In this thing we know, that we be in him, if we be perfect in him.
- (p) But the charity of God is perfect verily in him, that keepeth his word. In this thing we know, that we be in him, if we be perfect in him.
- (t) Whosoever keepeth his word, in him is the love of God perfect in deed. And thereby [therein] know we that we are in him.
- (g) But he that keepeth his word, in him is the love of God perfect indeed; hereby we know that we are in him.
- (k) But whoso keepeth his word, in him verily is the love of God perfected: hereby know we that we are in him.
- 2:6 (w) He that saith, that he dwelleth in him, he oweth to walk, as he walked.
- (p) He that saith, that he dwelleth in him, he oweth to walk, as he walked.
- (t) He that sayeth he abideth in him, ought to walk even as he walked.
- (g) He that saith he remaineth in him, ought even so to walk as he hath walked.
- (k) He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.
- 2:7 (w) Most dear brethren, I write to you, not a new commandment, but the old commandment, that ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word, that ye heard.
- (p) Most dear brethren, I write to you, not a new commandment, but the old commandment, that ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word, that ye heard.
- (t) ¶ Brethren I write no new commandment unto you: but that old commandment which ye heard from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye heard from the beginning.
- (g) Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment, which ye have had from the beginning; the old commandment is the word, which ye have heard from the beginning.
- (k) Brethren, I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.
- 2:8 (w) Again I write to you a new commandment, that is true both in him and in you; for darkneses be passed, and very light now shineth.
- (p) Again I write to you a new commandment, that is true both in him and in you; for darkneses be passed, and very light shineth now.
- (t) Again a new commandment I write unto you, a thing that is true in him, and also in you: for the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.
- (g) Again, a new commandment I write unto you, that which is true in him, and also in you, for the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.
- (k) Again, a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: because the darkness is past, and the true light now shineth.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:9 (w) He that saith, that he is in light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness till to yet.
(p) He that saith, that he is in light, and hateth his brother, is in darknesses yet.
(t) He that sayeth how that he is in the [true] light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darkness even until this time.
(g) He that saith that he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness, until this time.
(k) He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.
- 2:10 (w) He that loveth his brother, dwelleth in light, and offence is not in him.
(p) He that loveth his brother, dwelleth in light, and cause of stumbling is not in him.
(t) He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of evil in him.
(g) He that loveth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of evil in him.
(k) He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of {scandal} stumbling in him.
- 2:11 (w) But he that hateth his brother, is in darknesses, and wandereth in darknesses, and knoweth not whither he goeth; for darknesses have blinded his eyes.
(p) But he that hateth his brother, is in darknesses, and wandereth in darknesses, and knoweth not whither he goeth; for darknesses have blinded his eyes.
(t) He that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness: and cannot tell whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.
(g) But he that hateth his brother, is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.
(k) But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.
- 2:12 (w) Little sons, I write to you, that your sins be forgiven to you for his name.
(p) Little sons, I write to you, that your sins be forgiven to you for his name.
(t) ¶ Babes I write unto you how that your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.
(g) Little children, I write unto you, because your sins are forgiven you for his Name's sake.
(k) I write unto you, little children, because your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.
- 2:13 (w) Fathers, I write to you, for ye have known him, that is from the beginning. Young men, I write to you, for ye have overcome the wicked. I write to you, infants, or young children, for ye have known the Father.
(p) Fathers, I write to you, for ye have known him, that is from the beginning. Young men, I write to you, for ye have overcome the wicked. I write to you, young children, for ye have known the Father.
(t) I write unto you fathers, how that ye have known him that was from the beginning. I write unto you young men, how that ye have overcome the wicked. I write unto you little children, how that ye have known the father.
(g) I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.
(k) I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.
- 2:14 (w) I write to you, brethren, for ye have known him, that is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, for ye be strong, and the word of God dwelleth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked.
(p) I write to you, brethren, for ye have known him, that is from the beginning. I write to you, young men, for ye be strong, and the word of God dwelleth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked.
(t) I write unto you fathers, how that ye have known him that was from the beginning. I write unto you young men, how that ye are strong: and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome that wicked.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

(k) I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

2:15 (w) Do not ye love the world, neither those things that be in the world. If any man loveth the world, the charity of the Father is not in him.

(p) Do not ye love the world, nor those things that be in the world. If any man loveth the world, the charity of the Father is not in him.

(t) ¶ See that ye love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the father is not in him.

(g) Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

(k) Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

2:16 (w) For all thing that is in the world, is covetousness of flesh, and covetousness of eyes, and pride of life, which is not of the Father, but it is of the world.

(p) For all thing that is in the world, is covetousness of flesh, and covetousness of eyes, and pride of life, which is not of the Father, but it is of the world.

(t) For all that is in the world (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of goods) is not of the father: but of the world.

(g) For all that is in the world, (as the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life) is not of the Father, but is of the world.

(k) For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

2:17 (w) And the world shall pass, and the covetousness of it; but he that doeth the will of God, dwelleth into without end.

(p) And the world shall pass, and the covetousness of it; but he that doeth the will of God, dwelleth without end.

(t) And the world vanisheth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth ever.

(g) And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof; but he that fulfilleth the will of God abideth forever.

(k) And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

2:18 (w) My little sons, the last hour is; and as ye have heard, that antichrist cometh, now many antichrists be made; whereof we know, that it is the last hour.

(p) My little sons, the last hour is; and as ye have heard, that antichrist cometh, now many antichrists be made; wherefore we know, that it is the last hour.

(t) ¶ Little children it is the last time, and as ye have heard how the Antichrist shall come: even now are there many antichrists come already whereby we know that it is the last time.

(g) Little children, it is the last time, and as ye have heard that Antichrist shall come, even now are there many Antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

(k) Little children, it is the last time: and as ye have heard that antichrist shall come, even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know that it is the last time.

2:19 (w) They went forth from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they had dwelt with us; but that they be known, that they be not of us.

(p) They went forth from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they had dwelt with us; but that they be known, that they be not all of us.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) They went out from us but they were not of us. For if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us. But that fortuneth that it might appear, that they were not of us.
- (g) They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they should have continued with us. But this cometh to pass, that it might appear, that they are not all of us.
- (k) They went out from us, but they were not of us; for if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.
- 2:20 (w) But ye have unction of the Holy Ghost, and know all things.
(p) But ye have anointing of the Holy Ghost, and know all things.
(t) ¶ And ye have an ointment of the holy ghost, and ye know all things.
(g) But ye have an ointment from the Holy one, and ye know all things.
(k) But ye have an unction from the Holy One, and ye know all things.
- 2:21 (w) I wrote not to you, as to men that know not the truth, but as to men that know it, and for each lying is not of truth.
(p) I wrote not to you, as to men that know not the truth, but as to men that know it, and for each lying is not of truth.
(t) I wrote not unto you, as though ye knew not the truth: but as though ye knew it, and know also that no lie cometh of truth.
(g) I have not written unto you, because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.
(k) I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.
- 2:22 (w) Who is a liar, but this that denieth that Jesus is not Christ? This is antichrist, that denieth the Father, and the Son.
(p) Who is a liar, but this that denieth that Jesus is not Christ? This is antichrist, that denieth the Father, and the Son.
(t) Who is a liar: but he that denieth that Jesus is Christ? The same is the [He is] Antichrist that denieth the father and the son.
(g) Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? The same is the Antichrist that denieth the Father and the Son.
(k) Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.
- 2:23 (w) For each that denieth the Son, hath not the Father; but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath also the Father.
(p) For each that denieth the Son, hath not the Father; but he that acknowledgeth the Son, hath also the Father.
(t) Whosoever denieth the son, the same hath not the father. Let therefore abide in you that same which ye heard from the beginning.
(g) Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father.
(k) Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: but he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.
- 2:24 (w) That thing that ye heard from the beginning, dwell in you; for if it shall dwell in you, which ye heard at the beginning, and ye shall dwell in the Son and in the Father.
(p) That thing that ye heard at the beginning, dwell it in you; for if that thing dwelleth in you, which ye heard at the beginning, ye shall dwell in the Son and in the Father.
(t) If that which ye heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the son, and in the father.
(g) Let therefore abide in you that same which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning, shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.
(k) Let that therefore abide in you, which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.
- 2:25 (w) And this is the promise, that he promised to us everlasting life.
(p) And this is the promise, that he promised to us everlasting life.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

(g) And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

(k) And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

2:26 (w) I wrote these things to you, of them that deceive you,

(p) I wrote these things to you, of them that deceive you,

(t) ¶ This have I written unto you, [as] concerning them that deceive you.

(g) These things have I written unto you, concerning them that deceive you.

(k) These things have I written unto you concerning them that seduce you.

2:27 (w) and that the anointing which ye received of him, dwell in you. And ye have not need, that any man teach you, but as his anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and it is not lying; and as he taught you, dwell ye in him.

(p) and that the anointing which ye received of him, dwell in you. And ye have not need, that any man teach you, but as his anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and it is not lying; and as he taught you, dwell ye in him.

(t) And the anointing which ye have received of him dwelleth in you. And ye need not that any man teach you: but as the [that] anointing teacheth you all things, and is true, and is no lie: and as it taught you, even so bide therein.

(g) But the anointing which ye received of him, dwelleth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you; but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true and is not lying, and as it taught you, ye shall abide in him.

(k) But the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in him {or, in it}.

2:28 (w) And now, ye little sons, dwell ye in him, that when he shall appear, we have trust, and be not confounded of him in his coming.

(p) And now, ye little sons, dwell ye in him, that when he shall appear, we have trust, and be not confounded of him in his coming.

(t) And now babes abide in him, that when he shall appear, we may be bold, and not be made ashamed of him at his coming.

(g) And now, little children, abide in him, that when he shall appear, we may be bold, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

(k) And now, little children, abide in him; that, when he shall appear, we may have confidence, and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

2:29 (w) If ye know that he is just, know ye that also each that doeth rightwiseness, is born of him.

(p) If ye know that he is just, know ye that also each that doeth rightwiseness, is born of him.

(t) If ye know that he is righteous, know also that he which followeth righteousness, is born of him.

(g) If ye know that he is righteous, know ye that he which doeth righteously, is born of him.

(k) If ye know that he is righteous, ye {or, know ye} that every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER 3

3:1 (w) See ye what manner charity the Father gave to us, that we be named the sons of God, and be his sons. For this thing the world knoweth not us, for it knoweth not him.

(p) See ye what manner charity the Father gave to us, that we be named the sons of God, and be his sons. For this thing the world knew not us, for it knew not him.

(t) ¶ Behold what love the father hath showed on us, that we should be called the sons of God. For this cause the world knoweth you not because it knoweth not [hath not known] him.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) Behold, what love the Father hath given to us, that we should be called the sons of God. For this cause the world knoweth you not, because it knoweth not him.
- (k) Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, because it knew him not.
- 3:2 (w) Most dear brethren, now we be the sons of God, and yet it appeared not, what we shall be. We know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.
- (p) Most dear brethren, now we be the sons of God, and yet it appeared not, what we shall be. We know, that when he shall appear, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.
- (t) Dearly beloved, now are we the sons of God, and yet it doth not appear [hath not appeared] what we shall be. But we know that when it shall appear, we shall be like him. For we shall see him as he is.
- (g) Dearly beloved, now are we the sons of God, but yet it is not made manifest what we shall be, and we know that when he shall be made manifest, we shall be like him, for we shall see him as he is.
- (k) Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, we shall be like him; for we shall see him as he is.
- 3:3 (w) And each man that hath this hope in him, maketh himself holy, as and he is holy.
- (p) And each man that hath this hope in him, maketh himself holy, as he is holy.
- (t) And every man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himself, even as he is pure.
- (g) And every man that hath this hope in him purgeth himself, even as he is pure.
- (k) And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.
- 3:4 (w) Each man that doeth sin, doeth also wickedness, and sin is wickedness.
- (p) Each man that doeth sin, doeth also wickedness, and sin is wickedness.
- (t) Whosoever commiteth sin, commiteth unrighteousness also, for [and] sin is unrighteousness.
- (g) Whosoever committeth sin, transgresseth also the Law; for sin is the transgression of the Law.
- (k) Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for sin is the transgression of the law.
- 3:5 (w) And ye know, that he appeared to do away sins, and sin is not in him.
- (p) And ye know, that he appeared to do away sins, and sin is not in him.
- (t) And ye know that he appeared to take away our sins, and in him is no sin.
- (g) And ye know that he was made manifest, that he might take away our sins, and in him is no sin.
- (k) And ye know that he was manifested to take away our sins; and in him is no sin.
- 3:6 (w) Each man that dwelleth in him, sinneth not; and each that sinneth, seeth not him, neither knew him.
- (p) Each man that dwelleth in him, sinneth not; and each that sinneth, seeth not him, neither knew him.
- (t) As many as bide in him, sin not: whosoever sineth hath not seen him, neither hath known him.
- (g) Whosoever abideth in him, sinneth not; whosoever sinneth, hath not seen him, neither hath known him.
- (k) Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.
- 3:7 (w) Little sons, no man deceive you; he that doeth rightwiseness, is just, as also he is just.
- (p) Little sons, no man deceive you; he that doeth rightwiseness, is just, as also he is just.
- (t) ¶ Babes let no man deceive you, he that doth righteousness, is righteous, even as he is righteous.
- (g) Little children, let no man deceive you; he that doeth righteousness, is righteous, as he is righteous.
- (k) Little children, let no man deceive you: he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 3:8 (w) He that doeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. In this thing the Son of God appeared, that he undo the works of the devil.
(p) He that doeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. In this thing the Son of God appeared, that he undo the works of the devil.
(t) He that commiteth sin is of the devil: for the devil sineth since the beginning. For this purpose appeared the son of God, to loose the works of the devil.
(g) He that committeth sin, is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose was made manifest the Son of God, that he might loose the works of the devil.
(k) He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that he might destroy the works of the devil.
- 3:9 (w) Each man that is born of God, doeth not sin; for the seed of God dwelleth in him, and he may not sin, for he is born of God.
(p) Each man that is born of God, doeth not sin; for the seed of God dwelleth in him, and he may not do sin, for he is born of God.
(t) Whosoever is born of God, sineth not: for his seed remaineth in him, and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.
(g) Whosoever is born of God sinneth not, for his seed remaineth in him, neither can he sin, because he is born of God.
(k) Whosoever is born {or, has been born} of God doth not commit sin; for his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.
- 3:10 (w) In this thing the sons of God be known, and the sons of the fiend. Each man that is not just, is not of God, and he that loveth not his brother, is not of God.
(p) In this thing the sons of God be known, and the sons of the fiend. Each man that is not just, is not of God, and he that loveth not his brother.
(t) In this are the children of God known, and the children of the devil. Whosoever doth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.
(g) In this are the children of God known, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness, is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.
(k) In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, neither he that loveth not his brother.
- 3:11 (w) For this is the telling, that ye heard at the beginning, that ye love each other;
(p) For this is the telling, that ye heard at the beginning, that ye love each other;
(t) ¶ For this is the tidings, that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another:
(g) For this is the message that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another;
(k) For this is the message {or, commandment} that ye heard from the beginning, that we should love one another.
- 3:12 (w) not as Cain, that was of the devil, and slew his brother. And for what thing slew he him? for his works were evil, and his brother's just.
(p) not as Cain, that was of the devil, and slew his brother. And for what thing slew he him? for his works were evil, and his brother's just.
(t) not as Cain which was of the wicked and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's good.
(g) Not as Cain which was of the wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's good.
(k) Not as Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 3:13 (w) Brethren, do not ye wonder, if the world hateth you.
(p) Brethren, do not ye wonder, if the world hateth you.
(t) Marvel not my brethren though [if] the world hate you.
(g) Marvel not, my brethren, though the world hate you.
(k) Marvel not, my brethren, if the world hate you.
- 3:14 (w) We know, that we be translated from death to life, for we love brethren. He that loveth not, dwelleth in death.
(p) We know, that we be translated from death to life, for we love brethren. He that loveth not, dwelleth in death.
(t) We know that we are translated from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.
(g) We know that we are translated from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother, abideth in death.
(k) We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.
- 3:15 (w) Each man that hateth his brother, is a manslayer; and ye know, that each manslayer hath not everlasting life dwelling in him.
(p) Each man that hateth his brother, is a manslayer; and ye know, that each manslayer hath not everlasting life dwelling in him.
(t) Whosoever hateth his brother, is a man slayer. And ye know that no man slayer hath eternal life abiding in him.
(g) Whosoever hateth his brother, is a manslayer; and ye know that no manslayer hath eternal life abiding in him.
(k) Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.
- 3:16 (w) In this thing we have known the charity of God, for he put his life for us, and we owe to put our lives for our brethren.
(p) In this thing we have known the charity of God, for he put his life for us, and we owe to put our lives for our brethren.
(t) ¶ Hereby perceive we love: that [for] he gave his life for us: and therefore ought we also [and we ought also] to give our lives for the [our] brethren.
(g) Hereby have we perceived love, that he laid down his life for us; therefore we ought also to lay down our lives for the brethren.
(k) Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.
- 3:17 (w) He that shall have the substance of this world, and shall see his brother have need, and closeth his entrails from him, how dwelleth the charity of God in him?
(p) He that hath the chattel of this world, and seeth that his brother hath need, and closeth his entrails from him, how dwelleth the charity of God in him?
(t) Whosoever hath this world's goods and seeith his brother have need [in necessity], and shuteth up his compassion from him: how dwelleth the love of God in him?
(g) And whosoever hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?
(k) But whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, how dwelleth the love of God in him?
- 3:18 (w) My little sons, love we not in word, neither in tongue, but in work and truth.
(p) My little sons, love we not in word, neither in tongue, but in work and truth.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) My babes, let us not love in word, neither in tongue: but with deed, and in verity:
(g) My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue only, but in deed and in truth.
(k) My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.
- 3:19 (w) In this thing we know, that we be of truth, and in his sight we admonish our hearts.
(p) In this thing we know, that we be of truth, and in his sight we admonish our hearts.
(t) For thereby [And hereby] we know that we are of the verity, and can [will] before him quiet our hearts [put our hearts out of doubt]:
(g) For thereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall before him assure our hearts.
(k) And hereby we know that we are of the truth, and shall assure {Gr. persuade} our hearts before him.
- 3:20 (w) For if our heart reprove us, God is more than our heart, and knoweth all things.
(p) For if our heart reprove us, God is more than our heart, and knoweth all things.
(t) But [For] (if our hearts condemn us) God is greater than our hearts, and knoweth all things.
(g) For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.
(k) For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.
- 3:21 (w) Most dear brethren, if our heart reproveth not us, we have trust to God;
(p) Most dear brethren, if our heart reproveth not us, we have trust to God;
(t) [Tenderly] Beloved, if our hearts condemn us not, then have we trust to God ward:
(g) Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we boldness toward God.
(k) Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, then have we confidence toward God.
- 3:22 (w) and whatever we shall ask, we shall receive of him, for we keep his commandments, and we do those things that be pleasant before him.
(p) and whatever we shall ask, we shall receive of him, for we keep his commandments, and we do those things that be pleasant before him.
(t) and whatsoever we ask, we shall receive of him: because we keep his commandments, and do those things which are pleasing in his sight.
(g) And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things which are pleasing in his sight.
(k) And whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.
- 3:23 (w) And this is the commandment of him, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love each other, as he gave behest to us.
(p) And this is the commandment of God, that we believe in the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and that we love each other, as he gave behest to us.
(t) ¶ And this is his commandment, that we believe on the name of his son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave commandment.
(g) This is then his commandment, That we believe in the Name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave commandment.
(k) And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, and love one another, as he gave us commandment.
- 3:24 (w) And he that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him. And in this thing we know, that he dwelleth in us, by the Spirit, whom he gave to us.

(p) And he that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him. And in this thing we know, that he dwelleth in us, by the Spirit, whom he gave to us.

(t) And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And thereby [hereby] we know that there abideth in us of the spirit which he gave us.

(g) For he that keepeth his commandments, dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, even by the Spirit which he hath given us.

(k) And he that keepeth his commandments dwelleth in him, and he in him. And hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER 4

4:1 (w) Most dear brethren, do not ye believe to each spirit, but prove ye the spirits, if they be of God; for many false prophets went out into the world.

(p) Most dear brethren, do not ye believe to each spirit, but prove ye the spirits, if they be of God; for many false prophets went out into the world.

(t) ¶ Dearly [Ye] beloved believe not every spirit: but prove the spirits whether they are of God, or no: for many false prophets are gone out into the world.

(g) Dearly beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God, for many false prophets are gone out into the world.

(k) Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God: because many false prophets are gone out into the world.

4:2 (w) In this thing the Spirit of God is known; each spirit that acknowledgeth that Jesus Christ hath come in flesh, is of God;

(p) In this thing the Spirit of God is known; each spirit that acknowledgeth that Jesus Christ hath come in flesh, is of God;

(t) Hereby shall ye know the spirit of God. Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is of God.

(g) Hereby shall ye know the Spirit of God, Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God.

(k) Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:

4:3 (w) and each spirit that undoeth Jesus, is not of God. And this is antichrist, of whom ye have heard, that he cometh; and right now he is in the world.

(p) and each spirit that undoeth Jesus, is not of God. And this is antichrist, of whom ye have heard, that he cometh; and right now he is in the world.

(t) And every spirit which confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God. And this is that spirit of Antichrist, of whom ye have heard, how that he should come: and even now already he is in the world.

(g) And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh, is not of God; but this is the spirit of Antichrist, of whom ye have heard, how that he should come, and now already he is in the world.

(k) And every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and even now already is it in the world.

4:4 (w) Ye, little sons, be of God, and ye have overcome him; for he that is in you is more, than he that is in the world.

(p) Ye, little sons, be of God, and ye have overcome him; for he that is in you is more, than he that is in the world.

(t) ¶ Little children, ye are of God, and have overcome them: for greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

(g) Little children, ye are of God, and have overcome them; for greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

(k) Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than he that is in the world.

- 4:5 (w) They be of the world, therefore they speak of the world, and the world heareth them.
(p) They be of the world, therefore they speak of the world, and the world heareth them.
(t) They are of the world, and therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.
(g) They are of the world, therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.
(k) They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and the world heareth them.
- 4:6 (w) We be of God; he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. In this thing we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.
(p) We be of God; he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God, heareth not us. In this thing we know the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.
(t) We are of God. He that knoweth God heareth us: He that is not of God, heareth us not. Hereby know we the spirit of verity, and the spirit of error.
(g) We are of God, he that knoweth God, heareth us; he that is not of God heareth us not. Hereby know we the Spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.
(k) We are of God: he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.
- 4:7 (w) Most dear brethren, love we together, for charity is of God; and each that loveth his brother, is born of God, and knoweth God.
(p) Most dear brethren, love we together, for charity is of God; and each that loveth his brother, is born of God, and knoweth God.
(t) ¶ [Dearly] beloved, let us love one another: for love cometh of God. And every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.
(g) Beloved, let us love one another, for love cometh of God, and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.
(k) Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born {or, has been born} of God, and knoweth God.
- 4:8 (w) He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is charity.
(p) He that loveth not, knoweth not God; for God is charity.
(t) He that loveth not, knoweth not [hath not known] God: for God is love.
(g) He that loveth not, knoweth not God, for God is love.
(k) He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love.
- 4:9 (w) In this thing the charity of God appeared in us, for God sent his one begotten Son into the world, that we live by him.
(p) In this thing the charity of God appeared in us, for God sent his one begotten Son into the world, that we live by him.
(t) In this appeared the love of God to us ward, because that God sent his only begotten son into the world, that we might live through him.
(g) Herein was the love of God made manifest amongst us, because God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.
(k) In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through him.
- 4:10 (w) In this thing is charity, not as we had loved God, but for he first loved us, and sent his Son helping for our sins.
(p) In this thing is charity, not as we had loved God, but for he first loved us, and sent his Son forgiveness for our sins.
(t) Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his son to make agreement for our sins.
(g) Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be a reconciliation for our sins.
(k) Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son to be the propitiation for our sins.

- 4:11 (w) Ye most dear brethren, if God loved us, and we owe to love each other.
(p) Ye most dear brethren, if God loved us, we owe to love each other.
(t) ¶ [Dearly] beloved if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.
(g) Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.
(k) Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.
- 4:12 (w) No man saw ever God; if we love together, God dwelleth in us, and the charity of him is perfect in us.
(p) No man saw ever God; if we love together, God dwelleth in us, and the charity of him is perfect in us.
(t) No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfect in us.
(g) No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfect in us.
(k) No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us.
- 4:13 (w) In this thing we know, that we dwell in him, and he in us; for of his Spirit he gave to us.
(p) In this thing we know, that we dwell in him, and he in us; for of his Spirit he gave to us.
(t) Hereby know we, that we dwell in him, and he in us: because he hath given us of his spirit.
(g) Hereby know we, that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.
(k) Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.
- 4:14 (w) And we saw, and witness, that the Father sent his Son Saviour of the world.
(p) And we saw, and witness, that the Father sent his Son Saviour of the world.
(t) And we have seen and do testify that the father sent the son, which is the savior of the world.
(g) And we have seen, and do testify, that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.
(k) And we have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.
- 4:15 (w) Whoever shall acknowledge, that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
(p) Whoever acknowledgeth, that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
(t) Whosoever confesseth that Jesus is the son of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.
(g) Whosoever confesseth that Jesus is the Son of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.
(k) Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.
- 4:16 (w) And we have known, and believe to the charity, that God hath in us. God is charity, and he that dwelleth in charity, dwelleth in God, and God in him.
(p) And we have known, and believe to the charity, that God hath in us. God is charity, and he that dwelleth in charity, dwelleth in God, and God in him.
(t) And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us.
(g) And we have known, and believed the love that God hath in us. God is love, and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him.
(k) And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.
- 4:17 (w) In this thing is the perfect charity of God in us, that we have trust in the day of doom; for as he is, also we be in this world.
(p) In this thing is the perfect charity of God with us, that we have trust in the day of doom; for as he is, also we be in this world.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) ¶ God is love, and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him. Herein is the love perfect in us, that we should have trust in the day of judgment, for [that] as he is, even so are we in this world.

(g) Herein is the love perfect in us, that we should have boldness in the day of judgment; for as he is, even so are we in this world.

(k) Herein is our love {Gr. love with us} made perfect, that we may have boldness in the day of judgment: because as he is, so are we in this world.

4:18 (w) Dread is not in charity, but perfect charity sendeth out dread; for dread hath pain. But he that dreadeth, is not perfect in charity.

(p) Dread is not in charity, but perfect charity putteth out dread; for dread hath pain. But he that dreadeth, is not perfect in charity.

(t) There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out all fear, for fear hath painfulness. He that feareth is not perfect in love.

(g) There is no fear in love, but perfect love casteth out fear, for fear hath painfulness, and he that feareth, is not perfect in love.

(k) There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.

4:19 (w) Therefore love we God, for he before loved us/for he former loved us.

(p) Therefore love we God, for he loved us before.

(t) ¶ We love him, for he loved us first.

(g) We love him, because he loved us first.

(k) We love him, because he first loved us.

4:20 (w) If any man saith, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother, whom he seeth, how may he love God, whom he seeth not?

(p) If any man saith, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar. For he that loveth not his brother, whom he seeth, how may he love God, whom he seeth not?

(t) If a man say, I love God, and yet hate [hateth] his brother, he is a liar. For How can he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, love God whom he hath not seen?

(g) If any man say, I love God, and hate his brother, he is a liar; for how can he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, love God whom he hath not seen?

(k) If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?

4:21 (w) And we have this commandment of God, that he that loveth God, love also his brother.

(p) And we have this commandment of God, that he that loveth God, love also his brother.

(t) And this commandment have we of him: that he which loveth God, should love his brother also.

(g) And this commandment have we of him, that he that loveth God, should love his brother also.

(k) And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER 5

5:1 (w) Each man that believeth that Jesus is Christ, is born of God; and each that loveth him that gendereth, loveth him that is born of him.

(p) Each man that believeth that Jesus is Christ, is born of God; and each man that loveth him that engendered, loveth him that is born of him.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ Whosoever believeth that Jesus is Christ, is born of God. And every one that loveth him which begat, loveth him also which was begotten of him.
- (g) Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ, is born of God, and every one that loveth him, which begat, loveth him also which is begotten of him.
- (k) Whosoever believeth that Jesus is the Christ is born {or, has been born} of God: and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.
- 5:2 (w) In this thing we know, that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments.
(p) In this thing we know, that we love the children of God, when we love God, and do his commandments.
(t) In this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.
(g) In this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.
(k) By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.
- 5:3 (w) For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments; his commandments be not grievous.
(p) For this is the charity of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments be not heavy.
(t) This is the love of God, that we keep his commandments, and his commandments are not grievous.
(g) For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments; and his commandments are not burdensome.
(k) For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and his commandments are not grievous.
- 5:4 (w) For all thing that is born of God, overcometh the world; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, our faith.
(p) For all thing that is born of God, overcometh the world; and this is the victory that overcometh the world, our faith.
(t) For all that is born of God, overcometh the world. And this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.
(g) For all that is born of God, overcometh the world; and this is the victory that hath overcome the world, even our faith.
(k) For whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.
- 5:5 (w) And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?
(p) And who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?
(t) Who is it that overcometh the world: but he which believeth that Jesus is the son of God?
(g) Who is it that overcometh the world, but he which believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?
(k) Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?
- 5:6 (w) This is Jesus Christ, that came by water and blood; not in water only, but in water and blood. And the Spirit is he that witnesseth, that Christ is the truth.
(p) This is Jesus Christ, that came by water and blood; not in water only, but in water and blood. And the Spirit is he that witnesseth, that Christ is truth.
(t) ¶ This Jesus Christ is he that came by water and blood, not by water only: but by water and blood. And it is the spirit that beareth witness, because the spirit is truth.
(g) This is that Jesus Christ that came by water and blood; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, for the Spirit is truth.
(k) This is he that came by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.
- 5:7 (w) For three be, that bear witness in heaven, the Father, the Word, or Son, and the Holy Ghost; and these three be one.
(p) For three be, that give witnessing in heaven, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost; and these three be one.
(t) For there are three which bear record in heaven, the father, the word, and the holy ghost. And these three are one.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (g) For there are three, which bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the holy Ghost; and these three are one.
(k) For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, the Word, and the Holy Ghost: and these three are one.
- 5:8 (w) And three be, that give witnessing in earth, the Spirit, water, and blood; and these three be one.
(p) And three be, that give witnessing in earth, the Spirit, water, and blood; and these three be one.
(t) For [And] there are three which bear record in earth: the spirit, and water, and blood: and these three are one.
(g) And there are three, which bear record in the earth, the Spirit, and the Water, and the Blood; and these three agree in one.
(k) And there are three that bear witness in earth, the Spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.
- 5:9 (w) If we receive the witnessing of men, the witnessing of God is more; for this is the witnessing of God, that is more, for he witnessed of his Son.
(p) If we receive the witnessing of men, the witnessing of God is more; for this is the witnessing of God, that is more, for he witnessed of his Son.
(t) If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater. For this is the witness of God, which he testified of his son.
(g) If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater; for this is the witness of God, which he testified of his Son.
(k) If we receive the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son.
- 5:10 (w) He that believeth in the Son of God, hath the witnessing of God in him. He that believeth not to the Son, maketh him a liar; for he believeth not in the witnessing, that God witnessed of his Son.
(p) He that believeth in the Son of God, hath the witnessing of God in him. He that believeth not to the Son, maketh him a liar; for he believeth not in the witnessing, that God witnessed of his Son.
(t) He that believeth on the son of God hath the witness in himself. He that believeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he believed not the record that God gave of his son.
(g) He that believeth in the Son of God, hath the witness in himself; he that believeth not God, hath made him a liar, because he believed not the record, that God witnessed of his Son.
(k) He that believeth on the Son of God hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.
- 5:11 (w) And this is the witnessing, for God gave to us everlasting life, and this life is in his Son.
(p) And this is the witnessing, for God gave to you everlasting life, and this life is in his Son.
(t) And this is that record, how that God hath given unto us eternal life, and this life is in his son.
(g) And this is the record, that God hath given unto us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.
(k) And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and this life is in his Son.
- 5:12 (w) He that hath the Son, hath life; he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.
(p) He that hath the Son of God, hath also life; he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.
(t) He that hath the son, hath life: and he that hath not the son of God, hath not life.
(g) He that hath the Son, hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God, hath not life.
(k) He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.
- 5:13 (w) I write to you these things, that ye know, that ye have everlasting life, which believe in the name of God's Son.
(p) I write to you these things, that ye know, that ye have everlasting life, which believe in the name of God's Son.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) ¶ These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the son of God, that ye may know how that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the son of God.
- (g) These things have I written unto you, that believe in the Name of the Son of God, that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe in the Name of the Son of God.
- (k) These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.
- 5:14 (w) And this is the trust that we have in God, that whatever thing we ask after his will, he shall hear us.
(p) And this is the trust which we have to God, that whatever thing we ask after his will, he shall hear us.
(t) And this is the trust that we have in him: that if we ask anything according to his will he heareth us.
(g) And this is the assurance that we have in him, that if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us.
(k) And this is the confidence that we have in {or, concerning} him, that, if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:
- 5:15 (w) And we know, that he heareth us, whatever thing we ask; we know, that we have the askings, which we ask of him.
(p) And we know, that he heareth us, whatever thing we ask; we know, that we have the askings, that we ask of him.
(t) And if we know that he hear us whatsoever we ask, we know that we shall have the petitions that we desire of him.
(g) And if we know that he heareth us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions, that we have desired of him.
(k) And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.
- 5:16 (w) He that knoweth his brother to sin a sin not to death, ask he, and life shall be given to him that sinneth not to death. There is a sin to death; not for it I say, that any man pray.
(p) He that knoweth that his brother sinneth a sin not to death, ask he, and life shall be given to him that sinneth not to death. There is a sin to death; not for it I say, that any man pray.
(t) ¶ If any man see his brother sin a sin that is not unto death, let him ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death, for which say I not that a man should pray.
(g) If any man see his brother sin a sin that is not unto death, let him ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death, I say not that thou shouldest pray for it.
(k) If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. There is a sin unto death: I do not say that he shall pray for it.
- 5:17 (w) Each wickedness is sin, and there is a sin to death.
(p) Each wickedness is sin, and there is sin to death.
(t) All unrighteousness is sin, and there is sin not unto death.
(g) All unrighteousness is sin, but there is a sin not unto death.
(k) All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.
- 5:18 (w) We know, that each man that is born of God, sinneth not; but the generation of God keepeth him, and the wicked toucheth him not.
(p) We know, that each man that is born of God, sinneth not; but the generation of God keepeth him, and the wicked toucheth him not.
(t) ¶ We know that whosoever is born of God, sineth not: but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked toucheth him not.
(g) We know that whosoever is born of God, sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and the wicked one toucheth him not.

Book 62 The First Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) We know that whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

5:19 (w) We know, that we be of God, and all the world is put in wicked.

(p) We know, that we be of God, and all the world is set in evil.

(t) We know that we are of God, and that the world is altogether set on wickedness.

(g) We know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

(k) And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness.

5:20 (w) And we know, that the Son of God came in flesh, and gave to us wit, that we know him very God, and be in the very Son Jesus of him. This is very God, and everlasting life.

(p) And we know, that the Son of God came in flesh, and gave to us wit, that we know him very God, and be in the very Son of him. This is very God, and everlasting life.

(t) We know that the son of God is come, and hath given us a mind to know him which is true: and we are in him that is true, through his son Jesus Christ. This same is very God, and eternal life.

(g) But we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us a mind to know him, which is true; and we are in him that is true, that is, in his Son Jesus Christ. This same is the very God, and eternal life.

(k) And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God, and eternal life.

5:21 (w) Little sons, keep ye you from simulacra, or covetousness. Amen.

(p) My little sons, keep ye you from maumets.

(t) Babes keep yourselves from images. Amen.

(g) Little children, keep yourselves from idols, Amen.

(k) Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

- 3 (w) Grace be with you, mercy, and peace of God the Father, and of Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and charity.
(p) Grace be with you, mercy, and peace of God the Father, and of Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and charity.
(t) ¶ With you be grace, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ the son of the father, in truth and love.
(g) Grace be with you, mercy and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ the Son of the Father, with truth and love.
(k) Grace be {Gr. shall be} with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, in truth and love.
- 4 (w) I joyed full much, for I found of thy sons going in truth, as we received commandment of the Father.
(p) I joyed full much, for I found of thy sons going in truth, as we received commandment of the Father.
(t) ¶ I rejoiced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment of the father.
(g) I rejoiced greatly, that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment of the Father.
(k) I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.
- 5 (w) And now I pray thee, lady, not as writing a new commandment to thee, but that that we had from the beginning, that we love each other.
(p) And now I pray thee, lady, not as writing a new commandment to thee, but that that we had from the beginning, that we love each other.
(t) And now beseech I thee lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that same, which we had from the beginning, that we should love one another.
(g) And now beseech I thee, Lady, (not as writing a new commandment unto thee, but that same which we had from the beginning) that we love one another.
(k) And now I beseech thee, lady, not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, that we love one another.
- 6 (w) And this is charity, that we walk after his commandments. For this is the commandment, that as ye heard at the beginning, walk ye in him.
(p) And this is charity, that we walk after his commandments. For this is the commandment, that as ye heard at the beginning, walk ye in him.
(t) And this is the love, that we should walk after his commandments.
(g) And this is the love, that we should walk after his commandments. This commandment is, that as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.
(k) And this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.
- 7 (w) For many deceivers went out into the world, which acknowledge not that Jesus Christ hath come in flesh; this is a deceiver and antichrist.
(p) For many deceivers went out into the world, which acknowledge not that Jesus Christ hath come in flesh; this is a deceiver and antichrist.
(t) ¶ This commandment is (that as ye have heard from the beginning) ye should walk in it. For many deceivers are entered into the world, which confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an Antichrist.
(g) For many deceivers are entered into the world, which confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. He that is such one, is a deceiver and an Antichrist.
(k) For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

Book 63 The Second Epistle of the Apostle John

- 8 (w) See ye yourselves, lest ye lose the things that ye have wrought, but that ye receive full meed;
(p) See ye yourselves, lest ye lose the things that ye have wrought, that ye receive full meed;
(t) Look on yourselves, that we lose not that we have wrought: but that we may have a full reward.
(g) Look to yourselves, that we lose not the things which we have done, but that we may receive a full reward.
(k) Look to yourselves, that we lose not those things which we have wrought {or, gained, some copies read, ye have gained, but that ye, etc.}, but that we receive a full reward.
- 9 (w) witting that each man that goeth away, and dwelleth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God. He that dwelleth in the teaching of Christ, hath both the Son and the Father.
(p) witting that each man that goeth before, and dwelleth not in the teaching of Christ, hath not God. He that dwelleth in the teaching, hath both the Son and the Father.
(t) Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father, and the son.
(g) Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that continueth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.
(k) Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.
- 10 (w) If any man cometh to you, and bringeth not this teaching, do not ye receive him into your house, neither say to him, Hail.
(p) If any man cometh to you, and bringeth not this teaching, do not ye receive him into your house, neither say to him, Hail.
(t) ¶ If there come any unto you and bring not this learning, him receive not to house: neither bid him Godspeed.
(g) If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not to house, neither bid him God speed;
(k) If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed:
- 11 (w) For he that saith to him, Hail, communeth with his evil works. Lo! I before-said to you, that ye be not confounded in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) For he that saith to him, Hail, communeth with his evil works. Lo! I before-said to you, that ye be not confounded in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) For he that biddeth him Godspeed, is partaker of his evil deeds.
(g) For he that biddeth him God speed, is partaker of his evil deeds. Although I had many things to write unto you, yet I would not write with paper and ink; but I trust to come unto you, and speak mouth to mouth, that our joy may be full.
(k) For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.
- 12 (w) I having more things to write to you, would not by parchment and ink; for I hope that I shall come to you, and speak mouth to mouth, that our joy be full.
(p) I have more things to write to you, and I would not by parchment and ink; for I hope that I shall come to you, and speak mouth to mouth, that our joy be full.
(t) I had many things to write unto you, nevertheless I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak with you mouth to mouth, that our joy may be full.
(g) scripture was included in previous verse
(k) Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak face to face {Gr. mouth to mouth}, that our joy may be full.
- 13 (w) The sons of thy sister Electa greet thee well. The grace of God be with thee. Amen.

- 1
 - (w) The elder man to Gaius, most dear, whom I love in truth.
 - (p) The elder man to Gaius, most dear brother, whom I love in truth.
 - (t) ¶ The Elder [senior] unto the beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.
 - (g) The Elder unto the beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth.
 - (k) The elder unto the well beloved Gaius, whom I love in the truth {or, truly}.
- 2
 - (w) Most dear, of all things I make prayer, that thou enter, and fare wellsomely, as thy soul fareth wellsomely.
 - (p) Most dear brother, of all things I make prayer, that thou enter, and fare wellfully, as thy soul doeth wellfully.
 - (t) [Well] Beloved I wish in all things that thou prosperedest and farest well, even as thy soul prospereth.
 - (g) Beloved, I wish chiefly that thou prosperedst and farest well as thy soul prospereth.
 - (k) Beloved, I wish {or, pray} above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.
- 3
 - (w) I joyed full greatly, for brethren came, and bare witnessing to thy truth, as thou walkest in truth.
 - (p) I joyed greatly, for brethren came, and bare witnessing to thy truth, as thou walkest in truth.
 - (t) I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, how thou walkest in trouthe [how thou in troth walkest].
 - (g) For I rejoiced greatly when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, how thou walkest in the truth.
 - (k) For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as thou walkest in the truth.

Book 64 The Third Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 4 (w) I have not more grace of these things, than that I hear that my sons walk in truth.
(p) I have not more grace of these things, than that I hear that my sons walk in truth.
(t) I have no greater joy than for to hear how that my sons walk in verity.
(g) I have no greater joy than this, that is, to hear that my sons walk in verity.
(k) I have no greater joy than to hear that my children walk in truth.
- 5 (w) Most dear, thou doest faithfully, whatever thou workest into brethren, and that into pilgrims,
(p) Most dear brother, thou doest faithfully, whatever thou workest in brethren, and that into pilgrims,
(t) ¶ [Dearly] Beloved thou dost faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers,
(g) Beloved, thou doest faithfully, whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers,
(k) Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers;
- 6 (w) which yielded witnessing to thy charity, in the sight of the church; whom thou ledest forth, and doest well-worthily to God.
(p) which yielded witnessing to thy charity, in the sight of the church; which thou ledest forth, and doest well-worthily to God.
(t) which bare witness of thy love before all the congregation. Which brethren when thou bringest forwards on their journey (as it beseemeth God) thou shalt do well:
(g) Which bare witness of thy love before the Churches. Whom if thou bringest on their journey as it beseemeth according to God, thou shalt do well,
(k) Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey after a godly sort {Gr. worthy of God}, thou shalt do well:
- 7 (w) Soothly for his name they went forth, nothing taking of heathen men.
(p) For they went forth for his name, and took nothing of heathen men.
(t) because that for his name's sake they went forth, and took nothing of the gentiles.
(g) Because that for his Name's sake they went forth, and took nothing of the Gentiles.
(k) Because that for his name's sake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.
- 8 (w) Therefore we owe to receive such, that we be even-workers of truth.
(p) Therefore we owe to receive such, that we be even-workers of truth.
(t) We therefore ought to receive such, that we also might be helpers to the truth.
(g) We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be helpers to the truth.
(k) We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellowhelpers {or, joint-labourers} to the truth.
- 9 (w) I had written peradventure to the church, but this Diotrephes, that loveth for to bear primacy, or chief places, in them, receiveth not us.
(p) I had written peradventure to the church, but this Diotrephes, that loveth to bear primacy in them, receiveth not us.
(t) ¶ I wrote unto the congregation: but Diotrephes which loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not,
(g) I wrote unto the Church; but Diotrephes which loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.
(k) I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.
- 10 (w) For this thing, if I shall come, I shall admonish his works, which he doeth, garring, or chiding/chattering against us with evil words. And as if these things suffice not to him, neither he receiveth brethren, and forbiddeth them that receive, and casteth out of the church.

Book 64 The Third Epistle of the Apostle John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) For this thing, if I shall come, I shall admonish his works, which he doeth, chiding against us with evil words. And as if these things suffice not to him, neither he receiveth brethren, and forbiddeth them that receive, and putteth out of the church.
- (t) wherefore if I come I will declare his deeds which he doeth jesting on us with malicious words, neither is therewith content. Not only he himself receiveth not the brethren: but also he forbideth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the congregation.
- (g) Wherefore if I come, I will call to your remembrance his deeds which he doeth, prattling against us with malicious words, and not therewith content, neither he himself receiveth the brethren, but forbiddeth them that would, and thrusteth them out of the Church.
- (k) Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.
- 11 (w) Most dear, do not thou follow evil thing, but that that is good thing. He that doeth well, is of God; he that doeth evil, seeth not God.
- (p) Most dear brother, do not thou follow evil thing, but that that is good thing. He that doeth well, is of God; he that doeth evil, seeth not God.
- (t) ¶ Beloved follow [Dearly beloved counterfeit] not that which is evil, but that which is good: He that doeth well is of God: but he that doeth evil seeith not God.
- (g) Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth well is of God; but he that doeth evil, hath not seen God.
- (k) Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.
- 12 (w) Witnessing is yielded to Demetrius of all men, and of truth itself; but also we bear witnessing, and thou knowest, that our witnessing is true.
- (p) Witnessing is yielded to Demetrius of all men, and of truth itself; but also we bear witnessing, and thou knowest, that our witnessing is true.
- (t) Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth. Yea and we ourselves also bear record, and ye know that our record is true.
- (g) Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself; yea, and we ourselves bear record, and ye know that our record is true.
- (k) Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record; and ye know that our record is true.
- 13 (w) I had many things to write to thee, but I would not write to thee by ink and pen.
- (p) I had many things to write to thee, but I would not write to thee by ink and pen.
- (t) I have many things to write: but I will not with ink and pen [pen and ink] write unto thee.
- (g) I have many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee;
- (k) I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:
- 14 (w) For I hope soon to see thee, and we shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be to thee. Friends greet thee well. Greet thou well friends by name.
- (p) For I hope soon to see thee, and we shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be to thee. Friends greet thee well. Greet thou well friends by name.
- (t) For I trust I shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The lovers salute thee. Greet the lovers by name.
- (g) For I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak mouth to mouth. Peace be with thee. The friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

CHAPTER 1

- 1 (w) Judas, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to these that be loved, that be in God the Father, and of Jesus Christ kept and called,
(p) Judas, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to these that be loved, that be in God the Father, and to them that be called and kept of Jesus Christ,
(t) ¶ Judas the servant of Jesus Christ, the brother of James. To them which are called and sanctified in God the father, and preserved in Jesus Christ [Christ Jesus].
(g) Jude a servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them which are called and sanctified of God the Father, and reserved to Jesus Christ:
(k) Jude, the servant of Jesus Christ, and brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and preserved in Jesus Christ, and called:
- 2 (w) mercy to you, and peace, and charity be full-filled.
(p) mercy, and peace, and charity be filled to you.
(t) Mercy unto you, and peace and love be multiplied.
(g) Mercy unto you, and peace and love be multiplied.
(k) Mercy unto you, and peace, and love, be multiplied.

Book 65 The Epistle of Jude

- 3 (w) Most dear, I doing all busyness to write to you of your common health, had need to write to you, and pray to strive strongly for the faith once betaken to saints.
(p) Most dear brethren, I doing all busyness to write to you of your common health, had need to write to you, and pray to strive strongly for the faith that is once taken to saints.
(t) ¶ Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation [health]: it was needful for me to write unto you, to exhort you, that ye should continually labor in the faith, which was once given unto the saints.
(g) Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, to exhort you, that ye should earnestly contend for the maintenance of the faith, which was once given unto the Saints.
(k) Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.
- 4 (w) Forsooth some men privily entered, that sometime were before-written into this doom, unpious men, overturning the grace of our God into lechery, and denying the alone lordship and our Lord Jesus Christ.
(p) For some unfaithful men privily entered, that sometime were before-written into this doom, and overturn the grace of our God into lechery, and deny him that is only a Lord, our Lord Jesus Christ.
(t) For there are certain craftily crept in, of which it was written aforetime unto such judgment. They are ungodly, and turn the grace of our [Lord] God unto wantonness, and deny God the only Lord, and our Lord Jesus Christ.
(g) For there are certain men crept in, which were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men they are, which turn the grace of our God into wantonness, and deny God the only Lord, and our Lord Jesus Christ.
(k) For there are certain men crept in unawares, who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, turning the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.
- 5 (w) Forsooth I will together admonish you, witting once all things, for Jesus saving his people of the land of Egypt, the second time lost them that believed not.
(p) But I will admonish you once, that know all things, that Jesus saved his people from the land of Egypt, and the second time destroyed them that believed not.
(t) ¶ My mind is therefore to put you in remembrance, for as much as ye once know this, how that the Lord (after that he had delivered the people out of Egypt) destroyed them which afterward believed not:
(g) I will therefore put you in remembrance, forasmuch as ye once knew this, how that the Lord, after that he had delivered the people out of Egypt, destroyed them afterward which believed not.
(k) I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward destroyed them that believed not.
- 6 (w) Soothly angels that kept not his princehood, but forsook his house, he reserved into the doom of great God, in everlasting bonds under darkness.
(p) And he reserved under darkness angels, that kept not their princehood, but forsook their house, into the doom of the great God, into everlasting bonds.
(t) The angels also, which kept not their first estate: but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day:
(g) The Angels also which kept not their first estate, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day.
(k) And the angels which kept not their first estate {or, principality}, but left their own habitation, he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness unto the judgment of the great day.
- 7 (w) As Sodom, and Gomorrha, and nigh coasted cities, in like manner doing fornication, and going away after other flesh, be made example, suffering pain of everlasting fire.
(p) As Sodom, and Gomorrha, and the nigh coasted cities, that in like manner did fornication, and went away after other flesh, and be made ensample, suffering pain of everlasting fire.

Book 65 The Epistle of Jude

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (t) even as Sodom, and Gomorrah, and the cities about them (which in like manner defiled themselves, with fornication, and followed strange flesh) are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternal fire.
- (g) As Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them, which in like manner as they did, committed fornication, and followed strange flesh, are set forth for an example, and suffer the vengeance of eternal fire.
- (k) Even as Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after strange {Gr. other} flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.
- 8 (w) In like manner also these that defoul the flesh, and despise lordship, and blaspheme majesty.
- (p) In like manner also these that defoul the flesh, and despise lordship, and blaspheme majesty.
- (t) Likewise these dreamers defile the flesh, despise rulers, and speak evil of them that are in authority.
- (g) Likewise notwithstanding these dreamers also defile the flesh, and despise government, and speak evil of them that are in authority.
- (k) Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and speak evil of dignities.
- 9 (w) When Michael, the archangel, disputing with the devil, strove of Moses' body, he was not hardy to bring in doom of blasphemy, but said, The Lord command to thee.
- (p) When Michael, archangel, disputed with the devil, and strove of Moses' body, he was not hardy to bring in doom of blasphemy, but said, The Lord command to thee.
- (t) ¶ Yet Michael the archangel (when he strove against the devil, and disputed the body of Moses) durst not give railing sentence, but said: The Lord rebuke thee.
- (g) Yet Michael the Archangel, when he strove against the devil, and disputed about the body of Moses, durst not blame him with cursed speaking, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.
- (k) Yet Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, The Lord rebuke thee.
- 10 (w) Forsooth these blaspheme, whatever things they know not. Forsooth whatever things they know by kind as dumb beasts, in these they be corrupt.
- (p) But these men blaspheme, whatever things they know not. For whatever things they know naturally as dumb beasts, in these they be corrupt.
- (t) But these speak evil of [in] those things which they know not. In those things which they know naturally, as beasts which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselves.
- (g) But these speak evil of those things, which they know not; and whatsoever things they know naturally, as beasts, which are without reason, in those things they corrupt themselves.
- (k) But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.
- 11 (w) Woe to them that went the way of Cain, and that be shed out by error of Balaam for meed, and perished in the again-saying of Core.
- (p) Woe to them that went the way of Cain, and that be shed out by error of Balaam for meed, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.
- (t) Woe be unto them, for they have followed the way of Cain, and are utterly given to [spilt in] the error of Balaam for lucre's sake, and perish [are cast away] in the treason of Core.
- (g) Woe be unto them! For they have followed the way of Cain, and are cast away by the deceit of Balaam's wages, and perish in the gainsaying of Core.
- (k) Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way of Cain, and ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished in the gainsaying of Core.

- 12 (w) These be in their meats filths, or defoulings, feasting together, without dread feeding themselves. These be clouds without water, that be borne about of winds; harvest trees without fruit, twice dead, drawn up by the root;
(p) These be in their meats, feasting together to filth, without dread feeding themselves. These be clouds without water, that be borne about of winds; harvest trees without fruit, twice dead, drawn up by the root;
(t) ¶ These are spots which of your kindness feast together, without fear, feeding themselves. Clouds they are without water, carried about of winds, and trees without fruit at gathering time [: trees rotten in autumn, unfruitful], twice dead, and plucked up by the roots.
(g) These are rocks in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, without all fear, feeding themselves; clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; corrupt trees and without fruit, twice dead, and plucked up by the roots;
(k) These are spots in your feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: clouds they are without water, carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, plucked up by the roots;
- 13 (w) waves of the wild, or mad, sea, frothing out their confusions; erring stars, to whom the tempest of darkneses is kept into without end.
(p) waves of the mad sea, foaming out their confusions; erring stars, to which the tempest of darkneses is kept without end.
(t) They are raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame. They are wandering stars, to whom is reserved the mist of darkness forever.
(g) They are the raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; they are wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness forever.
(k) Raging waves of the sea, foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.
- 14 (w) But Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Lo! the Lord cometh with his holy thousands,
(p) But Enoch, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, and said, Lo! the Lord cometh with his holy thousands,
(t) ¶ Enoch the seventh from Adam prophesied before of such saying. Behold, the Lord shall come with thousands of saints,
(g) And Enoch also the seventh from Adam, prophesied of such, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with thousands of his Saints,
(k) And Enoch also, the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, the Lord cometh with ten thousands of his saints,
- 15 (w) for to do doom against all, and to reprove all unpius men of all the works of the unpiety of them, by which they did unpiously, and of all hard words, that unpious sinners have spoken against God.
(p) to do doom against all men, and to reprove all unfaithful men of all the works of the wickedness of them, by which they did wickedly, and of all the hard words, that wicked sinners have spoken against God.
(t) to give judgment against all men, and to rebuke all that are ungodly among them, of all their ungodly deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their cruel speakings, which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.
(g) To give judgment against all men, and to rebuke all the ungodly among them of all their wicked deeds, which they have ungodly committed, and of all their cruel speakings, which wicked sinners have spoken against him.
(k) To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.
- 16 (w) These be grutchers plaining, or full of plaints, wandering after their desires; and the mouth of them speaketh pride, worshipping persons, by cause of winning.
(p) These be grumblers full of plaints, wandering after their desires; and the mouth of them speaketh pride, worshipping persons, because of winning.
(t) ¶ These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts, whose mouth's speak proud things. They have men in great reverence because of advantage.

Book 65 The Epistle of Jude

- (g) These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; whose mouth's speak proud things, having men's persons in admiration, because of advantage.
- (k) These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and their mouth speaketh great swelling words, having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.
- 17 (w) Forsooth, ye most dear, be ye mindful of the words, which be before-said of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;
(p) And ye, most dear brethren, be mindful of the words, which be before-said of apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;
(t) But ye [dearly] beloved remember the words which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(g) But, ye beloved, remember the words which were spoken before of the Apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ,
(k) But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;
- 18 (w) which said to you, that in the last times there shall come scorers, wandering after their own desires, not in piety.
(p) which said to you, that in the last times there shall come beguilers, wandering after their own desires, not in piety.
(t) how that they told you that there should be beguilers in the last time, which should walk after their own ungodly lusts.
(g) How that they told you that there should be mockers in the last time, which should walk after their own ungodly lusts.
(k) How that they told you there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.
- 19 (w) These be, the which separate themselves, beastly, not having Spirit.
(p) These be, which separate themselves, beastly men, not having Spirit.
(t) These are makers of sects, fleshly [natural], having no spirit.
(g) These are they that separate themselves from others, natural, having not the Spirit.
(k) These be they who separate themselves, sensual, having not the Spirit.
- 20 (w) Forsooth ye, most dear, above building yourselves on your most holy faith, in the Holy Ghost praying,
(p) But ye, most dear brethren, above build yourselves on your most holy faith, and pray ye in the Holy Ghost,
(t) ¶ But ye dearly beloved, edify yourselves in your most holy faith, praying in the holy ghost,
(g) But, ye beloved, edify yourselves in your most holy faith, praying in the holy Ghost,
(k) But ye, beloved, building up yourselves on your most holy faith, praying in the Holy Ghost,
- 21 (w) keep yourselves in the love of God, abiding the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ into life everlasting.
(p) and keep yourselves in the love of God, and abide ye the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ into life everlasting.
(t) and keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ, unto eternal life.
(g) And keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ, unto eternal life.
(k) Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.
- 22 (w) And reprove ye these men that be deemed,
(p) And reprove ye these men that be deemed,
(t) And have compassion on some, separating them:
(g) And have compassion of some, in putting difference;
(k) And of some have compassion, making a difference:
- 23 (w) forsooth save ye them, snatching them of the fire. Soothly do ye mercy to others in dread of God, hating and that defouled coat, that is flesh.
(p) but save ye them, and take ye them from the fire. And do ye mercy to other men, in the dread of God, and hate ye also that defouled coat, which is fleshly.

(t) and other save with fear, pulling them out of the fire, and hate the filthy vesture of the flesh.

(g) And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire, and hate even the garment spotted by the flesh.

(k) And others save with fear, pulling them out of the fire; hating even the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 (w) But to him that is mighty to keep you without sin, and to ordain before the sight of his glory you unwemmed in full out joy,

(p) But to him that is mighty to keep you without sin, and to ordain before the sight of his glory you unwemmed in full out joy,

(t) ¶ Unto him that is able to keep you, that ye fall not, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with joy,

(g) Now unto him that is able to keep you that ye fall not, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with joy,

(k) Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 (w) in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God alone our Saviour, by Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, and magnifying, empire, and power, before all worlds, and now, and into all worlds of worlds. Amen.

(p) in the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, to God alone our Saviour, by Jesus Christ our Lord, be glory, and magnifying, empire, and power, before all worlds, and now, and into all worlds of worlds. Amen.

(t) that is to say, to God our savior which only is wise, be glory, majesty, dominion, and power, now and forever Amen.

(g) That is, to God only wise, our Saviour, be glory, and majesty, and dominion, and power, both now and forever, Amen.

(k) To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

CHAPTER 1

- 1:1 (w) Apocalypse, or revelation, of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him to make open to his servants, which things it behooveth to be made soon. And he signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,
(p) Apocalypse of Jesus Christ, which God gave to him to make open to his servants, which things it behooveth to be made soon. And he signified, sending by his angel to his servant John,
(t) ¶ The revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, for to show unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass. And he sent and showed by his angel unto his servant John,
(g) The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly be done; which he sent, and shewed by his Angel unto his servant John,
(k) The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:
- 1:2 (w) which bare witnessing to the word of God, and witnessing of Jesus Christ, in these things, whatever things he saw.
(p) which bare witnessing to the word of God, and witnessing of Jesus Christ, in these things, whatever things he saw.
(t) which bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.
(g) Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.
(k) Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw.
- 1:3 (w) Blessed is he that readeth, and he that heareth the words of this prophecy, and keepeth those things that be written in it; for the time is nigh.
(p) Blessed is he that readeth, and he that heareth the words of this prophecy, and keepeth those things that be written in it; for the time is nigh.
(t) Happy is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of the prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein. For the time is at hand.
(g) Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein; for the time is at hand.
(k) Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand.
- 1:4 (w) John to the seven churches, that be in Asia, grace to you, and peace, of him that is, and that was, and that is to come; and of the seven spirits, that be in the sight of his throne;
(p) John to the seven churches, that be in Asia, grace and peace to you, of him that is, and that was, and that is to coming; and of the seven spirits, that be in the sight of his throne;
(t) ¶ John to the seven congregations in Asia. Grace be with you and peace, from him which is and which was, and which is to come: and from the seven spirits which are present before his throne,
(g) John to the seven Churches which are in Asia, Grace be with you, and peace from him, Which is, and Which was, and Which is to come, and from the seven Spirits which are before his Throne,
(k) John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne;
- 1:5 (w) and of Jesus Christ, that is a faithful witness, the first begotten of dead, and prince of kings of the earth; which loved us, and washed us from our sins in his blood,
(p) and of Jesus Christ, that is a faithful witness, the first begotten of dead men, and prince of kings of the earth; which loved us, and washed us from our sins in his blood,
(t) and from Jesus Christ which is a faithful witness, and first begotten of the dead: and Lord over the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us and washed us from [our] sins in his own blood,

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

- (g) And from Jesus Christ, which is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the Prince of the Kings of the earth, unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his blood,
- (k) And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood,
- 1:6 (w) and made us a kingdom, and priests to God and his Father; to him be glory and empire into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(p) and made us a kingdom, and priests to God and to his Father; to him be glory and empire into worlds of worlds. Amen.
(t) and made us kings and priests unto God his father, be glory, and dominion forevermore amen.
(g) And made us Kings and Priests unto God even his Father, to him be glory and dominion for evermore. Amen.
(k) And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.
- 1:7 (w) Lo! he cometh with clouds, and each eye shall see him, and they that pricked him; and all kindreds, or lineages, of earth shall wail themselves on him. Yea, Amen!
(p) Lo! he cometh with clouds, and each eye shall see him, and they that pricked him; and all the kindreds of the earth shall bewail themselves on him. Yea, Amen!
(t) Behold he cometh with clouds, and all eyes shall see him: and they also which pierced him. And all kindreds of the earth shall wail. Even so amen.
(g) Behold, he cometh with clouds, and every eye shall see him, yea, even they which pierced him through; and all kindreds of the earth shall wail before him, Even so, Amen.
(k) Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.
- 1:8 (w) I am alpha and omega, the beginning and ending, saith the Lord God, that is, and that was, and that is to come, almighty.
(p) I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the end, saith the Lord God, that is, and that was, and that is to coming, almighty.
(t) I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord almighty, which is and which was and which is to come.
(g) I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, Which is, and Which was, and Which is to come, even the Almighty.
(k) I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.
- 1:9 (w) I John, your brother, and partner in tribulation, and kingdom, and patience in Christ Jesus, was in an isle, that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Jesus.
(p) I, John, your brother, and partner in tribulation, and kingdom, and patience in Christ Jesus, was in an isle, that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Jesus.
(t) ¶ I John your brother and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience which is in Jesus Christ, was in the isle of Patmos for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Jesus Christ.
(g) I John, even your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the witnessing of Jesus Christ.
(k) I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.
- 1:10 (w) I was in Spirit in the Sunday, and I heard after me a great voice, as of a trump,
(p) I was in Spirit in the Lord's day, and I heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,
(t) I was in the spirit on a sonday, and heard behind me, a great voice, as it had been of a trumpet

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

- (g) And I was ravished in spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as it had been of a trumpet,
(k) I was in the Spirit on the Lord's day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet,
- 1:11 (w) saying, That thing that thou seest, write in a book, and send to the seven churches that be in Asia; to Ephesus, and to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.
(p) saying to me, Write thou in a book that thing that thou seest, and send to the seven churches that be in Asia; to Ephesus, to Smyrna, and to Pergamos, and to Thyatira, and to Sardis, and to Philadelphia, and to Laodicea.
(t) saying: I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last. That thou seeist write in a book, and send it unto the congregations which are in Asia, unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thiatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.
(g) Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and that which thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven Churches which are in Asia, unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.
(k) Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.
- 1:12 (w) And I turned, that I should see the voice that spake with me; and I turned, and I saw seven candlesticks of gold,
(p) And I turned, that I should see the voice that spake with me; and I turned, and I saw seven candlesticks of gold,
(t) ¶ And I turned back to see the voice that spake to me. And when I was turned: I saw seven golden candlesticks.
(g) Then I turned back to see the voice, that spake with me. And when I was turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks,
(k) And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks;
- 1:13 (w) and in the middle of the seven golden candlesticks one like to the Son of man, clothed with a long garment, and girded at the teats with a golden girdle.
(p) and in the middle of the seven golden candlesticks one like to the Son of man, clothed with a long garment, and girded at the teats with a golden girdle.
(t) and in the midst of the candlesticks, one like unto the son of man clothed with a linen garment down to the ground, and gird about the paps with a golden girdle.
(g) And in the midst of the seven candlesticks, one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the feet, and girded about the paps with a golden girdle.
(k) And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle.
- 1:14 (w) And the head of him and his hairs were white, as white wool, and as snow; and the eyes of him as flame of fire,
(p) And the head of him and his hairs were white, as white wool, and as snow; and the eyes of him as flame of fire,
(t) His head, and his hairs were white, as white wool, and as snow: and his eyes were as a flame of fire:
(g) His head and hairs were white as white wool, and as snow, and his eyes were as a flame of fire,
(k) His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;
- 1:15 (w) and his feet like to dross of gold, or latten, as in a burning chimney; and the voice of him as the voice of many waters.
(p) and his feet like to latten, as in a burning chimney; and the voice of him as the voice of many waters.
(t) and his feet like unto brass, as though they burned in a furnace: and his voice as the sound of many waters.
(g) And his feet like unto fine brass, burning as in a furnace, and his voice as the sound of many waters.
(k) And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

- 1:16 (w) And he had in his right hand seven stars, and a sword sharp on both sides went out of his mouth; and his face as the sun shineth in his virtue.
(p) And he had in his right hand seven stars, and a sword sharp on ever-either side went out of his mouth; and his face as the sun shineth in his virtue.
(t) And he had in his right hand seven stars. And out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword. And his face shone even as the sun in his strength.
(g) And he had in his right hand seven stars, and out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword; and his face shone as the sun shineth in his strength.
(k) And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.
- 1:17 (w) And when I had seen him, I fell down at his feet, as dead. And he put his right hand upon me, saying, Do not thou dread; I am the first and the last;
(p) And when I had seen him, I felled down at his feet, as dead. And he putted his right hand on me, and said, Do not thou dread; I am the first and the last;
(t) ¶ And when I saw him, I fell at his feet, even as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me: Fear not. I am the first and the last,
(g) And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. Then he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last,
(k) And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:
- 1:18 (w) and I am alive, and I was dead; and lo! I am living into worlds of worlds, and I have the keys of death and of hell.
(p) and I am alive, and I was dead; and lo! I am living into worlds of worlds, and I have the keys of death and of hell.
(t) and am alive, and was dead. And behold I am alive forevermore, and have the keys of hell and of death.
(g) And am alive, but I was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen. And I have the keys of hell and of death.
(k) I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.
- 1:19 (w) Therefore write thou which things thou hast seen, and which be, and which it behooveth to be done after these things.
(p) Therefore write thou which things thou hast seen, and which be, and which it behooveth to be done after these things.
(t) Write therefore the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be fulfilled hereafter:
(g) Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall come hereafter.
(k) Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter;
- 1:20 (w) They mystery of seven stars, which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks; the seven stars be the angels of the seven churches, and the seven candlesticks be the seven churches.
(p) The sacrament of the seven stars, which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks; the seven stars be angels of the seven churches, and the seven candlesticks be seven churches.
(t) and the mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the messengers [angels] of the seven congregations: And the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven congregations.
(g) The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks, is this, The seven stars are the Angels of the seven Churches, and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven Churches.
(k) The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

CHAPTER 2

- 2:1 (w) And to the angel of the church of Ephesus write thou, These things saith he, that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, that walketh in the middle of the seven golden candlesticks.
(p) And to the angel of the church of Ephesus write thou, These things saith he, that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, which walketh in the middle of the seven golden candlesticks.
(t) ¶ Unto the messenger [angel] of the congregation of Ephesus write: These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, and walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks.
(g) Unto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus write, These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, and walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks.
(k) Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;
- 2:2 (w) I know thy works, and thy travail, and thy patience, and that thou mayest not sustain evil men; and thou hast assayed them that say that they be apostles, and be not, and thou hast found them liars;
(p) I know thy works, and thy travail, and thy patience, and that thou mayest not suffer evil men; and thou hast assayed them that say that they be apostles, and be not, and thou hast found them liars;
(t) I know thy works, and thy labor, and thy patience, and how thou canst not forbear them which are evil: and examinedst them which say they are Apostles, and are not: and hast found them liars.
(g) I know thy works, and thy labor, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear with them which are evil, and hast examined them which say they are Apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars.
(k) I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:
- 2:3 (w) and thou hast patience, and thou hast sustained for my name, and failedest not.
(p) and thou hast patience, and thou hast suffered for my name, and failedest not.
(t) And didst wash thyself [And hast suffered], and hast patience: and for my name's sake hast labored and hast not fainted.
(g) And thou wast burdened, and hast patience, and for my Name's sake hast labored, and hast not fainted.
(k) And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.
- 2:4 (w) But I have against thee a few things, that thou hast left thy first charity.
(p) But I have against thee a few things, that thou hast left thy first charity.
(t) Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, for thou hast left thy first love.
(g) Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.
(k) Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.
- 2:5 (w) Therefore be thou mindful from whence thou hast fallen, and do penance, and do the first works; if not, I shall come soon to thee, and shall move thy candlestick of his place, but thou do penance.
(p) Therefore be thou mindful from whence thou hast fallen, and do penance, and do the first works; or else, I shall come soon to thee, and I shall move thy candlestick from his place, but thou do penance.
(t) Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works. Or else I will come unto thee shortly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.
(g) Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come against thee shortly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou amend.
(k) Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

- 2:6 (w) But thou hast this good thing, for thou hatest the deeds of Nicolaitanes, which also I hate.
(p) But thou hast this good thing, that thou hatedest the deeds of Nicolaitanes, which also I hate.
(t) But this thou hast because thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which deeds I also hate.
(g) But this thou hast, that thou hatest the works of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.
(k) But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate.
- 2:7 (w) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, I shall give to eat of the tree of life, that is in the paradise of my God.
(p) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh, I shall give to eat of the tree of life, that is in the paradise of my God.
(t) Let him that hath ears hear, what the spirit saith unto the congregations. To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.
(g) Let him that hath an ear, hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches. To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the tree of life which is in the midst of the Paradise of God.
(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.
- 2:8 (w) And to the angel of the church of Smyrna write thou, These things saith the first and the last, that was dead, and liveth.
(p) And to the angel of the church of Smyrna write thou, These things saith the first and the last, that was dead, and liveth.
(t) ¶ And unto the angel of the congregation of Smyrna write: These things saith he that is first, and the last, which was dead and is alive.
(g) ¶ And unto the Angel of the Church of the Smyrnians write, These things saith he that is first and last, which was dead and is alive.
(k) And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write; These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;
- 2:9 (w) I know thy tribulation, and thy poverty, but thou art rich; and thou art blasphemed of them, that say, that they be Jews, and be not, but be the synagogue of Satan.
(p) I know thy tribulation, and thy poverty, but thou art rich; and thou art blasphemed of them, that say, that they be Jews, and be not, but be the synagogue of Satan.
(t) I know thy works and tribulation and poverty, but thou art rich: And I know the blasphemy of them which call themselves Jews and are not: but are the congregation of Satan.
(g) I know thy works and tribulation, and poverty (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them, which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.
(k) I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan.
- 2:10 (w) Dread thou nothing of these things, which thou shalt suffer. Lo! the devil shall send some of you into prison, that ye be proved; and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful unto the death, and I shall give to thee a crown of life.
(p) Dread thou nothing of these things, which thou shalt suffer. Lo! the devil shall send some of you into prison, that ye be tempted; and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be thou faithful to the death, and I shall give to thee a crown of life.
(t) Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer. Behold, the devil shall cast of you into prison, to tempt you, and ye shall have tribulation ten days. Be faithful unto the death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) Fear none of those things, which thou shalt suffer; behold, it shall come to pass, that the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried, and ye shall have tribulation ten days; be thou faithful unto the death, and I will give thee the crown of life.

(k) Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.

2:11 (w) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of the second death.

(p) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. He that overcometh, shall not be hurt of the second death.

(t) Let him that hath ears hear, what the spirit saith to the congregations: He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

(g) Let him that hath an ear, hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches. He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death.

2:12 (w) And to the angel of the church of Pergamos write thou, These things saith he, that hath the sword sharp on each side.

(p) And to the angel of the church of Pergamos write thou, These things saith he, that hath the sword sharp on either side.

(t) ¶ And to the messenger [angel] of the congregation in Pergamos write: This saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges.

(g) And to the Angel of the Church, which is at Pergamos write, This saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges.

(k) And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

2:13 (w) I know where thou dwellest, where the seat of Satan is; and thou holdest my name, and deniedest not my faith. And in those days was Antipas, my faithful witness, that was slain at you, where Satan dwelleth.

(p) I know where thou dwellest, where the seat of Satan is; and thou holdest my name, and deniedest not my faith. And in those days was Antipas, my faithful witness, that was slain at you, where Satan dwelleth.

(t) I know thy works and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is, and thou keepest my name and hast not denied my faith. And in my days Antipas was a faithful witness of mine, which was slain among you where Satan dwelleth.

(g) I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's throne is, and thou keepest my Name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days when Antipas my faithful martyr was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

(k) I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

2:14 (w) But I have against thee a few things; for thou hast there men holding the teaching of Balaam, which taught Balac to send offence before the sons of Israel, to eat of sacrifices of idols, and to do fornication;

(p) But I have against thee a few things; for thou hast there men holding the teaching of Balaam, which taught Balac to send cause of stumbling before the sons of Israel, to eat of sacrifices of idols, and to do fornication;

(t) But I have a few things against thee: that thou hast there, they that maintain, the doctrine of Balaam which taught in Balak, to put occasion of sin before the children of Israel, that they should eat of meat dedicated unto idols, and to commit fornication.

(g) But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintain the doctrine of Balaam, which taught Balac to put a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, that they should eat of things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

(k) But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication.

- 2:15 (w) so also thou hast men holding the teaching of Nicolaitanes.
(p) so also thou hast men holding the teaching of Nicolaitanes.
(t) Even so hast thou them that maintain the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.
(g) Even so hast thou them that maintain the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.
(k) So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.
- 2:16 (w) Also do thou penance; if not, I shall come soon to thee, and I shall fight with them with the sword of my mouth.
(p) Also do thou penance; if any thing less, I shall come soon to thee, and I shall fight with them with the sword of my mouth.
(t) But be converted [repent] or else I will come to thee shortly and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.
(g) Repent thyself, or else I will come unto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.
(k) Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.
- 2:17 (w) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. To the overcoming, I shall give manna hid, or angel meat; and I shall give to him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, but he that taketh.
(p) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches. To him that overcometh I shall give angel meat hid; and I shall give to him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, but he that taketh.
(t) Let him that hath ears hear what the spirit sayeth unto the congregations: To him that overcometh will I give to eat manna that is hid, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, saving he that receiveth it.
(g) Let him that hath an ear, hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches. To him that overcometh, will I give to eat of the Manna that is hid, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.
(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.
- 2:18 (w) And to the angel of the church of Thyatira write thou, These things saith the Son of God, that hath eyes as flame of fire, and his feet like to the dross of gold, either latten.
(p) And to the angel of the church of Thyatira write thou, These things saith the Son of God, that hath eyes as flame of fire, and his feet like latten.
(t) ¶ And unto the messenger [angel] of the congregation of Thiatira write: This sayeth the son of God, which hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, whose feet are like brass:
(g) ¶ And unto the Angel of the Church which is at Thyatira write, These things saith the Son of God, which hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet like fine brass.
(k) And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;
- 2:19 (w) I know thy works, and faith, and charity, and service, and thy patience, and thy last works more than the former.
(p) I know thy works, and faith, and charity, and thy service, and thy patience, and thy last works more than the former.
(t) I know thy works and thy love, service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy deeds, which are more at the last than at the first.
(g) I know thy works and thy love, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works, and that they are more at the last, than at the first.
(k) I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 2:20 (w) But I have against thee a few things; for thou sufferest the woman Jezebel, the which saith herself for to be a prophetess, to teach and deceive my servants, to do lechery, and to eat of things offered to idols.
(p) But I have against thee a few things; for thou sufferest the woman Jezebel, which saith that she is a prophetess, to teach and deceive my servants, to do lechery, and to eat of things offered to idols.
(t) Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, that thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which called herself a prophetess to teach and to deceive my servants, to make them commit fornication, and to eat meats offered up unto idols.
(g) Notwithstanding, I have a few things against thee, that thou sufferest the woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to deceive my servants to make them commit fornication, and to eat meat sacrificed unto idols.
(k) Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.
- 2:21 (w) And I gave to her time, for to do penance, and she would not do penance of her fornication.
(p) And I gave to her time, that she should do penance, and she would not do penance of her fornication.
(t) And I gave her space to repent of her fornication and she repented not.
(g) And I gave her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.
(k) And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.
- 2:22 (w) Lo! I send her into a bed, and they that do lechery with her shall be in most tribulation, but they do penance of their works.
(p) And lo! I send her into a bed, and they that do lechery with her shall be in most tribulation, but they do penance of her works.
(t) Behold I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her into great adversity, except they turn from [repent of] their deeds.
(g) Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit fornication with her, into great affliction, except they repent them of their works.
(k) Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.
- 2:23 (w) And I shall slay her sons in death, and all churches shall know, that I am searching reins and hearts; and I shall give to each man of you after his works.
(p) And I shall slay her sons into death, and all churches shall know, that I am searching reins and hearts; and I shall give to each man of you after his works.
(t) And I will kill her children with death. And all the congregations shall know that I am he which searches the reins and hearts. And I will give unto every one of you according to your works.
(g) And I will kill her children with death, and all the Churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts; and I will give unto every one of you according unto your works.
(k) And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works.
- 2:24 (w) And I say to you, and to others that be at Thyatira, whoever have not this teaching, and that knew not the highness of Satan, how they say, I shall not send upon you another charge;
(p) And I say to you, and to others that be at Thyatira, whoever have not this teaching, and that knew not the highness of Satan, how they say, I shall not send on you another charge;
(t) ¶ Unto you I say, and unto other of them of Thiatira as many as have not this learning, and which have not known the deepness of Satan (as they say)
(g) And unto you I say, the rest of them of Thyatira, As many as have not this learning, neither have known the deepness of Satan (as they speak) I will put upon you none other burden.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden.

2:25 (w) nevertheless that that ye have, holdeth till I come.

(p) nevertheless hold ye that that ye have, till I come.

(t) I will put upon you none other burden, but that which you have already.

(g) But that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

(k) But that which ye have already hold fast till I come.

2:26 (w) And to him that shall overcome, and shall keep till into the end my works, I shall give to him power upon folks,

(p) And to him that shall overcome, and that shall keep till into the end my works, I shall give power on folks,

(t) Hold fast till I come, and whosoever overcometh and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over nations,

(g) For he that overcometh and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over nations;

(k) And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations:

2:27 (w) and he shall govern them in an iron rod; and they shall be broken together, as a vessel of a potter, as also I received of my Father;

(p) and he shall govern them in an iron rod; and they shall be broken together, as a vessel of a potter, as also I received of my Father;

(t) and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and as the vessels of a potter, shall he break them to shivers. Even as I received of my father.

(g) And he shall rule them with a rod of iron, and as the vessels of a potter, shall they be broken;

(k) And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father.

2:28 (w) and I shall give to him a morn star.

(p) and I shall give to him a morrow star.

(t) Even so will I [And I will] give him the morning star.

(g) Even as I received of my Father, so will I give him the morning star.

(k) And I will give him the morning star.

2:29 (w) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.

(p) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.

(t) Let him that hath ears hear what the spirit says to the congregations.

(g) Let him that hath an ear, hear what the Spirit saith to the Churches.

(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER 3

3:1 (w) And to the angel of the church of Sardis write thou, These things saith he, that hath the seven spirits of God, and the seven stars. I know thy works, for thou hast a name, that thou livest, and thou art dead.

(p) And to the angel of the church of Sardis write thou, These things saith he, that hath the seven spirits of God, and the seven stars. I know thy works, for thou hast a name, that thou livest, and thou art dead.

(t) ¶ And write unto the messenger [angel] of the congregation of Sardis: this sayeth he that hath the spirit of God, and the seven stars. I know thy works, thou hast a name that you livest, and thou are dead.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(g) And write unto the Angel of the Church which is at Sardis, These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars, I know thy works, for thou hast a name that thou livest, but thou art dead.

(k) And unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead.

3:2 (w) Be thou waking, and confirm other things, that were to die; for I find not thy works full before my God.

(p) Be thou waking, and confirm thou other things, that were to dying; for I find not thy works full before my God.

(t) Be awake and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die. For I have not found thy works perfect before God.

(g) Be awake, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die; for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

(k) Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3:3 (w) Therefore have thou in mind, how thou receivedest, and heardest; and keep, and do penance. Therefore if thou shalt not wake, I shall come to thee as a night thief, and thou shalt not know in what hour I shall come to thee.

(p) Therefore have thou in mind, how thou receivedest, and heardest; and keep, and do penance. Therefore if thou wake not, I shall come as a night thief to thee, and thou shalt not know in what hour I shall come to thee.

(t) Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If you shalt not watch, I will come on you as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

(g) Remember therefore, how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast and repent. If therefore thou wilt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

(k) Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

3:4 (w) But thou hast a few names in Sardis, which have not defouled their clothes; and they shall walk with me in white clothes, for they be worthy.

(p) But thou hast a few names in Sardis, which have not defouled their clothes; and they shall walk with me in white clothes, for they be worthy.

(t) Thou hast a few names in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments, and they shall walk with me in white, for they are worthy.

(g) Notwithstanding thou hast a few names yet in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white, for they are worthy.

(k) Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy.

3:5 (w) He that overcometh, shall be clothed thus with white clothes; and I shall not do away his name of the book of life, and I shall acknowledge his name before my Father, and before his angels.

(p) He that overcometh, shall be clothed thus with white clothes; and I shall not do away his name from the book of life, and I shall acknowledge his name before my Father, and before his angels.

(t) He that overcometh shall be clothed in white array, and I will not put out his name out of the book of life, and I will confess his name before my father, and before his angels.

(g) He that overcometh, shall be clothed in white array, and I will not put out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his Angels.

(k) He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

3:6 (w) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.

(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.
- 3:7 (w) And to the angel of the church of Philadelphia write thou, These things saith the holy and true, that hath the key of David; that openeth, and no man closeth, closeth, and no man openeth.
(p) And to the angel of the church of Philadelphia write thou, These things saith the holy and true, that hath the key of David; which openeth, and no man closeth, he closeth, and no man openeth.
(t) ¶ And write unto the tidings bringer of the congregation [angel] of Philadelphia: This sayeth he that is holy and true, which hath the key of David: which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth.
(g) ¶ And write unto the Angel of the Church which is of Philadelphia, These things saith he that is Holy, and True, which hath the key of David, which openeth and no man shutteth, and shutteth and no man openeth,
(k) And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth;
- 3:8 (w) I know thy works, and lo! I have before thee a door opened, that no man may close; for thou hast a little virtue, and hast kept my word, and deniedest not my name.
(p) I know thy works, and lo! I gave before thee a door opened, which no man may close; for thou hast a little virtue, and hast kept my word, and deniedest not my name.
(t) I know your works. Behold I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it, for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my sayings: and hast not denied my name.
(g) I know thy works; behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it, for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my Name.
(k) I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.
- 3:9 (w) Lo! I shall give to thee of the synagogue of Satan, which say that they be Jews, and be not, but lie. Lo! I shall make them, that they come, and worship before thy feet; and they shall know, that I loved thee,
(p) Lo! I shall give to thee of the synagogue of Satan, which say that they be Jews, and be not, but lie. Lo! I shall make them, that they come, and worship before thy feet; and they shall know, that I loved thee,
(t) Behold. I make [put] them of the congregation of Satan, which call themselves Jews and are not, but do lie. Behold. I will make them that they shall come and worship before thy feet: and shall know that I love [have loved] thee.
(g) Behold, I will make them of the Synagogue of Satan, which call themselves Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I say, I will make them that they shall come and worship before thy feet, and shall know that I have loved thee.
(k) Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.
- 3:10 (w) for thou keptest the word of my patience. And I shall keep thee from the hour of temptation, that is to come into all the world, to tempt men that dwell in earth.
(p) for thou keptest the word of my patience. And I shall keep thee from the hour of temptation, that is to coming into all the world, to tempt men that dwell in earth.
(t) ¶ Because thou hast kept the words of my patience, therefore [and] I will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which will come upon all the world, to tempt them that dwell upon the earth.
(g) Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, therefore I will deliver thee from the hour of temptation, which will come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.
(k) Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth.

- 3:11 (w) Lo! I come soon; hold that that thou hast, that no man take thy crown.
(p) Lo! I come soon; hold thou that that thou hast, that no man take thy crown.
(t) Behold I come shortly. Hold that which thou hast, that no man take away thy crown.
(g) Behold, I come shortly; hold that which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.
(k) Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown.
- 3:12 (w) And him that shall overcome, I shall make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall no more go out; and I shall write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, of the new Jerusalem, that cometh down from heaven of my God, and my new name.
(p) And him that shall overcome, I shall make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall no more go out; and I shall write on him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, of the new Jerusalem, that cometh down from heaven of my God, and my new name.
(t) Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out. And I will write upon him, the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God and I will write upon him my new name.
(g) Him that overcometh, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he shall go no more out; and I will write upon him the Name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is the new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God, and I will write upon him my new Name.
(k) Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name.
- 3:13 (w) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.
(p) He that hath ears, hear he, what the Spirit saith to the churches.
(t) Let him that hath ears, hear what the spirit saith unto the congregations.
(g) Let him that hath an ear, hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches.
(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.
- 3:14 (w) And to the angel of the church of Laodicea write thou, These things saith Amen, the faithful witness and true, that is the beginning of God's creature.
(p) And to the angel of the church of Laodicea write thou, These things saith Amen, the faithful witness and true, which is beginning of God's creature.
(t) ¶ And unto the messenger [angel] of the congregation which is in Laodicia write: This saith (amen) the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creatures of God.
(g) And unto the Angel of the Church of the Laodiceans write, These things saith Amen, the faithful and true witness, that beginning of the creatures of God.
(k) And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans {or, in Laodicea} write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God;
- 3:15 (w) I know thy works, for neither thou art cold, nor hot; I would thou were cold, or hot;
(p) I know thy works, for neither thou art cold, neither thou art hot; I would that thou were cold, either hot;
(t) I know thy works that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou were cold or hot.
(g) I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot; I would thou werest cold or hot.
(k) I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.
- 3:16 (w) but for thou art lukewarm, and neither cold, nor hot, I shall begin for to vomit thee out of my mouth.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- (p) but for thou art lukewarm, and neither cold, neither hot, I shall begin to cast thee out of my mouth.
(t) So then because thou art between both, and nether cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth:
(g) Therefore, because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, it will come to pass, that I shall spew thee out of my mouth.
(k) So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.
- 3:17 (w) For thou sayest, That I am rich, and full of goods, and have need of nothing; and thou knowest not, for thou art a wretch, and wretched, and poor, and blind, and naked.
(p) For thou sayest, That I am rich, and full of goods, and have need of nothing; and thou knowest not, that thou art a wretch, and wretched, and poor, and blind, and naked.
(t) because thou sayest thou art rich and increased with goods, and hast need of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched and miserable, poor, blind, and naked.
(g) For thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing, and knowest not how thou art wretched and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked.
(k) Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:
- 3:18 (w) I counsel thee, to buy of me gold fired, and proved, that thou be made rich, and be clothed with white clothes, that the confusion, or shame, of thy nakedness appear not; and anoint thine eyes with a collyrium, that is, a medicine for eyes, made of diverse herbs, that thou see.
(p) I counsel thee to buy of me burnt gold, and proved, that thou be made rich, and be clothed with white clothes, that the confusion of thy nakedness be not seen; and anoint thine eyes with a collyrium, that thou see.
(t) I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich: and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, that thy filthy nakedness do not appear: and anoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayest see.
(g) I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried by the fire, that thou mayest be made rich, and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that thy filthy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eye salve, that thou mayest see.
(k) I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.
- 3:19 (w) I whom I love, reprove and chastise; love thou therefore, and do penance.
(p) I reprove, and chastise whom I love; therefore follow thou good men, and do penance.
(t) ¶ As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten. Be fervent therefore and repent.
(g) As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten; be zealous therefore and amend.
(k) As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.
- 3:20 (w) Lo! I stand at the door, and knock; if any man shall hear my voice, and open the gate, I shall enter to him, and sup with him, and he with me.
(p) Lo! I stand at the door, and knock; if any man heareth my voice, and openeth the gate to me, I shall enter to him, and sup with him, and he with me.
(t) Behold I stand at the door and knock. If any man hear my voice and open the door, I will come in unto him and will sup with him, and he with me.

(g) Let him that hath an ear, hear what the Spirit saith unto the Churches.

(k) He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER 4

4:1 (w) After these things I saw, and lo! a door was opened in heaven. And the first voice that I heard, was as of a trump speaking with me, saying, Ascend up hither, and I shall show to thee which things it behooveth to be done soon after these things.

(p) After these things I saw, and lo! a door was opened in heaven. And the first voice that I heard, was as of a trumpet speaking with me, and said, Ascend thou up hither, and I shall show to thee which things it behooveth to be done soon after these things.

(t) ¶ After this I looked, and behold a door was open in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, which said: come up hither, and I will show the things which must be fulfilled hereafter.

(g) After this I looked, and behold, a door was open in heaven, and the first voice which I heard, was as it were of a trumpet talking with me, saying, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be done hereafter.

(k) After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter.

4:2 (w) And anon I was in Spirit, and lo! a seat was set in heaven, and on the seat one sitting.

(p) And at once I was in Spirit, and lo! a seat was set in heaven, and upon the seat one sitting.

(t) And immediately I was in the spirit: and behold, a seat was put in heaven, and one sat on the seat.

(g) And immediately I was ravished in the spirit, and behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat upon the throne.

(k) And immediately I was in the spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

4:3 (w) And he that sat, was like to the sight of a stone jasper, and to sardine; and a rainbow was in the compass of the seat, like to the sight of smaragdus.

(p) And he that sat, was like the sight of a stone jasper, and to sardine; and a rainbow was in compass of the seat, like the sight of emerald.

(t) And he that sat was to look upon like unto a jasper stone, and a sardine stone: And there was a rainbow about the seat, in sight [to look upon], like unto an emerald.

(g) And he that sat, was to look upon, like unto a jasper stone, and a sardine, and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like to an emerald.

(k) And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

(k) And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them {or, to him} over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth.

6:9 (w) And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of men slain for the word of God, and for the witnessing that they had.

(p) And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of men slain for the word of God, and for the witnessing that they had.

(t) ¶ And when he opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar, the souls of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimony which they had,

(g) And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimony which they maintained.

(k) And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held:

6:10 (w) And they cried with a great voice, saying, How long thou, Lord, that art holy and true, deemest thou not, and vengest our blood of these that dwell in the earth?

(p) And they cried with a great voice, and said, How long thou, Lord, that art holy and true, deemest not, and vengest not our blood of these that dwell in the earth?

(t) and they cried with a loud voice saying: How long tarriest thou Lord holy and true, to judge and to avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

(g) And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, Lord, holy and true! Doest not thou judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

(k) And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

6:11 (w) And white stoles, to each soul a stole, were given to them; and it was said to them, that they should rest yet a little time, till the even-servants of them and of their brethren be fulfilled, that be to be slain, as also they were.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) And white stoles, for each soul a stole, were given to them; and it was said to them, that they should rest yet a little time, till the number of their fellows and of their brethren be fulfilled, that be to be slain, as also they.

(t) And long white garments were given unto every one of them. And it was said unto them that they should rest for a little season until the number of their fellows, and brethren, and of them that should be killed as they were, were fulfilled.

(g) And long white robes were given unto every one, and it was said unto them, that they should rest for a little season until their fellow servants, and their brethren that should be killed even as they were, were fulfilled.

(k) And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellowservants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

6:12 (w) And I saw, when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo! a great earth-moving was made; and the sun was made black, as a sackcloth of hair, and all the moon was made as blood.

(p) And I saw, when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo! a great earth-moving was made; and the sun was made black, as a sackcloth of hair, and all the moon was made as blood.

(t) ¶ And I beheld when he opened the sixth seal, and lo there was a great earthquake, and the sun was as black as sack cloth made of hair.

(g) And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and lo, there was a great earthquake, and the sun was as black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon was like blood.

(k) And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

6:13 (w) And stars of heaven fell down upon the earth, as a fig tree sendeth his unripe figs, when it is moved of a great wind.

(p) And the stars of heaven felled down on the earth, as a fig tree sendeth his unripe figs, when it is moved of a great wind.

(t) And the moon waxed even as blood: and the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth from her her figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

(g) And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, as a fig tree casteth her green figs, when it is shaken of a mighty wind.

(k) And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs {or, green figs}, when she is shaken of a mighty wind.

6:14 (w) And heaven went away, as a book wrapped in; and all the mountains and isles were moved from their places.

(p) And heaven went away, as a book wrapped in; and all the mountains and isles were moved from their places.

(t) And heaven vanished away, as a scroll when it is rolled together. And all mountains and isles, were moved out of their places.

(g) And heaven departed away, as a scroll, when it is rolled, and every mountain and isle were moved out of their places.

(k) And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

6:15 (w) And the kings of the earth, and princes, and tribunes, and rich, and strong, and each bondman, and free man, hid them(selves) in dens and stones of hills.

(p) And the kings of the earth, and princes, and tribunes, and rich, and strong, and each bondman, and free man, hid them(selves) in dens and stones of hills.

(t) ¶ And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in dens, and in rocks of the hills,

(g) And the Kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in dens, and among the rocks of the mountains,

(k) And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

- 6:16 (w) And they say to hills and to stones, Fall ye on us, and hide ye us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the lamb;
(p) And they say to hills and to stones, Fall ye on us, and hide ye us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the lamb;
(t) and said to the hills, and rocks: fall on us, and hide us from the presence of him that sitteth on the seat, and from the wrath of the lamb,
(g) And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the presence of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb.
(k) And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:
- 6:17 (w) for the great day of their wrath cometh, and who shall be able to stand?
(p) for the great day of their wrath cometh, and who shall be able to stand?
(t) for the great day of his wrath is come, and who can endure it.
(g) For the great day of his wrath is come, and who can stand?
(k) For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER 7

- 7:1 (w) After these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that they blow not on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.
(p) After these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding four winds of the earth, that they blew not on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.
(t) ¶ And after that I saw four angels stand on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the winds should not blow on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

(k) And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

8:10 (w) And the third angel sang in trump; and a great star burning as a brand, fell down from heaven; and it fell into the third part of floods, and into wells of waters.

(p) And the third angel trumpeted; and a great star burning as a little brand, fell from heaven; and it fell into the third part of rivers, and into the wells of waters.

(t) ¶ And the third angel blew, and there fell a great star from heaven burning as it were a lamp, and it fell into the third part of the rivers, and into fountains of waters,

(g) Then the third Angel blew the trumpet, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning like a torch, and it fell into the third part of the rivers, and into the fountains of waters.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(k) And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters;

8:11 (w) And the name of the star is said Wormwood. And the third part of waters was made into wormwood; and many men were dead of the waters, for they be made bitter.

(p) And the name of the star is said Wormwood. And the third part of waters was made into wormwood; and many men were dead of the waters, for those were made bitter.

(t) and the name of the star is called wormwood. And the third part was turned to wormwood. And many men died of the waters because they were made bitter.

(g) And the name of the star is called Wormwood; therefore the third part of the waters became wormwood, and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

(k) And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

8:12 (w) And the fourth angel sang in trump; and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars, so that the third part of them was darked, and the third part of the day shone not, and also of the night.

(p) And the fourth angel trumpeted; and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of stars, so that the third part of them was darked, and the third part of the day shined not, and also of the night.

(t) And the fourth angel blew, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of stars: so that the third part of them was darkened. And the day was smitten that the third part of it should not shine, and likewise the night.

(g) And the fourth Angel blew the trumpet, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars, so that the third part of them was darkened, and the day was smitten, that the third part of it could not shine, and likewise the night.

(k) And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

8:13 (w) And I saw, and heard the voice of an eagle flying by the middle of heaven, and saying with a great voice, Woe! woe! woe! to men that dwell in earth, of the other voices of the three angels, that were to sing in trump.

(p) And I saw, and heard the voice of an eagle flying by the middle of heaven, and saying with a great voice, Woe! woe! woe! to men that dwell in earth, of the other voices of the three angels, that shall trumpet after.

(t) And I beheld and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice: Woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth because of the voices to come of the trumpet of the three angels which were yet to blow.

(g) And I beheld, and heard one Angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabitants of the earth, because of the sounds to come of the trumpet of the three Angels, which were yet to blow the trumpets.

(k) And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAPTER 9

9:1 (w) And the fifth angel sang in trump; and I saw that a star had fallen down from heaven into earth; and the key of the pit of deepness was given to him.

(p) And the fifth angel trumpeted; and I saw, that a star had fallen down from heaven into earth; and the key of the pit of deepness was given to it.

(t) ¶ And the fifth angel blew, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth. And to him was given the key of the bottomless pit.

9:3 (w) And of the smoke of the pit locusts went out into the earth; and power was given to them, as scorpions of the earth have power.

(p) And locusts went out of the smoke of the pit into earth; and power was given to them, as scorpions of the earth have power.

(t) And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: And unto them was given power as the scorpions of the earth have power.

(g) And there came out of the smoke Locusts upon the earth, and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

(k) And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power.

9:4 (w) And it was commanded to them, that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only men, that have not the mark of God in their foreheads.

(p) And it was commanded to them, that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only men, that have not the sign of God in their foreheads.

(t) And it hurt the grass of the earth [And it was said unto them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth]: neither any green thing: neither any tree: but only those men which have not the seal in their foreheads,

(g) And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree, but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

(k) And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.

9:5 (w) And it was given to them, that they should not slay them, but that they should be tormented five months; and the tormenting of them, as the tormenting of a scorpion, when he smiteth a man.

(p) And it was given to them, that they should not slay them, but that they should be tormented five months; and the tormenting of them, as the tormenting of a scorpion, when he smiteth a man.

(t) and to them was commanded that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed five months, and their pain was as the pain that cometh of a scorpion, when he hath stung a man.

(g) And to them was commanded that they should not kill them, but that they should be vexed five months, and that their pain should be as the pain that cometh of a scorpion, when he hath stung a man.

(k) And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

(t) And the ten horns which thou seeist, are ten kings, which have received no kingdom, but shall receive power as kings at one hour with the beast.
(g) And the ten horns which thou sawest, are ten Kings, which yet have not received a kingdom, but shall receive power, as Kings at one hour with the beast.
(k) And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.
- 17:13 (w) These have one counsel, and shall betake their virtue and power to the beast.
(p) These have one counsel, and shall betake their virtue and power to the beast.
(t) These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.
(g) These have one mind, and shall give their power and authority unto the beast.
(k) These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.
- 17:14 (w) These shall fight with the lamb, and the lamb shall overcome them; for he is Lord of lords, and king of kings; and they that be with him, be called, and chosen, and faithful.
(p) These shall fight with the lamb, and the lamb shall overcome them; for he is Lord of lords, and king of kings; and they that be with him, be called, chosen, and faithful.
(t) These shall fight with the lamb, and the lamb shall overcome them: For he is Lord of lords, and king of kings: and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithful.
(g) These shall fight with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them, for he is Lord of Lords, and King of Kings, and they that are on his side, called, and chosen, and faithful.
(k) These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.
- 17:15 (w) And he said to me, The waters which thou hast seen, where the whore sitteth, be peoples, and folks, and tongues.
(p) And he said to me, The waters which thou hast seen, where the whore sitteth, be peoples, and folks, and languages.
(t) ¶ And he said unto me: the waters which thou sawest, where the whore siteth, are people, and folk, and nations, and tongues.
(g) And he said unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are people, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.
(k) And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.
- 17:16 (w) And the ten horns that thou hast seen in the beast, these shall hate the fornicary woman, or whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eat the flesh of her, and shall burn her together with fire.
(p) And the ten horns that thou hast seen in the beast, these shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat the flesh of her, and shall burn together her with fire.
(t) And the ten horns, which thou sawest upon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eat their [her] flesh, and burn her with fire.

(p) And the woman whom thou hast seen, is the great city, that hath kingdom on the kings of the earth.

(t) And the woman thou sawest, is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

(g) And the woman which thou sawest, is the great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

(k) And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER 18

18:1 (w) And after these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened of his glory.

(p) And after these things I saw another angel coming down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened of his glory.

(t) ¶ And after that I saw another angel come [down] from heaven, having great power, and the earth was lightened with his brightness.

(g) And after these things, I saw another Angel come down from heaven, having great power, so that the earth was lightened with his glory,

(k) And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory.

18:2 (w) And he cried with a strong voice, saying, Great Babylon fell down, fell down, and is made the habitation of devils, and the keeping of each unclean spirit, and the keeping of each unclean fowl, and hateful.

(p) And he cried with a strong voice, saying, Great Babylon felled down, felled down, and is made the habitation of devils, and the keeping of each unclean spirit, and the keeping of each unclean fowl, and hateful.

(t) And he cried mightily with a strong voice saying: Great Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of all foul spirits, and a cage of all unclean and hateful birds,

(g) And he cried out mightily with a loud voice, saying, It is fallen, it is fallen, Babylon the great city, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of all foul spirits, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

(k) And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

18:3 (w) For all folks drunk of the wrath of the fornication of her, and kings of the earth, and merchants of the earth, did fornication with her; and they be made rich of the virtue of the delights of her.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(p) For all folks drunk of the wrath of the fornication of her, and kings of the earth, and merchants of the earth, did fornication with her; and they be made rich of the virtue of delights of her.

(t) for all nations have drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. And the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and her merchants are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

(g) For all nations have drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the Kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

(k) For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance {or, power} of her delicacies.

18:4 (w) And I heard another voice of heaven, saying, My people, go ye out of it, and be ye not partners of the trespasses of it, and ye shall not receive of the plagues of it.

(p) And I heard another voice of heaven, saying, My people, go ye out of it, and be ye not partners of the trespasses of it, and ye shall not receive of the wounds of it.

(t) ¶ And I heard another voice from heaven say: come away from her my people, that ye be not partakers in her sins, that ye receive not of her plagues.

(g) And I heard another voice from heaven say, Go out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

(k) And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

18:5 (w) For the sins of it came unto heaven, and the Lord had mind of the wickednesses of it.

(p) For the sins of it came unto heaven, and the Lord had mind of the wickedness of it.

(t) For her sins are gone up to heaven, and God hath remembered her wickedness.

(g) For her sins are come up unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

(k) For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities.

18:6 (w) Yield ye to it, as and she yielded to you; and double ye double things, after her works; in the drink that she meddled to you, mingle ye double to her.

(p) Yield ye to it, as she yielded to you; and double ye double things, after her works; in the drink that she mixed to you, mix ye double to her.

(t) Reward her even as she rewarded you, and give her double according to her works. And pour in double to her in the same cup which she filled unto you.

(g) Reward her, even as she hath rewarded you, and give her double according to her works; and in the cup that she hath filled to you, fill her the double.

(k) Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double.

18:7 (w) How much she glorified herself, and was in delights, so much torment give ye to her, and weeping, or mourning; for in her heart she saith, I sit a queen, and I am not a widow, and I shall not see weeping, or mourning.

(p) As much as she glorified herself, and was in delights, so much torment give to her, and wailing; for in her heart she saith, I sit a queen, and I am not a widow, and I shall not see wailing.

(t) And as much as she glorified herself and lived wantonly, so much pour ye in for her of punishment, and sorrow, for she said in her heart: I sit being a queen and am no widow and shall see no sorrow.

(g) In as much as she glorified herself, and lived in pleasure, so much give ye to her torment and sorrow; for she saith in her heart, I sit being a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no mourning.

(k) How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

(k) And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER 19

19:1 (w) After these things I heard as a great voice of many trumps in heaven, saying, Alleluia; praising, and glory, and virtue is to our God;

(p) After these things I heard as a great voice of many trumpets in heaven, saying, Alleluia; praising, and glory, and virtue is to our God;

(t) ¶ And after that, I heard the voice of much people in heaven saying: Alleluia. Salutation [Health] and glory and honor, and power be ascribed to the Lord our God [unto our Lord God],

(g) And after these things I heard a great voice of a great multitude in heaven, saying, Hallelujah, salvation, and glory, and honor, and power be to the Lord our God.

(k) And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

19:2 (w) for true and just be the dooms of him, which deemed the great whore, that corrupted the earth in her lechery, and venged the blood of his servants, of the hands of her.

(p) for true and just be the dooms of him, which deemed the great whore, that defouled the earth in her lechery, and venged the blood of his servants, of the hands of her.

(t) for true and righteous are his judgments, for he hath judged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants of her hand.

(g) For true and righteous are his judgments; for he hath condemned the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants shed by her hand.

(k) For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

(k) Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

- 19:8 (w) And it is given to her, that she cover herself with white bisso shining; forsooth bisso be the justifying of saints.
(p) And it was given to her, that she cover her with white fine linen shining; for why fine linen is the justifying of saints.
(t) And to her was granted, that she should be arrayed with pure and goodly rayons. For the rayons is the righteousness of saints.
(g) And to her was granted, that she should be arrayed with pure fine linen and shining, for the fine linen is the righteousness of Saints.
(k) And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white {or, bright}: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.
- 19:9 (w) And he said to me, Write thou, Blessed be they that be called to the supper of the weddings of the lamb. And he said to me, These words of God be true.
(p) And he said to me, Write thou, Blessed be they that be called to the supper of the weddings of the lamb. And he said to me, These words of God be true.
(t) And he said unto me: happy are they which are called unto the Lamb's supper. And he said unto me: these are the true sayings of God.
(g) Then he said unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the Lamb's supper. And he said unto me, These words of God are true.
(k) And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.
- 19:10 (w) And I fell down before his feet, for to worship him. And he said to me, See, that thou do not; I am thine even-servant, and of thy brethren, having the witnessing of Jesus; worship thou God. For the witnessing of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
(p) And I felled down before his feet, to worship him. And he said to me, See thou, that thou do not; I am a servant with thee, and of thy brethren, having the witnessing of Jesus; worship thou God. For the witnessing of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
(t) And I fell at his feet, to worship him. And he said unto me: see thou do it not. For I am thy fellow servant, and one of thy brethren, and of them that have the testimony of Jesus. Worship God. For the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
(g) And I fell before his feet, to worship him. But he said unto me, See thou do it not; I am thy fellow servant, and one of thy brethren, which have the testimony of Jesus. Worship God, for the testimony of Jesus is the Spirit of prophecy.
(k) And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.
- 19:11 (w) And I saw heaven opened, and lo! a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and soothfast; and with rightwiseness he deemeth, and fighteth.
(p) And I saw heaven opened, and lo! a white horse, and he that sat on him was called Faithful and soothfast; and with rightwiseness he deemeth, and fighteth.
(t) And I saw heaven open, and behold a white horse: and he that sat upon him was faithful and true, and in righteousness did judge and make battle.
(g) And I saw heaven open, and behold, a white horse, and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and true, and he judgeth and fighteth righteously.
(k) And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

(p) And he that was not found written in the book of life, was sent into the pool of fire.

(t) And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

(g) And whosoever was not found written in the book of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

(k) And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER 21

21:1 (w) And I saw new heaven and new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth went away, and now is not the sea.

(p) And I saw new heaven and new earth; for the first heaven and the first earth went away, and the sea is not now.

(t) ¶ And I saw a new heaven, and a new earth. For the first heaven, and the first earth, were vanished away, and there was no more sea.

(g) And I saw a new heaven, and a new earth; for the first heaven, and the first earth were passed away, and there was no more sea.

(k) And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

21:2 (w) And I John saw the holy city Jerusalem, new, coming down from heaven of God, made ready as a wife adorned to her husband.

(p) And I John saw the holy city Jerusalem, new, coming down from heaven, made ready of God, as a wife adorned to her husband.

(t) And I John saw that holy city new Jerusalem come down from God out of heaven prepared as a bride garnished for her husband.

(g) And I John saw the holy city new Jerusalem come down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride trimmed for her husband.

(k) And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.

21:3 (w) And I heard a great voice of the throne, saying, Lo! the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them; and they shall be his people, and he God with them shall be their God.

(p) And I heard a great voice from the throne, saying, Lo! the tabernacle of God is with men, and he shall dwell with them; and they shall be his people, and he God with them shall be their God.

(t) And I heard a great voice out of heaven [from the throne], saying: behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them. And they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them and be their God.

(g) And I heard a great voice out of heaven, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be their God with them.

(k) And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

21:4 (w) And God shall wipe away each tear from the eyes of them; and death shall no more be, neither mourning, neither crying, neither sorrow, shall (all) be over; which first things went away.

(p) And God shall wipe away each tear from the eyes of them; and death shall no more be, neither mourning, neither crying, neither sorrow, shall (all) be over; which first things went away.

Book 66 The Apocalypse (Revelation) of John

Comparison of important early New Testament translations with the King James Version

(t) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the old things are gone.

(g) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, neither crying, neither shall there be anymore pain; for the first things are passed.

(k) And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

21:5 (w) And he said, that sat in the throne, Lo! I make all things new. And he said to me, Write thou, for these words be most faithful and true.

(p) And he said, that sat in the throne, Lo! I make all things new. And he said to me, Write thou, for these words be most faithful and true.

(t) And he that sat upon the seat, said: Behold I make all things new. And he said unto me: write, for these words are faithful and true.

(g) And he that sat upon the throne, said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write, for these words are faithful and true.

(k) And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful.

21:6 (w) And he said to me, It is done; I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the end. I shall give freely to the thirsting of the well of quick water.

(p) And he said to me, It is done; I am alpha and omega, the beginning and the end. I shall give freely of the well of quick water to him that thirsteth.

(t) ¶ And he said unto me: it is done I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning, and the end. I will give to him that is athirst of the well of the water of life free.

(g) And he said unto me, It is done, I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give to him that is athirst, of the well of the water of life freely.

(k) And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

21:7 (w) He that shall overcome, shall wield these things; and I shall be God to him, and he shall be son to me.

(p) He that shall overcome, shall wield these things; and I shall be God to him, and he shall be son to me.

(t) He that overcometh shall inherit all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my son.
